The groom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Neff of Wadsworth, Ohio recently returned from two year's missionary service with the Orient Crusade in Japan. After a wedding trip through northern Michigan they will be at home in Marion, Ind., where Mr. Neff will take work at Marion College. Mrs. Neff graduated from Cleveland Bible College this June.

Out-of-town guests who attended the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Herman Stratton of Salem, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Kilmer of Wadsworth, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. William Comfort of Highland Park, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Birdsall and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hileman and children, Jane, William and Robert of Albion, Mrs. Elwood Comfort of Holloway, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Langley of Cleveland, Miss Martha Comfort of Battle Creek and Mrs. A. W. Comfort and daughter, Eva, Mrs. Leroy Comfort and Mrs. Charles Comfort, all of Adrian.

The Wednesday evening preceding the wedding about 80 members of the Friends Sunday School held a miscellaneous shower for the couple in the social rooms of the church. They received many beautiful and useful gifts.

C of C Warns of Furnace Repair Racket

Mrs. Earl Pennington, Secretary of the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce, warned homeowners in this area to be on guard against the furnace repair racket which is revived annually at about this time.

She emphasized that, according to the National Better Business Bureau with which the chamber is affiliated, the great majority of firms engaged in furnace cleaning and repairing service are entirely reliable and it is only a minority in this business who use dishonest practices.

"With warm weather, prudent homeowners will be thinking about having their [illegible] and furnaces cleaned, repaired and put in shape to operate safely and economically for the next heating season.

"Over the years, there have been a great many complaints to Better Business Bureaus and to chambers of commerce charging that representatives of furnace organizations in this category frequently have gained admission to homes by posing as 'city inspectors,' or as being from the local utility company. After examining the furnace, the role of the 'inspector' is skillfully switched to that of the salesman. If a cleaning, re-setting, and re-cementing job results, work may be started to the point of dismantling the furnace.

"The familiar pattern of misrepresentation then calls for a work stoppage until a company 'engineer' can come and evaluate some questionable aspect of the equipment. When he looks it over, he warns the homeowner that the furnace is unsafe and that escaping carbon monoxide fumes may kill everyone in the house if it is given any further use. Many homeowners have purchased new furnaces needlessly on such misrepresentations. Others have been inconvenienced by refusal of the service organization to reassemble the allegedly dangerous furnace.

"Obviously, furnaces should be kept clean and in good repair, if they are to operate safely and economically. Many homeowners believe that this a 'must' in any sensible home maintenance program. It is equally abvious that a furnace should be replaced with a new one when it is worn out or beyond practical and safe repair. Since most homeowners are not qualified to diagnose accurately the repair possibilities of their furnace equipment it is essential that they entrust this problem to those in whom they can ha[illegible] confidence. They can do this by following these simple rules:

"1. Before permitting anyone posing as an official governmental or utility company inspector to check your furnace for fire and gas hazards, insist upon seeing his credentials. If he has any official capacity, he should be glad to establish it to your satisfaction. If he fails to do so, report the incident to the Chamber of Commerce.

"2. Know your dealer. If the reliability of anyone who solicits your furnace business is unknown to you, check it. Any reliable contractor will be glad to give you the names of people in or near your neighborhood for whom he has worked. If in doubt, call the Chamber of Commerce.

"3. If you are told by anyone who has contracted to service your furnace that it is beyond repair and needs replacement, check this information with a qualified heating engineer. If you do, in fact, need a new furnace, give the matter the same prudent consideration you would in making any major purchase. Don't act hastily. Get estimates. Make sure you buy the furnace you believe best suited to your purse and purpose.

"4. Read and understand your contract BEFORE you sign it and keep a copy. If it is for a new installation, make sure that all of the conditions have been written into the contract.

"5. Get guarantees or service warranties in writing.

"6. Do not sign a completion certificate until the job has been finished."

Mail Trucks Will Bring Dairy Message

At least 600 mail trucks in Michigan will carry more than just letters and packages during the last half of June.

They will be bringing a message to people all over Michigan that June is Dairy Month in the state and the season to eat more dairy products.

Through the cooperation of the U.S. Post Office Department and the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the mail trucks are being permitted to carry posters on each side of them as reminders that dairy products are necessary in the diet and that dairying is the country's leading agricultural industry.

Providing the posters is the American Dairy Association of Michigan, one of the leading sponsors of the June Dairy Month program in the state.

According to Charles E. Stone, secretary-manager of the American Dairy Association of Michigan, and chairman of the June Dairy Month committee, at least 1,200 posters will be placed on mail trucks in the state as part of a nation-wide event from June 16 through June 30.

Is That So!

By Clara Waldron

(Part Two of Tecumseh's First Citizen.)

"We have succeeded much better with the ploughing than I had any idea we could. I find that by mowing the bushes and weeds with a scythe, which is soon done, that two yoke of oxen will plough an acre a day with ease with the Smith plow . . . I think that thee had better bring one or two of them, made strong for that purpose."

Musgrove Evans was writing to Joseph Brown two weeks after he had moved his family to that first home in Tecumseh and he was speaking of the wooden "breaking up" plow that the settlers found so much more effective than the metal ones.

His letter shows a grasp of farming methods of the day but there is no evidence that he ever farmed. Surveying seems to have been at once his profession and his pleasure. The battered record book where careful handwriting still lists the "bent ash tree, the black oak stump and the split rock" of our first road surveys, holds many evidences of his work. But from the first, he was trying for something bigger, specifically for the Military Roads authorized by Congress; Detroit to Chicago in 1825 and Monroe to Cambridge Junction in 1832.

With his ability and experience and with a brother-in-law who was commander-in-chief of the army he probably had little difficulty getting these contracts especially as he was on the ground. He was only one of the surveyors of what is now U.S. 112 but he also obtained the contract to "construct and maintain" the first section of that road, that part from Detroit to Clinton. From all accounts it was a pretty terrible road but the appropriation was only $20,000 for the entire stretch across Michigan and, to give Evans his due, the part west of Clinton was worse.

There are definite evidences of Yankee shrewdness in Evans' character. The advance purchase of strategic water power and the immediate application to have Tecumseh declared the county seat were in cooperation with Wing and Brown but it was his own bright idea to request Washington to let him "straighten the big bend" in the Detroit-Chicago trail thus making sure the future highway would cross the river within the boundaries of Lenawee County. He thus gave Lenawee another settlement—Clinton. The welfare of Lenawee and of Tecumseh was very close to his heart.

He ended his letter to Brown, "I must leave the rest of the paper for Abi and bid thee farewell" and what Abi wrote there is a very moving document. She tells Cordelia Brown, "Although a fine soil and climate it is yet in a state of nature and will require a steady perseverance to make it what we would wish it to be, and thee must expect to undergo thy share of fatigue and anxiety, as no new settlement ever yet was formed without a great deal of exertion. I sincerely wish that the combined exertions of Wing, thy husband and Musgrove will be competent to the undertaking, as we are on the spot and must expect to remain so."

In her quite unintentional future idiom, they were indeed "on the spot" and Abi certainly knew her share of "fatigue and anxiety" plus much responsibility. It was she who managed somehow to "feed and bed the many who came to that first inadequate cabin and two years later, when Musgrove built the house at Ottawa and Chicago that was both a home and an inn, it was Abi who was the inn keeper. She had help of course. They had brought Deborah and Peter Benson to work for them but while Evans was laying out our future highways, Abi mothered her family and much of the village as well.

The family had been in Tecumseh just six years when Abi Evans died and Musgrove stayed here only long enough to finish the survey of the Monroe Road before he gathered up his five children and set out for Texas.

It would be interesting to know whether had she lived, he would have been content to become a part of an established community or whether, being a "pioneer of the essence" only Texas could provide him with wide enough frontiers.

The Heat Bother You? Ice Once Covered State

If you're bothered by summer's heat, it may be a relief to know that at one time a tremendous Ice Age glacier covered a large part of Michigan.

The last ice of that sort disappeared from this region only about 30,000 years ago, says Russell C. Hussey, professor of geology at the University of Michigan.

He even pin-points the front of the glacier enough to say that it stopped on the U of M campus right about where the Student Health Service and the Dental Buildings are now.

However, not a soul inhabited this region during the warm interglacial periods, he says, although other parts of the United States were occupied.

But tremendous elephants and mastodons did roam around Michigan then. The ancestral home of these creatures, many millions of years ago, was Africa, and they migrated to the United States by way of some old land bridge, which has since disappeared.

As a protection against the cold, the animals devloped a layer of fat just beneath the skin, and on the outside a heavy layer of matted wool, and long, coarse, reddish-brown hair, professor Hussey says.

The mastodon was especially common around Ann Arbor, and its bones have been found in many of the swamps and bogs near the city. These animals survived in Michigan long after the ice had melted from this region, and only a few thousand years ago they must have been a very common sight. The bones of the mastodon are frequently found showing marks made by the teeth of wolves or other predatory animals that were accustomed to feed upon the carcasses, states the geologist.

Complete bodies of the Wooly Elephant, similar to the ones that lived in Michigan, have been found frozen into the soil and ice of Siberia, where they have remained in cold storage for centuries, with the flesh preserved in such a fresh condition that dogs were able to eat it after the body had been exposed.

—o—

In 1930, nine pounds of ice cream was consumed per person every year. According to U.S. Department of Agriculture figures, now each of us eats 17 pounds every year.

Highway Fund Payments Made to Tecumseh, Britton

Net receipts of the State Motor Vehicle Highway Fund for the first quarter of this year amounted to $60,983,823.79, and this money is now being distributed to the state highway department, the counties, and the cities and incorporated villages of the state. Net receipts of the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund for the first quarter of 1954 were $57,611,912.25, representing an increase of $3,371,911.54 for the first quarter this year, compared to the same period in 1954.

All of the state gasoline and weight taxes, the diesel fuel tax and a small amount of miscellaneous fees are deposited in the state motor vehicle highway fund. After deductions for non-highway uses and collections costs, the rest of the money is divided as follows: 44 per cent to the state highway department for expenditure on state trunkline highways in both rural and urban areas; 37 per cent to the counties for expenditure on county roads; and 19 per cent to the cities and incorporated villages for expenditure on their roads and streets.

Under the above distribution formula, the state highway department will receive $26,832,882.47 as its share of the first quarter of 1955 Motor Vehicle Fund collections; the counties' share is $22,564,014.80 and the cities' and incorporated villages' share is $11,586,926.52.

Britton gets $1,660.75. Tecumseh gets $14,510.93.

It is good to see through a thing; it is better to see a thing through.

Christian Science Services Listed

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Scriptural selections from the King James Version of the Bible stress the supremacy of spiritual power and include the account of Christ Jesus feeding the multitude as recorded by Matthew (14:14-20) and John's account (6:16-21) of Jesus walking on the sea.

Among the correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be the following (273:21-26): "God never ordained a material law to annul the spiritual law. If there were such a material law, it would oppose the supremacy of Spirit, God, and impugn the wisdom of the creator. Jesus walked on the waves, fed the multitude, healed the sick, and raised the dead in direct opposition to material laws."

Handle With Care

Tractors are like horses—or mules—in more ways than one. They can be pretty tricky if you don't handle them right.

Too many tractor accidents happen because of carelessness. The day grows hot and drowsy, the job grows monotonous—and bingo! Someone forgets to throttle down when making a turn, or something, and there's a bad spill.

Credit Slim Hartman's missus for the fact that there's never been tractor trouble on their place. Midway through every morning and afternoon she brings him snacks. "He'll stay on the alert," she says, "if I get him off the tractor for ten minutes."

From where I sit, carelessness can cause plenty of harm in our off-the-job personal lives, too. For instance, suppose a neighbor prefers a glass of beer with supper. You might not share this particular preference with him—but if you're careless about protecting his right to choose, your own freedom of choice is in danger of being "plowed under."

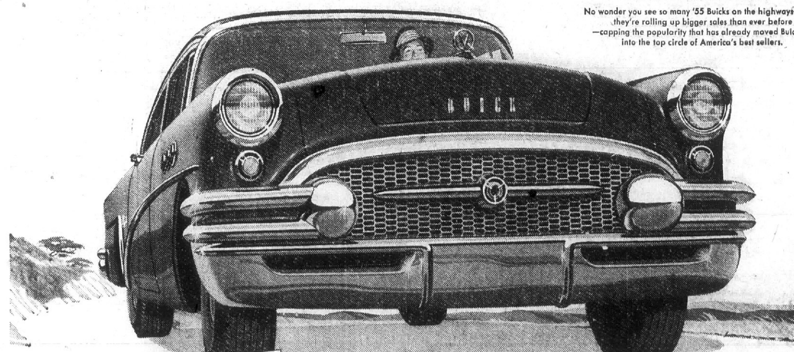
Biggest thing in Low-Priced cars

Hottest-Selling Buick in History
No wonder you see so many '55 Buicks on the highways—they're rolling up bigger sales than ever before in history—capping the popularity that has already moved Buick into the top circle of America's best sellers.



$2253.88* Delivered locally!

*2-door, 6-passenger Buick SPECIAL Sedan, Model 48, illustrated. Optional equipment, if any, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities. Even the factory-installed extras you may want are bargains, such as: Heater & Defroster—$81.70; Radio & Antenna — $92.50.

THIS is a Buick—a 2-door, 6-passenger SPECIAL Sedan.

It packs a walloping 188-hp V8 engine under the hood—is carried on a strapping 122-inch wheelbase—rides with the luxury cushioning of all-coil springing, the solid steadiness of a full-length torque-tube drive, the extra safety and silence of tubeless tires.

It's big and brawny and road-steady and roomy—each seat cushion measures over five feet in width.

Yet this broad beauty—as the price we show here proves—delivers locally for just about the price of the well-known smaller cars—even below some models of those very same cars.

Buick Sales Are Soaring To New Best-Seller Highs

That, for sure, is one reason why Buick sales go higher and higher and higher. More and more people are finding that you can buy a Buick for the price of a smaller car, so more and more people are getting this bigger buy for their money.

They want the bigger package of sheer automobile for the money that they get in Buick—bigger in power thrill, in roomy comfort, in riding steadiness, in structural solidity.

They want the added prestige and pleasure of owning Buick styling and size—and the added safety and sureness of Buick roadability and handling ease.

They want, too, the spectacular performance and better gas mileage of Variable Pitch Dynaflow†—easily yours at modest extra cost.

And they certainly want the choice Buick offers of a car in every price range, with each one the buy in its field—the low-price SPECIAL, the supremely-powered CENTURY, the extra-roomy SUPER, and the custom-built ROADMASTER.

Why don't you come in for a visit and see how much real automobile your money can buy here?

†Dynaflow Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

RESOLUTION

Meeting of the Ridgeway Township Board, County of Lenawee, and State of Michigan, held at 415 Osburne Street, Britton, Michigan, on 7 June 1955.

Present: Supervisor Ferman, Commissioners Edelbrock, Kniffen, Fairbanks, and Brown.

Absent: None.

The following preamble and resolution was offered by Commissioner Edelbrock, and supported by Commisioner Kniffen.

WHEREAS approximately 5 years ago this Township voted to accept the offer of a Fire Engine from the Ridgeway Community Club; and

WHEREAS this Township has supported said Engine for a number of years but that there now arises a question as to the validity of the transfer from the Ridgeway Community Club to the Township of said Fire Engine and, furthermore, the said engine being deemed obsolete; and

WHEREAS it ought to be, and is, the function of this Board to conserve the public funds and to promote modern and effective means to protect the populace from fire hazards.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED:

1. Effective immediately this Township disclaims ownership of the Fire Engine owned and operated by the Ridgeway Community Club and renounces all interest in such equipment and the appurtenances thereunto belonging.

2. The Treasurer of Ridgeway Township is hereby directed to honor no more expenses tendered on behalf of said Fire Engine.

Ayes: Unanimous

Nays: None

RESOLUTION DECLARED ADOPTED.

Melody Circus Will Open with 'Show Boat'

LOVE DUET is tender moment in "Show Boat," with Arthur Maxwell singing Ravenal and Paula Stewart as Magnolia. The Kern masterpiece will open the season June 16 at Melody Circus Theater in Detroit.

The premiere of Michigan's first musical tent theater—the in-the-round style of presenting famous musicals—will be staged in Detroit, Mich., on Thursday, June 16, when Melody Circus opens its initial summer season with Jerome Kern's popular "Show Boat" for an 11 day engagement.

The summer musical circus has proved a top hit in numerous sections of the country.

The grounds of beautiful and historic Botsford Inn at Grand River and Eight Mile Road, northwest Detroit, will be the settings of Melody Circus' huge tent. A feature will be the individual, armchairs.

All productions, featuring first-flight New York casts, will be directed by Bobby Jarvis.

"Show Boat" brought stardom to the famous Helen Morgan, its first Julie.

The role will be enacted in the Melody Circus production by Paula Stewart, with Arthur Maxwell portraying Ravenal, and Tom Emlyn Williams in the equally beloved role of Captain Andy.

The season's productions will continue with "Brigadoon," "Desert Song," "Carousel," "Merry Widow," "Finian's Rainbow," "Kiss Me Kate," "Song of Norway," "Wish You Were Here" and "South Pacific."

All seats are reserved. Evening performances Tuesday through Saturday will start at 8:30 p.m. The Sunday night performance will be at 8 p.m. The only matinee will be on Saturday at 3:30 p.m. No performances on Mondays.

Graduates from Chrysler Institute

Frederick C. Aebersold, son of Mrs. Lois Aebersold, 205 South Oneida street, Tecumseh, Tuesday received a degree of Master of Automotive Engineering with the 23rd graduating class of the Chrysler Institute of Engineering in Detroit.

James C. Zeder, Chrysler Corporation vice president, Engineering, and president of the Institute, presented the degrees. Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State College, delivered the commencement address.

Mr. Aebersold, who received his Bachelor's Degree in Electrical Engineering from Tri-State College, Angola, Ind., in 1951, was one of 76 engineering graduates selected from 41 colleges and universities throughout the United States and Canada for participation in the Institute's two-year, post-graduate course in automotive engineering.

Established in 1931 as a means of insuring the highest quality personnel for the Chrysler Corporation Engineering Division, the Institute is the auto industry's only graduate engineering school. Today, nearly half of the engineers employed in the Engineering Division of Chrysler Corporation are graduates of the Institute, holding Master of Automotive Engineering degrees.

Tecumseh Motel Reports on Two Years of Operation

Sunday, June 12, marked the second anniversary of the opening of the first units of the Tecumseh Motel. According to Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hamaker, some interesting facts about the motel can be told.

"We have had guests from 47 of the 48 states," Mrs. Hamaker stated. "No one yet from South Dakota. But we have had them from several provinces of Canada, and several foreign countries." There have been more than 3,200 guests stay overnight for another day to visit—and spend in Tecumseh."

Mr. Hamaker revealed that almost $3,000 has been spent on newspaper, sign and billboard advertising to bring people to the Tecumseh Motel. The Tecumseh Motel is AAA recommended, and listed in their directories. It is the only AAA approved motel in a city limits in southeastern Mich.

"Many hundreds have come to Tecumseh as a direct result of these efforts," commented Mr. Hamaker. "As an influence in bringing people to the city, the Tecumseh Motel is second only to the Tecumseh Products Company."

PKP INITIATES

Phi Kappa Phi, national scholastic honor society initiated 165 members at their annual banquet at Michigan State.

Included in the roster of new members is Gerald A. Aebersold, 205 South Oneida, Tecumseh, Mich., a senior.

Speaker for the banquet was the Rev. Fr. Celestin J. Steiner, S.J., president of the University of Detroit who told State's top scholars that they, as potential leaders, would have a great opportunity to prove themselves in the coming years of crisis.

Among the initiates were two faculty members, Dr. Robert D. Spence, professor of physics and astronomy and Dr. Henry S. Leonard, professor and head of the department of philosophy.

Most Popular Pontiac Ever Built...
. . . BECAUSE IT HAS EVERYTHING IT TAKES TO MAKE A WINNER!
Here's the car which is breaking every sales record in Pontiac history. And here are some facts underlying that popularity—facts which might easily persuade you to join the happy thousands who are making the switch to Pontiac.
FACT 1—Pontiac's distinctive and exclusive future-fashioned beauty is bound to stay new for years.
FACT 2—Pontiac's Strato-Streak V-8 engine is completely new and it embodies basic design advances that you'll be seeing in other engines of the future.
FACT 3—Pontiac's performance gives you tremendous power and quietness; flashing acceleration and smoothness; plus a wonderfully comfortable road-levelling ride based on adequate weight and a long 122" or 124" wheelbase.
FACT 4—(and the clincher)—Pontiac's power, size and superb beauty are combined with a price which makes this car America's greatest value—by far! In fact, if you can afford any new car, you can afford a Pontiac! Come in TODAY!

The Silver Lining

Look for the silver lining
Whenever a cloud appears

CONDUCTED BY BOB WARREN

HOW MANY TIMES HAVE you had folks ask "Well, what do you know?" And how many times have you answered "Not much." Mike Hite tells about how a friend of his who lives in an Ohio town heard this query so much that he finally flipped his wig and practically nailed the questioner to the wall and told him what he knew. Mike's friend stretches more than six feet in length and he has an enormous wing spread. When the poor fellow who asked the question wanted to go, Mike's friend held fast and said: "Not yet. I haven't told you all I know."

MEALTIME, AS ONE OVERWORKED Tecumseh mother puts it, is when the kids sit down to continue eating!

THE OLDTIMER SAYS: "If you want to keep out of the spot-light, try getting upstage with your friends."

EVER NOTICE HOW DOGS win friends and influence people without reading books?

MR. AND MRS. BERT OUSTERHOUT are proud of a full page picture story that appeared in the June edition of the International Florists' Telegraph Delivery News. The magazine has a circulation of 16,000 and it goes all over the world. The Ousterhouts have had many inquiries about how they planned and furnished their beautiful showroom here.

THIS POEM, APPROPRIATE FOR Fathers' Day Sunday was written by Mrs. Alan O'Neil, of Franklin Park, Ill., sister-in-law of Mrs. Ruth O'Neill of Tecumseh:

God made a man many years ago,
He filled him full of wisdom
For all that he must know.

He gave him extra portions
Of courage, faith and love
And then He made him very strong
Yet, gentle as a dove.

He added just a dash of wit
To keep him from growing old,
Then put in him a great big heart
Made of solid gold.

After God bestowed his blessings
And all good things He had,
He sent him down to us on earth
That we might call him Dad.

AS IS USUALLY THE CASE, there have been a bunch of sidewalk experts around the excavating work at Easton's. Age is no barrier. Those watching the work ranged in years from six to more than 60.

NOTES ON AN EXCURSION: Railroads which always have fascinated me are stimulating passenger business with tie-in deals that include stage shows, sight-seeing tours, operas, dinners, baseball games and cruises on the Great Lakes and the great rivers.

. . . One of these which started in Peru, Ind. with a Detroit destination 200 miles away was held Saturday by the Wabash railroad. One of the stops was Adrian where it added about 90 guests who signed up for "Cinerama Holiday" or the Detroit-Boston baseball game.

. . . Since we had seen Cinerama, we (my 12-year-old boy and I) elected the baseball game . . .

. . . All of us kept watching threatening skies during the hour's ride to Detroit, particularly those of us who were Briggs Stadium bound; but it turned out to be a fine, sunny day in Detroit.

. . . We passed through several familiar towns: Britton, Milan, Whittaker, Belleville, Romulus and Dearborn before reaching the Fort street station.

. . . Buses took the group to Cinerama from the station and from the Music Hall to the stadium.

. . . There's always one or more in every crowd: a couple of the guests had been bending their elbows a bit and were really livening up the group.

. . . After a shaky start with Boston scoring four runs in the first inning, Bob was about ready to give up but the outing had a happy ending when the Tigers rallied for a 7-5 win.

. . . West Michigan Avenue is easily the crummiest part of Detroit. It is alive with Skid Row characters and those who walk it at night must certainly walk with their hair standing straight up.

. . . Ever try to kill time while keeping your eye on the clock. It seems like every five minutes is an eternity. We did this for some time, then walked four blocks to the river to watch hundreds of folks fish. Fishing seemed a bit out of place in the heart of a big city, but those men and women were catching silver bass that must have averaged three pounds each.

. . . Returning to the station, we killed more time by watching the sea of faces around us: people of every description, shape and color. We played the mental game of trying to picture what kind of business they were in and where they were going . . . Time passes slowly when you are waiting for a train . . .

. . . But it came at last (this lay over waiting for the train was the only short coming in a very enjoyable excursion) and we whisked 80 miles an hour back to Adrian.

Has Space for 840 Houses

Largest Housing Sub Begins Soon

Rec. Program for Kids Begins Mon.

Tecumseh's recreation program for children, postponed a week because of a conflict with Bible schools, will begin next Monday, reports Les Runk, director.

Mrs. Howard Wilson will be supervisor of the Herrick Park playground.

Miss Mary Nixon will be supervisor of the Central School playground.

Mr. Runk is still searching for a supervisor of the Tecumseh Acres playground. Hours are from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. Persons interested in the paid position may call him at Tecumseh 592-R.

Mrs. John Dennis has been hired to supervise and instruct the handicraft classes.

She has had wide experience as a handicraft instructor, formerly working for the CIO Council camp at Sand Lake.

The Handicraft class will be conducted in Central School art room from 1 to 4:30 p.m. Arts and crafts will be featured.

Tecumseh Acres playground will be open from 9 a.m. to 12 noon Monday through Friday.

Herrick Park and Central School playgrounds will be open from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Playground activities will include softball, baseball, ping pong, croquet, horseshoes, checkers, cards, volley ball, ring toss, target games, free throw shooting, archery and tennis.

The tennis courts have been resurfaced and are now ready for use.

Crowd Expected For Teen Dance

John Hamilton, Tecumseh Junior Chamber of Commerce youth activities chairman, says a large crowd is expected at the Teen Club dance this Friday evening at 8:30 p.m.

Central School gym will be the scene and music will be furnished by the Harry Keller Trio.

Decorations are in charge of Ray Miller, Teen Club president.

Admission is free and refreshments will be available.

Jaycee members and their wives will serve as chaperones for the dance.

PRINCE CHOSEN

Dean Moore of the Tecumseh Grange was chosen Monday night to represent the Lenawee Grange as Prince at the annual state Grange convention which will be held in Ludington Oct. 24 to 27.

School Population Continues To Grow

School census figures from Supt. James McDowell show that student population continues to increase.

The census just completed shows that the Tecumseh Public Schools are still growing and school facilities will be over-crowded again this year.

The report shows a gain of 100 students between the ages of five to 19. The total in this group is 1672.

The total census is 2461, a gain of 135.

That the school population will continue to increase can be seen in pre-school census figures. There are 789 children under five, a gain of 35 over last year.

The superintendent reported that advanced enrollments for high school next year show an increase of about 90 students, including tuition pupils who normally enroll each year.

And about 70 more elementary students are expected. Two more elementary teachers have been hired.

In the high school three more teachers had to be hired to maintain about the same size overcrowded classes as of last year.

If funds are available, he said, at least two more teachers should be hired to meet the recommendations of the North Central Association of High Schools and Colleges which continuously has approved Tecumseh Public Schools since 1918.

Lightning Sets Britton Fire

Lightning set fire to a lamp in the bedroom of the Byron Covell home in Britton Sunday afternoon during the electrical storm. Extensive damages resulted when the fire spread to the curtains and bedding.

In an attempt to put the fire out, Mrs. Covell burned her hands severely and was taken to Herrick Memorial hospital for treatment and released.

Mr. and Mrs. Covell are living with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Covell in Clinton until repairs are made on their house.

RED CROSS MEETS

The annual meeting of the Lenawee County Chapter, American Red Cross will be held at the Chapter House, 157 East Maumee street, Adrian, Monday, June 27, at 7:30 p.m.

Any one who has paid the $1.00 membership fee is invited to be present and participate in the meeting.

190 Bible School Students Will Show Displays Friday

The vacation Bible school sponsored by the Tecumseh Ministerial Association will conclude Friday night with a service in the First Baptist church at 8 p.m. and at 7:30 p.m. the handwork done by the children in the school will be displayed in the Youth House.

Parents and friends of the children are invited to attend.

The Rev. E. C. Dickin, dean; the Rev. B. O. Bashore, registrar; and the Rev. Horace James, treasurer, said they are grateful for the success of the school this year which they attributed to "the devoted leadership of the department heads, teachers and helpers and the wonderful cooperation of the children."

One hundred and ninety were enrolled in all departments with daily attendance considerably higher than in past years.

The following persons constituted the school's staff:

Pre-school—Gail Lohrman and Nancy Nighswander.

Beginners—Mrs. Carl Kennel, superintendent; teachers and helpers, Mrs. Jean Kemp, Mrs. Dale Lemerand, Mrs. Ray Shelton, Mrs. Wilma Kaiser, Carol Dickin, Betty Kiser and Lois Kiser.

Primary—Mrs. Vern Manwaring, superintendent; teachers and helpers, Mrs. Orville Bishop, Mrs. George VanCamp, Jr., Mrs. Glenn Griewahn, Mrs. Tom Brooks, Mrs. Donald Creger, Mrs. Francis Packard, Betty Bishop, Marilyn VanCamp, Susan Day, Shirley Fielder and Mary Lou McConnell.

Junior—Mrs. Robert Bonner, superintendent; teachers and helpers, Mrs. George Anderson, Mrs. Carlos Jones, Mrs. Joseph Poley, Mrs. Louis Richards, Yvonne Morningstar, Sylvia Bush and Janet Martin.

Music—Mrs. Arthur Schwartz, Mrs. Murray Day and Marcia Bashore.

Citizen

Irene Szigeti of Tecumseh was one of 10 new citizens who were granted their citizenship papers in Lenawee County circuit court last Thursday.

She came to the United States from Hungary.

Welcoming the new citizens Judge Rex Martin said the United States has become great because of the contributions people from other lands have made.

Calling voting the greatest responsibility of a citizen, he urged the new citizens to register as soon as possible and to vote in every election.

Detroit Council Entertained by Hospital Auxiliary

Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary was hostess to the Detroit Area Council of Hospital Auxiliaries recently for a tour of the local hospital in the morning and noon luncheon and cards at the Country Club.

Mrs. Charles Mensing conducted a short business meeting and Mrs. Robert Fuller introduced the out-of-town guests.

Mrs. Arthur D. Kerwin, president of the Fontbonne Auxiliary of St. Johns Hospital, Detroit, was among the guests. Mrs. Kerwin was one of the organizers and enthusiastic workers in the founding of Boysville at Macon. She is the originator of the phrase, "It is better to build a man than to mend a boy."

Accompanying Mrs. Kerwin from St. Johns' Auxiliary were Mrs. C. Texter and Mrs. Vernon P. Johnson. Others attending were Mrs. Frederick Hart from Women's Hospital, Detroit; Mrs. William E. Schmitz, member of the public relations board of the Michigan-American Hospital Association from Allegan; Mrs. Harold Mack, president of Harper Hospital, Auxiliary and Mrs. Frederick Buesser and Mrs. Joseph Verstraet, also from Harper Auxiliary; Mrs. Ira Henderson, president of Women's Hospital Auxiliary, Michigan Hospital Association and state advisory counselor of Michigan-American Hospital Association from Livonia; Mrs. H. A. Powell from Children's Hospital, Detroit; Mrs. P. E. Miller, president of Pontiac General Auxiliary, accompanied by Mrs. Fred Sutton; Mrs. Charles Cozadd, president of Beyer Memorial Auxiliary, Ypsilanti, with Mrs. H. E. Schlesinger and Miss Magdalene Kleekamp; Mrs. Burton Knapp, Miss Steiner and Mrs. Mower from Mercy Hospital Auxiliary, Monroe.

Instructors are Vic Lawson and Bob Marsh.

Lessons begin next Monday June 27, and continue through Friday, Aug. 5.

Assembly of God Crusade Ends Sun.

The Gospel Crusade, which has been in progress for the last two weeks at the Assembly of God church, will close Sunday night with a program arranged by Miss Helen Simeneta.

There will be many interesting features including an oil painted scene-o-felt story in three scenes, the rhythm band, final quiz down, gospel puppets and the awarding of prizes.

Boys and girls are asked to bring their gospel dollars. The time is 7 p.m., Sunday, June 26, at the Assembly of God, 210 West Bidwell street. Parents and friends are invited.

Brookmeade To Build 100 Units This Year

KEEP FARMHOUSE — The Earl Kreps family will keep the Brookside farmhouse for their home. Mr. Kreps, daughter Janice Kreps, and Mrs. Kreps inspect the large stock barn before it is torn down to make room for houses. Mr. Kreps and his son have farmed Brookside for the past five years.

Workers soon will start on the first of 100 houses that will be built this year in Tecumseh's newest subdivision located on what was the Brookside farm in the northwest part of town.

Named Brookmeade, the subdivision, which will be developed by the Brookmeade Corporation of Detroit, includes 212 acres of ground, 120 of which are in the city limits with the rest in Tecumseh Township.

When completed, the subdivision will be the largest in the Tecumseh area with 840 houses.

The sale of the property was handled by the R. J. McCoy Real Estate Agency. Bill Powell and Jack Osburn did the groundwork on the transaction. Their agency also will be the local representative for the sale of the houses.

Earl F. Kreps, former owner of Brookside farm, will retain the farm house but the outbuildings are being torn down to make room for the new houses.

Five different model houses presently will be under construction.

These three bedroom brick veneer ranch-type houses will have both VA and FHA approval. Houses will be built on lots 75x120.

Later, after this demand is filled and if the public demands it, houses in a lower price range will be built.

The area for the new subdivision at one time was the Bidwell Stock Farm. With about 400 acres of ground, it was one of the largest farms in the state.

The new subdivision is bounded on the south by Brown street; on the east by Ternes road; on the west by Occidental road; and on the north by the Harry Norris farm.

Streets in the subdivision have been named Brookplain, Brook and Brookmeade.

All public utilities including sewer and water, curb and gutter and public sidewalks will be put in by the developer at no additional cost to the house buyer.

The developing company also will provide space for a playground.

Sewer and water lines will be put in at the rear of the lots so if repairs need to be made or clogged pipes need to be cleaned, streets will not have to be torn up.

Work on the construction of the houses will be done by local labor. The developing company, Brookmeade Corp., invites local carpenters, excavators, masons and painters to place bids on the work.

With potential space for 840

"B. J." Had Quite a Place

The land now known as Brookside Farm is only a small remnant of the acreage which was owned and operated as the Bidwell Stock Farm by Birdsley J. Bidwell and his heirs for nearly 75 years.

Mr. Bidwell, always known as "B. J.", came to Tecumseh as a young man in 1838 and set up a general store about where the movie theater now stands. He expanded this into a thriving commission business during the years when all farm produce was marketed through local outlets and also established a tannery on Mill street where hides from a large area were processed into leather.

He "ploughed back" his profits into the growing town, building the business block now owned by Palman Stores and buying more than 300 acres of land extending west and north from Mill street and the street which bears his name.

Indian Acres, the Catholic church land and the Newburg road developments are all part of this tract and it reached west along north Occidental road.

His home on the Ford garage corner, with its wrought iron railings and balconies, carefully landscaped lawn, flagstone walks and fountain, all enclosed by an ornamental iron fence, was one of the village show places.

About the end of the Civil War he retired from business, bought registered Short Horn cattle and built up a herd of about 80 head from which he shipped young stock all over the country. He also owned and drove fine horses and the land along the east side of Newburg road was the site of the Bidwell race track where he and his trainer put them through their paces.

The farm was carried on by his son and later by his grandson, who built the present house and large barn.

About 20 years ago the land was sold to the Ternes Lumber Co. and for a few years the fields were dotted by sleek Brown Swiss cattle and spirited Belgian horses.

They were temporary tenants, however, and those fertile acres now will grow homes instead.

The Silver Lining

Look for the silver lining
Whenever a cloud appears

CONDUCTED BY BOB WARREN

NO DEEPER LOVE HATH ANY man than he who tries to point out the finer points of baseball to his ever loving spouse. We thought of this recently in Briggs Stadium when a chap behind us was trying to score the game and his wife kept asking him what each little number and line meant. That chap should have a medal for being the most patient husband in captivity.

ED NELSON IS A SAFE and sane driver but he does not like to go too slowly. Coming from Chicago after attending the water works convention he ran into a big road repair job. The result was that it took him three hours to travel 30 miles.

IT WAS BOUND TO HAPPEN. This is the atomic age so we now have atomic jokes. At the last atomic tests in Nevada an Indian practicing smoke signals saw the huge cloud that mushroomed from the bomb and said: "I wish I had said that."

AND HERE'S ANOTHER: An artillery company was on maueuvers in the backwoods of South Carolina trying out the new atomic cannon. Firing it at a fairly close range target, the shell detonated with a tremendous explosion. As the familiar mushroom cloud started to form, a bearded old man dressed in a tattered Confederate uniform and carrying an ancient rifle came running out of a nearby woods. Dropping his rifle, he raised his hands and addressed the soldiers, "Ah don't know what Lee's gonna do, but Ah'm going to surrender."

THE OLDTIMER SAYS: "A man will go a long way to save his face but a woman just goes to the drug store."

EFFECTIVE HIGHWAY SIGN on the outskirts of Findlay, Ohio: "Drive carefully. We have lots of children, but none to spare."

WONDER HOW ROYALTY speaks to their children? Our girls seem to know. One day while they were playing, this remark was overheard: "Now don't mess up this castle."

WHY DIDN'T YOU THINK up the Davy Crockett sales gimmick? If you had, you could have retired in a few short years. It is interesting how mob psychology can be turned into cool millions. For example, just a common 10-cent terry cloth wash cloth with a decal of the famous (actually infamous) Crockett costs 49 cents.

LYLE HARPER, YOUNG supply minister in the Methodist Church here last summer, has been taken "on trial" into the Detroit Conference of The Methodist Church. The Lining wishes this young neophtye minister well. He will make an excellent pastor when he completes his training.

SORT OF LOOKS LIKE THE Earl Kreps family of Brookside Farm will have to get rid of some of their cats. Janice Kreps reports that because the outbuildings will be torn down to make room for new homes, her cats will have no place to live. It's a safe bet, though, that Janice

Friends Have Attendance of 131

The Friends Church Bible school which ends Friday has had an average daily attendance of 131 students.

Teachers and helpers have included Wanda Wainwright, Mrs. Richard Woodcox, Mrs. Henry King, Mrs. Arthur Gray, Mrs. Clarence Randolph, Marilyn Manley, Alice King, Arthur Voss, Mrs. Charles Sinkey, Mrs. Carl Hale, Mrs. Percy Slater, Ruth Meade, Jerry Hirsch, Joe Hayden, Astride Freimanis, Margery Chase, and Kathleen Richmond.

A demonstration program officially ending Bible school will be given next Sunday night, June 26.

The program will be under the direction of Miss Jane Huff and Miss Wanda Wainwright of Grinnell, Iowa. Miss Wainwright teaches in Haviland Bible College, Haviland, Kan.

SEEKS PROPERTY

The city will bid on leasing U.S. Post Office property on the east side of Pearl street between Pottawatamie street and Chicago boulevard.

The city has leased the property in the past for parking lot facilities.

Councilmen Monday night authorized Ed Nelson, city manager, to submit a bid for the lease.

Lutherans Dedicate Addition and New Electronic Organ

Six hundred and forty-five persons attended the four services of the dedication of the new addition to the Grace English Evangelical Lutheran church Sunday. They also saw the dedication of the new electronic organ.

Services were held at 8:30 and 10:30 a.m. and at 3 and 8 p.m.

The Rev. J. De Ruiter, former pastor of the church, officiated and spoke at the morning services. Mrs. George Schippers of Adrian was organist.

The Rev. R. W. Scheele, first pastor of the church, was the liturgist at the 3 p.m. dedication service. The Rev. Gerhart Press of Wayne was speaker.

At the evening service for dedication of the new organ the Rev. P. Voss of Jenera was guest speaker. The Rev. Scheele was the liturgist and Mr. Wayne Wiechmann was organist for both the 3 and 8 p.m. services.

The choir of the Lutheran church will not meet this week because the Rev. A. Jeschke will be in Bay City for a conference. The choir will meet Friday at 7 p.m.

Regular Sunday services at 8:30 and 10:30 a.m. will be continued next Sunday with Sunday School at 9:30 a.m.

Many visitors from out of town were present. Messages of congratulations were received from the Rev. Buch of Yale; from the Rev. Baer of St. Stephens congregation of Adrian and from other Michigan

ROTARIANS HEAR CHIEF KILBOURN

Chief George Kilbourn spoke at the Tuesday night dinner meeting of the Tecumseh Rotary Club.

He discussed safe and sane driving. An elaborated report on his talk is on page four of the second section.

Herb Dillon was in charge of the program.

Alice Hoskin Is Bride of Seaton A. Wilson Jr.

The Tecumseh Methodist church was the scene of an impressive wedding ceremony Saturday afternoon, when Alice Marie Hoskin became the bride of Seaton Anderson Wilson, Jr.

The double ring ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock by the Rev. Horace James, pastor of the church before an altar beautifully decorated with palms, candelabra and white delphiniums and carnations.

Miss Peggy Jo Pocklington of Britton was organist and accompanied Miss Diane Woodward as she sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mrs. Blanche Hoskin of 202 Outer Dr. is the mother of the bride and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Seaton A. Wilson Sr. of 115 W. Kilbuck st.

Given in marriage by her brother, Sgt. Melvin Hoskin of Santa Ana, Calif., the bride wore a ballerina length redingote of Chantilly lace etched in tulle ruffling with cap sleeves, Peter Pan neckline and flared skirt. Tiny pearl buttons fastened it over a strapless formal of taffeta and tiers of ruffled tulle trimmed in lace. She wore matching mitts of lace and tulle adorned with rhinestones. Her ruffled headband of tulle was also trimmd with rhinestones and caught the double-tiered shoulder length veil. She carried an arm bouquet of stephanotis and white tulle and wore a string of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Virginia Fraker, sister of the bride as matron of honor chose a ballerina length gown fashioned colonial style of yellow nylon tulle and embroidery. It was made with an off-shoulder neckline and full skirt of alternating tiers of tulle and embroidery over hoops. Matching mitts and her head piece were scattered with rhinestones. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow carnations and stephanotis.

As bridesmaid, Miss Betty J. Greene of N. Muskegon selected a ballerina length gown of orchid nylon chiffon. Horizontal tucks formed the bodice of the long torso waistline. The full skirt draped gracefully over hoops and she wore contrasting mitts and head band. Her flowers were white carnations trimmed with yellow tulle and orchid ribbon.

Beth Ann Sibson of Jackson, niece of the bride, was flower girl and was dressed in Nile green nylon with fitted bodice and full skirt scattered with rhinestones. She wore mitts and a head piece of the same green and carried a nosegay of pink carnations with tiny rose buds edged with white tulle.

Gerald Driscoll, brother-in-law of the groom acted as best man and Orlan Berkley of Milan and Orville Fraker of St. Augustine, Fla., were ushers.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue and white nylon dress with white accessories. Mrs. Wilson wore an orchid dress with matching accessories. Both had orchid corsages.

Following the ceremony, a reception for 150 guests was held in the church parlors. Assisting with serving were Mrs. Gerald Dris-Freckelton. Mr. Trudeau is the coll, Mrs. Jane Williams, Mrs. Emma Sibson, and Mrs. Esther Lamkin. Mrs. James Watson registered the guests and Mrs. Delbert Gritzmaker and Miss Bonnie Covell had charge of the gifts. Each of the assistants wore a shoulder corsage of yellow carnations flounced with white lace.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson left for a short trip, the bride wearing a yellow nylon dress and white corsage. They will reside at 202 Outer Drive, Tecumseh.

Mrs. Wilson is a graduate of Tecumseh high school with the class of 1955. The groom attended Tecumseh high school, completing his education in the navy, and presently operates a service station in Clinton.

WHEELER—REMMINGTON FAMILY REUNION HELD

Thirty-nine members of the Wheeler-Remmington families met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Temple in Ottawa Hills, Ohio for their annual reunion Saturday.

Dinner and a social time were enjoyed by the group. Those attending from Tecumseh were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allen and granddaughter Linda Callihan and Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Collins. Others came from Clinton, Milan, Saline, Toledo, Detroit and Lansing.

Local Topics

Mr. and Mrs. Sevedus Maples and family have returned from a week's vacation at Glen lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Trudeau are now living in the house recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. James Freckelton. Mr. Trudeau is the new assistant football coach for the high school.

The Rev. Horace James is attending the Methodist Youth Camp at Wamplers [illegible] this week.

Mrs. Perry Hayden, son Joe, Perry Satterthwaite and his son Perry spent the weekend in Appleton, Wis. attending the wedding of Mrs. Hayden's niece, Camilla Deborah Heller and William George Doppmann of Cincinnati, which took place at 3 p.m. Saturday at the Memorial Presbyterian church. The couple will both be music students at summer school at the University of Michigan this summer.

Mrs. Rose Service, Mrs. Will O'Riley and Miss Mary McWilliams spent Thursday in Clinton helping Mrs. Pauline Schneirla celebrate her birthday with a picnic dinner.

Miss Ann Dingwall of Maxville, Canada and Mrs. Myra Mangus of Clinton spent Monday afternoon with Miss Mary McWilliams.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stout entertained Sunday Mrs. Elizabeth Stout and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Schmitz and their daughter Judy from Morenci and Mrs. O. C. Powell from St. Petersburg, Florida.

TECUMSEH CITY PLAN

These are the main features of the new proposed zoning ordinance for the City of Tecumseh:

Lots in area "A" will have 80-foot frontages,

Lots in area "B" will have 70-foot frontages.

Lots in area "C" will have 60-foot frontages.

In area "B" two family is permissible but the building has to appear to be a one-family dwelling.

The multiple dwelling area is defined as apartment houses or houses converted to apartment use.

It should be pointed out that many persons are confused as to the distinction between "restrictions" and "zoning ordinance."

The former are agreements which are included within the chain of title and show upon a particular abstract. They are enforced by neighbors through civil process.

The zoning law, on the contrary, is a criminal matter and is enforced by the city authorities.

Persons interested in reading and studying the complete ordinance may obtain a copy from the city clerk's office.

Dorfe--McKinney Vows Exchanged

At seven o'clock Saturday evening, Mrs. Geraldine McKinney of 530 Grand street, Adrian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Brant of Route 4, Adrian, and Arthur C. Dorfe of Tecumseh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dorfe of Wauseon, Ohio, were married at the home of the bride's sister, Mr. and Mrs. August Hoffmeister on Green Road.

The Rev. Edgar Owens, pastor of the Baptist church in Jackson performed the single ring ceremony, which took place on the lawn decorated with baskets of red and pink rambler roses, red spirea and blue delphinium.

The couple was attended by Evelyn Hoffmeister, sister of the bride and Charles Dorfe, father of the bridegroom.

The bride wore a street length dress of powder blue net over taffeta and had a corsage of red crimson glory roses.

At the reception which followed, June McKinney, daughter of the bride, served the wedding cake; Meredith Hoffmeister, niece of the bride, served the ice cream, and Mrs. Bobbie Keiber, daughter of the bride, poured coffee at the table centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with miniature bride and groom.

The groom is employed by the Truesdale Construction Company. The couple will reside at 6201 Green Road, Tecumseh.

IF YOU WANT SOME HIGH-CLASS entertainment, see and hear one of the musicals of Melody Circus playing for the summer at Botsford Inn near Farmington. This is the popular theater in the round idea adapted to musicals. The audience sits around the stage (incidentally, the stage is tiny compared to regular theater stages) and the actors and actresses make their entrances from many aisles. Seats are individual, lawn-type canvas backs. The theater is in a large tent and it was surprisingly cool. Members of this cast are young and are loaded with talent. If you like the theater, you'll love these popular musicals in the round. To get there from Tecumseh, take 112 through Wayne, then Middlebelt to Clarenceville. Botsford Inn is less than a mile east of Clarenceville on 16.

HATED LIKE THE DEUCE TO distrub C.M.W. this week. It's her vacation. But she came through with another fine piece of historical material on the background of Brookside Farm. Working from "her branch office" in her home, Miss Waldron did the piece which appears on page one as background for the lead story. We appreciated her efforts very much.

IN LAST WEEK'S STORY of the marriage of Miss Marian Comfort, she was called Pauline. When the Rev. Escolme called attention to the error, he told of how another newspaper goofed in reporting a reunion of war veterans, describing them as "battle scared." In the next edition of the paper, an attempted correction was made. This time the men were called "bottle scarred." Hope our correction is right.

THOUGHT FOR THIS WEEK — He that never changes his opinions, never corrects his mistakes, and will never be wiser on the morrow than he is today.

You'll get help in a hurry . . . if you have the policy with the P.S.*

*Personal Service

Legally, most automobile insurance policies say very much the same things. But when you buy an Ætna policy from us, you get a tremendously important extra value — an unwritten P.S. that means Personal Service — wherever you go . . . whenever you need it. Day or night — anywhere in the U.S. — it's as close as the nearest telephone.

So why not give yourself the security and peace of mind that come with having insurance protection at its very best — an Ætna Casualty policy, the policy with the P.S.

New Methodist Circles Meet

The three new women's circles of the Methodoist church met last week and selected a name for each of their groups.

Tuesday night Mrs. Herbert Dillon entertained the first group and they selected the Mary Foster Circle as their name.

The second group which met with Mrs. Elmer Bryan on Wednesday night chose for their name the Mabel Lawrence Circle.

The Naomi Irene Circle was selected as the name for the third group which met for a potluck supper at the home of Mrs. Paul Hadsell on Wednesday evening also.

A business meeting was conducted by each circle with the newly elected officers presiding. Pillow slips to be worked for the bazaar in the fall were handed out. The meetings will resume in the fall.

Birthdays Honored

Several friends of Linda Baldwin recently were invited to her home to help celebrate her thirteenth birthday. The evening was spent dancing and refreshments served. Linda received many lovely gifts.

Six friends of Dennis Jay Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Williams, helped him celebrate his third birthday Saturday morning with a party at his home. Games were played and cake and ice cream were served.

Services Held for Irwin Brollier

Irwin Eugene Brollier, 11-year-old son of Mrs. Helena Brollier of N. Oneida street, died early Sunday morning at the hospital of the state training school in Coldwater where he had been for the last seven years. He was born June 11, 1944.

Besides his mother, he is survived by three sisters, Irma, Joyce and Janet and his grandmother, Mrs. Myrtle Brollier of Tipton.

He was preceded in death by his father, Ellsworth in 1945.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Green Funeral Home with the Rev. E. C. Dickin officiating.

Burial was in Brookside cemetery with Martin Schreipp of Tecumseh, Harold Schreipp of Deerfield, Junior Schreipp of Riga, and Richard Dewey of Tipton as bearers.

Murrays Instruct Pathfinders' Club

The Lenawee Pathfinders' Club held its fifth monthly meeting Monday, June 13.

Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Murray were in charge of an instructive program on speech building.

A main function of the club is to give its members practice in giving short interesting talks on varying subjects, speeches of introduction and techniques in holding the interest of an audience.

It is, however, the desire of the members to adopt worthwhile community projects that may be sponsored or aided by the club. During the next several months ideas will be evaluated and one or more considered the best will be adopted.

No club meeting will be held in July but Sunday, Aug. 7, a potluck picnic will be held at the R. S. Moore cottage at Sand Lake with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fielder as hosts.

If your children's breakfast appetite is not what you'd like it to be, try letting them play for half an hour before calling them to the table. A little exercise before eating will increase anyone's appetite.

At 5 and 8 p.m. the Ladies' Aid served dinners for about 250 persons.

The decision to enlarge and improve the church building was made in a congregation meeting Feb. 3, 1952, for the purpose of providing more room for the Sunday School.

The ground breaking took place Nov. 2 that same year. A new organ was purchased a few months ago.

Most of the needed funds were secured by loan.

The seating capacity of the nave was increased about 100 per cent with a corresponding enlargement of the basement and improvement of the front entrance.

The Rev. A. Jeschke, pastor of the local church, said: "The cooperation, skill, patience and good will of our general contractor Mr. M. H. Thielan and his company is gratefully acknowledged.

"The construction and installation of the altar rail and organ and pew screens, the planning and construction in connection with the front steps of the building and many other necessary details of the building called for the ingenuity and cooperation of Mr. Thielan and his men."

Electrical work was done by Mr. John Watson and his men. The furnace was installed by C. A. Seitz and Sons.

Teh Rev. Jeschke also commented:

"Uncounted hours from factory quitting time to the hours of midnight were spent by our building committee, which consists of Mr. P. Maves, Mr. A. Schwede, Mrs. B. Nilsen and Mr. W. Kaiser.

"The task of expediting the building program was assigned to these men, who did a wonderful job in carrying out the wishes of the congregation."

He also acknowledged "the generous contribution of time and labor from many of the members of the congregation while the building was in progress."

The choir and the children's chorus sang in the 10:30 service. The floor and altar candles were lighted by robed choir members: Nancy Dinse and Karen Marine in the 8:30 a.m. service; Fred Jeschke and Gary Haviland in the 10:30 a.m. service; Carol Greiman and Carolyn Tonneberger in the 3 p.m. service; Marjorie Haviland and Sharon Mitzner in the 8 p.m. service.

Ushers during the four services were: Mr. James Tonneberger, Mr. William Korth, Mr. George Heeman, Mr. Kenneth Marine, Mr. Paul Maves, Mr. Bert Filter, Mr. Roy Beasley, Mr. George Bailey, Mr. O. Bryan, Mr. Herman Blohm, Mr. Walter Dailey and Mr. Alfred Schwede.

houses, Brookmeade subdivision will be the largest one here.

Other subdivisions here and their number of houses include:

The first sizable building program was started in 1937 in the area known as "Indian Acres," from 1937 to 1939, 45 houses were built in that area.

The second major addition was north Union and west Brown streets, where a total of 57 new houses were built.

The third addition was located on south Union street and is known as "Tecumseh Small-Farms." This area was built up between 1945 and 1948 and has a total of 55 houses.

The fourth addition was "Herrick Park," which was started early in 1949 and now has a total of 145 houses.

The fifth addition was started in July, 1949, and is known as "Tecumesh Acres." This area now has a total of 143 houses.

The sixth addition — located in the northwest section of the city, is known as the "Second Addition to Indian Acres." Streets, water, sewer and gas mains have been installed in this area. This area will contain approximately 80 houses.

The seventh addition is located in the north section of town near highway M-52 and was started in 1954. The area is known as "River Acres." The streets, curb and gutter, city water, sewer and gas mains have been installed. This area will hold 90 houses.

Since 1937, 670 new houses have been built in the Tecumseh area.

The Brookmeade subdivision, when completed, will hold 170 more houses than have been built in subdivisions here in the past 18 years.

CAR ROLLS OVER, DRIVER HURT

A car driven by John Forgacs, 111 north Pearl street, Tecumseh, ran off Occidental highway Saturday afternoon and rolled over three times into a field.

Mr. Forgacs, uninjured, told Sheriff deputies that he lost control when he tried to pass a car that pulled out to pass a car in front of it.

CAR HITS TREES, DRIVER INJURED

Duane L. Johnson, 20, of 730 south Union street, Tecumseh, suffered head cuts and leg bruises when his car left Valley road and hit a tree early Saturday morning.

The car went off the road, tore up a small tree and crashed into a larger tree.

He told Sheriff deputies that he went to sleep.

Johnson was treated at Bixby hospital.

MAN FINED FOR BEING DISORDERLY

Arraigned Monday before Justice Robert L. French, Alfred C. Smith, 52, of Tecumseh pleaded guilty to a disorderly charge.

Arrested by Tecumseh police Friday night, Smith paid a $15 fine and $8.60 costs.

FIRE DAMAGES RAISIN HOUSE

Fire caused from a defective refrigerator caused damages of about $800 to the house of Fred Fairbanks, 6518 Rogers Highway in Raisin Township Monday at 1:45 a.m.

Kitchen walls were ignited.

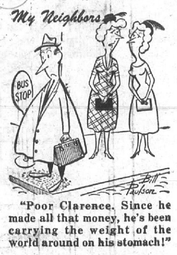
Members of the family were awakened by the smell of sulphur fumes.

Tecumseh's volunteer department answered the alarm.

SENTENCED BY JUSTICE LOWE

Ronald S. Pocklington, 54, of Route 1, Britton, arraigned before Justice John Lowe Monday, pleaded guilty to driving while under the influence of liquor and was sentenced to pay a $100 fine, $8.60 costs and placed on probation for 30 days.

He was arrested by Sheriff deputies in Holloway Sunday.



"Poor Clarence. Since he made all that money, he's been carrying the weight of the world around on his stomach!"

CITY OF TECUMSEH
COUNCIL MEETING
June 20, 1955

Present: Mayor Hanna; Councilman Hamilton; Moore; Powell; Purkey; Schwartz; Titley.

Absent: None.

Meeting opened with the invocation by Councilman Schwartz.

Minutes of the regular meeting held June 6, 1955 read and approved.

Motion Schwartz and seconded Purkey bills amounting to $10,892.51 be allowed and orders drawn up for the same. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion Titley and seconded Powell to accept the resignation of Lloyd Rhein from the hospital board. Motion carried unanimously.

ORDINANCE

The following preamble and ordinance was presented.

WHEREAS this Municipality enacted a Zoning Ordinance some years ago by which the construction and occupation of buildings throughout the City was subjected to a reasonable regulation in an effort to preserve existing property values and to permit the orderly expansion of the Community; and

WHEREAS the rapid growth of this City has indicated the need of a substantial change in the Zoning law as previously enacted; and

WHEREAS the City Planning Commission has diligently made this subject a matter of intensive study and has recommended diverse changes designed to permit the orderly expansion of the industrial and business areas and, at the same time, protecting established and prospective residential aras.

NOW THEREFORE THE CITY OF TECUMSEH ORDAINS:

1. That the City Zoning Ordinance, being Section 7.000 to 7.450 of the Codified Ordinances of the City of Tecumseh, embracing all aspects of the Zoning law within said City, including lot size, building size, building location and use is effective 15 August 1955, declared enacted.

2. That, pursuant to Charter Section 7.4 wherein provision is made for those Ordinances too lengthy to be published, interested persons are advised that the exact text of the proposed Zoning Ordinance may be obtained upon application to the City Clerk.

3. That all persons considering themselves agrieved by the provisions of this Ordinance are advised that objections therto will be considered July 18, 1955, at the Council Chambers at 7:30 P. M., at which time said persons may make their objections known to the end that all persons may be assured of a fair and impartial hearing.

Motion Schwartz and seconded Purkey the ordinance be adopted.

Attest Mayor: H. H. Hanna
Attest Clerk: Naomi Sallows
Dated: 20 June 1955

RESOLUTION

The following preamble and resolution was offered by Councilman Purkey and supported by Councilman Moore.

WHEREAS this Municipal Body has been petitioned for the vacating of an alley located in William McCowan's Addition; and

WHEREAS the Council has deemed, and continues to so deem, the vacation of said alley located in William McCowan's Addition to be a public improvement; and

WHEREAS by Resolution of 16 May 1955, the Clerk was directed to publish a copy of that Resolution for three successive weeks in the Tecumseh Herald, which Resolution and publication designated a time and place at which any objections could be received; and

WHEREAS no objections were made as to the closing of said alley located in William McCowan's addition.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED THAT:

1. Said alley located in William McCowan's Addition, City of Tecumseh, County of Lenawee and State of Michigan, as more particularly described hereinafter is, as of 20th June, 1955, vacated, abandoned, and absolutely discontinued.

2. Said alley in William McCowan's Addition is more particularly described as follows:

Commencing at the Northwest corner of Block Number 1 of William McCowan's Addition to the Village (now city) of Tecumseh and running thence South, in the East line of Maiden Lane Street, 189.75 feet FOR A PLACE OF BEGINNING: thence running East, 247.5 feet to the West line of Pearl Street; thence South, in the West line of Pearl Street, 20 feet; thence West, 247.5 feet to the East line of Maiden Lane Street; thence North, in the East line of Maiden Lane Street, 20 feet to the Place of Beginning.

3. The Clerk is directed to supply a true copy hereof to the Register of Deeds of Lenawee County and the Auditor General of the State of Michigan and is authorized to do and perform all other acts of any nature whatsoever necessary to accomplish the end hereinbefore set forth.

RESOLUTION DECLARED ADOPTED.

Attest Mayor: H. H. Hanna
Attest Clerk: Naomi Sallows

Motion Purkey and seconded by Moore to accept the preceding resolution. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion Powell and seconded Hamilton to purchase a ¾ ton truck from Schneider Brothers Garage at a cost of $1400.00. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion Titley and seconded Purkey to accept the City Managers report as given. Motion carierd unanimously.

Motion Titley and seconded Moore a hearing on Curb and Gutter assessments for residents on West Kilbuck street between South Maiden Lane and South Union streets be held Monday July 18, 1955 at 8:00 p. m. in the Council Rooms. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion Titley and seconded Hamilton the City Manager be authorized to place a bid with General Services Administration Real Estate Division, for a two year lease of land located on the Easterly side of Pearl Street between Pottawatamie and Chicago Street which was acquired as a site for a proposed Post Office Building. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion Moore and seconded Powell to adjourn the meeting. Motion carried unanimously.

Car Owners Get Improved Insurance Rates

F. C. Hanna, local representative of the Auto-Owners Insurance Company of Lansing, Michigan, announced the inauguration of a novel rating plan for automobile risks which by means of improved classification methods will mean lower auto insurance premiums for people in the following six groups:

(1) Men or women who use their car for business purposes;

(2) Farmers; (3) Married men under 25; (4) Families who have a daughter under 25 using the car; (5) Young men under 25 who have successfully completed an approved driver-training course; (6) Young men under 25 who use the family car only occasionally.

In commenting on the steps taken by his company, Mr. Hanna explained, "The experience of Auto-Owners with these six groups has been favorable during the past 18 months, and it was felt that those who come under them should be entitled to whatever benefits accrued from this favorable experience. Therefore, the company has reclassified each from its original higher-rated classification to another, which will result in a substantial savings for many!

Writers of automobile insurance, plagued by high accident ratios everywhere, and concerned by the resultant high rates they must charge, are expected to watch this latest step by Auto-Owners with considerable interest, Mr. Hanna concluded.

Britton-Ridgeway Methodist church Bible School closing exercises were held last Tuesday evening. Average attendance at the school was 132. Awards were given for memory work and attendance.

VISITORS HONORED

Relatives and friends gathered Sunday to honor Mr. and Mrs. John F. Robison and family of Torrence, Calif., who are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Robison of Clinton and the Rev. and Mrs. O. E. Priest of Britton.

Lance, the two and one-half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Robison, was baptized at the morning service at the Congregational church, after which a picnic dinner was served at the Britton park to 46 relatives and friends. The group returned to the church later in the afternoon for a social time.

Guests were present from Clinton, Tecumseh, Howell, Fowlerville, Detroit and Bedford, Ind.

The Robisons will return to their home in Calif. this week, where Mr. Robison is a design engineer for N. American Aviation Co. of Los Angeles.

Boy Scout Troop 23 held their first board of review June 9, when three boys passed their second class requirements. Fred Barnoske, former senior patrol leader is now an Explorer Scout; Lester Ruhl Jr. was named senior patrol leader, and Gerald Rhora is a second class scout.

A Court of Honor will be held soon at which time the boys will receive their awards.

Mrs. Minnie Sisson entertained Sunday for her sister, Mrs. Bertha Oliver of Calif. and her nephew Earl Oliver of Florida, who are spending the summer in Michigan. Other guests were Mrs. Florence Ousterhout, Mrs. Edna Underwood and Mr. and Mrs. Vern Pocklington. This is Mrs. Oliver's first trip to Michigan since 1946.

Mrs. Fred Barnoske and daughter Lynn Ann of Britton and Mrs. Henry Walters and son Earl of Petersburg returned home last week from a visit with Mrs. Barnoske's uncle, C. Russell and family at Carrolton, Ky.

Mrs. Frank Becker was called to Sturgis Wednesday to care for her sister, Mrs. Harvey Veon, who had a stroke.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jerry and sons Curt and Johnnie of Kokomo, Ind., were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Becker and family.

Belva Weichner of Corvallis, Oregon and Arcellia McElroy of Kenton, Ohio, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Royal McElroy.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Crutchfield of Manchester were callers Saturday afternoon of their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Crutchfield.

The Britton Rebekah Lodge met last week in regular session with 15 members and one guest present. A memorial was conducted for deceased members under the direction of Mrs. Delora Zarnow.

The Hoagland family reunion will be held June 26 at the Mahlon Reynolds residence in Durand, Mich., with a potluck dinner at 1 p.m.

The Congregational Christian church Bible school began Monday. The course of study for kindergartners through teen-agers is "Hills of the Cross."

hickory AND horsehide

by DIZZY TROUT

WITH THE American League season about one-third completed, the pennant race is shaping up pretty much as Ol' Diz predicted—with one notable exception.

The big surprise to me, and to a lot of other people associated with baseball as well, is the re[illegible]verse in the one-two order between New York and Cleveland.

Where Ol' Diz looked for the Indians to be in front and running strong, with the Yankees doggedly at their heels, the positions are reversed and then some.

The Yankees are enjoying a fairly comfortable lead and Cleveland is having its hands full with Chicago in a fight for second place. Of course, the season is still young and by the time this column (written well in advance) reaches print much could have changed.

But the point is the Yankees are doing amazingly well with a club that no one seriously compares with the great Yankee teams of the past.

Good Pitching

While they appear weaker than in other years, the Yankees still are enjoying good pitching, particularly in the relief department where Jim Konstanty has preserved many victories that otherwise might have been defeats.

The Yankees still belt a lot of home runs, Mickey Mantle and Eddie Robinson being the chief long ball hitters, and they have a fairly strong bench, Elston Howard hitting best among the substitutes.

Manager Casey Stengel's announced strategy is to try to break even with the other first division clubs and feast off the second division teams. But what has helped New York most is its hooking up a long victory string, winning something like 15 out of 18 games [illegible] against all comers.

On the other hand, Cleveland recently lost eight out of 10, including three to Boston, and that really hurt.

Quiet Bats

Where the Indians could always count on two or three clutch hitters to drive in the runs, the bats of sluggers like Larry Doby, Al Rosen and Vic Wertz have been quiet of late. And the Indians sorely need a "stopper," a relief pitcher who can go in and effectively silence enemy bats.

Chicago is playing hot and cold ball, although seemingly always hot against Detroit. The White Sox still expect to take the pennant, and the home run hitting of Walt Dropo and Bob Nieman is helping considerably in that direction.

But what is aiding Chicago the most is its pitching, with Virgil Trucks, Jack Harshman and Mike Fornieles setting the pace. In addition, Billy Pierce apparently has recovered from a sore arm and adds depth to the staff.

Detroit seems firmly entrenched in fourth place and has eyes on the third spot, but the Tigers would do well to cast a few glances back at onrushing Boston, which is now finding itself with the return of the great Ted Williams to the Hickory and Horsehide game.

Share the Fun Contest Set Friday

The county "Share the Fun Festival" contest will be held Friday, June 24, at the Madison Agricultural School at 8 p.m. This contest is sponsored by the 4-H Service Club and is open to the public.

There is no admission charge.

Contestants at this event are winners from the district contests which were held in May.

In all, 17 winners were chosen to compete in the county contest. Four winners from this contest will be eligible to enter the state contest to be held at Michigan State University the latter part of Aug.

Wilson's and Gambles Lead in Men's Softball

In regular games played in the city recreation men's softball league last week Gambles, the American Legion, Friends Church and Wilson Motors posted wins.

Gleason for Gambles allowed Dick's Standard Service, defending champs, only one hit, as Gambles won, 15-2.

Wheeler starred at bat and in the field for the losers, poling out a homer with a man on for his team's only runs and he made two impossible catches in left field.

Fisher and Meyers homered for Gambles which had an eight hit attack.

The Gas Men lost their second game 2-1 in a pitchers' duel between their Whelan and the Friends' Meads. Again Dick's managed only one hit. Withrow got the bingle in the fourth to drive in a run.

The Friends' Bob Manley broke up the game in the seventh with a two-run single.

The Legion-Britton Oddfellows game was a slugging duel with the teams massing 17 hits. The Legion won, 13-12.

Judkins had a homer for the losers in the seventh.

The Legion came up with four runs in the sixth.

This game had to be called in the top of the seventh because time ran out.

But the Legionnaires lost to Wilson's, 14-9.

Colson had a homer for the Legion and Whitecotton homered for Wilson's.

In Friday night's games which were rescheduled after they previously had been rained out Wilson Motor Sales edged Dick's Standard Service, 6-5 and Gambles sneaked by Britton Oddfellows, 2-1.

Murphy lashed out a double for Wilson's.

Dick's only two hits were made by Barton and Robertson.

The car men made six errors that aided in Dick's run production.

McKenzie and Gleason came up with a no-hitter for Gambles against the IOOF.

Myers, Gambles' catcher, banged out a homer, double and single.

Britton got its run as a result of walks and a throwing error.

FARM BUREAU MEETS

The Raisin-Tecumeh Farm Bureau held a meeting last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Bryan. After the business meeting, a discussion was conducted on the topic, "Problems relating to closed school districts." Following this, refreshments were served consisting of cake and jello.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raynor VanValkenburg on July 15.

Nemire Leads MARC Races

The busy bread man from Toledo, Kenny Nemire, has pulled well out in front in the battle for the Midwest Association for Race Cars title at Adrian Speedway, which will be resumed in weekly stock car racing there this Thursday night.

Runnerup to track champion Rollie Beale last season, Nemire has taken a commanding lead in the Adrian Speedway point department by grabbing his second feature victory last week. Kenny became the first driver to score a "double" in feature wins at the Speedway this season.

Nemire also was the first MARC pilot to gain his second feature win at Toledo Raceway Park this year and, in addition, leads the point parade at Wauseon Raceway on his feature win there last Wednesday night. So Kenny's Cadillac-powered Chevrolet stock car is really rolling all around the MARC circuit.

A typical week for the busy bread man often includes six—and even seven—nights of racing, unless it's completely impossible for him to change over his car to suit the various area tracks. Kenny also has finished well up in piloting a 1955 Cadillac and a little Offenhauser midget in the last couple of weeks.

A full program of heats, Australian Pursuit, semi-final and feature over the 25-lap distance will be on tap at Adrian Speedway this Thursday, with time trials at 7 p.m. and the first race at 8:30. More of the Factory Stock races for area amateurs are being added to the program each week.

SERVICE ATTENDED BY 40 COUPLES

Forty couples attended the marriage rededication service at the Presbyterian Church last Sunday evening. Tom Tipton from the University of Michigan was featured as the guest soloist.

Following the service, a reception was held in the Fellowship Center with the Golden Rule Division of the church serving. Mrs. Robert Anderson was chairman and the Misses Dulcie Bowen, Sandra Biederman, and Ruth Boyce assisted with the refreshments.

Before peeling or cutting vegetables for canning, wash them well. But Michigan State foods and nutrition experts say, "Don't let them soak: they lose food value."

Get on the BANDWAGON!
We're "Sell-a-brating" with Leadership Deals on brand new '55 Fords!

Summer Bandwagon Sell-a-bration
Now going on!

All year long we've been selling new Fords at a Leadership pace. Now we're "Sell-a-brating" in advance what looks like the most successful sales year in Ford history. We're offering Leadership Deals on all '55 Fords—so you share the benefits.

Why not hop on the Ford Bandwagon—join the big swing to Ford—get in on a deal that spells savings to you—now while our summer "Sell-a-bration" is in full swing—now while your present car is worth its top dollar—now while you can enjoy a full summer of fun in America's trend-setting, "GO"-leading, "worth-more" car—the brilliant '55 Ford. Come in at your earliest—come get our "best"!

V-8 POWER from the V-8 leader ... that's what you get in a Ford. And Ford's Trigger-Torque "go" means more than just trigger-quick action on take-offs. It gives you a whole new feeling of confidence and security in traffic or on the open road.

YEARS-AHEAD LOOKS ... you see it in every Thunderbird-inspired line. For, this '55 Ford is truly the styling "trend-setter." Perhaps you've noticed, too, you see more and more Fords in front of homes where formerly only costlier cars were parked.

SMOOTHER GOING ... and you'll go more places! The reason? Ford's revolutionary Ball-Joint Front Suspension is better than ever. For '55, springs are tilted back to absorb bumps from the front as well as up and down. You'll find even the smooth roads seem smoother!

Commenting on the Passing Scene

THAT TECUMSEH, UNLIKE many other small cities, is not stagnant and standing still but is dynamic and growing can be seen again in the announcement this week that Brookmeade Corporation of Detroit will convert historic Brookside Farm into a large housing subdivision.

When completed, the subdivision will have 840 houses with 100 planned for this year. Eight hundred and forty houses is a large number and the new sub probably will not be filled for some time. But when outside capital from Michigan's largest city decides to put money in a small town, it is fairly safe to assume that the corporation knows what it is doing and that it has faith that Tecumseh is on the march.

This march will of course bring more problems. Suppose that each house sold in the new sub will have four persons in the family.

When completed, the sub will have a total of 3360 persons, about half of which would be living in the city limits.

Then supose that one day the remaining half petitions to be taken into the city and that the annexation election passes. This alone would make Tecumseh a city with almost 9000 persons.

We have given each house owner two children. This would make 1680 children of school age which may, in fact, be a very conservative estimate.

An increase in population of the city and an increase in the school population together will bring many problems.

These increases also will bring benefits. They will bring more revenue to the city and schools and more purchasing power for business.

But above all, they again will prove that Tecumseh, one of the fastest growing cities in the state, is still on the march.

ANOTHER CHAPTER IN THE state equalization story has been written by the Michigan Supreme Court with an assist from Kent County.

The court rejected the county's attempt to upset its state equalization, denying the county's petition for leave to appeal from the decision of the state board of equilization.

Kent County alleged that the state was arbitrary and unreasonable.

It had asked the supreme court either to throw out the state's equalization decision or order the state board to conduct a new hearing.

Refusal of the request will have far-reaching consequences on school districts.

SINCE QUITE A NUMBER of persons have been critical of Tecumseh's rough roads in recent weeks we went to the man who has the facts about the situation.

Ed Nelson, city manager, says he will be glad to set folks straight on their criticisms when possible; but because the city manager has all he can do now we thought this reply would cover more people and give the city manager more time to work at the many tasks that confront him.

Taking the first criticism first, the city manager said that all street and road work on the River Acres subdivision is being paid for by the subdivider. He further pointed out that since Tecumseh does not have enough funds at present to improve streets the way the city would like, some of the city workers would have had to be laid off if they had not had work at River Acres.

The city manager also has the answer for those folks who think that because Tecumseh has more streets since the annexation of more territory when it became a city, it also should be receiving more in street and highway funds. He plainly showed that more streets and roads require more money for maintenance and that this money must be shared over a larger area.

He also stated that it is the city's plan to surface a block each year with bituminous concrete until the whole loop around down town is completed.

After chatting with him, we realize that the city is cognizant of the needs but that it will take time and money to do all the things that need to be done and to maintain them in the manner city residents expect.

Realty Views

If Erle Stanley Gardner were writing this column it would be called the "Case of the Typical Home Sale."

However, he isn't, so I hasten to add, no two sales of real estate are alike. We can't guarantee we could do as well for you. On the other hand, we might do a lot better. The market varies. The only thing that remains constant is our sincere desire to help you sell your property.

The "case history" began with a phone call. We inspected the home. It was in nice shape. The price was in line. We had four current prospects for a home of that type. They were called and three of them wanted to see it.

The owner was in a hurry to sell, so simultaneously, we ran an ad to try to provoke additional interest. Exactly 10 persons called. Because of the down payment, age, or location only half of them asked to see it.

Two of our competitors called to see if they might be permitted to show the home to prospects. Naturally, we try to work with all Realtors and granted permission.

Within 30 days, the sale was completed. The purchaser was one of our "existing" prospects.

If you wish to sell — NOW, or in the future — please remember to place the task in our hands. That's the best way to get results.

Furgason-Escott Vows Spoken at Baptist Church

Tall hampers of white delphinium and white carnations were combined with palms and lighted candelabra to form a lovely background for the bridal party in the First Baptist church Saturday evening when Helen Marie Furgason was married to Donald Lee Escott. White satin bows on the family pews added to the beauty of the scene.

Th bride is the daughter of Mrs Mary Furgason and the late E. L. Furgason, while the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Escott of Clinton.

The Rev. B. O. Bashore performed the double ring ceremony at 7:30 o'clock and her brother, Robert Erwin gave the bride in marriage. During the ceremony, Miss Marjorie Greenfield of Clinton sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly" accompanied by Mrs. Herbert Dillon at the organ, who also played the traditional wedding music.

Miss Furgason chose lace and tulle over satin for her bridal gown. It was made with a hooped skirt, which had four lace panels, long sleeves ending in point over her hands and a low neckline outlined in pearls and sequins. Her finger-tip veil of silk illusion was held by a pearl and sequin tiara and she wore earrings and a three strand necklace of pearls that were gifts of the groom. The white Bible she carried was also his gift and was topped by a white orchid with a shower of stephanotis and satin ribbon.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Robert Erwin, sister-in-law of the bride wore a yellow, floor length gown of tulle over taffeta, strapless with a sweetheart neckline and matching tulle stole and head band. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow carnations made with a center arrangement of white tulle and stephanotis.

Donna Escott, sister of the groom, and Miss Nancy Porter were bridesmaids and wore dresses made like that of the matron of honor in mint green and pink respectively. Donna carried butterscotch carnations in a cascade accented with yellow maline and green ribbon while Nancy's bouquet was of rose pink carnations with pink and rose maline.

The bride's niece, little Connie Lee Erwin and Jackie Miller, cousin of the groom, were flower girls, dressed in ruffled, powder-blue tulle over taffeta with matching head bands. Each carried tiny colonial flower baskets flounced in blue maline and tied with pink and white ribbons. They wore miniature pearl necklaces and bracelets given them by the bride.

Kenneth Escott of Clinton assisted his brother as best man and Robert Furgason and John Escott, cousins of the bride and groom were ushers.

Mrs. Furgason's dress for her daughter's wedding was of rose mauve lace over taffeta and her accessories were white. Mrs. Escott's lace dress was blue and she wore accessories in navy and white. Both wore corsages of orchid.

The grandmothers of both bride and groom were present. The bride's, Mrs. Vivian Matthews, wore lavender shadow lace with accessories of black and white, Mrs. Nina Updyke, grandmother of the groom, chose a navy print with which she wore navy and white. Their corsages were of white carnations.

Pink and white was the color scheme carried out at the Tecumseh Grange Hall where Mr. and Mrs. Mills Swick received the 300 guests at the wedding reception. Refreshments of cake, punch, ice cream and coffee were served, the groom's aunt, Leone Crockett cutting the five-tiered wedding cake which stood on a glass pedestal and was decorated with wedding bells and a miniature bride and groom. Jessie Matthews, the bride's aunt, served the groom's cake.

Lila Furgason and Sadie Day, aunts of bride and groom, presided at the coffee urns, while Ann Ricicia and Jim Squires served punch and Mary Nichols had charge of the ice cream.

Others who assisted were Mr. and Mrs. William Grigg, Arlie Becker and Louetta Barnes. All those helping with the refreshments wore nosegays of pink carnations and aprons in pastel shades of organdy.

The bridal gown and those of her attendants were made by a friend, Mrs. Boldt Sarvey.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Escott left after the reception for a week in northern Michigan, the bride traveling in a beige suit with accessories in avocado green and wearing the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

She is a graduate of Tecumseh high school with the class of 1953 and is employed as secretary to L. R. Rhein at the Tecumseh Products Co. Mr. Escott graduated from Clinton high school in 1952 and has taken several short courses in agriculture at Michigan State College. He works at the Standard Oil Co. in Tecumseh and is also engaged in farming.

They will live in a newly furnished home at R.F.D. 1 Clinton.

Hepatitis Is on the March

A growing number of Michigan communities appear to be suffering slow-moving, massive epidemics of infectious hepatitis, according to the Michigan Department of Health. In many family groups, health authorities said, the use of gamma globulin has proven an effective means of protection for those exposed.

A virus infection which attacks the liver, infectious hepatitis is spread from person to person in much the same manner as typhoid fever. "The best safeguard against the disease," according to Dr. F. S. Leeder, director of the state health department's division of disease control, "is through a high standard of personal cleanliness and community sanitation."

"But if a member of a household develops infectious hepatitis," explained Dr. Leeder, "immune globulin—or gamma globulin—can provide protection for other members of the family. Immune globulin has been used widely to afford a measure of protection against measles and polio but perhaps its most important use will turn out to be against infectious hepatitis."

There were 1419 cases of infectious hepatitis reported in Michigan last year, as compared with only 48 cases reported in 1950. "It is only recently—since World War II—that infectious hepatitis has been recognized as a virus disease. Formerly called catarrhal jaundice, and still mistakenly referred to by many as yellow jaundice, it is becoming one of the most widespread infectious diseases in the state."

Goodwill Picks Up Tuesday

Two-thirds of all the materials collected at Goodwill Industries are picked up during the one-third of the year devoted to spring housecleaning. Althoughh this creates a great deal of activity in the Goodwill workshops during these few months it also means that Goodwill Industries is hard pressed to keep all of their employees working full time during the balance of the year.

Goodwill Industries is able to maintain full employment opportunities for its 400 physically handicapped employees only through the continuous flow of usable, repairable discards. Clothing, shoes, toys, small appliances and some types of furniture are the items which provide the largest number of jobs.

For this reason, Mrs. Carl Burch of Tecumseh and William Kuster of Britton, Goodwill's telephone representatives for this area are making a special appeal for contributions of discarded materials now.

The familiar Goodwill Industries pick-up trucks will be in Tecumseh and Britton on Tuesday, June 28.

Arrangements for a Goodwill truck pick-up may be made by calling Mrs. Burch at Tecumseh 868, and Mr. Kuster at Britton 2121.

BRIDE-ELECT HONORED

Miss Shirley DeClercq, a bride-elect of this month, was complimented with a shower recently by Miss Pat Dibble at her home in Tipton. Fifteen guests attended.

Games were played and the prizes, which were won by Jane Hargrave Williams and Ruth Boyce were presented to the guest of honor.

The house was attractively decorated with cut flowers. Miss DeClercq received many lovely gifts. Refreshments were served by the hostess, her mother and sister Mary Lou.

BUICK SPECIAL 2-Door, 6-Passenger Riviera, Model 46R

They're making it the BIGGEST-SELLING BUICK OF ALL TIME

Maybe you'd better see for yourself why folks just won't do without this great car

PEOPLE say success makes success —but we say people make success, and how!

It's people—just like you—who are snowballing Buick sales this year to an all-time peak.

It's people—just like your neighbors down the street—who are snapping up these gorgeous new Buicks almost as fast as we get them from the factory, and causing Buick production to climb to new levels every month, to handle the unparalleled demand.

And it's people—just about from every walk of life—who keep Buick sales soaring without letup—and who have moved Buick more solidly than ever into the charmed circle of America's top best sellers.

But why? Why this phenomenal swing to Buick on the part of people who can choose any new car?

Because Buick's a buy—definitely.

And because it's a bold beauty that catches the eye and holds it—that's for sure.

And certainly because it's supremely level of ride—and a sweet joy to handle—and a mighty bundle of high-voltage V8 power to melt away the miles and the high hills.

But most of all, because Buick this year is a performer like no earthbound vehicle ever was before...

Because Buick—and only Buick—has the airplane-principled magic of Variable Pitch Dynaflow* where you switch the pitch for big gas savings in cruising—or for whip-quick getaway response and acceleration when you need a sudden safety-surge.

It's sheer thrill, and pure pleasure, and a big boon to your gasoline budget—and you really ought to try it.

Come visit us soon—this week, at the latest—and see for yourself why this is the car folks just won't do without—the biggest-selling Buick of all time.

*Dynaflow Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Thrill of the year is Buick

Slow Down and Live

Chief George Kilbourn today urged all motorists to sharpen up on their driving skills in terms of Safe Passing—an important part of the nation-wide SLOW DOWN AND LIVE program now underway.

According to Chief Kilbourn getting ahead of the other fellow in traffic is modern trafic's most difficult maneuver. He suggested that all motorists give careful study to the following 20 Safety Tips on Passing:

(1) Never pass at hills, curves or intersections.

(2) Don't cut-in right after you pass a car.

(3) Have a gap ahead, to get into when passing.

(4) Use left turn signal when pulling out to pass.

(5) Warn driver ahead — honk or flash headlights.

(6) Go 10 to 15 m.p.h. faster than car you're passing.

(7) Use care when passing sevral cars at a time.

(8) When passing opposite a roadside business — watch!

(9) Be doubly careful of oncoming traffic at night.

(10) Check for righthand passing on four lane highways.

(11) Triple alertness when passing at speeds over 50.

(12) Don't blindly follow car ahead when it's passing.

(13) Suspect driver behind impatiently trying to pass.

(14) Wave back driver behind you when unsafe to pass.

(15) Pull to right of your lane when being passed.

(16) Watch driver passing on right at intersections.

(17) Be wary of a car passing an oncoming car.

(18) Hesitate passing with cars on both sides of you.

(19) Question passing a car opposite a parked car.

(20) Think twice before passing opposite a pedestrian.

In conclusion Chief Kilbourn emphasized the fact that mistakes in passing can be particularly disastrous because the car doing the passing is going faster than other traffic. He urged everyone to keep in mind the summer slogans KEEP IN YOUR LANE and SLOW DOWN AND LIVE.

Christian Science Services Listed

How spiritual understanding of the law of God opens the door to individual growth and progress will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christian Science" include the following from Psalms (19:7): "The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul: the testimony of the Lord is sure, making wise the simple."

The value of understanding this law will also be brought out in passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including the following (128:4-6, 14): "The term Science, properly understood, refers only to the law of God and to His government of the universe, inclusive of man . . . A knowledge of the Science of being develops the latent abilities and possibilities of man. It extends the atmosphere of thought, giving mortals access to broader and higher realms. It raises the thinker into his native air of insight and perspicacity."

Local Topics

Mr. and Mrs. Duaine Service spent the weekend at the Rice cottage at Round Lake. On Sunday there was a family gathering in honor of the 80th birthday anniversary of Mrs. Cynthia Rice. Those present included her daughter, Mrs. W. E. Grove of Curtice, Ohio, and Mrs. Grove's son and family, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Grove and little son of Maumee. Mrs. Rice's sister, Mrs. Floyd Bell and Ray Kemp of Adrian were also among the guests.

Recent guests of Miss Ruth Harding were her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. John Wearmouth of Springfield, Va., and Washington, D. C. They also visited Arthur Harding at Herrick Memorial hospital.

Miss Marie Boyce, who has completed her first year at Alma College, will be a counselor at Camp Marqua near Hale, Mich., this summer. The camp is sponsored by the Y.W.C.A. of Bay City. Local Delegates Attend Jehovah's Witness Assembly

Forty delegates from the Tecumseh congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses will atttend an assembly at Comiskey Park, Chicago, June 22-26.

Kenneth Ball, presiding minister here, who will head the delegation, announced today that a total of 40,000 is expected to attend from the middle west and a few from other states throughout the United States.

The Rev. Ball described this assembly as one of a world-sweeping series of eleven Christian conventions. "In 1953," Mr. Ball pointed out, "we had one international gathering of ministers at Yankee Stadium in New York that drew a peak attendance of 165,829 from 97 lands. This year we hope our combined attendance will double that."

The cities in the United States and Canada named as convention sites are Chicago, Vancouver, B.C., Los Angeles, Dallas and New York. Those in Europe are London, Paris, Rome, Nuremberg, Stockholm and The Hague.

Arrangements are already under way to send over 4,500 delegates from the United States and Canada to the European assemblies. Delegates from Latin America, Africa, Australia and the Far East will also attend in Europe.

Stamp News

BY GREG MASON

Eighteen stamps will comprise the new regular series. Six will be presidents, six will be historic shrines and six will be famous Americans. Six values already have been issued.

These denominations will not appear on the regular series because less than 1% were issued annually; 4½c, 11c to 19c inclusive, 21c, 22c, 24c and the $2 stamp.

A new 40c stamp will be added which is the first time a 40c stamp has been issued on U.S. stamps.

The subjects are as follows:

Six presidents — *1c George Washington, *2c Thomas Jefferson, *4c Abraham Lincoln, *5c James Monroe, 6c Theodore Roosevelt, 7c Woodrow Wilson.

Six historic shrines—1½c Mount Vernon, *3c Statue of Liberty, *8c Statue of Liberty, 9c the Alamo, 10c Independence Hall, 20c Monticello.

Six famous Americans—½c Benjamin Franklin, 30c Robert E. Lee, 40c John Marshall, 50c Susan B. Anthony, $1 Patrick Henry, $5 Alexander Hamilton.

*Already in use.

Just a reminder: the "Soo Locks" commemorative will be issued June 28 at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

Britton Church Group Sponsors C.R.O.P. Project

A two year old bred and registered Holstein heifer will soon be leaving the Harold Rohrback farm, 11200 Milwaukee road, on the first leg of a trip that will take it to Germany.

This project which was sponsored by the Duets Class of the Congregational Church of Britton, is part of the national project called "Heifer Project, Inc.", sponsored by C. R. O. P.

The class started raising funds for the heifer on April 20.

Projects used have been bake sales and suppers.

Four members of the class, Harold Rohrback, Howard Rhora, Charles Benedict and Russell Spaulding have been the committee in charge of fund raising.

Present plans call for the heifer to be trucked to Leslie July 2. This is the assembly point for the Michigan cattle to be shipped. From Leslie the Michigan shipment will leave for New York by truck the same day.

Shipping date from New York is July 6 via the American Importer.

These cattle are designated for Western Germany for refugee families coming across the border. Present plans allot a cow and three acres of land to a refugee family.

According to Russell Spaulding, Britton-Macon School agricultural instructor, this is the first time this project has been carried out in this area.

The heifer has been TB and Bangs tested and vaccinated for shipping fever.

Services Held for Former Librarian

Mrs. Everett Grout of Rt. 1, Jasper, died Friday evening after three months illness.

Elizabeth Widney Grout lived in Tecumseh several years following the second marriage of her mother to Alfred James, insurance agent and real estate dealer. She graduated from Adrian high school and attended Adrian College and from 1914 to 1918, she was librarian at Tecumseh Public Library, leaving here to take up the same work in California.

Mrs. Grout was born in Illinois, July 19, 1885, the daughter of the late Harvey and Ella Underwood Widney. She married Mr. Grout Dec. 22, 1931 and for the last ten years they have lived on a farm near Jasper.

She was a member of the Methodist church in Morenci but recently attended the Ridgeville church near her home.

Surviving beside her husband is one sister Miss Harvella Widney of Adrian. She was preceded in death by her parents and one brother Edward Widney.

Funeral services were held Monday in the Braun Funeral Home in Adrian, the Rev. L. P. Buroker, pastor of the Ridgeville church officiating, assisted by Dr. W. C. S. Pellowe. Burial was in Crane cemetery.

4-H Club Week Set

In less than two weeks the busy season for 4-H Club activities will begin at Michigan State College where 19 4-H Club members from Lenawee County will attend the annual Club Week, June 28 through July 1.

From the Kick Off at the 39th Annual Club Week through the State Show in September the activities will increase through the summer months—meaning a lot of work and fun for members, leaders, agents and Moms and Dads, reminds Jim Pelham, county 4-H Club agent.

Attending from Lenawee county will be 10 girls and nine boys. A trip to Club Week is usually the first award trip won by a member. Delegates are selected on the basis of excellent work in projects and an outstanding record, points out Pelham.

Meals and housing for the delegates will be in modern Shaw Hall. Evening programs in the auditorium, special classes, softball and swimming will be included in the program of activities.

Highlights of the evening programs are entertainment by 4-H talent, a 4-H dress revue, fun night and talks by members on trips they have enjoyed as recognition of their work in 4-H.

Educational tours of the Oldsmobile assembly plant are again being planned.

The impressive candlelighting service for initiation of new service club members will be staged on Thursday.

Hodges Says "Watch Summer"

"Lack of caution during summer funtime can lead to many serious troubles," said Pharmacist Ralph Hodges of Hodges Drug Store, in Tecumseh. Too much exercise, over exposure to the sun, and irregular eating habits can spoil a vacation and harm your health.

When the heat is great and you begin to feel weak, if your vision becomes blurred, and you possibly have mild muscular cramps, relax and rest in a cool place. You may have heat prostration. If your skin is also hot, dry, and flushed, and you have dizziness, nausea, or a pain over your heart or stomach, call a physician immediately. Remain quietly till he comes because you may have a more serious sunstroke.

"Beware of over exertion and too much exercise," said Pharmacist Hodges. "Too many people forget their age in their enthusiasm over summer sports. More heart attack cases are usually reported during the summer months. For the greater health of everyone, these five cautions will prove helpful—

1. Don't try to get a summer tan too quickly. Expose yourself a little at a time for the first few days.

2. Beware of poison ivy. Learn how to recognize it so you can keep away from it. No one is entirely immune.

3. Try to prevent catching Athlete's foot by always carefully drying your feet and keeping powder between the toes.

4. Avoid overexertion and too much exercise.

5. Don't overeat while playing. "

Body Needs More Water in Summer

Is your family getting enough water during these first hot days of summer?

Dr. Margaret Ohlson, head of the foods and nutrition department at Michigan State College, explains that although water is not usually considered a food, it is probably the most important of all foods. We depend on water to dissolve and distribute all the food we eat and to transport the waste products formed in our bodies.

Dr. Ohlson points out that with the first hot days of summer there is a sudden increase in the water losses of our body in the form of perspiration. This loss is necessary to keep body temperatures from rising in hot weather.

But, this water must be replaced, she adds, and summer is a good time to increase the amount of liquid food served with meals. Dr. Ohlson suggests all sorts of fruit punches, iced tea and soups served either hot or cold. She points out that most fruits and vegetables contain 90 per cent or more of water.

Most important, Dr. Ohlson declares, is to be sure that a good cool drink of water is always easy to find. She suggests that if your tap doesn't run cold, to put a bottle of fresh water in the refrigerator each morning and fill it regularly during the day.

Kitchens designed to suit every type of family will be featured at the Centennial of Farm Mechanization to be held on the Michigan State College campus Aug. 15-20. Exhibits will show all pieces of equipment in styles of past, present and future.

The Silver Lining

Look for the silver lining
Whenever a cloud appears

CONDUCTED BY BOB WARREN

WISH I WERE A ROBIN. I'd head out west toward W. G. Waldron's place and feast on his sweet cherries. He brought in some branches off a tree that were filled with the luscious fruit.

MRS. BERT KOPKE GAVE the office a beautiful bouquet of Seven Sisters roses. She said one of the branches had 21 buds.

JACK SAVAGE SAYS he would not have accepted the large air conditioning unit his wife won in the Kroger contest if it had not been equipped with a Tecumseh unit. It was, though, and Jack, sales engineer at Tecumseh Products Company, which makes a whale of a lot of units for the air conditioning industry, is happy over his wife's good luck.

RUTHIE BOYCE, CAPABLE pinch-hitter for her cousin Miss Clara Waldron for the past two weeks, speaks candidly. Asked whether she would like a career in journalism, she frankly said "no." She will enter Michigan State Normal College (or is it now Eastern Michigan College of Education?) to study for an elementary school teaching career. It's too bad, too, because all of us here think she would have been a cracker-jack at newspapering. Seriously, though, we wish her the best in her chosen profession.

MEMO TO HIDEN LAKE GARDENS management: Your rock garden is lousy with a bright green, three-leaved plant that will cause a lot of suffering to the uninitiated who come in contact with it. Your other flowers are beautiful but why not rid the rock garden of the poison ivy?

THOUGHT FOR THIS WEEK — Patience is power; with time and patience, the mulberry leaf becomes silk.

Fortune Reports on the Products

A lot of national and possible international interest has developed from the story "Little, Big-Rich Tecumseh" appearing in the July issue of Fortune magazine, but none of the interest is any greater than that shown by local folks in the magazine article about the Tecumseh Products Company written by William B. Harris.

Fortune editors sent copies of the magazine to a number of persons in Tecumseh who contributed bits and the story about the Products has been the topic of conversation here for the past week.

Excerpts from the Fortune article follow:

"Last year it supplied about 48 per cent of the compressors in the 5,630,000 domestic refrigerators, home freezers and room air conditioning units sold by all manufactureres. Its sales were $124 million; its pre-tax earnings of nearly $12 million returned a whopping 69 per cent on capital. Tecumseh Products pretax earnings on capital have averaged 77 per cent since 1947, far above the records turned in by such corporate giants as G.M., G.E., du Pont and Jersey Standard.

"Tecumseh uses its equipment so effectively that it is the industry's lowest-cost producer, regularly passing back savings to its customers in the form of price reductions. In the refrigeration-component business Tecumseh is the only production giant.

"Tecumseh . . . is largely management owned. About 78 per cent of its 600,000 shares of stock is in the hands of its executives. The rest is held by about 1,000 lucky individuals. (The stock traded for $1 a share in 1943 is worth $100 at market today.) Absolute control of Tecumseh rests with its chairman and founder, Ray W. Herrick, whose 53 per cent shareholdings, currently worth about $32 million, have been placed in trust so that Tecumseh's officers in the future can operate as Herrick has in the past. A year and a half ago Herrick took Joseph E. Layton away from International Harvester and made him Tecumseh's president and chief executive officer."

The article described the early life and personality of Mr. Herrick and traced the meager beginnings of the company when it was trying for an economic foothold in Hillsdale and how it was aided by Tecumseh folks through its perilous first years here.

Some of Mr. Herrick's many gifts to the town also were discussed.

"Herrick's drive has paid off. Not only has it made him a multi-millionaire; three of Tecumseh's executive vice-presidents are worth from $1,500,000 up and two former mechanics are worth at least $1 million each. There are probably more $10,000 to $20,000 incomes proportionately in Tecumseh than in any other town anywhere. From $6000 to $7500 is not an exceptionally large income for an ordinary production-line worker at Tecumseh Products, and fine toolmakers can take home a lot more.

"Herrick made a welter of products. He might not even have got into compressor manufacturing but for the happenstance that three engineers, now all executive vice-presidents, were determined to enter the field with a compressor of their own design and got Herrick to make it for them. And here is a peculiar fact. Only on May 1 last did these three men, Frank K. Smith, Curtis M. Brown, and Jens K. Touborg, become formally associated with Herrick and Tecumseh. Before that for twenty-two years Smith, Brown and Touborg were the owners of an independent company called Tresco . . . which did all of Tecumseh's product engineering and which held sole rights to all of its refrigeration production. So the story of Tecumseh is not just the story of Ray Herrick."

The article also tells how Mr. Herrick met the three men who formed Tresco and how he also made the association in Hillsdale with Bill Sage and Clyde Giltner.

Pictures of Mr. Herrick, Mr. Layton, Mr. Smith, Mr. Brown, Mr. Touborg, Mr. Sage and Mr. Giltner appear with the article.

The article also tells of the company's tremendous growth during the second World War and immediately after.

"Orders in 1945 and 1946 were far beyond Tecumseh's capacity, but Herrick never turned one down . . . Tecumseh earned a priceless reputation for always delivering requirements on time."

But what of the future?

" . . . even though the domestic refrigerator business is close to saturation . . . only 15 per cent of the freezer and 4.5 per cent of the room-air-conditioner markets have been tapped . . . and demand for central home air conditioning is in its infancy; . . . likewise the market for motor car air conditioning.

"The importance to Tecumseh of this industry pattern cannot be overestimated. It means that the industry's leader, Frigidaire, cannot equal Tecumseh's costs . . . As it is, Tecumseh is the only dominant company in any part of the refrigeration market."

" . . . but competition for the company appears to be rising . . . with more . . . air conditioning companies making their own compressors . . ."

Dawn Patrol Zooms In Next Sunday

Two hundred planes will zoom into Tecumseh Sunday for the Dawn Patrol sponsored by the Tecumseh Exchange Club and the Civil Air Patrol.

The fourth annual event will be held at the Tecumseh Airport.

Pilots in Michigan, Ohio and Indiana will take part. Several prizes donated by local merchants will be awarded.

Plans call for Paul Eddy to do some stunt flying over the area about 10 a. m. Sunday.

The public is invited to attend.

The day's program will begin with a husky breakfast which will be served at 7 a. m. to ? ? ?.

Every year proceeds from the show go to some community project. This year proceeds will be used for local civil defense.

Every member of the Exchange Club and cadets and officers of the Civil Air Patrol are serving on the various committees.

Detroit PRSA Meets in Adrian

The June meeting of the Detroit Chapter of the Public Relations Society of America was held in Adrian last Thursday with A. C. Hamaker of Tecumseh chairman of arrangements.

Those attending from Tecumseh were Mr. Hamaker, Don Nixon, Perry Satterthwaite, Glenn Driscoll, John Thompson and Miss Marjorie Wickwire.

Bridgeport Brass Co. was host to the group.

The day's activities included a coffee hour, golf at the Lenawee Country Club, a tour of the Bridgeport Brass Co. plant, and a dinner at the country club.

The program was presided over by Reuben Ryding, club president.

PRESENTING ROAD-E-O PLAQUES — Winners of the Jaycee Road-e-o for teen-age drivers were presented plaques at the regular meeting of the Jaycees last Thursday night in the Eagles' Lodge. Shown are Elwyn Merx, chairman; Vere Hart, third place winner; Pete Dermyer, Jr., co-chairman; Bill Davenport, who handled the Lansing transportation; John Wilt, first place winner; and Dennis Goller, chairman of the judging committee. Not shown is Don Partridge, second place winner, who was unable to attend the meeting. John Wilt placed 15th in a field of 70 in the state contest at Lansing.

CAR WASH

Members of the Tecumseh Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold a car wash on Evans street between the boulevard and Pottawatamie street Friday from 1 to 10 p. m.

Jaycees appeal to those who are planning a trip to drop around for a quick wash job for only a buck.

Proceeds from the car wash will be used in youth activities work.

Clauda Heads Exchange Club

Paul Clauda was installed president of the Tecumseh Exchange Club at the meeting held Wednesday evening in the dining room of the Eagles hall.

Other officers installed were Wallace Whiting, vice-president; John Saling, secretary; and David Dick, treasurer.

New members of the board of control are James Barton, Dwight Hodges and Clarence Keller.

TOWER COMES DOWN

Workers began tearing down the railroad water tower south of Hayden Fuel and Supply this week. The razing marked the end of an era here since railroad diesel engines do not require water.

Maynard Maude Dies in Fiery Crash

Funeral services for Maynard J. Maude, 24 years old, of Jasper who died in a truck accident Friday morning were held Monday at 2:30 p.m. at the Collins Funeral Home.

A driver for the Michigan Motor Freight Lines, Mr. Maude left Dayton, Ohio, Thursday night for Lansing with a load of auto parts.

His truck collided with a car driven by Mrs. David L. Black of Fremont, Ind., about seven miles south of Coldwater. The huge truck turned over on the highway and gasoline sprayed out of the smashed tanks, igniting the rig.

Firemen recoverd the body from the truck's cab.

Mrs. Black suffered a fractured skull and is now in University hospital.

Police Chief George Kilbourn learned of the accident by police radio about 10 Friday morning. According to the report he had, Mr. Maude lived at 121 south Evans street. The address of the Eagles is 127 and is understandable because Mr. Maude was a member of the Tecumseh Aerie, F.O.E.

Later the company's Adrian office was notified and officials told his wife Dolores.

The Rev. B. O. Bashore, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiated at the services.

Burial was in Brookside cemetery.

Bearers were Victor Agnew, Andrew Clark, Harvey Mead, Edgar Etter, Bud McCrady and Edgar Bresendine, fellow employees of Mr. Maude.

Son of Maynard and Grace Maude, he was born at Hamilton, Ohio, Dec. 20, 1930.

He is survived by his widow, Dolores of Jasper; his father Maynard Maude, Sr. of Hamilton, Ohio; his brother Arthur Maude of Cincinnati, Ohio; his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Maude of Harrison, Ohio, his aunt Miss Mary Maude of Harrison, Ohio; his stepfather Fred Wrasse of Tecumseh; and two uncles Chester Ingle of Plainsville, Ohio and Frank Ingle of Tipton; and several cousins.

PLAYGROUND OPENS

Tecumseh Acres playground will open next Tuesday from 9 a.m to 12 noon. Mrs. John Conklin will be in charge.

FIREWORKS

The Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce again will sponsor a $1,200 display of fireworks this year.

The display will be held on the recreation field Monday night as soon as it is dark.

Folks planning to watch the display are asked to come to the field early for the best seeing vantage point. Last year cars were backed up to the boulevard as almost 5000 persons turned out for the display.

Harvey Wilson is chairman of this special chamber of commerce event.

150 Attend Teen Dance

One hundred and fifty young people attended the Teen-Club dance held last Friday evening at the Central school gymnasium which had been decorated by members of the club.

The event was sponsored by the Tecumseh Junior Chamber of Commerce under the direction of John Hamilton, youth activities chairman.

Jaycee members and their wives served as chaperones.

Music was provided by the Harry Keller Trio.

Because of the success of this dance, a street dance is being planned for the young people next month.

City Tax Bills Go in Mails

City tax bills will be in the mails Friday, reports Mrs. Naomi Sallows, city treasurer.

Taxpayers again will pay $15 on every $1000 worth of assessed valuation.

The total tax roll is $145,768.50. The assessed valuation of the city is $9,717,900.

Deadline for payment of city taxes is Sept. 1. After this date a four per cent flat penalty is added and one-half of one per cent of the tax bill is tagged on for every month the bill remains unpaid.

Class of 1905 Has Reunion

Eighty members of the Tecumseh high school graduating class of 1905 held a class reunion Sunday afternoon at the Tecumseh Country Club.

Dinner was served and the afternoon was spent socially.

The class celebrated its 50th anniversary this year and five members attended the alumni banquet and reunion June 4.

Two members of the class are deceased.

Those attending were Mrs. Minnie Lowry Green of Morenci; Mrs. F. B. Wood of Berkley, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. James Waldron of Burlingame, Calif.; Mrs. Blanche Schreder Bell of Chicago; Dr. and Mrs. Arnet Garlinghouse of Charlotte; Mr. and Mrs. Webb Kay of Pleasant Ridge; and Mrs. Maude Bell and Mr. and Mrs. Wildred Waldron of Tecumseh.

Swim Classes for Adults Begin Tonight

Adult swimming classes will be held in the Joyce Andrews Memorial swimming pool from 6:15 to 7 p.m., Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

The first lesson will be given tonight (Thursday, June 30), reports Carl Hale, pool manager.

On these two nights public swimming will begin at 7 and last until 9:30 p.m. instead of the originally scheduled 6:30 to 9 p.m.

Those who have not enrolled for the classes may do so tonight.

SUFFER HEART ATTACKS

Joseph Rohweder and Clyde Bailey suffered heart attacks during the week. Mr. Rohweder was admitted to Herrick Memorial hospital Saturday and Mr. Bailey was admitted Tuesday. The condition of both men is "good."

HOLIDAY

The first long holiday week-end of the summer begins Saturday and lasts for three days. Hundreds of Tecumseh area folks will leave for the lake or to visit relatives, while hundreds of others will be off the roads by staying home.

Since the Fourth of July comes on Monday, most Tecumseh stores will be closed all day Monday. The HERALD office and the city offices also will be closed.

Correspondents and advertisers are asked to cooperate by getting their news and advertising copy in by Tuesday noon. If possible, even earlier copy would be greatly appreciated.

Tecumseh's industries also will be closed, but a skeleton staff will work at the Tecumseh Products Company during the long weekend.

The Tecumseh Post Office will be closed all day Monday but the lobby will be open from 2 to 4:30 p.m. for the convenience of box holders.

A pick-up of out-going mail down town will be made Monday at 3:30 p.m.

Both the United Savings Bank and the Adrian Federal Savings & Loan Association's branch office will be closed all day Monday.

Bible School Program Given

The vacation Bible school program was presented Sunday morning in the Congregational Christian church during the regular church hour.

Dennis Bryan acted as minister and Neil Benedict led the prayer with Philip Benedict leading the pledges. Mary Bush played the offertory and George Rodgers, Natalie Van Osdal, Richard Seagert, Sandy Beal and Gloria and Larry Hummel took the offering.

Shelia Swain told of the origin of the hymn "God Will Take Care of You."

Mary Ann Wiggins, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Wiggins of Wayne was baptized during the service. Mrs. Byler led the junior choir in their hymns, closing with "The Lord's Prayer."

The school met for one week this year with an average attendance of 60. Certificates, awards and honors were given at a party Friday noon. The Rev. O. E. Priest showed colored slides of last year's Bible school, the church and pictures taken throughout the year of the various activities of the church.

Dorothy Tucker and Bertha Brown taught in the nursery department. Christine Fairbanks and Mildred Heiden in the beginners; Lorna Dicks, first primary; Francis Eberhardt, Sunday school superintendent, taught second primary; Marie Kahle, juniors; Hazel Bush, intermediate; Geraldine Beal, teenage.

One of the highlights of the week was the making of baby clothes for Edith Galtz' Women's Hospital in Pusan.

BUTLER ELECTED

C. O. ("Chuck") Butler has been elected vice-president of the Michigan Automobile Dealers' Association. He probably will be president next year.

He was elected at the 34th convention held recently in the Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island.

Chuck also will continue to be Lenawee and Monroe County director of the MADA.

Magic Show Set Friday

A free magic show will be given Friday at 7 p. m. at Butler's Hoss Tradin' Post. The show will feature Kauffman, the Vagabond Magician.

The show is being sponsored by various Tecumseh merchants and businessmen who appreciate the fine support and patronage given them.

There is no charge for the show and free tickets can be obtained from any one of the sponsoring businessmen.

In his program, Kauffman will demonstrate his bag of tricks and will give away rabbits to lucky children in the audience during a special treat for them.

Stop in at any of the following stores and pick up the tickets you need:

Butler Motor Sales, Gambles, The Tecumseh Herald, Baldwin Hardware, Hodges Drug Store, Van's Pastries, Merritt's Shoe Store, W. D. Hite Hardware, Eggleston Cleaners, Engle's Clothes, Jim's Texaco Service.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM BRANT, Route 4, Adrian, observed their 50th wedding anniversary at an open house Sunday held at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. August Hoffmeister on Green Highway.

Sharlene Hoffmeister, a granddaughter, had charge of the guest book and opened the many gifts for her grandparents.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Hoffmeister, assisted by Mrs. Alfred Smith and Meredith Hoffmeister, granddaughters of Mr. and Mrs. Brant, and Mrs. Arlie Becker.

One hundred relatives and friends were present from Adrian, Hudson, Jackson, Clayton, Ann Arbor, Prattville, Pittsford, Frontier, Blissfield, Waldron, Ypsilanti, Manitou Beach, Tecumseh and Fayette, Ohio.

Forges $95 Tax Check

Donald E. Teegarden, 40, of Tecumseh waived examination on a forgery charge when he was arraigned before Justice L. J. VanDeusen of Clinton Tuesday. He was bound over to the Sept. term of circuit court under a $500 bond.

Teegarden was arrested by Tecumseh Police Tuesday and questioned about forging a $95 government income tax return check.

Police Chief George Kilbourn reported:

In Feb., 1954, a check made out to C. E. Teegarden was cashed in Hodges Drug Store. Later Miss C. E. Teegarden, no relation to Donald Teegarden, wrote the internal revenue department asking about her check which had not been received.

Internal revenue agents asked her to make out an affidavit and sign it. Photostatic copies of the cancelled check and her statements were made and comparisons were made of her signature and the signature on the cancelled check. They were not the same.

The photostats were sent to Tecumseh and, playing a hunch, Chief Kilbourn had signatures of Donald Teegarden sent to the Police crime detection laboratory at Lansing. A report was returned that the signature on the check and that of Teegarden were the same.

He received the income tax return check in error but kept it and cashed it.

Wednesday T-Men from the U.S. Treasury Department entered the case.

WAIVES EXAMINATION

Joseph Soborowski, 23, of Tecumseh, waived examination before Justice Robert L. French last week and will await circuit court trial on a felonious assault charge. He was released on a $250 bond.

He is charged with striking Carrie Basinger with a shuffleboard puck June 2.

Britton Kiwanians Are Convention Bound

Fred Bryan, Wynn Mattison, Sam Vreeland, and their wives, all Kiwanians of Britton, will attend the 40th annual convention of Kiwanis International at Cleveland, Ohio, June 26-30.

They will join more than 13,000 other Kiwanians and their wives at what promises to be the largest convention in the organization's history.

The convention will be held in Cleveland's Municipal Auditorium as the high spot in Kiwanis' 40th anniversary year. The first convention of Kiwanis International also was held in Cleveland. At that time, the organization boasted 16 clubs. Today, there are more than 4000 Kiwanis Clubs in the United States, Canada, Alaska and Hawaii.

Principal speakers at the five-day meeting, in addition to Kiwanis International President Don E. Engdahl, will be the Honorable Ezra Taft Benson, Secretary of Agriculture, the Honorable A.D.P. Heeney, Canadian Ambassador to the United States, and General Nathen F. Twining, Chief of Staff, United States Air Force.

Dr. Reuben K. Youngdahl, pastor of the Mount Olive Lutheran Church in Minneapolis, will deliver the opening address of the convention Sunday evening, June 26.

Mrs. Katheryn Metz, well-known woman journalist and staff member of the Quaker Oats Public Relations Department, will speak to the women on Monday, June 27.

SELL BUTTON PLANT

No immediate changes in personnel are expected in the Universal Button Company Tecumseh plant.

Assets of the plant were bought last week by Talon, Inc., a zipper manufacturer, from Acro Manufacturing Co. of Columbus, Ohio.

The business will be operated as a Talon subsidiary.

Zoe Ann Pennington and Charles M. Ragsdale Wed

Palms, white glads and pink carnations decorated the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pennington on Ridge road Saturday afternoon, when their daughter Zoe Ann Pennington became the bride of Charles M. Ragsdale of Flint.

The Rev. O. E. Priest of the Britton Congregational church performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of only the immediate families.

The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ragsdale of 2413 Reid St., Flint.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a beige linen, street length gown with which she wore brown accessories. Her colonial bouquet was of pink and white rose buds.

Mrs. Mac Tennant, sister of the bride of Deerfield, was her only attendant. She wore a navy linen, street length dress with white accessories. Her colonial bouquet was of blue and pink carnations.

Mr. Ragsdale asked Donn Peel of Flint to be his best man.

The bride's mother wore an aqua dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink rose buds. Mrs. Ragsdale wore a gray and white dress with white accessories with a white rose bud corsage.

When the newlyweds left on a ten-day trip through northern Michigan, the bride was wearing a two-piece ensemble of brown and aqua.

The bride is a graduate of Tecumseh high school and the Toledo School of Nursing and is employed in the office of a surgeon in Flint.

Mr. Ragsdale graduated from Flint high school and spent two years in Korea with the U. S. Army. He is presently employed in the Chevrolet division of General Motors Corp. in Flint.

They will be at home at 215 W. 5th Ave., Flint.

Holiday Traffic Patrol Coverage To Be Increased

A full force of Michigan State Police will be aided by 216 National Guardsmen in an effort to hold down the traffic death and injury toll over the Fourth of July weekend.

The Guardsmen are part of a total of 400 called out for traffic duty by Governor Williams. The remaining 184 are assigned to sheriffs.

State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs has cancelled all pass days from noon Friday, July 1, to noon Tuesday, July 5. All enlisted personnel will be on traffic duty, with detectives and other officers on special assignment working at post radio desks or on patrol.

The Guardsmen will be used both on patrol and point control at places of congestion. On patrol each will travel with a State Police officer. Two-man patrols are ordinarily operated at night and this will permit the second State Police officer to take out another patrol. Over the holiday they also will ride double during the day.

"Use of the guard materially increases our strength, but we want to appeal to the driver to police himself," Childs said. "The roads will probably be crowded with the heaviest traffic we have ever had over the Fourth. One thoughtless or careless or negligent act can end in death or permanent disabling injury. We're asking drivers to use caution and to slow down and live."

Childs gave the following safety tips: Be sure your car is in good operating condition; allow plenty of time to get to your destination and back; drive with the flow of traffic; avoid passing; observe all signs and signals, and, finally, watch out for the other driver, he can cause your accident.

Last Fourth of July weekend 35 persons were killed in Michigan traffic accidents.

Joyce A. LaGore Is Bride of Charles E. McLoughlin

The Methodist church in Adrian was the scene of a lovely wedding Saturday afternoon when Joyce Ann LaGore became the bride of Charles Edward McLoughlin.

Dr. W. S. C. Pellowe performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with lighted candelabra and baskets of white gladioli.

The bride is the daughter of John C. LaGore of 1536 East Munger road, Tecumseh and Mrs. Blanche Travis of Tecumseh, and Mr. McLoughlin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward McLoughlin of Route 3, Adrian.

Before the ceremony, P[illegible] Wegner of Adrian played "O Promise Me" and the traditional wedding march on the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white waltz length gown of lace and nylon net over taffeta with matching mitts. The finger tip length veil was of imported French illusion and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and white rosebuds.

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Robert G. Miller as matron of honor, who wore a powder blue gown similar to that of the bride's with matching headpiece. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Lavon B. Hephner of Adrian was Mr. McLoughlin's best man.

Mrs. Travis wore a navy blue dress with white accessories. Mrs. McLoughlin also chose to wear a navy blue dress with red accessories. Both wore white carnation corsages.

Mr. and Mrs. McLoughlin left later on a short wedding trip, the bride wearing a light blue cashmere suit with white accessories and the corsage from her bouquet. When they return, they will live at 401 Merrick street, Adrian.

The bride graduated from Tecumseh high school in 1953 and the groom graduated from Adrian high school in 1954. He is now employed at the Kroger store in Adrian.

Mrs. McLoughlin had been complimented with showers recently by Mrs. Robert G. Miller of Tecumseh and Mrs. Wayne Griewahn of Adrian.

Paula Torres and Eulalio Pizana Jr. Married Saturday

Saturday morning at the St. Elizabeth Catholic church, Paula Torres, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Torres of Route 2, Tecumseh, and Eulalio Pizana Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Eulalio Pizana Sr. of 219 East Cummins street, were united in marriage by the Rev. Father Thomas Collins.

The double ring ceremony was performed before the altar decorated with red and white roses and peonies.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a long sleeve gown of satin and lace. The double-crowned head piece featured seven veils. She carried a bouquet of carnations.

Eduvina Castorena was the bride's maid of honor. She was also attended by Sirilo and Juanita Manuel, Adelaida Torres, Sam [illegible]tios, Olivia Garcia and Margarita DeLeon, wearing formals of pastel colors.

Jose DeLeon served as Mr. Pizana's best man.

A large number of guests attended the reception, which was held Saturday ni[illegible] the Blissfield Legion Hall. The Estrada Bros. orchestra played for dancing.

After they return from a trip to Detroit, the couple will live in Tecumseh.

The bride and groom both attended school in Texas. Mr. Pizana is employed at the Universal Button Co. in Tecumseh.

Kay I. Morden Is Bride of Lee H. Phibbs

Kay I. Morden and Lee H. Phibbs were united in marriage at an impressive ceremony at the First Presbyterian church Saturday evening at 6 o'clock.

The Rev. George E. Walworth performed the double ring ceremony before the altar decorated with vase arrangements of white delphinium, carnations and gypsophelia with palms and candelabra.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Morden of 608 Outer Drive, Tecumseh, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee V. Phibbs of 311 Center Drive, Tecumseh.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a pink crystalette princess style dress with white accessories. She carried a colonial nosegay of tiny pink Carol Amling rosebuds with white carnations and gypsophelia encircled with white mellaine.

She was attended by Mrs. Robert Brooks, who also wore a pink crystalette dress. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations and blue fleur delphiniums with gypsophelia.

Mr. Phibbs was attended by his brother Martin of Adrian as best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Morden wore a gray dress with white accessories and had a pink rosette corsage. Mrs. Phibbs wore a navy dress with white accessories and had a corsage.

About 75 relatives and friends attended the reception, which was held at 8 o'clock in the Fellowship Center of the church and served by the Golden Rule Division. Mrs. Martin Phibbs poured coffee and Mrs. Fred Gillen served the punch.

The bride graduated from Tecumseh high school in 1952 and studied for a year and a half at St. Joseph School of Nursing in Ann Arbor. She is now employed in the office of the Tecumseh Products Co. Mr. Phibbs also graduated from Tecumseh high school in 1950 and is employed at Tecumseh Products Co.

The couple will reside at 406½ West Kilbuck street, Tecumseh.

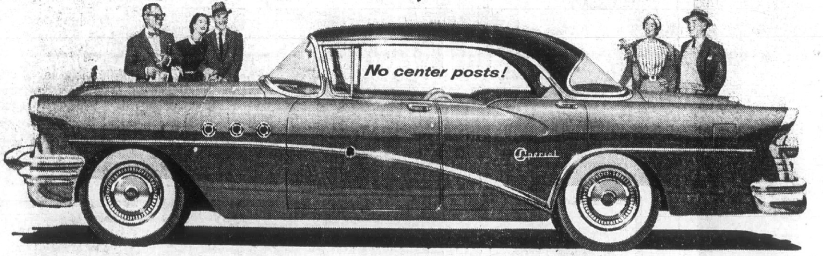
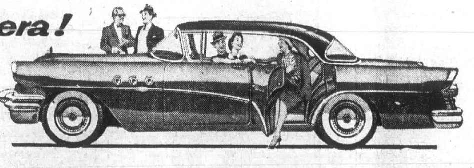
Look— 4 Doors and no center posts!



No center posts!

It's the new kind of hardtop—
The 4-Door Riviera!



You drop the side windows down on this airy beauty of a Buick with the solid steel roof—and it's as wide open as a Convertible, with no center posts to mar your view.

That's what makes it a hardtop.

But what makes it a very special kind of hardtop is the fact that it has four doors instead of two.

Cheers? Brother!—they're really rolling out for Buick's 4-Door Riviera!

Now, you see, you can have the tremendously popular styling of a true hardtop combined with the room, comfort and full convenience of a 4-door Sedan.

And it took a completely new kind of body design to come up with this marvel—a new kind of body built to wholly new structural principles.

So it looks like Buick's done it again—because the 4-Door Riviera is a sweeping sensation across the nation.

It's rolling off the assembly lines in volume numbers to meet the demand—in the high-powered CENTURY Series, and in the bedrock-priced SPECIAL Series, illustrated here.

And each one is all Buick—with record-high V8 power, the level steadiness of all-coil-springing, the extra roominess of a full-size Buick Sedan—and, most certainly, with the instantaneous getaway response and bettered gas mileage of Buick's spectacular new Variable Pitch Dynaflow.*

Come in for a look at the brand-new kind of hardtop—the 4-Door Riviera. You'll find it priced at the modest extra cost of a 4-door model over a 2-door model—and a buy too thrilling to pass up.

Dynaflow Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.*

Wilhelmine Rhoades and Edward H. Clark Married

The Macon Methodist church was the scene of a lovely wedding Saturday evening at 7:30 when Wilhelmine Rhoades and Edward H. Clark exchanged their marriage vows before the altar decorated with large hampers of white flowers, palms and candelabra. Church pews were marked with white satin bows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rhoades of 13645 Mohardt, Saline, and Mr. Clark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar J. Clark of 13330 Mills road, Clinton.

The Rev. H. Vaughn Whited performed the double ring ceremony. "O Promise Me," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" were sung by James Austin.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by Mrs. Earl Lewis of Milan as matron of honor, Mrs. Eldean Rhoades of Ann Arbor and Mrs. William Rhoades of Clinton, sisters-in-law of the bride, Mrs. Charles Gorton Jr. of Britton and Miss Geraldine Beck of Saline as bridesmaids. Miss Barbara Beal of Clinton, niece of the groom was the flower girl.

Mr. Clark's brother-in-law Bernard Tucker of Clinton was the best man. Ushers were Richard Beal of Clinton, brother-in-law of the groom, William Rhoades of Clinton and James Rhoades of Saline, brothers of the bride, and James Thomas of Clinton.

The bride wore a gown of hand-clipped Chantilly lace and tulle over bridal satin. The fitted bodice was made with long sleeves and mandarin collar. Scalloped lace outlined the illusion yoke and the collar was embroidered with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. A filigree crown of Chantilly roses embroidered with pearls and paillettes held in place the finger tip veil of silk illusion. She carried stephanotis and a white orchid on a white Bible with lace cover.

The attendants wore strapless, waltz length, scaloped edged gowns of nylon lace with front panel of tulle and matching jackets, mitts and head bands.

Mrs. Lewis wore peach and carried white carnations with Pinocchio rosettes. Mrs. Eldean Rhoades' dress was orchid and she carried yellow flowers; Mrs. William Rhoades' aquamarine with light pink flowers; Mrs. Gorton's blue with deep pink flowers, and Miss Beck's yellow with lavender flowers.

The flower girl wore a peach embroidered nylon chiffon dress with matching mitts and head band. She carried white carnations and peach rosettes.

Both mothers of the couple wore navy blue dresses trimmed with white and had white accessories.

Miss Maryann Rymanowicz of Milan registered the 300 guests at the reception following the wedding at the Saline township hall.

Coffee was served by Miss Dorothy Marion of Saline and Miss Irene Trinkle of Ann Arbor served the punch. The cake was cut by Miss Georgiana Motion of Ypsilanti. Miss Barbara Begole of Milan and Miss Phyllis Gilbert of Saline assisted with opening the gifts.

The couple left to spend a week in northern Michigan with the bride wearing a navy blue linen suit with white accessories. When they return, they will make their home at 12230 Mills road, Clinton.

The bride is a graduate of Saline high school and is employed at the Ann Arbor Federal Savings and Loan Association. Mr. Clark graduated from Tecumseh high school and is employed at the Ford sales and service in Saline.

COMMUNITY CLUB MEETS

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gilmore opened their home Tuesday evening to the Macon Community club. Clayton Bigelow conducted the business meeting and it was announced that the Macon village signs have been repainted. Frank, Joe and Mike Prochaska, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Prochaska, entertained the group with several musical numbers. Mr. Bigelow played a recording of the graduation address given by Arthur Lopshire at Boysville. Refreshments were served to the 23 present.

TEA ATTENDED BY 140

The annual Macon church tea held in the Saline township hall was attended by 140 ladies last Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Herbert Morden, president of the Macon W.S.C.S., welcomed the guests and introduced Miss Myrna Bugbee, program chairman. Miss Bugbee presented Miss Joyce Baker of Birdsall, who played two accordion numbers.

Mrs. Harriett Faust of Adrian gave two humorous readings and Miss Julia Boyce of Tecumseh sang "Never Walk Alone" and "The Desert Song" accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Wilbur Boyce at the piano.

Miss Isabel Bamba of Guam, a student at Siena Heights College in Adrian, was speaker of the afternoon and told of her impressions on arrival in the U. S. She wore the formal dress of her native country.

Mrs. Olga Graff attended graduation exercises of her grandson David Baker in Plymouth recently.

~~Mr. and Mrs. E. Kettle and Mr.~~ and Mrs. Clarence Kettle and family are spending 10 days at Houghton lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Tucker and sons have returned from a 10-day vacation in northern Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bruder were guests of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Furlong and daughter Susan.

The Macon Youth Fellowship has made final arrangements for the public car wash to be held today (Thursday) from 1 to 9 p.m. and all day Friday. Proceeds will go toward remodeling of the Macon church.

Frank, Mike and Joseph Prochaska participated in the "Share the Fun" program held at the Madison Agricultural school Friday evening. They won the talent contest and will compete in East Lansing.

Mr. and Mrs. Doanld Graff and family and Mrs. Minnie Sarvey spent last week at Houghton lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Neal of Almeda, Calif., who have been spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bruder, left for their home Thursday.

Miss Wilma Rhoades, Mrs. Janet Gorton and Miss Geraldine Beck entertained Tuesday evening at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Phyllis Gilbert of Saline. Miss Gilbert and James Thomas will be married in the Macon Methodist church Saturday, July 9.

Norman and Wayne Tucker and Richard Moore are spending the week at Judson Collins camp at Wamplers lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell VanValkenburg spent Sunday in Belleville visiting her brother Cecil and family.

Clayton Bigelow has returned from spending several days in White Cloud and Fremont.

LADIES' NIGHT

Ladies night was observed at the meeting of the Kiwanis club last Tuesday evening. Thirty-nine were present and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rice of Tecumseh, who recently returned from a trip to England and Switzerland showed pictures of their trip. Dinner was served by the Mary Martha Circle at the Congregational Christian church.

WOMEN'S CLUB MEETS

The Britton Women's Club met last week at the Glenn Gripton cottage at Wamplers lake. Picnic dinner was served to the 20 members and 12 guests present. After a brief business meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. Mildred Wiggins, Mrs. Clay Croll, parliamentarian, gave a review of the book on parliamentary laws by Emma Fox.

WOMEN'S SOCIETY

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church met at the home of their new president, Mrs. Forrest Barrett last Wednesday afternoon. Devotions were led by Mrs. Royal McElroy. It was decided to pack a box for the Jessie Lee Home at Fairbanks, Alaska.

The program, under the direction of Mrs. Neil Judkins, assisted by Mrs. Virgil Bortel, Mrs. Robert Gibson and Mrs. Gerald Richards, was on the theme, "The Work of the United Nations." Mrs. Martha Gorham of Adrian will be in charge of the July meeting to be held in the Britton park.

MEMORANDUM:

TO:

All hospitals, doctors, Tecumseh Police, Lenawee County Sheriff's Office, State Police and Sportsmen's Clubs

FROM:

Ralph Hodges

SUBJECT:

Protection from Snake Bites

Summer after summer you hear reports of vacationers being bitten by snakes. Sometimes those bitten become violently ill and there are cases where snake bites have proved fatal.

Medical science now, however, has made another great stride forward by perfecting a snake bite serum.

Known as Antivenin (Nearctic Crotalidae) Polyvalent this rare serum is now available and for sale in my drug store.

Vacationers also may rent the kit of serum to take on their trips. They need a doctor's prescription prior to renting the kit.

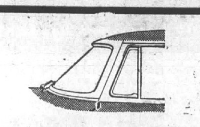
If the kit is not used (and let us certainly hope that it will not be), it may be returned and only a nominal rental fee will be charged.

Sincerely,
Ralph Hodges

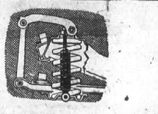
PLYMOUTH DESIGNS WITH YOU IN MIND!

to put extra value in the low Plymouth price!

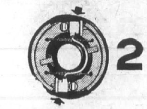
All cars have horns and wheels and headlights, but there's a lot of difference in the features of a car that add up to v-a-l-u-e. Here are just a few of Plymouth's features that will add to your comfort and your convenience. In the low-price 3, you'll find them only in Plymouth!



Cornerposts of Plymouth's glamorous new Full-View windshield are swept back, top and bottom (not bottom only), for better, safer vision.



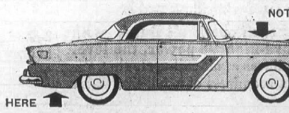
For more direct pillowing action, Plymouth mounts the longer-stroke front Oriflow shock absorbers inside the big front coil springs.



Plymouth places two hydraulic brake cylinders in each front wheel (other low-price cars use only one) for smoother stops, greater reliability.

Plymouth's brilliant Forward Look styling gives you better forward visibility by letting you see more of the road directly ahead of the car.

If you ever have a blowout, your Plymouth has Safety-Rim wheels which help hold a deflated tire on the rim while you slow to a safe stop.



17 FEET LONG

Plymouth's Oilite fuel filter is located back in the fuel tank to protect the entire fuel system and engine from dirt and water. Plymouth is the BIGGEST, LONGEST, ROOMIEST car of the low-price 3. In fact, you can pay as much as $500 more for a medium-price car that's smaller than Plymouth! When you buy on facts, not claims, your choice will be PLYMOUTH!

Chevrolet's special hill-flatteners!

180 H.P. V8

See that fine fat mountain yonder? You can iron it out, flat as a flounder . . . and easy as whistling!

Just point one of Chevrolet's special hill-flatteners at it (either the 162-h.p. "Turbo-Fire V8" or the 180-h.p. "Super Turbo-Fire"*) . . . and pull the trigger!

Barr-r-r-r-o-o-O-O-OOM! Mister, you got you a flat mountain!

. . . At least it feels flat. For here are engines that sing as sweetly as a dynamo . . . built to pour out a torrent of pure, vibrationless power. Big-bore V8's with the shortest stroke in the industry.

So most of the time they loaf. Even at the speed limit they just dream along, purring out a fraction of their strength.

An engineer can understand why they are so hyper-efficient. But you don't have to be an engineer to know that these are the sweetest running V8's you ever piloted. Just come in and try one out!

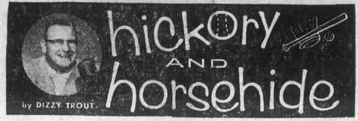
AMERICA'S FOREMOST FOOD RETAILER ... SINCE 1859
A&P Food Stores
THE GREAT ATLANTIC & PACIFIC TEA COMPANY



YOU CAN NEVER tell about baseball trades. On paper the deal may look good, but the outcome may be entirely different.

Take the Tigers' big swap with Chicago last winter. The deal brought first baseman Ferris Fain, pitcher Leo Cristante and infielder Jack Philips to Detroit and sent outfielder Bob Nieman, first baseman Walt Dropo and pitcher Ted Gray to the White Sox.

The exchange seemed favorable to the Tigers. Detroit had given up on Dropo and Gray, and Nieman, although a long ball hitter, was expendable bacause of our crop of fleet, young outfielders.

In return, the Bengals were getting a two-time winner of the American League batting crown in Fain and the leading pitcher in the Southern Association last year in Cristante. Phillips was slated for a utility role.

NOT HEALED

But what happened? Wily Frank Lane, general manager of the White Sox, apparently pulled a fast one. A knee seriously injured by Fain last season has not mended, just as Lane anticipated, although Detroit had reports that the knee was again sound.

Moreover, Cristante has not quite measured up to big league standards. He has been sent down to Buffalo, the Tigers' top farm club, to make room for Earl Torgeson, whom we bought from the Philadelphia Phils to replace Fain at first.

So, while Fain rides the bench with Phillips, serving in an occasional pinch hit role, and Cristante toils for Buffalo, both Nieman and Dropo are having pretty good years and belting quite a few long balls for Chicago. Only Gray failed with the Sox, and he's now with Cleveland.

But this is not intended as sour grapes. The Tigers have outmaneuvered canny Mr. Lane on occasion. We traded him catchers last year, Matt Batts for Red Wilson, and Lane doesn't talk about that one.

GOOD DEAL

Batts failed to last the season, while Wilson has proven an extremely competitive player and is doing a masterful job behind the plate for Detroit.

The trade the Tigers most like to look back on is the exchange with Cleveland early in 1953 when we obtained third baseman Ray Boone and pitchers Steve Gromek, Al Aber and Dick Weik. In return, Cleveland got pitchers Art Houtteman and Bill Wight, catcher Joe Ginsberg and infielder Owen Friend.

What a deal that turned out to be for the Tigers! Gromek is the ace of our pitching staff, Boone has helped to move Detroit up several notches in the standings with his timely hitting (although injuries have plagued him this year) and Aber is probably our best relief pitcher. Only Weik failed to make the grade.

On the other hand, all but Houtteman are long since gone from Cleveland and even Art is having his troubles in the Hickory and Horsehide game.

Gambles, Friends Are Upset in Men's Softball League

The outstanding highlight of the men's softball league play last week was the 4 to 0 upset Friends Church handed previously unbeaten Gambles.

This was one of the best-played games to date with the Friends scoring four times on two hits. Gambles couldn't manage a single run off the slants of Meads, although the Martin Men had four hits.

Chase clubed both hits for the Friends, getting a homer and single and chasing across all his team's runs.

Batteries were Meads and Kelly for the Friends and Gleason and Junior Meyers for Gambles.

Barrett and Reed banged out doubles for the losing Gambles cause.

In other games last week:

Britton Oddfellows lost to Dick's Standard Service, 9 to 6. The Oilers had nine hits and three errors while the IOOF had five hits and four errors.

Batteries were Barrs and Withrow for Dick's and Auten and Saxton for Britton.

Barton banged out three singles for the winners while Bowser contributed a double.

Swain clubbed a double and single and Tubbs a double for the losers.

The Oddfellows also lost to Wilosn's Motor Sales, 17 to 11. In this game the IOOF managed 13 hits and made four errors. The Automen massed a total of 18 safeties.

Thorpe and Betzoldt made up the winning battery. Auten and Saxton labored for Britton.

Thorpe connected for a homer and single for Wilson's while his battery-mate Betzoldt had a big night with the stick, contributing a homer, triple and single.

Gilpin had two doubles and two singles to add to the Wilson attack.

Saxton had four singles and a double for Britton while his teammate Maschino collected a double and two singles.

The Friends Church sank the American Legion with a 14-hit attack, winning 15 to 2.

Battery for the Friends was Meads and Kelly while VanCamp and Petrovich and Moore worked for the Legion.

Verrier had three singles and a homer for the Friends and Bill Hayden contributed three singles to the cause.

The Friends made one error.

The Legion had five hits and made four errors.

In the games played Friday night which were previously rained out, the American Legion swamped Gambles 9 to 2.

The Legionnaires made seven hits and played errorless ball.

Gambles had three hits and five errors.

Gambles took an early 2 to 1 lead, then the Legion grabbed the lead 3 to 2 and iced the game in the fourth with a six-run uprising.

Petrovich and Petrovich was the battery for the Legion and Gleason, McKenzie, Meyers and Paske worked for Gambles.

The only extra base blow was a double by Marsh of Gambles.

In the other re-scheduled game Britton Oddfellows scored their first league victory, upsetting the Friends Church 12 to 4.

The IOOF had six hits and made six errors while the Friends had six hits and made four errors.

Saxton and Tubbs worked for the IOOF while Meads, Murran and Kelley labored for the Friends.

Kelley led the hitting, banging out three singles in four trips to the plate.

Northville Downs Schedules 38 Racing Nights

Northville Downs has opened 38 nights of harness racing with an expected attendance of 10,000. Races started Friday.

It will be the twelfth year for Michigan's pioneer pari-mutuals harness track. The meet will continue through Aug. 6.

John Carlo, general manager, predicts the best season in the history of the suburban oval. Judging from the record number of applications, his early predictions for new standards in betting and performances on the track are quite probable.

He reports more than 1000 applications for stall space have been received and the track had to turn down at least 100.

Northville won't be troubled with a strike by horsemen since an agreement was reached several weeks ago.

Harry Hatch, racing secretary for the Western Harness Association who succeeds Johnny Jenuine at Northville Downs, expects all the leading stables from Hazel Park to transfer to the Downs.

In addition, several newcomers from Chicago, Ohio and New York have asked for stall space and will be on hand.

YOU and the Calculated Risk

Bill Vukovich, twice victorious in the 500-mile race at Indianapolis, died in a tragic accident on Memorial Day weekend trying for an unprecedented third win in a row.

The news of Vukovich's fatal crash on the speedway filled radio listeners with horror. They mourned a popular hero.

Several hours later came the news of 368 deaths is other fatal auto crashes on the highway. But the absence of drama in these accidents — and the anonymity of the victims — produced no comparable sense of loss to the nation as a whole.

Bill Vukovich took a calculated risk when he stepped into his high-speed car. He was an expert driver and he knew the odds.

You and I might say he was foolish to take such chances. But just what chances did he take, as compared to those many so-called "pleasure" drivers take?

First, he was a fine driver. He had passed a rigorous examination of his skill and his physical condition before he was allowed on the track. His reflexes and coordination probably were far above average.

His car was tuned like a fine watch. Every mechanical part had been checked and rechecked. He would have changed tires twice had he finished the race.

The car was reinforced with rollover bars. He wore a crash helmet and safety belt.

His fellow drivers also were experts. They were all going one way. There was no cross traffic, no pedestrians, no narrow bridges, no turns, hills, no blinding lights and countless other hazards met in almost every mile of ordinary roadway.

And a glancing crash into a retaining wall at 120 m.p.h. does not develop the lethal force that a head-on collision does of two cars traveling 60.

How many highway drivers know as well as Vukovich did the hazards they may encounter? How many are well equipped to cope with them?

So when you drive your car on the Fourth of July, think of Vukovich — not as a fast driver, but as a man who knew what he was up against and took calculated risks. Make sure you know what you are up against on the highway this weekend — and drive accordingly.

Just a few days ago, I asked Mrs. Gardner how she liked the late-model home they had bought through our office.

Mrs. Gardner smiled widely. "Oh, Boy," she said. "First, my husband; then, my house; then, my kids."

"Of course, I'm joking," she added, "because the family really rates above our home. But I just wanted to emphasize that we are 100 per cent, completely pleased."

I replied, "It makes us feel good to know you are so happy. While we sell homes, we try to see that SATISFACTION is included."

"The home just fits our family," Mrs. Gardner said. "It makes our whole way of life run more smoothly and with more enjoyment."

If YOU want to find a home which will fit your needs and provide real pleasure, please ask us to help you.

We have a wide range of good family homes in all sizes, locations and prices.

Our Father, we are too Christian to enjoy sinning and too fond of sinning to enjoy Christianity. Most of us know what we ought to do; our trouble is that we do not want to do it. Thy help is our only hope. Make us want to do what is right, and give us the ability to do it. In the name of Christ our Lord.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

If You Can't Lick 'em—Join 'em

Just back from visiting with my daughter's family—and playing Grandpop to two of the cutest kids you ever saw. While there I picked up a couple of new ideas on child raising:

If your child's learning to use a pen, provide an old fountain pen—filled with bluing. Looks and writes like ink, but won't stain clothes or furniture.

Maybe you have a boy, like my grandson, who thinks he's too old for a bib—but isn't. A big cowboy bandana works just as well, and looks he-man to boot.

From where I sit, getting along with children is like getting along with grownups—it requires an effort to see things from the other person's point of view. At any age, there's no accounting for tastes. Take my neighbor who keeps a parakeet and drinks hot coffee in the summertime. That seems strange to me . . . a man who's partial to hound dogs and a cooling glass of beer. But I'd be "childish" to say it was wrong.

4-H Awards Are Offered

Two National 4-H Award programs, public speaking and community relations, give 4-H'ers opportunity to develop personal talents and gain recognition and awards for their efforts.

In the public speaking program, medals are provided for the winning boy and girl in each county. The top ranking boy in the state receives a 19-jewel watch, and the winning girl a chest of silver.

The Pure Oil Company, donor of awards, also offers an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Nov. 27 - Dec. 1, and a $300 scholarship to the boy and girl national winners.

Through the community relations program, 4-H members bring the ideals and values of 4-H Club work to the attention of the community. Participation may include writing, speaking, acting or production for radio and television; writing for newspapers; taking part in group discussions; or other public relations activities.

Awards, provided by Gene Autry and the Wm. Wrigley, Jr. Company, consist of certificates of honor for the state winning boy and girl; expense-paid trips to the National 4-H Club Congress for eight sectional winners; and two national scholarships of $300 to a boy and a girl.

Both programs are conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service, and the awards arranged by the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work.

Full information is available from county extension offices.

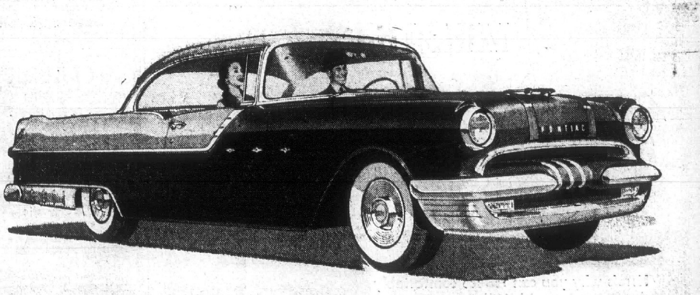
LET Pontiac's Record-Breaking Sales
BE YOUR GUIDE TO THE BUY OF THE YEAR!



No Car Within Hundreds of Dollars
Is So Big . . . So Powerful . . . So Smart!

America knows value . . . and is making today's Pontiac the most popular Pontiac ever built! And it's no wonder, because Pontiac provides so much more of everything you want in a fine car.

If you're looking for big-car size, Pontiac has it—where it counts! Pontiac's long 122" or 124" wheelbase smooths the bumps and tames the curves. And this same bigness outside gives you more room inside—room to stretch out and relax, room to enjoy the sheer satisfaction that comes from the knowledge you're driving one of the biggest without paying the usual big-car price!

Or if your first concern is power—here again Pontiac's your car! No car anywhere near it in price puts so much get-up-and-go under so trim a hood. Its husky 200-horsepower Strato-Streak V-8* is ready, willing and more than able to make any kind of driving a dream—and with the economy and ruggedness that are Pontiac trade-marks.

When it comes to style—Pontiac really stars! Here's where the designers took a long look ahead and came up with more than a beauty—they came up with an all-new pattern that sets Pontiac apart with a personality all its own.

All this adds up to something very unusual in cars—and Pontiac puts it within the easy reach of any new-car budget!

Right now—today—record-breaking thousands are discovering that a truly fine car needn't carry a high price. Why not come in soon and see for yourself?

*Optional at low extra cost; 180 h.p. standard.

"Stretch" Togs Give Comfort, Longer Wear

"They surround, but do not bind." This is the way people who have worn "stretch" yarn hosiery, socks and undergarments describe them.

Esther Meacham, instructor in the textiles, clothing and related arts department at Michigan State College, explains that these stretch yarn garments are made with a two-ply crimp nylon yarn.

When the first stretch yarn hosiery came on the market several years ago, Miss Meacham points out, it was heavy, warm and more expensive. Since then manufacturers have made the sheer 15 denier, 60 gauge hose which are quite comparable in price to other stockings.

Much of the "stretch" hosiery is made from helanca yarn. These nylon yarns are set in a coiled form by heat so the coils remain permanent. Due ot these twists or crimps in the yarn, Miss Meacham explains, the garments made from it have much "give." Hosiery clings to the legs and does not snag easily. And gloves made from helanca, she adds fit snugly on any size hand; they are cool, and easy to launder.

Because of the "stretch" quality of garments made from helanca, stores need not stock such a quantity of hosiery. To meet all needs and sizes with "stretch" hosiery, the store may carry a maximum of six sizes. For regular hosiery, they must carry over 20 sizes to be completely stocked.

Stamp News

BY GREG MASON

For anyone who collects "BRITISH COMMONWEALTH" there is a new book out for your library, "Commemorative Stamps of the British Commonwealth."

It was published both in the United States and Great Britain, this was the first time this had ever been done. The publisher in Great Britain was Faber & Faber, while in this country it was published by D. VanNostrand Co. The author is D. S. Haverbeck.

Mr. Haverbeck is a fellow of the Royal Philatelic Society of London, is also active in the Collectors' Club of New York, and contributes to the Collectors' Club Philatelist.

Everyone of the 582 illustrations is a clear fine-screen halftone, and no information is ignored.

The book is available at $6.50 from bookshops or from the D. VanNorstrand Co. Inc., 250 Fourth avenue, New York, N. Y.

Michigan Once Had Year-Round Mild Weather

Michigan once enjoyed a year-round mild climate with tropical trees growing everywhere, according to Russell C. Hussey, professor of geology at the University of Michigan.

This paradisal weather existed millions of years before our present climatic conditions began. Fossils of the fig tree and the date palm, found as far north as Alaska and Greenland, indicate temperatures about like those of our southern states.

In those halcyon days living conditions for both plants and animals must have been a great deal easier than they are today. Our knowledge of the animals that lived in Michigan during those pleasant times is very slight, but there were doubtless many different kinds of strange reptiles and mammals living here that have long since disappeared from the face of the earth, says the professor.

It is altogether possible that even the dinosaurs and grotesque flying reptiles were inhabitants of our state because they were once extremely common in the western part of the United States, he suggests.

WINTERS WERE SHORT

But then a great climatic change began. At first the winters were short, but they slowly grew longer and more severe, and the snow lasted until late in the spring.

Finally a critical stage was reached when the snow that fell during the winter was not all melted in the short summer. This was the first real evidence of the approaching glacial age.

The snowfall in the mountains of Eastern Canada was so heavy that finally these hills were completely buried and the snow line moved slowly westward and southward. This snow gradually turned into the ice of a vast continental glacier that must have been at least two miles thick in many places, Professor Hussey reports.

Shirley Anne DeClercq and James L. Lawson Married

Before an altar decorated with vases of white chrysanthemums and gladioli, Shirley Anne DeClercq and James L. Lawson were united in marriage Saturday morning at eleven o'clock in St. Elizabeth Catholic church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DeClercq of 209 East Kilbuck street, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Lawson of Route 3, Adrian.

The Rev. Father Thomas Collins performed the double-ring ceremony. "Ave Maria" and "On This Day O Beautiful Mother" were sung by Wallace Whiting accompanied by Mrs. Ben Hammack Jr. at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of tiered, embroidered tulle over satin with a V-shaped neckline. She wore a pearl necklace and matching earrings, a gift from the bridegroom, and carried a cascade bouquet of white gladmellias and feathered carnations.

Mrs. Barbara DeJonghe of Tecumseh was the matron of honor; Patricia Dibble of Tipton and Nancy Porter of Tecumseh were the bridesmaids. All wore strapless, waltz length gowns of net over satin with matching shoes and headpieces and carried a bouquet of pink gladmellias and feathered white carnations. Mrs. DeJonghe's and Nancy's dresses were blue and Patricia's was yellow.

Diane DeMille, cousin of the bride, who was the flower girl, wore a pink embroidered nylon dress with matching headpiece and carried a basket of miscellaneous flowers. Terry Lawson of Petersburg, cousin of the groom, was the ring bearer.

Gerald DeClercq of Tecumseh, brother of the bride, served as best man and the ushers were Edward Lewis, cousin of the groom, and Leverette DeJonghe, both of Tecumseh.

Mrs. DeClercq wore a navy dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink gladmellias.

Following the wedding, a reception was held for 200 guests in the auditorium of St. Elizabeth school. Mrs. Harold Righter, sister of the groom, was in charge of the guest book.

The three-tiered wedding cake was served by Mrs. Harold Brady and Mrs. Harold DeClercq, sisters of the bride; Kathleen Davis served the punch; Bette Driffill served the coffee, and Mary Louise Kotts, the ice cream.

The couple left for a short trip with the bride wearing a tan suit with navy accessories. After they return, they will reside in Tecumseh.

Both are graduates of Tecumseh high school, the bride in 1955 and the groom in 1953. She is employed in the office of Dr. R. G. B. Marsh and Mr. Lawson by Hurd Lock Manufacturing Co. in Adrian.

Melinda B. Joseph Buried in Macon

Mrs. Melinda Belle Joseph, 94 years old, of Tipton died Monday at 7 a.m. at the Harrington Nursing Home in Morenci, where she had been a patient for three years.

Born in Burling, Shelby county, Ohio, Mrs. Joseph was the widow of Winfield Scott Joseph. She moved to Michigan in 1911 and was a member of the Ridgeway Methodist church.

Mrs. Joseph is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Abbigail Pennington of Tipton; a son, Everett Joseph of Morenci; two brothers, Curtis Beach of Ridgeway and Frank Beach of Tipton, and several other relatives.

She was preceded in death by two sons, Chester E. and Winfield R.; and a brother Samuel Beach.

Services were held Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Niblack Funeral Home in Britton with burial in Macon cemetery.

The American Red Cross estimates it will spend $1,000,000 on emergency aid and long-term rehabilitation assistance to the hundreds of families affected by the tornadoes which struck Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Texas in late May.

Ladies Only

There are many interesting activities taking place this summer, in which you will want to participate. These are all special interest meetings open to everyone interested in attending. Here is a calendar of events for your convenience. You will receive more details later:

July 12—A special interest lesson on art appreciation will be presented in Adrian, by Miss Pauline McSparran, home industries specialist from Michigan State University.

Everyone is invited — time 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. at the Michigan Producers' Dairy Company auditorium.

July 19-22—Homemakers' conference, Michigan State University, East Lansing.

July 27—All-county family picnic to be held at Island Park, Adrian.

Aug. 17-20 — Lenawee County homemakers' camp, Camp Palmer, Inc., Harrison Lake, Fayette, Ohio.

Aug. 21-26—National Home Demonstration Council Conference, Conrad-Hilton Hotel, Chicago, Ill.

The home economics extension executive board and the camp committee are working on these events so that each home attending them may have a pleasant and profitable time.

We hope everyone can attend. However, in the event each member cannot be present, we hope each club will be well represented.

The 28th annual homemakers' conference will be held July 19-22 on the Michigan State University campus. Any Michigan homemaker who can "untie her apron strings" and leave the family for one to four days is invited to attend. This will be a vacation combined with education and fun, prescribed to give you a mid-summer pick-up.

Besides listening to nationally known speakers and taking part in recreational activities such as square dancing, movies and tours, Mrs. Homemaker will be able to attend one of her choice of 20 classes. Each subject will be taught in three sessions one a day from Wednesday through Friday. For those who can only attend the conference one day, special one-session classes will be held.

Featured speakers will be Edwin C. Kemper, special agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation; Dr. Cleo Dawson, popular psychologist; and Dr. David E. Molyneaux, First Presbyterian Church, Flint. Mary Taepke, home lighting specialist with the Detroit Edison Company, will discuss "There is Light in your Future."

The featured entertainment for the conference is Thursday evening when Doraine and Ellis, a musical team, will present "Romance in Song." Their program is described as "costumed cameos of famous musicals."

Besides all this, there will be several speakers representing various programs underway at Michigan State. It's a week no homemaker will want to miss.

Lenawee Day at homemakers' conference is scheduled as Thursday, July 21.

We are again planning to charter buses for this day.

Reservations may be made at the extension office. Each reservation is to be accompanied by the registration fee and bus fare.

Ladies who wish to attend full time, please call or write the extension office.

As soon as reservation cards from Michigan State University arrive at this office, they will be mailed to the ladies who specify that they wish to attend homemakers' conference for the entire time.

If pressed absolutely dry, wool is likely to look shiny. Michigan State College clothing specialists suggest you leave a little moisture in the wool garment and put it on a hanger to dry.

Schuch-Prong Wedding Vows Exchanged Friday

Elizabeth Jean Prong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Prong of 12460 East Michigan St., Clinton, and Robert Harry Schuch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Schuch of 320 Patterson St., Tecumseh, were united in marriage Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock at St. John's Lutheran church in Bridgewater.

The church was attractively decorated with yellow tea roses and pink carnations from the bride's mother's garden. The Rev. H. W. Ray performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a white nylon dress and carried a corsage of red roses and baby's breath. She wore a white gold cross, which was a gift from the groom.

She was attended by Helen Gertrude Hess, who wore a yellow nylon dress similar to that of the bride's. She carried a corsage of yellow carnations and blue bachelor buttons.

Mr. Schuch had Donald Paden Nesbitt as his best man.

Mrs. Prong wore an aqua and white floral nylon dress with a corsage of pink carnations and bachelor buttons. Mrs. Schuch's dress was blue butcher linen and her corsage was pink roses and baby's breath.

A wedding dinner was held immediately following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents for 20 members of their immediate families including the bride's grandmother, Mrs. David Randolph of Saline and the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Jacobs of Adrian.

The table was centered with a two-tiered wedding cake topped with miniature bride and groom.

Mrs. Irene Baldwin of Clinton served the dinner. The bride and groom were served dinner on imported Haviland china that was a wedding gift to the bride's grandmother 45 years ago.

For her going-away outfit, the bride chose a blue and white cotton dress. After a two-weeks' trip through Canada, the couple will reside with the bride's parents.

The new Mrs. Schuch, who formerly was a waitress at the Midway restaurant in Clinton, graduated from Clinton high school in 1955. Mr. Schuch is employed at Butler Motor Sales, Tecumseh and graduated from Tecumseh high school in 1953.

Lanning School Has 15th Reunion

The 15th annual reunion of the Lanning school was held Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dean VanValkenburg with 30 persons attending. Potluck dinner was served at 1 o'clock.

A business meeting was held and it was decided to continue the reunions in the years to come. Also is was decided to have the same officers for next year. They are: president, Dean VanValkenburg; secretary, Mrs. Clara Halstead, and treasurer, Wallace Bryan.

Mrs. VanValkenburg was in charge of the program which centered around the theme of a typical school day in the past. The program began as the school day did with the reading of scripture and a prayer by Mrs. Floyd Preston of Tipton, a former teacher of the school. Then the group sang "America."

The history class was in charge of Faye VanValkenburg, who told about the records of the school since 1863, showed the group the contracts of various teachers and told about building the present schoolhouse.

The grammar class was in charge of Mabel Boyd, who recited some original verse about the school.

For reading class, Mrs. Bertha Hoag gave readings pertaining to the school. "School Days" was then sung by Faye and Dean VanValkenburg and Bertha Hoag.

Remarks were given by Grant Titley of Albuquerque, New Mexico, a former resident of the district and by Mrs. Preston, who told about some of her experiences as a teacher and showed pictures that she had brought.

Bertha Furgason Buried Wednesday

Bertha Mae Furgason, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Furgason, died at 4:30 p.m. Sunday at University hospital, Ann Arbor, where she had been a patient since April 20.

She had been hospitalized since March 28, first at Herrick Memorial hospital, and had been in failing health for the last year.

Bertha Mae was born in Tecumseh Feb. 6, 1942, and lived in the farm home on Munger road northwest of Tecumseh.

She is survived by her father and mother, the former Leora Gregg; six brothers, Milford and Edward of Brooklyn, Harry, Robert, Walter and James at home; three sisters, Mrs. Charles Jones of Tipton, Mrs. Willis Davenport of Tecumseh and Norma at home; a great grandmother, Mrs. Edith Gregg of Tecumseh and step-grandmother, Mrs. E. L. Furgason, also of Tecumseh.

Preceding her in death was one sister, Mrs. Rheinhold (Edith) Ely, in 1954.

Bertha Mae had passed from the seventh grade at Lamkin school this June. She was a member of the Franklin Maids 4-H group and attended the Tipton Community church.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Green Funeral Home. The Rev. Gordon Blossom of Albion, former pastor of the Tipton Community church officiated.

Terry Joe Lorenz Buried Monday

Terry Joe Lorenz died Friday at 9:30 p.m. at Henry Ford hospital, Detroit, where he had been a patient for ten days, undergoing surgery Friday morning.

Terry Joe was the year-old-son of Richard and Rose Vincze Lorez of 3973 Kaiser road, Tecumseh. In addition to his parents, he is survived by a brother, Roger; sister, Brenda and his grandfather, John Lorenz of Britton.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Monday at the Niblack Funeral Home in Britton. Burial was in Ridgeway cemetery with the Rev. O. E. Priest officiating. Bearers were Gerald Schnabl, Walter Lorenz, Jack Baird and Jerry Williams.

Dust and ashes can be kept from sticking to wastebaskets by washing the metal container thoroughly and applying a furniture wax, claim M.S.C. home economists.

The Silver Lining

Look for the silver lining
Whenever a cloud appears

CONDUCTED BY BOB WARREN

IF YOU HAPPEN TO SEE a small yellow contraption with bomb-like fins suspended on a metal rod about four feet off the ground, don't become alarmed and notify civil defense director George Kilbourn. What you are looking at will be one of 10,000 Japanese beetle traps now being placed in various locations of the state by the Michigan Department of Agriculture's bureau of plant industry.

ADD INTERESTING COMMENT: June, which is now history, was dairy month in our fair state. One of the most interesting bits on promoting this fact was this: "Reduce a pint of whole milk to its solids content and you have enough food to fill a sphere slightly larger than a golf ball. A quart of milk will give you about two and one-quarter golf balls." If you don't want to drink the milk, you can play golf.

IT WAS RAINING TORRENTS as a Tecumseh motorist stepped into a small restaurant in another town and sat down. As the waitress came for the order, he glanced out the window and remarked, "Gee, this certainly looks like the flood."

"The what?" asked the waitress.

"The big flood. Haven't you read about the flood and the ark landing on Mount Ararat?"

"Gee, mister," replied the waitress, "I ain't had time to look at a paper all week."

IF YOU THINK THAT THE summer is not flying past consider that the first of 130 county fairs of the season got underway Saturday at Lake Odessa. It won't be too long before the Lenawee County Fair (Sept. 19 to 24) and the Hillsdale County Fair — "The Most Popular Fair on Earth" (Sept. 25 to Oct. 1) begin with their races, midways, cotton candy, rides, exhibitions and all the rest of the colorful parts that make up the thrilling whole of the county fair.

HOW LONG HAS IT BEEN SINCE you walked along a flower border with a little hand in yours and watched a tiny nose sniffing at the wonderful fragrance of varicolored flowers? Every time I have this experience (and I have enjoyed and hope to enjoy many more of them) I think of these words of Donald Culross Peattie: "Just to walk this green old earth for one hour, to touch a flower, to hear a bird's song, to see a rainbow, sometimes is a miracluous fortune. Children in their moments of still wonder seem to know this."

THE GARDENER MUST NOT only love flowers; he also must hate weeds.

THE OLDTIMER SAYS: "What a pleasure life would be if everybody would try to do only half of what he expects others to do!"

FAVORITE TRAFFIC SLOGAN: "Drive safely. The life you save may be mine."

A MOTHER MALLARD AND her three baby ducks were swimming on Evans Creek Saturday morning. Not more than a minute had elapsed by the time I brought our children out to see the ducks but she and her children had scooted. Although we could not see her and the tiny ones, we knew she was across the bank on the Catholic Church side because of the jawing of the blue-jay, the cat bird and the grackles.

AT LAST IT IS OFFICIAL. What was Michigan State College became Michigan State University July 1. But, lest you make University of Michigan supporters see red, you'd better call the East Lansing educational institution Michigan State University of Agriculture and Applied Sciences.

READING THE CHILDREN their nightly story, we ran across the word "atom." The nine-year-old beat me to it and asked "What's an atom?" The six-year-old also beat me to the punch and said: "Why, silly, you know—atom's apple." Move over, you nuclear phyicists; it's all straightened out now.

MRS. ALICE WOOD OF Berkley, Calif., sister of Perry Satterthwaite and Miss Beth Satterthwaite dropped in to see the notorious character who scrounges around week after week to try valiantly to make this column interesting. We had a nice chat. You always do appreciate these visits most on the busiest days because they break the routine. Mrs. Wood, it developed, attended Hillsdale College. There's no point in divulging her age but she graduated from Hillsdale in 1909. We discussed many mutual friends including Mrs. Lethel Patton Ford, the finest teacher I've ever had, and Mrs. Jane Whitney Cook, my employer when I attended Hillsdale High School. Mrs. Wood, incidentally, graduated from HC after only three years' work and she is still interested in the college.

ANOTHER VISITOR WAS Jim Waldron of Burlingame, Calif. Here visiting his sister Miss Clara Waldron, he commented on the rapid growth of the area around Burlingame and he expressed regret that fine trees have been cut down to make way for the influx of new houses.

OFFICIALS OF THE NEW York Central Railroad report that the water tower which was torn down last week was 43 years old. It was built in 1912. Incidentally, it took a lot of tries before workers finally were able to raze it. On the first two tries the cable broke and the tower stood fast; but then gave up and crashed.

FOUR YOUNG MEN WITH COURAGE to burn are Cap Orr, Jim Cross, Dick Boyd and Jim Spooner. They have been parading around town in shorts, probably thinking that if the ladies can do it, so can they; but none of these fellows really have the figure for this display of manly courage. Chuck Butler said Jim quit wearing them as soon as he was whistled at.

OUR 33-POUND, TWO-YEAR-OLD watched the chamber of commerce's excellent display of fireworks Monday night. After the first bangs "cairt" him with their loud noise, he warmed up to the display and began to exclaim about the pretty "cracker bangs."

OVERHEARD OVER THE 4th: A little tike with a cap pistol ran up to another little tike Monday and shouted: "Watch out. You're going to get shotted with this target."

EVEN THE BIRDS WERE CELEBRATING the 179th birthday of our great country Monday. There must have been at least 20 different species along the banks of Evans Creek performing a regular concert of beautiful singing. Adding to the bird symphony was a new one that we did not know. But neighbor Ella Brown knew it. It has a most striking note and sang away all day. It is called the Veery, commonly called Wilson's Thrush. Bird books, however, call it a Willow Thrush. Regardless of its name, it has the most beautiful voice you ever will hear.

DR. H. H. LOVELAND, FORMER Tecumseh doctor for 26 years, who now lives in Escanaba, was in Tecumseh during the past few days to renew acquaintances. He said he visited quite a number of old friends but regretted that he was not able again to see all of them. Dr. Loveland, now 90, said he will see the rest when he comes to town again.

THOUGHT FOR THIS WEEK—Tho' we travel the world over to find the beautiful, we must have it in us or find it not. — Ralph Waldo Emerson

School Election Will Be Held Next Monday

New Lumber Co. Sets Opening

Tecumseh Lumber Co., 2800 east Monroe road, at the west edge of town will hold its grand opening Saturday and Sunday, July 9 and 10.

The new company, founded by Howard Truesdale, will be open to the public from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Saturday and from 1 to 6 p. m. Sunday.

Prizes and favors will be given to those attending.

Tecumseh Lumber Co. will have a complete line of lumber and building supplies, reports Merval Mattis, yard manager.

The yards include an office and warehouse 40 x 112; a shop 24 x 40; 300 feet of lumber bins; two double deck storage sheds; a dock around the rear of the office building and a ramp for a lift truck to transport stock in and out of the warehouse.

A drive-in double storage building 24 x 80 also will be added on the east side of the yards.

The office is done in the latest interiors, including display panels for the finest of woods.

The office is equipped with radiant gas heat.

HUNGRY

More than 800 persons were served at the husky breakfast of the Exchange Club's Dawn Patrol Sunday at Tecumseh Airport.

Planes from three states totalled 175.

Planes made by Meyers Aircraft were displayed.

Paul Eddy performed several flying stunts.

The Civil Air Patrol helped Exchangeites in putting on the program.

Proceeds from the breakfast will go to Tecumseh's civil defense.

Easton Heads City Firemen

Harold Easton Tuesday night was elected president of the Tecumseh Firemen's Association.

Others elected were Frank Gray, vice-president; Charles Manley, secretary; Lawrence Price, assistant secretary; Cecil Alderdyce, chief; John Hamilton, first assistant; and Leo Alderdyce, second assistant.

WASHING CARS — Jaycees earned a gross of $104 last Friday washing cars. The money earned will go to sponsor more youth activities. T hat's sopping wet Jack Osburn at the rear of the car while John Naser, one of many young people who helped, scrubs down the front. The committee in charge publicly thanked all those who were so helpful in making the car wash project successful.

Herrick Memorial Hospital Starts Chest X-Ray Screening Program

The staff and board of directors of Herrick Memorial hospital have approved a routine chest X-ray screening program for all patients admitted at the hospital.

Purpose of the program is to help in finding unknown tuberculosis, lung cancers and other pulmonary disorders as well as heart diseases.

Quoting from the National Tuberculosis Association's bulletin "Chest X-Ray Screening Programs in General Hospitals," O. L. Gilbert, Herrick Memorial hospital superintendent, said:

"Advantages of such a program are far-reaching. Early diagnosis of unsuspected thoracic disease may mean the difference between the success and failure in treatment.

"Early diagnosis of minimal disease implies the probability of early arrest of tuberculosis with prevention of spread; early diagnosis in cancer implies the best possible treatment; the early discovery of small, unsuspected tumors of the mediastinum and lungs implies their safe removal while still small.

"The early diagnosis of unsuspected tuberculosis and cancer of the lungs is, from the nature of these diseases, the most urgent reason for instituting a hospital X-ray screening program for all admissions. By so doing, general hospitals can serve at the grass roots of community health and education in preventive and curative medicine."

The X-rays will be taken on 4 x 5 stero cut film that will enable radiolegist to read the X-rays with stereoscopic vision—"3-D" vision.

Dr. Donald Parker of Adrian and Dr. J. W. Boyd of Ann Arbor are the radiologists for the hospital.

Ogland Lay is the X-ray technician.

X-rays will be taken with the new Imperial diagnostic machine.

Gen. Webster Anderson Heads Philly QM Depot

Brigadier General Webster Anderson, USA, son of Mrs. R. K. Anderson and the late R. K. Anderson, recently returned from his assignment as Quartermaster, USAREUR, has been appointed Commanding General of the Philadelphia Quartermaster Depot, Philadelphia, Pa., succeeding Major General R. P. Hollis, USA.

General Anderson was born in Boston, Massachusetts, on June 1, 1906. He graduated from Tecumseh high school in 1924.

Following his graduation from the U. S. Military Academy in 1928, he served three years with the 2nd Infantry at Fort Brady, Michigan. Other assignments prior to World War II included attendance as company officer and tank courses at Fort Benning, Georgia; three years with the 35th Infantry at Schofield Barracks; and a tour of duty at West Point from 1936 to 1941, where he served as mathematics instructor.

Previous to an assignment in England with the Headquarters, SOS, in June 1942, he served in the office of the Quartermaster General, Washington, D. C. In the fall of 1942, General Anderson was assigned to the Allied Forces Headquarters in Africa. Attendance at the Army-Navy Staff College followed the Mediterranean Theater assignment. He later made a tour in the Pacific Theater as Chief of the POL Division, G-4, General Headquarters.

On his return to the United States, General Anderson served as Chief of the Fuel and Lubricants Branch, OQMG, from 1946 to 1947.

BROTHER ACT

Two Detroit brothers performed an act for Tecumseh Police Monday night but policemen were not impressed.

The brothers, Gerald, 44, and Roy McCarty, 33, were arrested for drunkenness.

Arraigned by Justice Robert L. French Tuesday morning, the brothers were sentenced to pay a fine of $15 and costs of $8.60 each or to spend 15 days in jail. They paid.

Guest Preachers Named for Methodist Church

The Methodist Church of Tecumseh announces the following visiting speakers while the pastor the Rev. Horace James and family are on vacation.

Sunday, July 17, the Chaplain of Goodwill Industries of Detroit, the Reverend Dudley Mosure, will be the speaker. Rev. Mosure was formerly pastor of the Fourteenth Avenue Methodist Church of Detroit. Sunday, July 24, the Reverend Lyle Harper will be guest minister. The Rev. Harper is well known here having supplied the pulpit for the church last summer.

Sunday, July 31, the pulpit will be supplied by James Masten, a student from Adrian College studying for the ministry. He will be assisted by Gary Hizer.

The hour of service will be at 10 a. m. each Sunday. Sunday School will meet at the same hour down stairs. At the last 15 minutes of Sunday School for the boys and girls a film strip will be shown; next Sunday it will be "Happy Times at Home", and July 17 "Days of Wonder".

Hotel Loses Liquor License

The liquor license of the Chieftain Hotel has been revoked, according to a report from the Michigan Liquor Control Commission.

The effective date of the revocation is July 25.

The commission held a hearing on the case May 2 in Lincoln Park and last week issued the release stating that the license had been revoked because the hotel sold to a minor last Jan. 7.

It is understood that the hotel will appeal to the liquor control commission.

First Polio Case of 1955 Is Recovering

Lenawee County's first polio case of 1955 is recuperating.

Andy Risner, 10, son of Mrs. Truly Van Riper, 109 north Ottawa street, Tecumseh, was stricken Wednesday, June 29.

After spending four days in the University of Michigan hospital at Ann Arbor, he came home Sunday.

Luckily, he did not have the type of polio that paralyzes.

After about two more weeks of rest doctors report he will be all right again.

Andy last summer had the Salk vaccine but he did not receive the "shots" this spring.

Bob Williamson Attends National Jaycee Convention

Bob Williamson, state delegate, and his wife Bette attended the national convention of the Jaycees in Atlanta, Georgia, last week.

With 120 Michigan Jaycees and their wives, they traveled south with a caravan of 30 cars.

The convention was attended by 6,500 Jaycees from all states, Alaska and Hawaii.

The Jaycee parade was the largest in Atlanta's history. Michigan won first place in originality with their marching AC spark plugs.

Nevada threw silver dollars to the crowd of 200,000 watching the parade. And other states handed out famous products to the huge crowd.

In Jaycee legislation these resolutions were adopted: laws to remove the influence of gambling from sports; a world calendar; a speedup in road building to make highways safer; President Eisenhower's request for a 2,900,000 man reserve force; deplored pensions for veterans on the basis of non-service disability or military service alone; urged local Jaycees to aid in spreading news of the Hoover Report on government operations; and encouraged Jaycees to take an active part in local government.

Is That So!

By Clara Waldron

TECUMSEH'S FIRST BOOM

There was a roar of diesel power, a whine of cables and the old "water-tower in the Y" came down last week with a splintering crash. The big wooden tank had stood on its timber and brick supports south of the "Junction Depot" (now the office of Hayden Fuel and Supply Co.) for all of 60 years, one of a series of watering places for the "iron horse" of Tecumseh's railroading past.

The diesel engine that now beeps its way discreetly through the town does not require water. It is a sample of smooth efficiency and probably brings much freight in and out, but its role is very minor compared to the dashing one played by the clanging monsters, who formerly linked the economy of the village with the outside world.

Tecumseh was "railroad conscious" as early as 1837, when local capital helped to promote the Palmyra-Jacksonburgh R.R. (now a branch of the N.Y.C., and if all the abortive projects of the following years had been completed, the town would have been criss-crossed with rails like a waffle iron. And if all the rosy dreams of the car-shop days had materialized even Chicago would have had to look to its laurels. Those were boom years and very real ones while they lasted.

By 1898, when the car-shop promotion began, the Jackson branch —then the Lake Shore—was doing a thriving business. Crossing it at the junction, (Evans and Cummins streets), was the east and west road which was then called the D. T. and M. (Detroit, Toledo and Mackinac) although it had been variously known as the M. and O. (Michigan and Ohio) and the C. J. and M. (Cincinnati, Jackson and Mackinac) apparently, as some wag remarked, because it touched none of them. But whatever its name, it tapped the resources of much of western Michigan. Connected with it by a Y-shaped arrangement of tracks was the newly completed Detroit and Lima Northern later to be called the D. T. and I. which reached far south into Ohio.

Thus a fairly impressive network spider-webbed from the town, connecting much of the midwest to eastern markets. Railroads were transportation then, with trucks undreamed of and Tecumseh was a center of that transportation.

Because the town was by then "railroad minded," promotion of the carshops was easy. The Lake Shore was not involved. It was a group of men from the other two lines who advanced the project. Tecumseh was to raise $14,000 and buy 10 acres of land, with a possible $6,000 for further building later. $15,000 was pledged "in four days." The land purchased lay south of the D. T. and M. tracks, now headquarters of the Rumpf Truck Line, then "Bill's race track." Within a very short time a brick building had been put up, large enough to house and repair seven locomotives, with pit and turn-table. Soon another, larger machine shop was built where, apparently, cars were assembled for there is an account of a record set by the building of a flat car "from the trucks up" in one day.

Meanwhile the offices of the railroad company had also been moved to Tecumseh and were housed in a new building just west of the junction depot. Although local help had been employed on the construction work, both office and shops brought an influx of people to the town. The population jumped from about 2400 to more than 3300. The railroad men were free spenders and the merchants "never had it so good." Some new houses were built but even then rental homes were just not available. Some one started a "housing development" on what is now the Products parking lot with a model home in the middle of a field.

That model home stood in solitary but fading grandeur until it was moved away several years later. For, in 1903, while the bubble did not exactly burst it developed a slow leak with just as final results. Practical railroad men found they needed repair shops nearer the middle of the line and picked Napoleon, Ohio as the logical spot; the high pressure promoters had by then "severed their connections" with the road and local investigation seemed to indicate that the money raised by the town had long before severed any connection it had ever had with the railroad.

There were injunctions against the railroad by a citizen's committee and long years of litigation over the ownership of the land. Meanwhile the buildings stood gaunt, black and empty, a haven for tramps and an intriguing jungle for small boys. Someone relieved the dismal picture by restoring part of the old race track and "matinee races" circled the crumbling buildings on summer afternoons.

Even official census figures do not reflect this short-lived dream of a "railroad center" for by 1910 the village had reverted to its normal 2400 and its then solid foundation of agricultural prosperity.

McKnight-Driffill Vows Spoken in Tipton Church

In an impressive candlelight ceremony in the Tipton Community church Saturday evening at 7:30, Elizabeth Margaret Driffill and Wayne D. McKnight were united in marriage.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Driffill of Tipton, and Mr. McKnight is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert McKnight of Onsted.

The bride and groom repeated their vows before the Rev. Gordon C. Blossom of Albion, with the Rev. Carl Klammer, cousin of the bride, of Port Huron, assisting.

The dias was banked with hampers of white stock and gladioli, palms and candelabra, while the pews were marked with the traditional satin bow centered with pink rosebuds.

Flat arrangements of pink rosebuds adorned the sill of each window.

Mrs. Harold Every at the organ played Lohengrin's processional and recessional, while Mrs. Clifford Hardy, life-long friend of the family sang "O Promise Me" and "Through the Years" preceding the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" with the couple kneeling at the altar.

The bride wore an exquisite gown of imported, embroidered tulle over layers of nylon tulle and satin. The fitted bodice was made with portrait neckline and long sleeves. The pattern of the tulle was sparked with sequins and the full skirt fell into a chapel train. A double veil of bridal illusion was attached to a juliet cap of sequin embroidered tulle, and she wore a single strand of pearls. Her white Bible was topped with a white glamellia, tied with satin ribbons.

Miss Sandra Simmons of Tipton attended the bride as maid of honor and was assisted by Miss Carol Luce of Tipton, and Miss Sherry Moore of Tecumseh as bridesmaids. Each wore a pink ballerina length net gown over satin and carried an arrangement of deeper pink rubrum lilies. Matching headbands of pink and fuschia adorned their hair and each wore a single strand pearl necklace.

Little Deborah Grizzell of Detroit preceded the bride down the aisle wearing pink and white organdy and carrying a nosegay of pink rosebuds, with matching rosebuds in her hair.

Harlan McKnight served his brother as best man, while Robert Reese of Manchester and Ancel Renner of Onsted seated the guests. They were assisted by Claude Lane of Adrian and Gordon Miller of Brooklyn, cousins of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Charles Driffill selected a pastel blue embossed nylon organza topped with contrasting duster, with which she wore matching accessories. Mrs. McKnight was attired in blue sheer, with white accessories and each mother pinned a corsage of rubrum lilies on her shoulder.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors for more than 200 guests. Mr. and Mrs. E. Lamont Simmons, assisted by Miss Margaret Hardy received the guests. Each was registered by Miss Barbara Ousterhout of Tecumseh.

Miss Pat Dibble served the punch. The bride's table was covered with a white nylon cloth over pink and centered with bride's cake, which was encircled with pink roses. Lighted tapers on each side were nestled in pink rosebuds.

Mrs. Carl Klammer of Port Huron presided at the coffee service, while Mrs. George Langley of London, Ontario, served tea. The bride's cake was cut and served by an aunt of the bride, Mrs. H. P. Wright of Port Huron. Also assisting in serving were the Misses Joan Whelan, Marilyn Whelan and Marylou Dibble, friends of the bride.

Following the reception, the bride changed into a white sharkskin suit for her going away costume. With this she wore pink accessories and pinned the center glamellia from her bouquet on her shoulder. After a short trip they will make their home on E. Carlton road, south of Adrian.

The bride is a graduate of Tecumseh high school, class of 1955, and presently is employed in the office of the American Chain and Cable Company, Adrian. The groom attended Onsted high school and is employed by the Bohn Aluminum and Brass Company, also of Adrian.

Guests were present from Port Huron, Detroit, and London, Ontairo.

Dale Hoags Visit in England

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sheldon received a letter recently from their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hoag, who are spending several weeks in England, telling of an afternoon's visit in the home of Mrs. Edward Escolme's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor in Northwood Hills, a suburb of London.

Two other sisters of Mrs. Escolme's from Carnforth in North Lancashire were also guests of the Taylors as was a niece of Mr. Taylor's, Miss Martha Saville of Fanwood, N.J., who is an employee of the U. S. Embassy in London. The group enjoyed an interesting visit and were entertained at "high tea".

This week the Taylors are entertaining Dr. and Mrs. W. E. DeVol and their four children, who will be remembered by many in Tecumseh.

They are on their way to U. S. for a year's furlough from medical missionary work in India.

MRS. DERNSBERGER HEADS GIRLS CLUB

A recent issue of the Pontiac Press contains an account of the fifth birthday celebration of the General Motors Girls Club and shows a picture of its president Mrs. Harry Dernsberger.

Mrs. Dernsberger, who is a daughter of Mrs. Fred Marsh of Tecumseh, has been employed in the accounts receivable department of General Motors for the last 20 years.

At the dinner meeting of the club held at Devon Gables in Pontiac, she reported on the activities of group during the past which in addition to social affairs included many civic and philanthropic projects.

Living With Peace Of Mind

By KIRBY PAGE

At the end of the Gospel of John there is a statement that if all the doing of Jesus were described in detail, the world itself could not contain the books that would be written. In this vivid language of hyperbole does the writer convey his conviction about the significance of our Lord.

The wonder of it all is never ending, that a man in an obscure corner of a vast empire in an age of long ago should live with such unsurpassed loveliness and teach such wonderful words of life that his influence been ploughed into history.

More than any other figure in time, Jesus has helped mankind to understand the character of God; holy and righteous altogether but loving and forgiving beyond utterance; the good shepherd who takes the initiative in seeking the lost until he finds.

To Jesus we are chiefly indebted for insight into the sacredness of human personality, the worth of commonplace men and women, outcasts and notorious sinners and enemies. It was Jesus more than any other who taught the inviolability of the law of the harvest, evil cannot be overcome with evil but must be transformed with goodness. The nature of redemptive goodness is the constant theme of our Lord, live today as a good member of God's home, do his will, trust him and leave the results in his hands.

The requirements of true discipleship as set forth by Jesus constitute mankind's most exalted standard of morality. The Sermon on the Mount remains humanity's treasure chest of moral and spiritual wisdom.

More than any other Jesus helps his disciples to learn to be at home in the invisible world of the spirit, to claim their heritage as children created in the image of God, destined for everlasting life with the Father and the brethren.

GI Bill Is 11 Years Old

This year is the eleventh anniversary of the signing of the GI Bill of Rights for World War II veterans, greatest single legislative achievement of The American Legion. The GI Bill became Public Law 346, 78th Congress, when the late President F. D. Roosevelt affixed his signature to the measure on June 22, 1944.

On that historic occasion the President said, "This legislation gives emphatic notice to the men and women of our Armed Forces that the American people do not intend to let them down."

Over the past decade the impact of the GI Bill on American welfare has been incalculable. It boosted home ownership more than all previous laws combined. It raised the intelligence level of the Nation through the millions of veterans enabled to go to college, universities and vocational schools under the GI Bill educational provisions.

GI BILL IN A NUTSHELL

In a nutshell, here are some of the benefits derived by the Nation from the 11-year operation of the GI Bill:

3,910,000 veterans purchased homes through the GI loans.

221,300 got business loans under the bill.

68,300 secured loans to buy farms.

7,800,000 veterans trained under the educational provisions.

2,200,000 attended colleges or universities.

3,500,000 went to schools below the college level.

1,400,000 took on-the-job training.

700,000 enrolled for farm training.

9,000,000 veterans drew readjustment allowances while looking for employment. Only 900,000 or 10 per cent exhausted their full rights to this benefit.

GI Bill-trained veterans increased their earning power 40 per cent within five years as compared to 10 per cent for non-veterans. They are now paying approximately one billion dollars in income taxes a year. Within the next 13 years they will have alone paid off the entire cost of the educational provisions of the GI Bill.

GI BILL DIVIDENDS

The immeasurable impact of the GI Bill of Rights upon the welfare of America is reflected by the specialists it provided this Nation through its educational provisions.

The GI Bill during its first decade gave this to the Nation:

744,000	Scientists.
700,000	Mechanics.
750,000	Modern Farmers.
100,000	Lawyers.
380,000	Construction Workers.
180,000	Electricians.
238,000	Teachers.
145,000	Engineers.
430,000	Salesmen.
280,000	Metal Workers.
450,000	Communications Specialists.
240,000	Accountants.
63,000	Doctors.

COMETS

If you're interested in comets now's the time to bring out the binoculars for a sweep of the north horizon where a bright one is budding, says University of Michigan astronomer Hazel M. Losh.

About two-thirds of the way from the bowl of the Big Dipper to the bright star Capella in the constellation Auriga is a comet which is rapidly approaching naked-eye visibility, she says.

Comets revolve around the Sun with their tails pointing away from it and the one now visible has a well-defined nucleus with a misty tail more than one degree in length extending perpendicular to the horizon, she describes.

"It's worth while to take a look at it since comets as bright as this one have been rare in the past several years," Professor Losh points out.

Now's a good time to look at the Milky Way too, she adds. It's almost parallel to the eastern horizon from Cassiopeia in the north through Cepheus and Cygnus, where it conspiciously divides into two branches, the western branch passing to Scorpius and the eastern through Aquila and Sagittarius.

To the unaided eye it's a soft misty light but even binoculars show that it's made up of myriads of faint stars and nebulae, she says.

Another feature of July comes in the fact that the Earth will have reached its greatest distance from the Sun for the year on July 4. This doesn't cool things off in the slightest, says Professor Losh, we just aren't that far away.

SALINE MILL THEATER—Nancy Born and Ted Heusel star in "The Fourposter" which closes next Sunday on the stage of the Saline theater. This is the third year of the Saline Mill Theater which also will stage "You Touched Me" July 12-24; "Jane" July 26 to Aug. 14 and "The Male Animal" Aug. 16 to Sept. 4. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. There are no Monday shows. Saline is 11 miles east of Clinton, 16 miles from Tecumseh on U.S. 112. For reservations phone Saline 31.

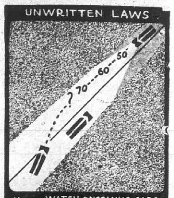
UNWRITTEN LAWS



No67 WATCH ONCOMING CARS AT NIGHT

Passing at night against oncoming traffic is modern driving's most difficult maneuver. With perfect eyesight you can't tell whether headlights are approaching at 50 or 70 miles per hour. It may be the difference between life and death.

When deciding to pass a car at night remember the old adage, "Look before you leap". And when, with even the best look, you can't be sure — then take time to be sure. When in doubt don't do it.

It helps to take a first look to estimate the distance and the speed of the oncoming car — and then a second look before making up your mind. Always keep in mind the slogan, "SLOW DOWN AND LIVE".

Extension Club Elects Officers

The Northeast Tecumseh Extension Club met last Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Virgil Chumney. Roll call was answered by giving a county-prepared report on savings bonds.

During the business meeting, it was announced that homemakers' conference is July 19-22 on the Michigan State University campus.

Officers were elected as follows: president, Jane Bird; vice-president, June Stone; secretary and treasurer, Helen House; newspaper reporter, Elizabeth Boyce; recreation and community chairman, Pauline Bailey; leaders, Donelda Robinson and Marge Wight; and alternate, Emma Dinius.

"Deserving Desserts" was the theme of the lesson for the evening. Samples of desserts were used to illustrate the main ideas.

Refreshments were served. The meetings will not be resumed again until Sept.

SMPCA Has New Sec.-Treas.

Stewart Titze, assistant secretary-treasurer of the Southeastern Michigan Production Credit Association became secretary-treasurer of this Farmers' Cooperative July 1.

Mr. Titze has been a field representative of the association for the past year.

Mr. Titze came to the association from Amery, Wisconsin.

He has been a farmer and a borrower from production credit in the past. He has more recently worked as a Farm Bureau representative before coming to the association.

Mr. Titze will replace Lyle D. Woodard who has been secretary-treasurer of the association since June 15, 1950, states Leland D. Bush of Tecumseh, director of the association.

Rotarians Hear About Boys' State

Five of the seven boys who attended Wolverine Boys' State at Michigan State University in June spoke at the weekly dinner meeting of the Rotary Club Tuesday night.

They are Don Partridge, sponsored by the Exchange Club; Ray Puffer, sponsored by the Eagles; Ed Hodges and John Cadmus, sponsored by the American Legion; and Bob Benham, sponsored by the Rotary Club.

Bill Browne, sponsored by the junior chamber of commerce, and Val Spangler sponsored by the Legion, were not able to attend.

Don Partridge introduced the boys who talked on aspects of Boys' State.

He said: "As a result of attending all of us have a better knowledge of how our government works."

Vern Manwaring was in charge of the program.

Showboat Presents 100th Performance

LOWELL
SHOWBOAT
JULY 25-26-27

Preparing to pilot the Lowell Showboat on its 100th trip down the Flat river during this year's Showboat celebration, July 25 through 30, Admiral C. H. Runciman, show interlocutor, checks the boat, the cotton cargo, and one of the 100 girls from Lowell and surrounding communities that form the chorus each year. The Showboat, a community project sponsored jointly by the Lowell Board of Trade and the American Legion post, is now in its 23rd year. Playing to over 35,000 persons during the six nights each year, the show will feature a cast of 220, with six endmen, chorus, band, orchestra and six big acts from the American and European stage. Incidentally, Admiral Runciman has never missed a trip during the 23 years. Orders are now being taken for reserved seat tickets at the Lowell Showboat office, Lowell, Mich.

ATTENDS CAMP

LEXINGTON, MO., — Paul Edward Underwood, son of Mrs. Opal Jennings, 301 East Pottawatamie street, Tecumseh, is attending Wentworth Military academy's summer camp here, according to Maj. W. L. Stagner, camp director.

The camp, conducted for boys 8½ and over, is operated for an eight weeks period. The camp is held on the Wentworth grounds here, although the entire group spends a week in the Missouri Lake of the Ozarks region later in the summer.

As a member of the Wentworth camp group, Paul will participate in the tribal life of the We-Wo-Mil-Acs, an Indian organization which is the source of some of the principal activities of the academy's summer camp program.

BIBLE SCHOOL BEGINS

The daily vacation Bible school of the First Presbyterian church begins next Monday and will continue through July 22.

Children from four to 11 years are welcomed.

PRESBYTERIAN MEN PLAN BREAKFAST

The Men's Club of the Presbyterian church are planning a Communion breakfast for the men of the church Sunday, July 10.

Serving will start at 7 a.m. and after a short program members will attend the regular service at 8 a.m.

Tickets are available at Hamilton's service station and Saling's Camera Shop.

Reservations may be made until Friday afternoon at the church office.

0 Is Good

Police Chief George Kilbourn reports a safe and sane July 4th in Tecumseh.

Police, he said, had no accident reports.

The chief said motorists attending the fireworks display of the chamber of commerce on the recreation field again outdid themselves with safe and courteous driving. And he thanked them for their thoughtfulness.

A late afternoon rain failed to keep the crowd down. It was estimated that 40000 persons watched the fireworks display.

Nurses Honor Miss Hamblin

The nursing staff of Herrick Memorial hospital entertained last Wednesday evening at a farewell party for Miss Mabel Hamblin, technician of the hospital X-ray department.

Miss Hamblin, whose home is in Adrian, had been connected with the department for two years, coming here from Bixby Hospital in Adrian. She has not announced her future plans.

She was presented with a gift by the group, and the many friends she has made in Tecumseh regret her leaving.

AT NO EXTRA COST

ONLY FROM PLYMOUTH IN THE LOW-PRICE 3

1 EXTRA BEAUTY Plymouth's exciting Forward Look is the only honestly new styling in the lowest-price field this year. (That means a bigger demand for these models when trade-in time comes.) That glamorous new Full-View windshield gives you the greatest visibility of any low-price car!

2 EXTRA SIZE Plymouth's extra length (it's a full 17 feet long) means you enjoy a far smoother ride than possible in the shorter low-price cars. There's extra hip room, leg room and trunk room (much more than in the other two) and larger door openings for easier entry and exit.

3 EXTRA ECONOMY Plymouth's two big powerplants—the fast-stepping 6-cylinder PowerFlow 117 and the high-flying 167-hp Hy-Fire V-8—each offers you rock-bottom economy and split-second performance. (Plymouth's PowerFlow 117 is the only "6" in its field with money-saving Chrome-Sealed Action!)

4 EXTRA VALUE Plymouth alone of the low-price 3 gives you the extra protection of Safety-Rim wheels, constant-action electric windshield wipers, an independent parking brake, plus many other costly-car features. All at no extra cost! Come in and see how much Plymouth's "extras" can mean to you.

Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas and son John of Asbury, Ky. are visiting Mrs. Thomas' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mac Powell. Mr. Thomas is a student at Asbury Seminary while his wife is taking work at Asbury College.

Mrs. Vevia Anderson has returned from a two weeks vacation during which she visited Miss Winifred Finesy in Bronson, Mrs. Ethel McHaney in Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Raymond in Marion, Ohio and her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson in Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Lee Prettyman and children spent the weekend of the fourth with relatives near Marion, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Woodbury of Peck, Mich., spent Monday with her father Leon Williamson and Mrs. Williamson.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Muhn returned Saturday from a month's visit with their daughter, Pricilla and family in Los Angeles, Calif.

Miss Kathleen Richmond is spending this week in Cleveland at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Johnson.

Mrs. Ralph Helzerman and daughter Sylvia went to Columbus, Ohio, Friday where Sylvia entered her Arabian mare, Jilna in the Ohio-Midwest horse show, sponsored by the Shriners. Sylvia placed third in horsemanship in the registered Arabian class which was made up of 70 horses from all over the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bachtal left Tuesday morning for a vacation trip to Forestville in northern Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Updike have returned from a vacation trip to Texas and Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Wolf and children have returned from a vacation spent at Houghton Lake. Fishing, he said, was very good the last part of the week. His party caught a number of nice bluegills.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hanna and son Gary spent the Fourth of July weekend at Wamplers lake as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Colgrove and family. Sunday, Gary will go to Camp Birkett Y.M.C.A. camp for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Skinner and two sons and Mrs. Gertrude Skinner of Toledo were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sheldon.

Family Reunion Held on the Fourth

The 39th reunion of the descendants of Lambert and Elizabeth Bosburg VanValkenburg was held on the Fourth of July at the Sand lake cottage of Mrs. Leon VanValkenburg. Present were 80 members of the family of this pioneer couple who came to Michigan and established a home in Tipton in 1836.

After a potluck dinner, the business meeting was conducted by the president, Ronald VanValkenburg during which the vital statistics were reported as eight births, three marriages and one death, that of Norma Jean Lanning Bonnell of Marshall. 1956 officers were elected, with Herbert Hoag as president, Doris Carpenter, vice president and Faye VanValkenburg ,secretary and treasurer.

Informal remarks were made by several of those present regarding absent members of their families and the remainder of the afternoon was spent boating, swimming and visiting.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Abbott and family came from Toledo, Harry Abbott and son Leslie from Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Way (Leta Shaw) from Lansing. Others attended from Adrian, Ypsilanti, Onsted, Macon, Morenci, Clinton, Belleville, Willow Run, Clayton and Tecumseh.

The 1956 reunion will be held at the same place and also on the Fourth of July.

SCHNEIDERS ENTERTAIN AT LAKE COTTAGE

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schneider Sr. were hosts Saturday afternoon to the employees of Schneider Brothery's Garage and their families. Thirty-five enjoyed the outdoor picnic at the Schneider's Wamplers lake cottage and spent the afternoon boating, swimming and basking in the cool breezes on the spacious lawn beside the lake.

PAST MATRONS MEET

The Past Matrons Club met last Wednesday at the Lavern Russell cottage at Sand Lake. Twenty members and guests enjoyed a potluck dinner at one o'clock. The afternoon was spent socially. This was the last meeting until Sept.

Doris Niedermier Is Bride of Maynard Goethe

Miss Doris Niedermier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Niedermier of Tecumseh and Maynard Goethe whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harman Goethe of Monroe were united in marriage Saturday morning in St. Elizabeth Catholic church.

The Rev. Fr. Thomas Collins performed the double ring ceremony which was witnessed by the families and intimate friends of the young couple.

Miss Niedermier chose for her wedding a gown of white satin, which was featured by a sweetheart neckline and swept into a train. Her veil was finger tip in length and she carried a bouquet of white roses.

Hre sister, Rosanne, who was her only attendant wore yellow and her flowers were also yellow.

Clarence Goethe, brother of the bride-groom served as best man.

Friends and relatives attended a reception at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony. The serving table was centered by a three-tiered wedding cake.

Out-of-town guests were present from Monroe, Detroit, Ida, Deerfield, Blissfield, Jackson and Mansfield, Ohio.

On their return from a short wedding trip to Niagara Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Goethe will live in Tecumseh.

Humane Society Asks for Help

All those interested in the work of the Lenawee County Humane Society will be pleased to know there is a way in which they can help that organization in its present difficulties.

In order to preserve their capital and still care for needy animals, the society is holding a series of rummage sales each Friday and Saturday in Adrian. Proceeds pay for boarding of the animals. All who have articles to contribute may do so by writing to Miss C. V. Forrey, 564 S. Winter street, Adrian or calling her at Colfax 5-7460. Anything is accepted and all will be called for.

Detroit Races Attract 100,000

More than 100,000 visited the Detroit Race Course during the "climax week" of Michigan thoroughbred racing this week.

In a span of seven days was packed the Independence Day holiday and two traditional stakes races: the $10,000-added Governor's Handicap July 4 and the $50,000-added Michigan Mile July 9.

The Michigan Mile is the richest race and the highest point of the Michigan thoroughbred season. This year it has attracted nominations from 66 of the nation's finest handicap horses.

Angler's Queries To Scientists Often Help Fishing

What would happen if something were so that isn't can be a provocative question on any occasion.

When it's a query from a sport fisherman to a fishery scientist it is often the stimulus for new research that will eventually shorten the time between bites for the ordinary angler, according to Associate Prof. Karl F. Lagler, chairman of the Department of Fisheries in the University of Michigan School of Natural Resources.

It's possible, he says, that the trout fisherman's common knowledge about the seclusive character of trout, their liking for pools and cover in their streams, has led to the vogue of trout stream improvement.

Every fisherman worth his bait knows that fallen trees and log jams lure trout seeking natural shelters. This knowledge has led conservation departments to fell their own trees and jam their own logs, giving fishermen trout where they want them.

Successful bass fishermen who won't use anything but crawfish for their bait could give fishery scientists a clue, too. By finding out what part crawfish, favorite diet of the bass, play in the development of the fish, scientists might have the answers to some of the questions about how to increase production of bass, Professor Langler points out.

TRY TO NAME IT

Unusual facts of fish distribution are sometimes called to the attention of fishery scientists by fishermen who catch a species they can't identify and send it in to be named. First records of the sea-lamprey in Michigan came from sources like this, says Professor Lagler.

Study of abnormalities in fish (teratology, to the scientists) has been furthered by the help of sportsmen who occasionally come up with such things as a two-headed fish or a hybrid.

A curious fisherman's interest in what happened to fish under ice during the winter led to major experiments on the phenomenon "winterkill." Snow blanketing the ice on a shallow lake cuts out the sunlight.

Northville Downs Sets Hot Pace

Judging from the fast start at Northville Downs which follows a record meeting at Hazel Park, harness racing appears to be headed for its most successful season in Michigan.

Hazel Park set records for handle, crowds and track standards for racing operating during the 33-night meeting. The Downs following that hot pace showed two records of betting in its first two nights of operation.

The betting mark for an opening night went by the boards when a crowd of 7,415 wagered $296,621, some $50,000 over record. Handle for the daily double pool was broken the next night with a total of $20,488 as compared with previous high of $18,144 set in 1954.

Only a late scratch of odds-on favorite Knox Hanover in the eighth race kept the suburban track from cracking its all-time betting high. The horses were on the track when Knox Hanover went lame and track officials estimated the withdrawal pulled some $22,000 out of the pool.

Even though, the wagering totaled $321,141 against the all-time mark of $340,051.

hickory AND horsehide

by DIZZY TROUT

WHEN THEY'RE on the road, baseball players find themselves with a lot of time on their hands between games. Far away from friends and families, they while away idle hours in a variety of pursuits.

But card playing (for small stakes) and movie-going are the two most popular forms of recreation on any ball club.

Among the Tigers, bridge is popular with Frank House, Bubba Phillips, Bill Tuttle, Ferris Fain and coach Billy Hitchcock, and you'll always see a game going among four of them.

Al Aber joins with Al Kaline, George Zuverink and Harry Malmberg in fantan, which is highly popular with ball players.

Ray Boone and Steve Gromek are in a seemingly constant gin rummy game.

Poker is not permitted by the Detroit management.

Likes Westerns

When he's not "knocking with two" against Gromek, Boone reads a lot of fiction and enjoys Western movies, Randolph Scott being his favorite actor. He also devotes considerable time to browsing around sporting goods stores.

Gromek also likes Westerns, but John Wayne is his favorite. He enjoys reading Zane Grey Western novels.

Red Wilson is a cross-word puzzle fan. Paul Foytack likes card-playing and going to the movies. Jim Delsing enjoys playing hearts.

Ned Garver does a lot of reading and writing. He answers all his fan mail and business correspondence on the road. He also works cross-word puzzles, assisted by Reno Bertoia, who also likes the movies.

Prefers Sleeping

Fain, in addition to card-playing, similarly works cross-word puzzles and reads outdoor magazines. Harvey Kuenn likes playing cards such as hearts and window shopping, but most of all he prefers to just plain sleep.

Billy Hoeft enjoys cards while Jack Phillips prefers movies of any kind. New bonus player Jim Small gets a kick out of sitting in the hotel lobby and watching people come and go.

Werner Birrer reads and writes a tremendous volume of letters to former service buddies. An amateur photographer, he has pictures he's taken all over the country.

Chuck Maxwell, who's a number painting addict, works on the paintings all the time he's on the road and has them ready for hanging by the time he gets home.

As for Ol' Diz, I used to be a history bug and spent my first three years in the majors sightseeing at all the important historical spots. Now that I'm no longer active in the Hickory and Horsehide game, I spend most of my time away from the microphone in gabbing and playing cards.

Crackup Fails To Dampen Spirits of MARC Racer Herb Robinson

Undaunted by a smashing crackup that sent him to the hospital at Toledo, Adrian's Herb Robinson plans to switch cars and try again for his first feature victory of the local season in the weekly MARC stock car racing season at Adrian Speedway Thursday night.

Robinson, driving an automatic-transmisison Lincoln-powered car, was zooming along in second place in the Toledo Raceway feature Sunday night when his car blew a tire and smashed head-on into the retaining wall. Herbie received emergency treatment for nose injuries at the hospital and plans to try his luck again in the No. 17 Ford which has carried him into the top bracket in Adrian point standings this year.

A special treat will be on the program for Thursday night, July 7, when the Marilynettes, Ohio American Legion Junior Marching Champions stage their marching drill which has carried them to two championships. Director Marilyn Krall of Toledo said the full corps of 84 teen-age marchers will be on hand at Adrian Speedway that night.

Track Manager Frank Canale also announced that children will get free rides in their favorite stock car and also receive a free balloon as part of the July 7 program.

Three Teams Tied for 1st in Softball

It was bound to happen and it did happen.

Teams in the Men's Recreation Softball League are pretty evenly matched. This fact was proved against last week when previously unbeaten Wilson Motor Sales, after winning four straight games without defeat, dropped a pair of decisions.

As a result, three teams are currently tied for the league leadership. Wilson's, the Friends Church and Gambles all have 4-2 records.

Gambles was the first team to take the measure of the Auto Men, winning, 9-7.

Then the Friends walloped the Wilson team, 8-3.

In other games Gambles kept pace by nipping the IOOF, 7-5 and the Legion brought its record to .500 by edging Dick's Standard Service, 3-1.

Next Monday night the Friends Church plays the Britton Oddfellows; and the Legion goes against Wilson Motor Sales.

Next Wednesday night the Legion plays the IOOF and Gambles will play Dick's Standard Service.

Did You Ever Hear the One About the Dairy Farmer?

If you haven't, you should make the acquaintance of your Dairy Farmer! He furnishes about a fourth of your food every day and does so for a sixth of what you pay for the other three quarters. Ask any dietician.

This morning, as they do every morning 365 days a year, 13,000 dairy farmers arose at the crack of dawn, fed, watered and milked a quarter of a million tested cows, shipped 2,395 tons of pure, fresh milk to Detroit. That's 2.2 million quarts, including a surplus over table needs going into ice cream, cottage cheese and other healthful dairy products.

Putting on call an abundant daily supply of milk requires production and marketing efficiency of the highest order. The milk assembly line starts with a heifer. It's a line, 3 years long, you can't stop or start with a push-button. Besides, your dairy farmer cooperatively owns plants, laboratories and transport equipment for receiving, testing, conveying and processing his milk shipments.

He supports industry-wide research for the improvement of his product and its uses. He employs management, scientists, technical personnel, stenographers, and truck drivers, in getting his milk from farm to market.

When you meet this farmer, he'll tell you truthfully that he earns less than factory wages for the time and money spent, but he'll say you'll get your milk, fresh from the farm, tomorrow morning.

Twin Pipes that play sweet music!

. . . Chevrolet's "Super Turbo-Fire V8"* with 180 h.p.

You can spot this one by the twin tailpipes. No matter what you drive, you're going to see twin-exhaust Chevrolets pulling away—in traffic, on the toughest hills, on the long straightaways.

. . . Unless you have a "Super Turbo-Fire V8"* of your own. And then you'll know what it's like to pilot the car that sets the pace for everything else—and doesn't pause to read the price tags!

What makes the Super scat? Chevrolet's superb valve-in-head V8, with the shortest stroke in the industry, the most power per pound, and the only 12-volt electrical system in its field—all this plus a four-barrel carburetor and free-breathing twin exhausts.†

Want to sample this silk-lined cyclone? Just give us a call, any day this week, and we'll be proud to show you just how hot a V8 can be.

Optional at extra cost.*

Suspension Should Be Permanent

According to the "Michigan Mirror", weekly newsletter from the Michigan Press Association, parents are asked to help the Michigan Liquor Control Commisison enforce the law.

Commission chairman Frank Blackford said that increased penalties against tavern owners and package liquor dealers have not cut down measurably on the problem.

"We must get the cooperation of parents or we will fail to meet the problem," he said.

Stiffer penalties against licenses—up to 15 days suspension, an increase from the seven-day suspension—has not helped, he said.

Two comments on Mr. Blackford's statements must be made:

First, any parent worthy of the name should do everything humanly possible to keep his or her child from drinking. Anybody who has suffered the heartache and anxiety caused by liquor-drinking teen-agers is well aware of the problem. The results of this undercover drinking and its other effects on the physical and moral health of the teen-ager does not have to be explained to the thinking parent.

Thinking parents will do everything possible to cooperate in enforcing the liquor laws. Mr. Blackford need not be concerned about this.

He should be concerned, however, with what he calls "stiffer penalties." To us a 15-day suspension of a license holder for selling liquor to a minor is not a stiff penalty.

A stiff penalty would be to suspend PERMANENTLY the license of a person selling to a minor. With the threat of losing this lucrative business constantly in mind, those in the liquor business would be doubly sure that the person he is about to sell liquor to is legally old enough to be drinking.

As liquor control commission chairman, Mr. Blackford should be doing what he can toward instituting this real penalty of permanent suspension.

No Wonder You Are Tired

Busy little machine — the human body. You pay little attention to it; you take it for granted. But it keeps functioning and its day's work is startling! Someone has figured out the following accomplishments of a human body in twenty-four hours:

Your heart beats 103,689 times.
Your blood travels 168,000 miles.
You breathe 23,240 times.
You turn in sleep 25 - 35 times.
You eat three and one-half pounds of food.
You speak 4,800 words.
You exercise 7,000,000 brain cells.

Notice that last item — exercising seven million brain cells? You would think that would be a terrific load on your brains, but listen to this. There are something like nine billion brains cells, so your brain is using less than one-tenth of one per cent of its potentiality.

Looking the day's work over, it looks as if at least part of the work load could be shifted — less on the food and words, and more on the brain cells.

Mrs. Andrews smiled as she signed the contract selling her suburban home. Not that she really wanted to sell. But she was following "doctor's orders" and, naturally, anxious to get it over with.

"We're sure lucky we got hold of you," Mrs. Andrews remarked. "A friend of mine said to list your house with Kohler Real Estate. They'll sell it for you. Sure enough, you did."

"Yes," I replied, "you had a nice home in a good district. And it was worth the money. That's the kind of property we love to sell. It is pleasant to show and we know a buyer will be pleased."

"Believe me," Mrs. Andrews said, "I'm going to recommend your firm to any friends of mine."

"I hope you do," I said, "we never get too many good listings."

For instance, right now, we need more homes to sell. If you want results, call our office and put us to work for YOU!

Picnic Held by Business Women

Forty members and guests of the Business and Professional Women's Club met for a picnic in the yard of the home of Miss Marjorie Wickwire for the June meeting.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. George French, Mrs. Gordon Greiman and Mrs. Frank Creger.

Following dinner Mrs. Truman Rentschler told the story of bells and the part that they play in our everyday lives. She brought with her a collection of bells which she has made, telling about each one as she displayed it and pointing out the various meanings and uses bells have always had.

Mrs. Ralph Sager was program chairman.

This was the final meeting of the group until Sept.

The new 6c value of the new regular series may be issued soon. The reason for this belief is that in May plate numbers were assigned for that stamp which were: 25191 and 25192, so that means that the Bureau of Engraving and Printing has started production.

No announcement has been made as yet to the date of issue, color, or size.

HODGES DRUG STORE Monthly News

A message from Ralph Hodges, "Your Pharmacist"

IN YOUR PRESCRIPTIONS are medicines that are the results of much research and study by Pharmaceutical chemists, Scientists, and Health foundations.

BY LECTURES, DIRECT MAIL, and articles in Medical journals, we Pharmacists and Physicians are informed about these new drugs, and as soon as they are available a supply is sent to our prescription department.

DURING 1954 MORE THAN 430 MILLION DOLLARS was spent for the research and informative publicity necessary before these new drugs could be ready for prescription use.

LAST YEAR OVER 400 MILLION PRESCRIPTIONS were compounded, and in the price you paid for your prescriptions, this research expense averaged about $1 per prescription. Of necessity it is part of the wholesale costs of the price we pay for the ingredients of the prescriptions we compound.

IT IS A TRIBUTE to Pharmacy, and the American free enterprise system, that more than 50 per cent of the prescriptions we compound for you cost you less than $2, and the average charge for all prescriptions we compound is less than $3.00.

LAST WEEK'S ITEMS

The Sacajawea Campfire girls attended a day camp June 13-18 at the home of their guardian, Lorraine Hummell. Highlight of the week was sleeping outside two nights and cooking meals over an open fire. Other events included entertaining their mothers with a softball game, archery lessons given by Miss Frances Studnicka and two council fires. Nancy Brown and Mary Ellen Millyard passed the woodgathers' rank and Mrs. Hummel passed the trailseekers rank. Seven other girls filled rank requirements during the week and will receive honors at a later date.

Members of the Wicaka Luta group of the Britton Campfire girls recently held a tea at the home of Carol Barrett. Mothers of the girls were guests as were Mrs. Harold Ousterhout, sponsor of the group and Mrs. Jennings Frayer, president of the Britton council. The girls entertained with songs and games and showed how they earned their awards which were presented June 29.

Pat Eberhardt and friends from Virginia visited Larry Ivan in Herrick Memorial hospital Monday afternoon.

Lorene Marie Mack and Hafford A. Young Married

The Tecumseh Methodist church was the scene of a lovely wedding Saturday evening at seven o'clock when Lorene Marie Mack and Hafford Allen Young were united in marriage.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David W. Mack of 215 South Oneida street, Tecumseh, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Young of Hinton, W. Va.

The candlelight ceremony took place before an altar banked with palms and large white hampers filled with white stock, pink gladioli, blue majestics and gypsophilia. The church pews were marked with large white satin bows.

Music was furnished by Miss Diane Woodward, who sang "Because," "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer" accompanied by Miss Peggy Jo Pocklington at the organ.

The Rev. Horace L. James performed the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long gown of lace over satin with a Peter Pan collar and had long sleeves which ended in points over the hands. The finger tip veil was suspended from a crown of pearls and rhinestones. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid, white mathiola florets and white lacelon tufts in a modified crescent design with white shower ribbons and lovers' knots.

Mrs. Anna Lee Richmond of Hinton, W. Va., who was the bride's matron-of-honor, wore a blue crystalet gown with a white lace top. She wore mitts that matched the gown and a white picture hat. Her crescent bouquet was made of rubrum lilies, pink sweetheart roses and gypsophilia with pink lacelon tufts and rosepink satin streamers.

Janis Boltz and Bonnie Mack were the bridesmaids and they wore light blue gowns styled like that of the matron-of-honor's. They carried crescent bouquets of rubrum lilies, gypsophilia and pink lacelon tufts with shell pink satin streamers.

As flower girl, Gloria Randolph wore white over blue and carried a tiny nosegay of pink sweetheart roses and gypsophilia centered with a white rosebud and frilled with blue lacelon and blue satin streamers. Michael Gillin, who was the ring bearer, wore a blue suit and carried the rings on a white pillow.

Jimmy Richmond of Hinton, was Mr. Young's best man. The ushers were Gary Mack of Tecumseh and Henry Childs also of Hinton.

Mrs. Mack, the bride's mother was dressed in navy blue lace with pink accessories and wore a corsage of pink roses, white delphinium florets and gypsophilia. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Young, wore a navy blue dress with white accessories and her corsage was also composed of pink roses, white delphinium and gypsophilia. Mrs. Gillin, maternal grandmother of the bride wore an orchid and white print dress and had a lavender orchid corsage.

Immediately following the wedding, a reception was held at the Tecumseh Grange Hall for 150 guests. Tables were decorated with ceramic brides with white net trains and filled with white stock, blue delphinium, pink roses and gypsophilia. The four-layer cake with pink and blue decorations on it was served by Mrs. Duane Gillin and Marilyn Mack. Mrs. Paul Mack served the ice cream and Mrs. Donald Smith, the punch. Those assisting with the serving wore lacelon frilled carnation nosegays. Hostesses were Mrs. Mervin Boltz and Mrs. Jack Douglas.

As a going away outfit, the bride chose a gray checked dress with a white jacket and white accessories, and wore a white orchid.

The couple is taking a trip to the Smoky mountains and when they return, they will reside in Tecumseh.

The new Mrs. Young graduated from Tecumseh high school in 1954. Mr. Young is presently employed at the Tecumseh Products Co.

Witnesses Return from Convention

Kenneth Ball, the presiding minister of the local congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, reported today that the delegation to the "Triumphant Kingdom" Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses at Comiskey Park in Chicago, Ill. has returned home.

The delegation reports that much was learned about congregational organization in the days of the early church.

Outstanding, however, was the public lecture by the president of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society.

The final attendance of 42,116 considerably exceeded the number previously anticipated.

CHRISTIAN BUILDERS

The Christian Builders of the Presbyterian church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Williams on Russell road for a family picnic last Sunday afternoon. Officers of the group served as hostesses. The afternoon was spent socially. The group will resume their meetings in Sept.

Detroiter Wins National Goodwill Worker Award

Evelyn Herrala, 1234 Pallister, Detroit, has been named National Goodwill Worker of 1955 by a panel of judges who made the selection from among contestants entered by the 108 Goodwill Industries organizations in the United States

She will receive as her prize for winning the national contest an all expense trip to Washington, D. C. where she will participate in wreath laying ceremonies July 4th at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. Later in the summer she will attend the Delegate Assembly of Goodwill Industries of America at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin.

Earlier this year, Evelyn was elected "Outstanding Worker" by her fellow employees at Goodwill Industries of Detroit. She was entered in the national contest on the basis of her selection at the local level.

HANDICAPPED SINCE BIRTH

Evelyn has been handicapped since birth, when by a quirk of fate she was born without either hands or feet. A member of Goodwill's promotion department, she walks a mile a day conducting tours through the Goodwill workshops. Evelyn also types, writes, makes and receives telephone calls and performs many other duties in connection with her job. She is also in charge of the employees' recreational activities and frequently plays the trombone and piano.

Born in Minnesota and orphaned early, Evelyn was unable to attend school until she was eleven years old. She graduated from high school in Minneapolis and atttended Hamline University. She received her degree in 1943 and joined the staff of Goodwill Industries of Detroit immediately after graduation.

EXPLAIN CONTEST PURPOSE

The purpose of the contest to select the outstanding worker of the year was to call attention to the accomplishments of Goodwill employees in overcoming handicaps and disabilities. The Goodwill Industries organizations are nonprofit and provide employment and rehabilitation for physically handicapped men and women through the collection, repair and sale of household discards. Goodwill Industries of Detroit employs 400 handicapped men and women and collects discarded materials from homes in Detroit and surrounding cities and towns.

Tecumseh BOOK SHELVES Library

(Following is an editorial by L. L. Day, which was published in the Saturday Review of Literature.)

How long has it been since you visited your library?

If you haven't been recently, you owe it to yourself and to your community to pay a visit. For your library offers you the world's great bargain in free education and entertainment.

A library is built around books, of course: books for reading pleasure, books for self-government, books for hobbies and how-to-do-it books, books for children, books for reference, little books and great books.

But the library has more than books to offer. It has magazines and newspapers to read. Story hour for the boys and girls.

These are the tangible things the library has. Greater than these, however, are the intangible ones. A library is a storehouse of ideas, a repository of all that is best in our country and our civilization.

The library is the true arsenal of democracy, where are kept the weapons of the mind and spirit without which no war, hot or cold can be finally won.

As a reader you should know your library and use it. And as a citizen you should help it to improve and increase its services to your community.

A library card represents the greatest of all the free book offers. Do not fail to take advantage of it.

Around 20 per cent of bed sheets sold are colored. In choosing a colored sheet, M.S.U. clothing and textiles experts suggest you be sure that the color is fast to laundering and light.

188-hp Buick SPECIAL 6-Passenger, 4-Door RIVIERA, Model 43

This 4-Door Beauty is the Newest Hit in Hardtops

You certainly ought to come see why this new kind of hardtop is headed for the best-seller list.

It's a Buick Riviera, of course.

Which means the low and rakish look of a Convertible—a solid steel roof overhead—and no center posts in the side window areas to obstruct your view.

But that's only the beginning.

Here you get two extra doors. They open to the rear compartment. So no one in the front has to move when someone gets into or out of the rear.

Here you get massive half-pillars on either side on which the front doors latch and the rear doors hinge. (That's why you see no center posts above the door line.)

Here, too, you get wholly new structural principles in body design and strength that give this beauty the extra safety of rock-firm solidity at the top, sides and bottom.

And here—bless those Buick engineers!—you get a lot more room in the rear compartment. For the 4-Door Riviera gives you over 9 inches more hiproom and 5 inches more legroom—yet with no increase in wheelbase or over-all car length.

So we repeat—you certainly ought to come in and see this stunning new kind of hardtop.

It's the last word in beauty, comfort, convenience. It's available in Buick's two lowest-priced Series—the SPECIAL and the CENTURY. And it's all Buick—power, ride, handling—and the spectacular performance of Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflow.*

Drop in today—tomorrow at the latest—and learn what Buick's all-time record sales year can mean to you in the way of a whopping-big trade-in deal.

Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at modest extra cost on other Series.*

Christian Science Services Listed

Humanity's need for clear thinking and Christlike living will be stressed at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Readings from the King James Version of the Bible and "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures' by Mary Baker Eddy will comprise the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Sacrament."

The following passage will be among those read from Science and Health: "Ask yourself: Am I living the life that approaches the supreme good? Am I demonstrating the healing power of Truth and Love? If so, then the way will grow brighter 'unto the perfect day.' Your fruits will prove what the understanding of God brings to man" (496: 9 Ask-14).

The Golden Text is from Leviticus (19:2: "Speak unto all the congregation of the children of Israel, and say unto them, Ye shall be holy: for I the Lord your God am holy."

1954 Fire Loss Was $32,043,704

Michigan's 1954 fire loss total of $32,043,704 was the lowest since 1951, according to the annual report compiled by the fire marshal division of the Michigan State Police.

In 1951 fire loss amounted to $29,760,609. The record high was in 1953 with a loss of $78,126,591. The 1953 total, however, included the $45,000,000 General Motors plant fire at Livonia.

The death toll of 169 in fires during 1954 was 47 less than in the previous year. The victims included 42 children and one fireman. In 1953, 81 children and two firemen lost their lives.

Dwelling fires totaled 15,655, a decrease of 668. Damage to structures was $8,032,278 and to contents $3,172,384. Damage to buildings other than dwellings was $10,610,260 and to contents $8,986,897.

Other types of fires included: automobiles, 5,605; aircraft, 20; dry cleaning plants, 75; bulk storage plants, 128; house trailers, 297; schools, 148; theaters, 51; grass fires, 13,972, and miscellaneous, 18,777. Damage in these fires amoutned to $1,241,883 as compared with $997,716 in 1953.

Total number of alarms answered by firemen was 64,606, a decrease of 11,507. Of these 9,878 were false alarms, a drop of 569.

Carelessness and neglect were the leading causes of fires, with careless burning of rubbish accounting for 5,918 and careless smoking for another 3,434. Additional leading causes were spontaneous combustion, careless use of matches, misuse of petroleum products, defective electrical wiring and equipment, overheated devices and defective chimneys and stacks.

The total number of all fires for the year was 54,728.

Restaurants Are the Nation's 4th Largest Business

Restaurants in the United States constitute the fourth largest business in the country and consume almost one-fourth of the value of foods consumed in the nation.

These figures were established by the U.S. Census of Business and the Survey of Current Business by the U.S. Department of Commerce.

The Mills Restaurants in Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati are leaders in volume of restaurant business in the state of Ohio. The Mills Restaurants, which have been serving the public for nearly half a century, are recognized as leaders in the food service industry in the state and nation.

*Quantities of food stuffs used in a typical year by Mills Restaurants and asociated units soar to astronomical figures. For example, these restaurants use 2,880,000 rolls, 1,080,000 biscuits, 540,000 pies cut into six portions each, 504,000 pounds of beef rounds, 360,000 pounds of fish of all kinds, 270,000 dozen eggs, 432,000 pounds of beef ribs, 139,776 chickens, 72,000 pounds of beef (other than ribs), 72,000 pounds of pork, 54,000 pounds of shrimp and 18,000 bags of potatoes.

An average of 70 million meals are served each day in the nation's restaurants. Restaurants, cafeterias, caterers, lunch counters and refreshment stands are by far the largest purveyors of food that is consumed away from home. The 194,123 such establishments in the nation account for over 56 per cent of such food sales. Plant lunchrooms, hotels, hospitals, railroads, schools and colleges, airways and miscellaneous establishments account for the remaining 44 per cent.

In 1951, America spent $66 billion for food and beverages, consumed both in the home and outside the home. Meals consumed outside the home amounted to $15,109,000,000. This figure is greater than the individual amounts spent for furniture, appliances, automobiles, medical care, tobacco, gas, electricity and water, fuel, ice, radio, television sets and musical instruments.

MISS TAYLOR HONORED

Miss Joyce Taylor, whose marriage to Paul Graham will take place July 13, was the guest of honor at a shower last Thursday evening at the home of Miss Ruth Boyce. Eight guests attended.

Games were played and prizes were presented to Miss Taylor, who also received many lovely gifts. Refreshments were served by the hostess and her mother in keeping with the color scheme, which was yellow and white.

Living With Peace Of Mind

By KIRBY PAGE

Mystery engulfs us. Our knowledge is but a tiny island surrounded by the illimitable seas of ignorance. We are infants crying incoherently in the night, and when we begin to talk we babble words which have little meaning for us. We are as the child of a scientist listening to a conversation about the intricacies of higher mathematics.

Truly, we are envelopd in mystery. We are handicapped by our limitations as animals, but we are endowed with the possibilities of children of God and it does not appear what we shall be. By nature we are equipped for life in the invisible world of the spirit. We can learn progressively to be at home in the world of music and art, at home in the realm of great literature, at home in the orderly domain of science, at home in the experience of fellowship with friends, at home in the ministry of loving kindness, at home in the life of prayer with God.

Growth is the law of life, all living things grow. It is possible for us to move day by day toward maturity. The way we use our time is decisive, hours spent in one way are hours taken away from something else. It is the glory of our Lord that he concentrated upon the will of God in the service of his fellows. First and last and continuously he paid attention to God, early in the morning and late at night and throughout the day. Deeper than anyone else he penetrated into the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven.

In tune with the infinite we may become day by day. Through intention we may hear inaudible sounds. Through absorption in the things of the spirit we may see the invisible. Through the disciplines of prayer and fellowship we may travel beyond the limits of mere animal-life and walk with God.

Can Tomatoes; Frozen Fruit Will 'Weep'

Canning, rather than freezing, still seems to be the best way of preserving tomatoes.

According to research recently completed by the foods and nutrition department at Michigan State University, frozen tomatoes are hard to handle and not very attractive. While thawing they leak and after being cut for serving, fall apart quite quickly.

Dr. Pauline Paul, formerly on the M.S.U. staff and now with the University of California at Davis, conducted the experimental work. She found it better to rely on canning for keeping tomatoes and to put individually wrapped green tomatoes in cool storage in the fall to lengthen the season a month or two.

In the tests three varieties of tomatoes were used — Marglobe, Rutgers and Big Boy. They were blanched in boiling water, cooled, wrapped individually and stored in a freezer for one, two and one-half, four and six months. All varieties of tomatoes gave about the same overall results. Although one of the tests showed good texture or appearance, they did not deteriorate in flavor, odor or color with length of storage.

In testing, the tomatoes were thawed at room temperature for 2 to 2½ hours, unwrapped, cut into sixths and served at once to a taste panel. The panel judged them on general appearance, color, odor, flavor, texture and general acceptability.

HOME BUILDERS CLASS

The Home Builders Class of the Baptist church met last week at the Youth House for a potluck dinner.

During the business meeting it was decided to continue serving the public barbecue suppers again this summer. Mr. and Mrs. Orville Bishop and Mr. and Mrs. John Surratt will be in charge of the first one which will be held Saturday afternoon at five o'clock.

NEED THREE MORE MILLS

Schools Seek More Operating Funds

A record [illegible] $418,915 for the fiscal year of 1955-1956 was passed by the board of education at its annual meeting Monday night. The new budget is increased $58,265 over the previous budget.

The increase results mostly from the cost of supplying additional teachers for an expanded enrollment. This item represents $47,915 of the $58,265.

To meet the expanded needs the board of education has asked the county tax allocation board for an increase of three mills for operations. The previous nine mills for school operations is now increased to 12 mills. The building and debt retirement millage rate remains at 13.

The increase in the millage rate for operations will bring in $123,803 in district taxes. This is based on a Tecumseh Township equalized valuation of $599,000 and a Tecumseh city equalized valuation of $9,717,900.

Supt. James McDowell reported to the board that the estimated school enrollment for the new year will be 1693. The increased enrollment of 121 over last year made necessary the addition of more teachers, he said.

These are the expense items in the total budget $293,460 for instruction; $20,800 for administration; $58,250 for operations of the school plant; $5000 for maintenance; $3500 for insurance; $12,400 for auxiliary services (health, adult education, transportation, recreation and band); and $7,100 for capital outlay.

The increase in instruction also stems from the fact that adjustments were made in salary schedules to meet changing needs and competition in the field.

Estimated receipts of the larger items in the new budget include $188,569 for state aid; $123,803 from local district property taxes; $5,281 for vocational aid; $19,750 for tuition; and $7000 for textbook rentals.

According to Mr. McDowell had the valuation of the school district totalled around $14,000,000 the increase in millage rate for operations would not have been made. But when the total was less than $11,000,000 the operational millage had to be raised.

He said under the new ruling the schools could have asked for 15.9 mills on local assessed valuations but the board chose to ask for only enough money to meet its absolute necessities this year.

A deficit of $8,478 in the new budget bears out this statement.

MEET BURMA PRIME MINISTER — Guests at a special University of Michigan luncheon for U Nu, prime minister of Burma, last Friday included Miss Geneva and Mr. Perry Satterthwaite of Tecumseh. They are shown above with the prime minister and his wife following the luncheon at the Michigan League. The Satterthwaites are sister and brother of Joseph Satterthwaite, a U-M graduate who is the United States ambassador to Burma.

Perry, Geneva Meet Burma Prime Minister

The new and the old were sharply contrasted on The University of Michigan campus Friday for His Excellency U Nu, prime minister of Burma, and two Tecumsehites were there to meet him.

At a luncheon given in the Michigan League, the prime minister met Miss Geneva Satterthwaite and Perry Satterthwaite of Tecumseh, sister and brother of Joseph Satterthwaite, a U-M graduate who is United States ambassador to Burma.

The Satterthwaites' invitation was requested by the Burmese ambassador as a courtesy to their brother Joseph.

He started his four-hour and 45-minute visit with a tour of the University's new Phoenix Memorial Laboratory which houses specialized facilities and equipment for research on the peaceful uses of atomic energy.

After the tour, he expressed himself as "wonderstruck" at what he had seen and said he hoped students from Burma could come to the U-M to take nuclear physics and nuclear engineering. Dean Ralph A. Sawyer, director of the Michigan Memorial Phoenix Project, and his assistant, Henry Gomberg, assured the prime minister that such students would be welcome.

After his look at the atomic age, the prime minister was taken to the William L. Clements Library where Howard Peckham, the director, showed him early maps and accounts of travel in Burma along with the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution of the United States and Washington's Farewell Address.

The prime minister and his party also were welcomed by U-M President, Harlan Hatcher who pointed to the contrasts between the Phoenix laboratory and the library. Vice President Marvin L. Niehuss then presented the prime minister with four books written by U-M faculty members and a guest lecturer. Niehuss, in his remarks, congratulated the prime minister on his country's fight against Communism.

The prime minister said that he felt his best days were those he spent at the University of Rangoon. He said he was "much delighted with the opportunity to

Like It

In his annual report to the board of education Supt. James McDowell wrote: "That the children are happy and enjoy school is partially evidenced by the fact that Tecumseh schools have an enviable attendance record for 1954-1955."

He reported that the total school attendance record was 94 per cent. The elementary record was 93.4 per cent and the secondary record was 95 per cent.

Supt. McDowell reported "This 95 per cent attendance record is unheard of in secondary schools."

Runks Resign from Schools

Resignations of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Runk were accepted by the board of education Monday night.

Mr. Runk, boys' elementary physical education instructor and coach, will teach junior high science in East Grand Rapids and his wife, fourth grade teacher here, will teach fourth grade in Lakeside School, one of the elementary schools in the East Grand Rapids system.

Carl Hale will replace Mr. Runk as elementary boys' gym teacher and assistant coach and Dermont Poley will replace Mr. Hale as math teacher in the junior high and assistant coach and gym teacher.

Miss Barbara Engle from Jonesville will replace Mrs. Runk as fourth grade teacher at Central school.

After Aug. 1 the Runks' new address will be 2915 Pioneer road, East Grand Rapids, Mich.

Wally Burkemo won the title with a 138.

Mrs. Lena Moiles Dies at 85 Years

Mrs. Lena M. Moiles, aged 85 years, one of Tecumseh's oldest and best known residents, died Saturday afternoon at Herrick Memorial hospital, after several years of failing health.

Mrs. Moiles was born in Raisin Township May 14, 1870, and was the daughter of Robert B. and Catherine Titus. Her entire life was spent in Lenawee County and she received her education in the Raisin and Tecumseh schools.

May 22, 1907, Miss Titus became the bride of Richard M. Moiles, who was then associated with the Mulvaney Lumber Co.

With the exception of 10 years spent in Adrian, her entire married life was spent in Tecumseh. Mrs. Moiles joined the Presbyterian church in 1884 and for many years was active in the primary and intermediate departments of the Sunday school. She was also active in the women's organizations and had been given a life membership in the Board of National Missions by the Woman's Association. She was also a life member of Tecumseh chapter, O. E. S.

She was preceded in death by her father and mother, two sisters, a brother and her husband Richard M. Moiles who died Dec. 9, 1949.

Survivors are a niece, Miss Ella Titus of Jackson and two great nephews, Eugene Judson of Jackson and Bertram Klappich of Holloway.

Funeral services for Mrs. Moiles were conducted by the Rev. George Walworth Tuesday at the Green Funeral Home and burial was in Brookside cemetery. The bearers were Ralph Hodges, James Beardsley, Ray Puffer, Jr., John and Robert Hamilton and Ned Rosacrans.

BIMBO, PET MONKEY OF THE Wayne Selders family is lost or strayed. He was in a cage at Wesco Supply, owned by Wayne, and when members of the family went to feed Bimbo he escaped. They think he might be in the fields back of the store or he might be playing in some yard with a dog or cat. Members of the family feel badly about the loss and they ask that if anybody sees Bimbo please notify his owners at once.

J. D. JAQUA OF HOLLOWAY didn't want to part with the building in which he had worked for 11 years so he bought it and now he and his wife will have a five-room home. The Wabash Railroad discontinued service to Holloway last spring so when the station was put up for sale Mr. Jaqua bought it. Last March he retired as agent of the station. His home has been moved to Rogers Highway, about one and a half miles from Holloway within 100 feet of the Wabash right of way. He has placed the front of the "station" toward the tracks so he can sit in the bay window and watch the trains go by. And the old telegrapher's desk will remain in the window so Mr. Jacqua can place his feet on it when he relaxes and thinks about his 35 years of railroad experience.

THE RECENT HEAT WAVE MIGHT have been responsible for the rash of Bermuda shorts sported by men about town. Two other addicts have been noted. Cal Damon wore his to work Saturday when the thermometer went up to 97 and Dr. Robert Mohr had a pair of baby blue shorts on Monday. Dr. Bob, however, sort of wishes he hadn't worn them. He sunburned his right leg.

All teenagers are invited to the Jaycee-sponsored out door dance to be held Friday, July 22, at 8:30 p.m., on the tennis courts beside Central school.

Bob Laidlaw and Charlie Aebersold, dance co-chairmen, are working in cooperation with the Teen Club and John Hamilton, Jaycee youth activities chairman.

Jaycee members and their wives will serve as chaperons for the dance.

Bill Carter and his orchestra will play and admission is free with refreshments available.

In case of rain, the dance will be held in Central school.

School Board Re-Elects Officers

The board of education Monday night reorganized after the annual meeting and re-elected the same officers.

Jens Touborg is president; Paul Breitenwischer, vice-president; Dr Ralph Helzerman, secretary Dwight Hodges, treasurer, and Aden Mead, trustee.

Dr. Helzerman Monday was re elected to the board for an uncontested three-year term. Ten more voters voted this year. Last year 41 voted; Monday 51 voted in the school election.

1260 PERSONS ATTEND LUMBER CO. OPENING

Manager Merval Mattis of the new Tecumseh Lumber Co. reported that the company on east Monroe road was visited by 1260 persons Saturday and Sunday during its grand opening.

An Editorial

What's the Matter?

"What's the matter? What did you have in the paper about the Presbyterian Church?"

If these questions were asked by one person during the week they were asked by a dozen. The questions were prompted from this unprovoked, scurrilous attack of the HERALD in the First Presbyterian Church's bulletin for last Sunday, July 10:

"NOTE

BECAUSE THE LOCAL NEWSPAPER'S MANAGEMENT HAS TAKEN ISSUE REGARDING THE POLICY OF THIS CHURCH CONCERNING DAILY VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL — EVERY MEMBER SHOULD BE AWARE OF THE FOLLOWING FACTS: A COMMUNITY VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL WAS COMPLETED IN JUNE UNDER THE AUSPICES OF SOME OF THE LOCAL CHURCHES, THEREFORE THE LEADERSHIP OF OUR OWN PRESBYTERIAN SCHOOL, TO COMMENCE ON MONDAY, DEEMED IT BEST THAT ALL OUR EFFORTS BE CONCENTRATED UPON PRESBYTERIAN YOUNGSTERS, ON THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH PROPERTY, USING PRESBYTERIAN CURRICULUM. NO OUTSIDE PUBLICITY HAS BEEN SOLICITED THEREFORE, FEELING THAT ALL THOSE AFFILIATED WITH THIS CONGREGATION, AND INTERESTED ARE AWARE OF THE PERTINENT DETAILS. AS FAR AS THE REFERENCE THAT THIS OPPORTUNITY IS BEING LIMITED TO PRESBYTERIANS — ALL ANYONE WILL HAVE TO DO IS ATTEND ANY SESSION TO FIND OUT.

"THE SORT OF REASONING WHICH WOULD PROMPT SUCH COMMENT BY A PRESS SUPPOSEDLY DEDICATED TO THE RIGHTS FOUND IN OUR CONSTITUTION, SURELY INTIMATES A SHADOWING PREJUDICE OF TOTALITARIAN PHILOSOPHY WHICH WOULD ATTEMPT BY COERCION TO SMOTHER IN INSINUATION AND ACCUSATION AN INDIVIDUAL'S OR ORGANIZATION'S FREEDOM TO SEEK AND APPROACH THOSE WHOM THEY DESIRE!!

"THE DOORS OF THIS CHURCH AND EVERY FACILITY AND SERVICE AT ITS COMMAND ARE OPEN AND AVAILABLE TO ANY PERSON WHO SEEKS SUCH; SUBJECT, OF COURSE, TO THE LAWS OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE U.S.A., AND AS DIRECTED BY THE OFFICIAL GOVERNING BODIES OF THIS THE FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH OF TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN."

We trust that these venomous statements do not represent the views of the Rev. Walworth's employer, the session of the First Presbyterian Church of Tecumseh, Michigan.

Newspapers are governed by the laws of libel and slander but this mish mash in the bulletin was governed neither by laws of the press nor the dictates of good taste and common decency.

There is no connection between this article and the lead editorial in the second section which was written before the church bulletin was published.

This is a reprint from the HERALD of the "totalitarian comment" that ACTUALLY prompted the outburst from the poison pen of the Rev. George E. Walworth in his Sunday bulletin:

"BIBLE SCHOOL BEGINS

The daily vacation Bible school of the First Presbyterian church begins next Monday and will continue through July 22.

Children from four to 11 years are welcomed."

No wonder readers stopped us on the street and called on the phone and in person to inquire if they had missed something; and no wonder newsstand sales soared.

Request for "Released Time" Denied by Board of Education

A request from the First Presbyterian Church to hold religious education classes in their church on students' released time from public school classes was denied by the board of education Monday night.

This letter from the church's session was read at the meeting:

"The Session of the First Presbyterian Church of Tecumseh, Michigan, acting under its governmental powers concerning the spiritual welfare of this congregation, urgently petitions the Board of Education, Tecumseh Public Schools, Tecumseh, Michigan, to afford those Presbyterian high school age young people, grades 9-12, with parental consent, the opportunity to attend released time religious education classes one hour per week in this the First Presbyterian Church, commencing the Fall semester of 1955. These classes to be conducted within the confines of this church's property and according to its academic requirements.

The Session
First Presbyterian Church
Moderator George E. Walworth"

The Michigan State Department of Public Instruction, responding to a letter, wrote Supt. James McDowell in part:

"A bill was introduced in the 1954 session of the Legislature which would have allowed boards of education to release children from school to attend religious instruction classes upon request of the parent. The bill, however, failed to pass."

The department also enclosed a bulletin which included the constitutional and statutory references to religious teaching, religious practices and sectarianism in the public schools as well as reference to the Federal Supreme Court cases dealing with this subject.

A portion of the bulletin referred to by the state department follows:

William D. Dunn Died Tuesday

William Dudley Dunn died Tuesday evening at his home at 17 Mill street, aged 81 years. He had been ill for nine months. Mr. Dunn was the son of George and Clara Leep Dunn and was born in Cambridge township, May 20, 1874.

Sept. 28, 1898 he married Adah Semark of Clinton whose death occurred Sept. 4, 1936.

He is survived by a niece, Mrs. Mabel A. Boyd of Tipton; two nephews, Elwyn Shea, Tipton and Mervin H. Furgason, Adrian; a cousin Mrs. Blanch Updyke of Jackson and Virginia May Streiter, who has been his housekeeper for 19 years.

Besides his wife he was preceded in death by two sisters and two brothers.

Funeral services for Mr. Dunn will be conducted by the Rev. Alvin Brazee, at 2 p.m. Friday at the Green Funeral Home with burial in Riverside cemetery, Clinton.

GAW Is Nothing New at Quaker Oats Co.

A guaranteed work plan is nothing new to The Quaker Oats Company, Donald T. Nixon, manager of the company's Tecumseh plant said today.

The company voluntarily launched such a plan back in 1934. Today it is in effect at 18 of the company's plants.

Quaker Oats' guaranteed work plan assures a minimum income to qualified employees during slack-period layoffs.

The plan applies to all hourly or piece work employees who have been with the company at least six months and have been approved as permanent employees. About 3,000 Quaker Oats employees are covered.

Eligible employees are guaranteed 140 hours' pay each month if they work any at all.

If they are laid off, they are guaranteed 70 hours' pay. The number of months for which benefits are paid in any year varies with length of service. Eligible employees with between six months and a year's service can draw benefits for two months; a year to two year's service, three months; two to three years's service, four months; and more than three years, six months.

Mr. Nixon said the company has generally been able to stabilize production high spots and low spots have been leveled out through advance planning and warehousing of finished products.

Nixon pointed out that the company doesn't claim such a plan would work for other businesses. "It just happens to have worked out well in most of our production situations," he declared.

Snyder-Smith Vows Exchanged Friday Evening

The First Methodist church of Tecumseh was the scene last Friday evening of the wedding ceremony which united in marriage Lois R. Smith and Harry E. Snyder, both of Tecumseh. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Smith and the groom is the son of Harry A. Snyder of Hudson and Mrs. Geraldine Evans of Detroit.

The Rev. Horace James, pastor of the church officiated at the double ring ceremony and the bride was given in marriage by her father.

They were attended by Leona Shope, an elder sister of the bride, as matron of honor and Raymond White as best man.

Miss Smith wore a street length dress of white nylon with woven flower design, a light blue hat with veil and matching blue sandals.

The matron of honor was in pleated white linen with a design of blue and green flowers which had a matching stole. Her hat was white and trimmed with white roses.

Mrs. Smith chose a suit of two-tone blue linen for her daughter's wedding, with which she wore a white hat. The mother of the groom was in yellow with white accessories and a flower trimmed hat.

After the 7:30 ceremony 25 guests attended a reception at the home of the bride's parents where her sisters and sisters-in-law assisted with the entertainment. A feature of the refreshments served was a three-tiered wedding cake topped by wedding bells and the traditional miniature bridal figures.

The newlyweds, who are making their home at Paul's Trailer-Park, expect to travel in northern Michigan later this month.

Mrs. Snyder is a graduate of Tecumseh high school with the class of 1955 and the groom, who graduated from Hudson high school and attended the University of Michigan for three years is now employed at the Tecumseh Products Co.

BARBECUE SUPPER WELL ATTENDED

The first barbecue supper of the season, held Saturday evening in the Baptist Youth House, was pronounced an outstanding success by the hosts Mr. and Mrs. Orville Bishop and Mr. and Mrs. John Surratt and their committee, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Walters, Mrs. Earl Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Llewellyn Sisson, Mr. and Mrs. Mills Swick and the Rev. and Mrs. B. O. Bashore. The next will be at the same place Saturday afternoon, July 23, with Mr. and Mrs. Vern Manwaring and their committee in charge.

Kroger Ad Change

This change in the Kroger Co. ad came in after the ad was printed in the second section: watermelons, 89c each.

Mrs. Arthur Bangs Dies In Penn.

Rose Packard Bangs, widow of Arthur Bangs, and a former resident of this area died Monday afternoon at the Corry Memorial hospital in Corry, Pa., after an illness of three months.

She was born in Raisin township, July 16, 1868, the daughter of Abijah and Melissa Packard and lived there until her marriage. Since 1929 her home has been in Spartansburg, Pa.

Mrs. Bangs is survived by two sons, Roy and Ralph Bangs, both of whom live in Pennsylvania, 11 grandchildren; several great grandchildren; two nephews, George and Charles Page both of Jackson; two nieces, Mrs. Carl Burch of Tecumseh and Mrs. Haskell Worden of [illegible] and a sister-in-law Mrs. La Mont Bangs of Tecumseh.

She was preceded in death by her husband; twin daughters; two brothers, Harvey and Charles and two sisters, Myra Packard and Mrs. C. A. Page.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at the Torry and Hayes Funeral Home in Spartansburg, with burial in the Spartansburg cemetery.

BROADCASTS RECORDED

The Sunday morning radio broadcasts over WABJ which usually originate in the Baptist church will be given from a tape recording during the month of August while the Rev. B. O. Bashore is on vacation. This is the method which has been in use for several years.

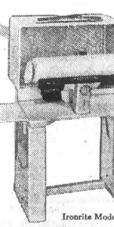
Ladies! Why ask for backache?

Look . . .

- You have a washer that takes the hard work out of washing!
- You have a range that takes the fatigue out of cooking!
- You have a vacuum that takes the muscle out of cleaning!

But what good do they do if you break your back every ironing day?



Ironrite Model 850

The appliances you have are wonderful! They help you live longer, look younger, feel better. So why let hand ironing . . . the meanest job of all, rob you of your looks, your health and your youth? You don't have to!

For now there's a simple way to iron, too. There's a wonderful appliance that lets you sit down, relax, and iron beautifully, in less than half the time it takes you by hand. That appliance is the Ironrite Automatic Ironer. It's simple to operate and amazingly inexpensive. It will iron anything you can wash, and it will end, once and for all, the achy, worn-out, tired-all-over feeling of old-fashioned ironing days.

We want you to try ironing the simple way . . . on an Ironrite. We want you to come in, sit down at one of our floor models, and see for yourself how simple, how relaxing this revolutionary way of ironing really is.

No wonder this great '55 Pontiac is setting all-time sales records!

It's bigger, smarter and more powerful than any other car at anything like the price!

A sales success like Pontiac's starts on the drawing boards—with engineers and designers who have been schooled for years in the Pontiac idea of giving more people more car for less money.

With its long 122" or 124" wheelbase and extra, big-car heft, Pontiac provides road-hugging comfort you get in no other car near it in price!

Now take this big, roomy car and surround it with the distinction of Twin-Streak styling and Vogue Two-Toning—beauty that obviously is calling the turn on the future—and you have another reason for Pontiac's phenomenal sales success.

That alone would be enough for most cars—but not for Pontiac!

Pontiac corners the market on value with the most powerful engine within hundreds of dollars of its price. The sensational 200-horsepower Strato-Streak V-8 with four-barrel carburetor* is the most modern power you can buy. You're on even terms with anything on the road—and you enjoy the greatest economy and dependability in Pontiac history.

If by now you're thinking "This is what I've wanted all along!", we suggest you stop in and talk dollars and cents. That's when you'll get the final reason for Pontiac's record popularity—the fact that you can fit a big, powerful, future-fashioned Pontiac into any new-car budget!

You'll never find it easier to get into the fine-car class than right now!

visit the University of Michigan" and that his visit not only gave him pleasure but inspiration.

He again said he considered it had been a "rare opportunity" for him to visit one of the centers of work in atomic energy and that he had felt like a freshman in a new class when he had been shown the Phoenix Memorial Laboratory.

As to the gift of books from the U-M, he said [illegible] knowledge is the best kind of gift and he felt certain he would draw inspiration from the publications. In concluding his remarks, he extended an invitation for President Hatcher and Vice President Niehuss and other members of the faculty to visit Burma. While his country does not have tall buildings, long lines of automobiles on the highways and the other aspects of American life which he has been seeing, the prime minister said visitors from the U-M would find the Burmese people "warm hearted and friendly."

At a reception in the home of President and Mrs. Hatcher Prime Minister Nu was greeted by Maung Mya Maung, a graduate student in structural engineering, from Rangoon who spoke as a representative of the 28 Burmese students on the U-M Campus.

Maung told of the mutual understanding and cordial friendships achieved with the students on campus, and then expressed the hope that with the knowledge and education received from the United States that the Burmese students could make a genuine contribution to the welfare of Burma and the world as a whole.

In response, the prime minister told the students that they were all unofficial ambassadors of Burma and that the people of the United States will judge Burma by what the students do. He also emphasized that a country cannot be built by "zeros," his description of people without education.

"Released Time"

"The Michigan School Code specifically defines the circumstances under which Michigan pupils may be released from school for religious instruction in the following language namely, 'Any child 12 to 14 years of age while in attendance at confirmation classes conducted for a period of not to exceed five months in either of said years.' Local school boards lack authority to release public school pupils for religious instruction at times or ages other than these. Adoption of released time plans similar to the New York City program would require legislative sanction."

Following the reading of the letters, the board voted to continue to comply with the United States Supreme Court ruling and the department of public instruction directive as in the past.

Interested persons may read the full text of materials sent by the state department of public instruction by calling at the office of the superintendent of schools.

Illinois Reunion Held in Britton

The annual Illinois reunion was held in the Britton recreation park Sunday with 65 in attendance. After a cooperative fried chicken dinner, a short business meeting was conducted by the president, Luther Wood.

Officers elected for the coming year are: president, Bert Moore, Britton; vice president, Mrs. Robert Wood, Tecumseh; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Luther Wood, Tecumseh and historian, Mrs. George Forsyth, Britton.

The guest speaker of the afternoon was the Rev. O. E. Priest, who spoke on his experiences as a pastor in southern Illinois. Mrs. Hamilton Moore Jr. was in charge of the games which followed.

The 1956 reunion will be held in the same place the second Sunday in July.

ALBERT McLACHLIN JR. BURIED IN BROOKSIDE

Burial services were held at Brookside cemetery Wednesday afternoon for Albert McLachlin Jr. of Coldwater, whose death from drowning occurred Sunday.

He was the son of Albert McLachlin Sr. and Hazel Roberts McLachlin, both former residents of Tecumseh. The McLachlin home was on east Shawnee street and Mrs. McLachlin was the daughter of Brant Roberts, whose farm is now the Country Club grounds.

Interlochen, Mich., says: "I like young people. In the city they get little opportunity to learn of the wonders of nature. I would be very selfish if I did not share with them my knowledge gained first-hand of outdoor life, so that they may experience as I have the pleasure of a fuller understanding of the world we live in." THIS NOTE WAS FOUND IN A BATTERED BAKING powder can in the wall over the front door of a house on Brown street formerly occupied by Mrs. Cashpaw, now being remodeled by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nichols:

"This house was built by Thomas S. Langridge in 1893. He tore down an old house that was built somewhere about 1800.

"If anyone should ever find this, please let me or my descendants know, if possible."

Frances M. Langridge, aged 14.

Mrs. Sallie Smith, 54, of Tecumseh was arrested Saturday by Tecumseh Police on a charge of assault and battery.

She reportedly struck Mrs. Naomi McKenzie.

Mrs. Smith pleaded not guilty before justice L. J. VanDeusen Monday and was released on a $100 bond.

Her trial is pending.

Howard Evans Is Commissioner of Drains

Howard C. Evans of Franklin Township is the new Lenawee county drain commissioner.

He succeeds Archie Bruce who died July 5.

Mr. Evans, who had been assistant drain commissioner for the past five years, was appointed Monday by county clerk Alice Welch, probate Judge L. B. Kuney and prosecutor Paul Betz.

Mr. Evans, a native of Franklin Township, has served as justice of the peace and as a member of the board of review. And for 14 years he was director of the Paragon school board.

He attended the Paragon school, Tecumseh high school and Brown's Business University.

Mr. Evans was a trustee of the Tipton community church for 20 years. He is a member of the Tecumseh Masonic Lodge, the Adrian Exchange Club, the Tipton Grange and the Knights of Pythias at Tipton.

LIST STATE POLICE PHONE NUMBER

Sgt. Francis O'Donnell of the Michigan State Police, Clinton post, reports that Tecumseh exchange telephone users may now call Michigan State Police for assistance.

He explained that Tecumseh Police take care of local city police matters but, he added, in case of a bad accident or crime on the fringes of Tecumseh, Michigan State Police would be glad to be of assistance.

Those who may need this police assistance may call ENTERPRISE 6-100. There is no toll charge for the call.

What's the Matter?

Readers wanted to see "what in the world the HERALD has done now." But after re-reading their papers, they found nothing that would have prompted the attack in the bulletin.

We could not explain it, either, unless the Rev. Walworth took exception to our mere reporting that his church was to have a Bible school; or perhaps the attack in the bulletin resulted from our failing to state "all Presbyterian children . . . are welcomed."

But we are not too confused to make these statements. If it were not deadly serious, this public attack from a man who is a member of the highest calling would be funny. But to receive such a poisonous lambasting from a man of the cloth over such an innocuous article makes necessary this explanation to our readers who have the intelligence to draw their own conclusions.

hickory AND horsehide
by DIZZY TROUT

OL' DIZ IS frequently besieged by pretty unattached females seeking introductions to Tiger players. I sure hate to disappoint them, but I always have to point out to the sweet young things that most of the Tigers are family men and that many of the remainder have been "tagged" for future delivery.

Of the others, virtually all consider themselves too young for romantic entanglements [illegible] marriage only in the distant future.

In this category are new bonus babies Jim Small and Pat Brady, still in their teens; Reno Bertoia, another bonus player, only 20 but with a gal already picked out whom he hopes to marry in a couple of years, and pitcher Billy Hoeft, just turned 23, who does not expect to marry at least for another three years.

Among the engaged are pitcher Duke Maas, the Utica rookie, who plans to be married Nov. 12 to Nancy Seeman, and shortstop Harvey Kuenn, who will wed Dixie Sarchet, the beautiful Miss Wisconsin of 1955, this November.

Long List

The list of benedicts is a long one. Surprisingly, many of the players have been married for a comparatively long time. Ned Garver, for example, has been married to the former Louise Simms long enough to have a son, Don, 11, and a daughter, Cheryl, 6.

Jack Phillips was married to the former Helen McBride in 1946 and they have three children, Jackie, 6, Mike, 4, and Susan, 1½. Bill Tuttle, who is 26, tied the nuptial knot with the former Lucille Hubbard in 1950 and they have three youngsters, Pat, 4, Bob, 3, and Ricky, 1½.

Fred Hatfield was married in Germany in 1946 to the former Dorothy Cotton, an Army medical technician, and they have a son, Jimmy, 7. Ray Boone married in 1946 to the former [illegible] Brown, is the father of Robert, 7, Rodney, 4, and Terry, 2. George Zuverink was married in 1946 to the former Lorraine Hendricks and they have a 14-months-old daughter, Dawn Mara.

Born Same Day

Jim Delsing's last child, Jamie, 1½, was born on the same day as Bill Tuttle's last baby, March 11, 1954, while both players were in spring training. Delsing, also the father of Kimberly Ann, 4, was married in 1949 to the former Roseanne Brennan.

Manager Bucky Harris the father of three grown children by a first marriage, Stanley, Jr., 26, Richard, 22, and Sally, 20. He's been married three years to his second wife.

As for Ol' Diz, I've been married since 1939 to the former Pearl Eva Ortman and the union has produced seven little Trouts, four boys and three girls. The oldest is 14, the youngest 18 months, and I wouldn't be surprised if one of the boys follows his dad's footsteps into the Hickory and Horsehide game.

Spangler Places Second in Golf; Smith Wins First

Val Spangler of Tecumseh took second place last week in the Adrian Junior Chamber of Commerce's district golf championship.

Ron Warner of Adrian won the championship with 146. Spangler had a 147. It marked the second time in two years that Spangler received runner-up honors to the Adrian golfer.

Tecumseh golfers Max Smith with a 179 and George Forgacs with a 196 placed first and second in the junior division.

[illegible] golfers in the senior division were Dick Baker with a 172; Ron Gurtzweiler with a 173; Dave Lamkin with a 184; Marshall Boike with a 193; and Bill Newell with a 197.

Other Tecumseh golfers in the junior division were Gordon Greiman with a 200; Mickey Moran with a 204; John Weakly with a 204; and Dave Champanois with a 209.

Val Spangler will play in the state tournament at East Lansing July 18 and 19.

Wilson's Recaptures Softball League Lead

Wilson Motor Sales broke a three-way tie for first place in the recreation department's men's softball league by shutting out Dick's Standard Service, 7-0, and the American Legion upset Gambles, 11-9, in softball games played last week.

Wilson Motors had six hits and made one error. Battery for the Automen were Thorpe, pitcher, and F. Hamilton, catcher.

J. Sisson banged out a homer with a man on for the winners.

Dick's Service garnered three hits and played errorless ball.

Wheeler, Barrs and Ladd were on the mound for the losers with H. Withrow behind the plate.

Tauson got two of the three hits for Dick's by chipping in a brace of one-baggers.

Wilson's confined all its scoring to the fifth and sixth innings.

In the second game the Legionnaires upset Gambles. The Martin Men were tied for first place.

The Legion had seven hits and made two errors. J. Petrovich and B. Petrovich served as the Legion battery.

J. Petrovich exploded a grand slam homer. Ted Sisson also poled out a homer and Bob Moore added a double and a single.

Gambles made six hits and committed two errors.

Gleason and McKenzie pitched for Gambles with Meyers working behind the plate. Meyers banged out a grand slam home run.

Both Petrovich and Meyers hit their grand slam homers in their teams' five-run sixth inning uprisings.

The Legion took a first inning 3-0 lead but Gambles tied it up in the fourth and gained a one-run advantage in the fifth which was short-lived.

The Legion came up with three markers in their half of the fifth. Each team made five runs in the sixth.

Commenting on the Passing Scene

HOW WOULD YOU LIKE TO HAVE more one-way streets in town? Let's make north Union one-way past the Catholic church; south Union one-way past the Baptist church; Pearl one-way past the Methodist church; VanBuren one-way past the Friends church; Bidwell one-way past the Assembly of God; Maumee one-way past the Lutheran church; Evans one-way past the Episcopal church; and, in case there are not enough one-way streets, let's make all the streets past the rest of the smaller churches one-way, too.

Ridiculous, you say? The idea is no more ridiculous than making Maiden Lane one-way past the Presbyterian church.

This piece of street was made one-way reportedly for safety's sake because of the heavy traffic of church goers. True, there is a lot of traffic there on Sundays but we have yet to see even as much as a dented fender.

The one-way sign is not easy to see. Perhaps this is why you will see even Presbyterians violating the one-way regulation.

If you're going to have a regulation it should be enforced; if it's not going to be enforced it should be rescinded. Since a one-way street past any church is a special privilege which may establish a dangerous precedent the latter case should prevail.

OVER THE FOURTH OF JULY holiday 18 persons were killed on the highways in Michigan. Drownings, however, claimed 23 lives.

You constantly hear about traffic safety campaigns to keep down highway deaths, yet five more persons lost their lives from drownings than were killed in car accidents.

It would be interesting to know how many of those who drowned were able to swim. Lessons in swimming and water safety might have saved some of those lives.

And this brings us to the importance of the swimming lesson program of the city recreation department. More than 400 currently are getting the swimming and water safety lessons in Tecumseh. There are many things that can be said for the swimming pool and its staff but it seems to us the most important is the swimming instruction — instruction that may actually prevent the loss of life from drowning.

YOU STILL HEAR ABOUT the report of the Hoover Commission which is geared to reduce inefficiency and waste in the national government.

We thought about Mr. Hoover and his excellent committee work when a large envelope was received from the Air National Guard of the United States.

The envelope measured 16 inches across and 12 inches deep. In it were two, three-page news releases describing the 127th Fighter Interceptor Wing. Since they were duplicates one release would have been sufficient but two were sent.

A small thing to be quibbling about? Well, multiply this news release by all of those sent out in the gargantuan envelope and you'll probably come up with a cost that would stagger you.

This is of course minor compared to other, more important wastes in our government.

THERE'S GOING TO BE A CHECK-UP in Grant County, Nebraska.

Grant County, in the heart of Nebraska's ranch country, listed no milk cows, no corn and no wheat on its farms and ranches on assessment day.

The state tax commissioner is going to look into it. He should have some interesting "looking."

Imagine what would happen here if all business places said they had no inventories when assessor John Saling made his calls. This makes an interesting summer reflection.

Realty Views

"Let me look at a few of your 2 bedroom homes in the $7,500 to $10,000 range," a young man, Mr. Bolton, said recently.

As we looked, I noticed the home he was most interested in needed many minor repairs.

"That's my kind of house," Mr. Bolton confided. "I like the type I can fix up myself. Many homes lack only 'imagination.' I can see the possibilities."

"You talk as if you had gone through this process before," I said.

"Indeed," answered Mr. Bolton, "I owned three places in Lansing. And I made a little money on each one."

"Experience is the best teacher," I said. "You might as well start fixing up this home."

Mr. Bolton grinned. "Exactly," he said, "I'll buy it on the condition that you will come out to see it again in six months."

"I'll be there," I said.

Perhaps Mr. Bolton's experience can instruct you too. If you are "handy," you can save money by buying a home that needs a little work.

Increased Officer Violator Contact Plan Begins Here

Chief George Kilbourn today announced that the Tecumseh Police Department is adopting the official "Increased Officer-Violator Contact Plan" developed by the Safety and Traffic Committee of the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police.

All officers will start receiving training on this plan. The plan itself will go into effect immediately. This plan is being launched as a part of the nation-wide Slow Down and Live program. All motorists are aware of this plan to save lives and must expect to be stopped even more frequently for the violations which cause accidents.

According to Chief Kilbourn, the plan calls for officers to stop any motorist they see committing a hazardous type of moving violation —even to a very minor degree. "Stopping motorists for less serious violations will help these same motorists who now commit minor violations from committing more serious ones later," the Chief added.

In conclusion, Chief Kilbourn pointed out, "A motorist who is stopped for a minor violation of a hazardous type of moving violation, and is given a courteous warning instead of going to court and paying a fine, should realize that the police are really doing him an important favor. This warning stop may, because it is a reminder to drive safely, save that motorist's life—a life he might well lose if he were to think he could get by with minor degrees of violations and begin to commit more serious ones."

"Naturally," the Chief added, "this warning plan will not apply to motorists committing violations to a degree that is immediately dangerous—they will be ticketed and sent to court in the regular way."

Dear God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, for whom the whole family in heaven and earth is named, grant us, according to the riches of Thy glory, inner strength by His Spirit, that Christ may dwell in our hearts by faith; that we, being rooted and grounded in His love, may be able to comprehend with all members of His family its vastness, a knowledge exceeding all earthly knowledge; and thus be filled with all Thy fullness, O God, our Father, Saviour, and Comforter. For Thou art able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that worketh in us. In Jesus' name we pray.

Former Dundee Man Hopes He Can Salvage Historical Monitor

Fifty-seven years ago a ten year old school boy, Raynor T. McMullen of Dundee, Michigan, studying American History, was fascinated with the story of the first battle between ironclad warships, the Monitor versus the Merrimac, at Hampton Roads, Virginia, March 9, 1862.

He dreamed, as small boys will, of locating the Monitor, which subsequently foundered in a storm off Cape Hatteras, North Carolina, the early morning of Dec. 31, 1862, with the loss of 16 of her officers and crew.

Years have a way of slipping by and young boys dreams don't often materialize. Through the years Ray McMullen never forgot his dream to locate the Monitor. Having retired in 1953 as a rural mail carrier with 34 years service, Mr. McMullen is now devoting full time to locating the Monitor. Aware of the difficulties that lie ahead, and that a successful search will more than tax the financial resources of one man, he organized the Monitor Historical Society, Inc., with the idea in mind of making it a community effort.

Incorporated in the District of Columbia in 1954 as a non-profit organization, the Society states in its constitution and by-laws that its purpose is to locate, salvage and establish as a National Shrine the USS Monitor. Just where the ship will be placed has not been determined.

Sponsors for the Society include Admiral Louis Denfeld, USN (Ret.), former Chief of Naval Operations; Rear Admiral John D. Murphy, USN (Ret.) both from Washington, D. C.; Captain P. V. H. Weems USN (Ret.), Captain Wade D. Weese, USN (Ret.), Captain Joseph K. Taussig, USN (Ret.), all of Annapolis, Maryland; and Commanders Edward S. Moale, USN (Ret.) of Washington, D. C.

Trustees include Clarence G. Pechacek, attorney, and Stanfield S. McClure, public relations counsellor, both residents of Washington, D. C. and Mr. McMullen.

The Monitor has a particular significance in American History for it not only saved the Union fleet from destruction and helped preserve the Union blockade of Southern ports, but proved conclusively to the navies of the world, that the era of wooden warships was about to end.

After two years of research and one search undertaken in May 1954 by ship and plane off the Hatteras Lighthouse, Mr. McMullen believes that he has establishd the approximate location of the Monitor.

This information is collaborated by the ship logs of the Monitor and the Rhode Island which had her in tow. According to McMullen this would place the Monitor approximately 25 miles southwest of the Hatteras Light at Latitude 340°55′ and Longitude 75°32′. Mr. McMullen said, "I'll pay $1,000 to anyone who can locate the Monitor, provided the party agrees to turn the vessel over to the Monitor Historical Society."

"According to our charts the Hatteras area is a graveyard of ships and any contact in our search will have to be identified" Mr. McMullen said.

"The Monitor rests on a sandy bottom in water 100 ft. or more in depth which is too deep for skin divers to operate effectively. Therefore, we must rely on the conventional type of diver with his rubber suit, helmet and telephone to identify contacts. Having investigated underwater television and Sonsar I am convinced the most practical way to find the Monitor is the old, yet reliable, method of dragging the ocean bottom with a cable suspended between two ships."

Designed by John Ericsson and built at Greenpoint, Long Island, N. Y., in the record time of 100 days, the Monitor was an engineering marvel of its day. Even though the Monitor has rested on the ocean bottom almost 93 years, it is believed to be in excellent condition since it was constructed from a high grade of wrought iron, with turret armor eight inches thick with beams of live oak which are water resistant.

Because of sudden storms which come up in the Hatteras area, the Society believes at least 30 days should be allowed for the next search. Since divers and their equipment cost at least $800 per day, the Society will attempt to raise the money through a public appeal for funds.

"We are certain we will locate the ship. In order to succeed one must be willing to take a calculated risk and have a bit of the old pioneer spirit to succeed," Mr. McMullen said. "After all," he continued, "the body of John Paul Jones, father of the United States Navy was lost to this country for 100 years. It took a civilian, Horace Porter, United States Ambassador to France and $35,000 of his personal funds to find him. I guess it is going to take another civilian to find the Monitor."

Contributions to help in the project may be sent to The Monitor Historical Society at its headquarters, 1764 K St., N. W., Washington, D. C. Checks should be made out in the name of the Society.

Christian Science Services Listed

The fact that God's man is endowed with unquenchable strength and power will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Life."

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (215:12): "Whatever is governed by God, is never for an instant deprived of the light and might of intelligence and Life."

The life-giving power of God is also set forth in passages from the Bible including the following (Psalms 27:1, 4): "The Lord is my light and my salvation: whom shall I fear? the Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? . . . One thing have I desired of the Lord, that will I seek after; that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the Lord, and to enquire in his temple."

Neither Rain Nor Hail ... Nor Broken Boxes!

Red Fowler, local R.F.D. mailman, got an English car—with a right-hand drive so he can stuff mailboxes from behind the wheel.

"It's great!" Red reports. "But it would work a lot better if all box holders would follow regulations. A mailbox should be 40 inches high, on the right of the road ... within reaching distance from a car window. If one is knocked down, the owner should make repairs pronto."

Come to think of it, Red is pretty good about his obligations—delivering packages, supplying stamps, cashing money orders—saving us trips to the Post Office. Let's fix up those boxes so he can get his chores done fast.

From where I sit, obligations always work both ways. For instance, I figure that I'm obliged to respect your right to enjoy your favorite beverage—be it coffee, tea, beer, buttermilk or whatever. Why? Because I'd expect you to do the same for me. The Golden Rule should be followed "to the letter" by everyone.

State Farm Auto Insurance Rates Lowered

New low auto insurance rates, approved by Michigan Commissioner of Insurance, Joseph A. Navarre, start tomorrow for most policyholders of one leading auto insurance company. Michigan motorists insured by State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Company will share savings of $670,000 yearly, compared with their previous rates, according to Delbert King, local agent for the company.

Biggest savings will go to pleasure cars with no male operator under age 25 and to older model cars, Mr. King stated. Rates for liability coverage will now be figured under a new four-group plan, based on age of male drivers and pleasure or business use of car.

A new "Step Down Plan" for comprehensive and collision insurance sets up rates that drop twice as the car gets older, once when the car is two model years old and again when it is four model years old. Compared with present costs, collision rates are now reduced for 1952 and 1953 models, and even more substantially for 1951 and older cars. Comprehensive rate reductions, with some exceptions, apply only to 1951 and older cars, and are slightly higher on new cars.

For commercial vehicles, most rates are unchanged, but some are adjusted upward, others downward, depending on accident records.

Under the new liability rates, there are substantial reductions throughout the state for pleasure cars with no male operator under age 25. Rates for family cars with an occasional (not principal) male driver under 25 are slightly reduced in some areas and increased in others. For business use cars, there are increases state-wide. Where the male owner or male principal operator is under 25, the increase is substantial, except for husbands age 21-24 living with spouse. The age of female principal operators does not affect rates.

More than 90 per cent of the babies born in the United States today are born in hospitals.

One out of every 60 of the nation's workers is employed in a hospital.

NOW-Biggest Trade-in Deals ever on the Biggest-Selling Buicks in History!
Come in and see!

You can sit this pretty for only $2253.88 *
delivered locally!

*2-door, 6-passenger Buick SPECIAL Sedan, Model 48, illustrated. Optional equipment, accessories, any state and local taxes, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities. Even factory-installed options are bargains.

We'll mince no words.

You can buy a Buick SPECIAL like the one shown here if you can buy any new car.

You can boss this big and brawny Buick Sedan for just about the price of the smaller cars—even for less than some models of the three most widely known smaller cars. The price we show here proves that.

But you can't get anywhere else for the money what you get in this or any other new Buick – and that's something you really ought to look into.

For Buick sales are soaring to all-time best-seller highs this year just because more and more people are discovering how much more automobile their dollars buy in a Buick than the same dollars buy elsewhere.

They find Buick a bigger package of automobile for the money—bigger in power thrill, in comfort, in ride steadiness, in structural solidity.

They find Buick size and styling an added prestige—Buick roadability and handling ease an added pleasure – Buick brawn and precision an added reassurance.

And they find Buick performance a thrill without peer – for where else can you get the whip-quick response and bettered gas mileage of Variable Pitch Dynaflow†?

Maybe you'd better drop in for a visit and see how much real automobile and fun and deep-down satisfaction your money buys in Buick.

Whether you want the low-priced SPECIAL, the high-powered CENTURY, the extra-roomy SUPER, or the custom-built ROADMASTER – you'll find the price more than right and the trade-in deal terrific. Can you make it today?

†Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at modest extra cost on other Series.

DID YOU KNOW

- that the Buick SPECIAL is priced below any other car of 188 horsepower and 122-inch wheelbase?
- that the Buick SPECIAL is priced below some models of the three well-known smaller cars?
- that the Buick SPECIAL gives you more pounds of automobile than any other car at its low price?

Thrill of the year is Buick

A & P Treasurer To Retire Aug. 1

Stanley F. Dole, treasurer of A & P Food Stores' Central Western Division, will retire Aug. 1 after 34 years of service with the food chain and become vice president of Olivet College.

Dole has been for nearly a quarter of a century treasurer of the division which operates company stores in Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, Kentucky and Tennessee. He also formerly was auditor of the company's New England division and manager of the Boston and Albany unit offices.

Long active in local civic and business affairs, Dole has served as president and director of the Detroit Retail Merchants Association and as a director of the United Foundation, Detroit Grand Opera Association, Detroit Board of Commerce and Institute for Economic Education.

He also has been chairman of the Detroit American Red Cross Chapter and a member of the Little Hoover Commission of Michigan, and Metropolitan Detroit Committee on Aging, Detroit Economic Club and Citizens Advisory Committee.

In World War I, Dole as a naval ensign was present at the surrender of the German high seas fleet in Nov., 1918, was a member of the American Commission to negotiate peace, and served with a group that reported to President Wilson on its mission to South Russia to observe the civil war between the Bolsheviks and the White Russians.

Later, Dole was in charge of the American shore detail that assisted thousands of anti-Communist Russians to flee to Constantinople. He also worked with the Near East Relief.

Dole also has been active in church and educational work. He has been a trustee of Olivet College since 1951 and chairman of its committee on building and grounds. A graduate of Bowdoin College, he is a life overseer of the college, former president of the Alumni Council and a member of the Alumni Fund Directors. He was born in Portland, Me.

In Detroit, he became one of the early members of the Mayflower Congregational Church and served as a trustee as well as chairman of the building committee during the period when the main church building was constructed. He is a 32nd degree Mason.

Kitchen Story Will Be Told At Centennial

Calling all brides, homemakers with young children, homemakers with teen-age and college-age offspring and homemakers who have reached middle years. The dream kitchen specially suited to you will be exhibited at the Centennial of Farm Mechanization to be held on the Michigan State University campus Aug. 15-20.

A display of modern kitchens from the most spacious to the compact trailer-size has been planned by the College of Home Economics at M.S.U. Evelyn Zwemer, who is in charge of the home economics exhibit, explains that viewers will be able to trace ranges, vacuum cleaners, refrigerators, electric irons and many other appliances from their beginnings a century ago to the most modern up-to-date time-savers of today.

Besides the series of modern kitchens, three authentic historical kitchens will be on exhibit. One will be the pioneer kitchen of 1855 complete with loom, spinning wheel, pewter containers, fire place and a 108 year old cast-iron waffle maker.

The second period kitchen will depict life in a town during the year 1855. The kitchen, modeled after the kitchen in Greenfield Village near Detroit, will boast a black cast iron coal and wood range.

The third kitchen will be that of a town family in 1905. The Hoosier kitchen cabinet, the wooden ice box and gas light will bring back childhood memories to the thousands of people who are expected to be on campus for the week-long event of M.S.U.'s Centennial year.

Skywatchers Have Birthday Today

Thursday, July 14, is the third anniversary of "Operation Skywatch," the program under which every day, around-the-clock, thousands of volunteers at observation posts in 27 states, among them Michigan, maintain a close watch of the skies for aircraft which might conceivably be hostile.

On that day the approximately 15,000 Ground Observer posts in the United States will be increased to 25,400 and the number of filter centers will be raised from 49 to 72. Among the new centers will be one in Saginaw to supplement the filter center which has long been in operation at Grand Rapids.

In Michigan today there are more than 13,000 civil defense volunteers manning 569 observation posts, of which 91 are in operation 24 hours a day. By giving freely of the time and effort in spotting and tracking down unidentified planes, these patriotic men and women are making an invaluable contribution to the over-all defense of our state and nation.

Gov. Williams says:

"All of us should be deeply grateful to our friends and neighbors who, in every sort of weather, are on the alert for threatening danger and, whenever possible, should enroll with them in this service so vital to the survival of our people in the event of enemy attack.

NEW ELECTION LAW COMBINES BALLOTS

Many important changes in the State election laws will be in effect when Michigan voters go to the polls next year.

There no longer will be a separate ballot for President of the United States. The presidential ballot will be combined with the State ballot for the first time since 1937.

Among other major new provisions of the new election code are the following:

All communities now must use written applications from a voter for a ballot. Previously, communities of less than 5,000 population were not required to use written applications.

A majority of the members of election board must be present at all times, compared with the previous requirement that three be present.

Election inspectors must submit a written application before appointment, stating political affiliation, education, experience, and other information.

Challengers must now be registered electors of the city or township in which they act, and candidates cannot act as challengers.

Ballots no longer will be initialed by election inspectors.

County clerks must have their offices open for election purposes all day on election day and to remain open until all returns are in. Copies of all returns must be made available to the press and other interested persons.

Paper ballot precincts are limited in size to 800 registered voters and machine precincts to 1,400, with one machine provided for each 600 registered voters.

Township caucuses must be held on the same day as primary elections.

State party conventions can be held as late as Sept. 1 in 1956.

Anyone circulating election petitions must state his full address, including street and number or rural route.

Absent voters ballots must be voted on voting machines immediately after the polls close and the last voter has cast his ballot.

Votes cast for a deceased candidate shall not be counted.

Noise Annoys

Noise annoys — and if your neighbor's power mower irritates you, you're in good company.

The problem of excessive noise, according to John Soet, Director, Occupational Health, Michigan Department of Health, is of major concern to industries, manufacturers and communities.

You may not like the sound of power mowers, heavy trucks grinding past on the highway or jet planes shrieking overhead but, to many people, noise is more than a nuisance—it affects their livelihood.

"For example," Soet pointed out, "a motel owner may lose his customers if the motel is too near a source of sleep-and-rest-preventing noise. Appliance manufacturers may find sales plummeting, if their appliances are too noisy. Trucks may find they have to travel many extra miles to by-pass cities with noise ordinances. Industries may be forced to pay out large sums of money as compensation for permanent hearing losses sustained by employees."

Although we notice noise more in the summer when windows and doors are open, the noise problem is not confined to any one season. "Perhaps the most serious problem exists in heavy industry," according to Soet, "where noise levels are extremely high and where exposure is constant during the work day."

The whole problem of noise and noise abatement is relatively new, Soet declared, but considerable progress has already been made toward reducing noise hazards in industry and the community. However, with the increasing number of motor—and engine-driven appliances and vehicles, Soet warned, "noise will become an increasingly important factor in our every-day lives."

Highway Study Is Launched

Michigan's first comprehensive highway fiscal study was launched today by the Joint Legislative Committee on Highway Needs. The study was ordered by the Legislature this year to determine the soundness of Michigan's highway, road and street financing, and to provide proposals for a solid basis of financing in the future.

The study is being directed by Richard M. Zettel, Assistant Director, Institute of Transportation and Traffic Engineering of the University of California. Zettel, an economist, has majored in fiscal studies for the past fifteen years. He has served as Director of Research for the Washington State Tax Commission, the United States Naval Intelligence, and directed both of California's major fiscal studies which resulted in increased revenues.

The fiscal study is following right on the heels of the statewide engineering study ordered last year. The engineering study is being conducted by 300 engineers on all highway, road and street systems in Michigan, and will be completed Sept. 15. It will determine the need, and show where the needs are greatest. The fiscal study, to be completed Dec. 1, is expected to determine how these needs can financially be fulfilled.

The launching of the fiscal study was praised by Senator Haskell Nichols, Chairman of the Michigan Joint Legislative Committee on Highway Needs.

"This is an important forward step for Michigan's overburdened highway, road and street systems. In the past, we suffered for the lack of answers on this whole matter, but the completion of this study will put before us the program we need to financially bring Michigan's systems up to the level necessary for our great amount of traffic," he said.

The move was also heralded by Gerald Wm. Graves, Executive Director, Michigan Good Roads Federation.

"Michigans highway, road and street administrators have for years been frustrated by the lack of revenues for building on one hand, and the public demand for better highways, roads and streets on the other," he said.

Notice To All Citizens of Tecumseh

ORDINANCE

The following preamble and ordinance was presented.

WHEREAS this Municipality enacted a Zoning Ordinance some years ago by which the construction and occupation of buildings throughout the City was subjected to a reasonable regulation in an effort to preserve existing property values and to permit the orderly expansion of the Community; and

WHEREAS the rapid growth of this City has indicated the need of a substantial change in the Zoning law as previously enacted; and

WHEREAS the City Planning Commission has diligently made this subject a matter of intensive study and has recommended diverse changes designed to permit the orderly expansion of the industrial and business areas and, at the same time, protecting established and prospective residential areas.

NOW THEREFORE THE CITY OF TECUMSEH ORDAINS:

1. That the City Zoning Ordinance, being Section 7.000 to 7.450 of the Codified Ordinances of the City of Tecumseh, embracing all aspects of the Zoning law within said City, including lot size, building size, building location and use is effective 15 August 1955, declared enacted.

2. That, pursuant to Charter Section 7.4 wherein provision is made for those Ordinances too lengthy to be published, interested persons are advised that the exact text of the proposed Zoning Ordinance may be obtained upon application to the City Clerk.

3. That all persons considering themselves agrieved by the provisions of this Ordinance are advised that objections thereto will be considered July 18, 1955, at the Council Chambers at 7:30 p.m., at which time said persons may make their objections known to the end that all persons may be assured of a fair and impartial hearing.

Motion Schwartz and seconded Purkey the ordinance be adopted.

Attest Mayor: H. H. Hanna
Attest Clerk: Naomi Sallows
Dated: 20 June 1955

The City Council on June 20, 1955, enacted a Zoning Ordinance covering construction, use, and occupancy of property within the Tecumseh City limits, the same to be effective 15 August 1955; and further established a public hearing to be held thereon at the Council Chambers at 8:00 p.m., Monday, 18 July 1955.

And whereas diverse changes, hereinafter described, are deemed worthy of being included within said Ordinance, prior to final action thereon.

Now, therefore, in addition to said public hearing, there will be an additional public hearing to be held at the Council Chambers of the City of Tecumseh at 8:00 p.m. on 1 August, 1955, to consider the following inclusions within the Zoning Ordinance of the City of Tecumseh.

1. The change, from Residential D to Business A, of that portion of Chicago Boulevard between its intersections with Wyandotte and Division Streets.

2. The change, from Residential B to Industrial of that property owned by the Protane Corporation and bounded north by J. K. Touborg, west by William Hayden, Leland Fogelsong and Regina Gallies, south by Joe Springer, east by Adrian street.

3. The inclusion within the Ordinance, of the detailed provisions covering use and occupancy of Business and Professional Office Districts.

All persons interested may obtain a copy of the amended prospective ordinance and of the amended map, by application to the City Clerk.

Is That So!

By Clara Waldron

For some reason the younger members of this motor-and-air-minded generation seem to find railroading almost as fascinating as did the small boys of the 1890's, so at the risk of boring their elders, here are some of the local stories of the days of the "dashing brakeman."

Adrian had the first railroad in Michigan. Tecumseh, who until then had been first in nearly everything, had to be content with the second—a fact that cost them the county-seat. Adrian's road was the "Erie and Kalamazoo," promoted to link the Maumee river with the Kalamazoo, as a part of the system of rail and water which then preoccupied the state planners. It went into receivership not long after the first train arrived in October 1836 and was rebuilt by state money, as the Michigan Southern, but heirs of the first stockholders still draw dividends because the right of way is still used.

Its wood-burning engine sometimes drew the swaying cars over wooden rails (later topped by steel strips) at the wild speed of fifteen miles an hour, except when it stopped to cool off. It is told that an Adrian resident, whose saddle horse had slipped his bridle in Monroe boarded the train to return home only to find his horse waiting for him on his arrival. As most of the pasengers rode on open flat cars they were in constant discomfort if not danger from smoke and fiery embers.

Tecumseh's first train over the "Palmyra and Jacksonburgh" reached the town in August 1838 amid a gala celebration. It was loaded with "prominent citizens" from Adrian, Monroe and Toledo. There were bands and speeches and Judge Blanchard pronounced a mock marriage ceremony, uniting Monroe and Tecumseh, with Adrian as a witness. The entire company was entertained by General Joseph Brown at the Peninsular House, his imposing inn on Mill street, a festivity which had an ironic touch since, just three years before, the General had led the Michigan militia against those same prominent Toledoans in the bitter though luckily bloodless "Toledo War."

In 1839 there was another celebration when the road reached Clinton but by then the panic of 1837 had caught up with it and it was used for only horse drawn cars for several years then sold to the Michigan Southern, which organization did not complete it to Jackson until 1858. Many of the first stockholders were Tecumseh residents and still preserved is an order for the salary of "David Smith, engineer, from August 1, 1838 to October 8, 1839 for $150.00." It is signed by M. A. Patterson, president of the company (and grandfather of Mrs. Harold Naser) with the notation that it "seems reasonable" (page the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers!) and was to be paid by the treasurer "when in funds."

Palmyra being the junction point of the two lines assumed, as did Tecumseh later, that it was to blossom over night and indeed it did have the distinction of having the first car-shop west of the Hudson. A Mr. Thomas Hill owned it and built there the first rear entrance passenger car used in Michigan. How many he made is not recorded but Palmyra's dream of glory did not materialize any more than did several other projected railroads of the period.

Two reached the stage of grading for part of the way. The "Tecumseh and Ypsilanti" road — 24 miles long, connecting the Jacksonburgh branch with Ypsilanti — was partly financed by state funds. Traces of its "right of way" still remain, notably a deep cut crossing North Bilmeyer Highway. "The Adrian and Detroit" came even nearer completion in 1872 and its road-bed was used by the D. T. and I. later.

Out of the failures, however, came much success. Now, when the traveler-without-a-car is practically marooned in our town, it is hard to believe that, had he been here in 1905, he would have had sixteen passenger trains to choose from every day. He could have gone north, south, east or west and connected with trains to the ends of the earth. What was more he had three depots at which to board the train. Passengers on the N. Y. Central could embark at the south or Junction depot, the north or official N.Y.C. depot (which has just been finally and completely dismantled) or — as nearly every one did — he could board the train at Chicago street with half the town there to wish him well. Tickets could even be purchased at Gaston's Jewelry store and all the friends who came "to see him off" could hop aboard and ride to the depot, north or south as the case might be. In 1910, President Taft's special train stopped at Chicago street for his campaign speech and when in 1918 that stop was discontinued something of the town's neighborliness went too.

COMPLETE TOURIST INFORMATION

The Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce has been compiling all types of tourist information for the past two years.

We now have maps and travel folders for every state in the United States, plus Canada, Mexico and the Hawaiian Islands.

This is a public service offered by your Chamber of Commerce. It has taken a great deal of time and work to gather this material.

We will feel amply rewarded for our efforts if the people of Tecumseh will make use of the information which we have gathered.

If you are planning a vacation, stop at the Chamber office and ask for information about the place you would like to go.

The Chamber office is open five days per week from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Britton Scouts Are Honored

Britton Boy Scout Troop No. 23 held its first court of honor in the Britton Methodist church Wednesday night, July 6.

The court was held to honor three of the boys who earned their second class rank. The boys awarded were Fred Barnoske, Jr., Gerald Rhora and Lester Ruhl, Jr.

Others honored were Richard Seagert, tenderfoot; and Gerald Benedict, explorer.

Van Frayer also earned his tenderfoot rank but he wasn't present to accept his badge.

The Scouts opened the program by giving the allegiance to the flag, followed by the Scout oath and the Scout laws.

Jim Lowe of the Wolverine Council showed some films on the camping program and the Scouts closed the program by giving the Scout benediction.

The Scouts July 2 were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jennings Frayer at their cottage on Evans Lake. They spent the day swimming.

No. 68 DON'T CUT OFF DRIVER AT SIGNAL

When two cars are facing a red light side by side and it turns green, someone may have to give way because of parked cars just beyond the intersection.

If the driver on the right sprints ahead and cuts in on the car on his left, which is going straight ahead, it's like cheating in a ticket line at a theater.

Any driver moving straight ahead in his own lane deserves to be let alone. He goes along minding his own business and not causing anybody any trouble. He has the right of way over cars in lanes on his right or left. They have no right to cut in on him. Remember the slogan, "SLOW DOWN AND LIVE".

College Trains Workers For Small Papers

A high school graduate from the Tecumseh area may have opportunity to train for community newspaper work in a new one-year course at Defiance College, Defiance, Ohio. The college has three linotype machines and presses to be used as "laboratory equipment" for the journalism class. Practice on the linotype will supplement training in news gathering and writing.

Students also will learn typewriting, accounting and oral and written English. One elective class will be included, such as shorthand, business mathematics or advertising.

An announcement from the college says that many weekly and small daily papers are short of help. The new course is being tailored to their needs, which are different from the metropolitan press. The student will be trained in business, editorial and mechanical departments — an all-round ability needed on the weekly paper.

Some publishers are helping high school graduates pay tuition, on condition they work for the home paper a year. If the student later decides to continue in college, all of the years' training will give credit toward a degree.

The president of Defiance College, Kevin McCann, is a former publisher of weekly papers in the Chicago area. He now is serving at the White House as an assistant to President Dwight D. Eisenhower. He believes that work on community newspapers should be encouraged as one of the best opportunities for useful employment.

Information may be secured by writing to the admissions director at Defiance College, Defiance, Ohio.

Phyllis Jean Gilbert Is Bride of James L. Thomas

Phyllis Jean Gilbert, whose home is on Rt. 2, Milan and James LaVerne Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Thomas of Rt. 1, Clinton were married at 7:30 Saturday evening at the Macon Methodist church.

Miss Gilbert's parents are Mrs. Lillie Gilbert of Ann Arbor and Ernest E. Gilbert of Lansing and she was given in marriage by her father.

The Rev. Vaughn Whited performed the double ring ceremony before the altar, whose dossel cloth was emblasoned with a white cross and which was flanked by hampers of gladioli, palms and candelabra. Before the service, Mrs. Herbert Morden sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly" following with "The Lord's Prayer" at its close.

The bride was very lovely in a gown of white nylon tulle, whose jacket of frosted organdy had long, pointed sleeves and scalloped collar. Her veil was shoulder length and she carried a lace covered Bible decorated with an orchid, strands of ivy and streamers of satin ribbon.

Her sister, Miss Alice Gilbert of Lansing, who was her maid of honor wore a strapless gown of pale pink nylon tulle with a pink net stole, while Mrs. Edward Clark of Clinton and Miss Barbara Ebaugh of New Baltimore, the bride's cousin wore dresses of the same styling in pastel yellow and medium blue, respectively. All three carried nosegays of pale pink roses and sweetpeas and wore headbands of sweetpeas.

Edward Clark attended Mr. Thomas as best man while a brother, Ernest Gilbert and Max Morden of Clinton were ushers.

The mothers of both the bride and groom were gowned in light blue with corsages of pink carnations. Mrs. Gilbert's accessories were white and those of Mrs. Thomas were beige.

The Saline township hall was decorated with arrangements of garden flowers for the reception which was attended by 200 guests. Miss Joyce Dingman and Miss Gerry Beck of Saline with Miss Deanna White of Webberville presided at the serving table while Miss Barbara Hanson of Milan and Miss Louise Wackenhut of Saline had charge of gifts and Miss Jean Thomas, sister of the groom, of the guest book.

The four-tiered wedding cake, which had been made by the bride and her aunt, Mrs. Harold Holcomb and decorated by Mrs. Harlan Holcomb, was cut by Mrs. Harold Holcomb with Mrs. E. N. Gilbert, the bride's grandmother at the coffee urn and Mrs. Charles Gorton of Britton at the punch bowl.

Mrs. Thomas wore a princess style gown of medium green, accented by the orchid from her bouquet, when the newlyweds left for a wedding trip to northern Michigan. Both are graduates of Tecumseh high school and the groom is a mechanic in Tecumseh. They are living temporarily with the groom's parents near Clinton.

Music Club Has Annual Picnic

The annual picnic of the Tecumseh Music Club was held Thursday noon at the country home of Mrs. Wilfred Waldron with 12 members and one guest present.

During the business meeting, announcement was made of the State Federation convention at Interlochen July 11-12-13, and program planning was done for the next club year.

Mrs. William Hayden was introduced as the new president of the group, the next meeting of which will be in September, when work will be done on repairing and filing the music of the late Mrs. R. S. Moore.

Mrs. George Wittrup is publicity chairman.

Will Go Ahead with Property Re-Appraisal Plan

The city council will go ahead with its plans to have all real and personal property in the city re-appraised by an appraising firm.

City manager Ed Nelson explained to council members Monday night that the city has ended its fiscal year with about a $5,000 balance and "if you want to make a decision on the appraisal I believe we can make arrangements to pay half on this budget this year."

Councilman John Hamilton suggested that the city go ahead with its plans for having the scientific re-appraisal made. He thought the re-appraisal of city property could begin by Sept.

Councilmen agreed and J. C. Beardsley, city attorney, will be instructed to draw up a contract between the city and the J. M. Cleminshaw Co. of Cleveland, Ohio.

Last month J. M. Cleminshaw of the re-appraisal firm told councilmen that the job here would cost about $12,500.

He told councilmen at the time that he thought his company would go along with a two-payment plan after he was told that there was very little money in the budget for the re-appraisal.

Members of the Tecumseh Township board also attended the June meeting. At that time Mr. Cleminshaw said he would need more information about the township before he could give an estimate as to the township's cost.

He added, however, that the cost to the township would be less if its re-appraisal is done at the same time as the city's.

Under the Cleminshaw system, houses would be inspected inside and out to determine their true value.

All information on real and personal property would be placed on a card system which could be used by the assessor.

Merchants' and manufacturers' records would be checked and inventories would be inspected. Average inventories would be used, not low or high peaks.

The company provides an annual service that keeps the rolls up to date by surveying new homes and businesses.

Purpose of the re-appraisal is to equalize tax assessments so taxpayers are paying their fair share of the taxes, no more and no less.

The re-appraisal also will give a true picture of today's values and give officials facts to support any taxation question.

The re-appraisal job will take about four months.

Outdoor Dance Set for Friday

The teen-age, outdoor dance sponsored by the local Jaycees, Friday evening, July 22, will be held from 9 to 12 p.m. instead of 8:30 to 11:30 as previously announced.

Dancing will be on the tennis court of the Central school building and music will be supplied by Bill Carter and his orchestra.

This entertainment is free to all teen-agers but the committee wishes it understood that if dancers leave the grounds they will not be readmitted.

The curfew regulations will be relaxed for one-half hour, giving young people until 12:30 to reach home but any boys and girls found on the streets between 11 and 12 will be picked up by the police.

Bob Laidlaw and Charles Aebersold are the dance committee for the Jaycees and members and their wives will be present as chaperons.

Refreshments will be available.

Want Investigation of Water

Group Charges Fluoride Shows in Sample Tests; Make Official Check

Charging that fluoride again has shown up in tests of samples of city water, the anti-fluoridation committee asks the council to "make a careful and prompt investigation without further delay."

The request was brought to the council meeting Monday night by Earl Bryan, chairman of the committee.

Councilmen immediately asked city manager Ed Nelson to have samples of city water tested by the Michigan Department of Health.

Counclimen stated that to their knowledge there is no fluoride being put in the city water and if there is fluoride in the water, it is by natural sources.

Tests from the health department are expected back for the next council meeting Monday, Aug. 1.

The anti-fluoridation committee expects an answer on its letter by the next council meeting.

★ ★ ★ ★

This is the letter from the anti-fluoridation committee which was read by Mrs. Naomi Sallows, city clerk:

"To the honorable council of the City of Tecumseh, Michigan
Gentlemen:

On March the 8th, 1954, the registered voters of the City of Tecumseh by a vote of 676 to 622 voted out fluoridation of the municipal drinking water. Then on March 18, 1954 Councilwoman Smith and the rest of the body ordered the fluorine feeders removed from the waterworks pumps, dismantled and stored at the request of the voters who were victorious in this election.

This is to enlighten you members of this city council and the city manager that a constant vigil has been in progress by the people of Tecumseh, Michigan. Namely the Tecumseh Anti-Fluoridation Committee. This committee has taken monthly water samples for analysis to three separate laboratories in three separate cities which are recognized by the Michigan Medical Society and Board of Health as certified analysts. From March 11th, 1954 to on or about May 10th, 1955, analysis showed that no trace of fluorine was in our water supply. Since June 10th, 1955, anywhere from .12 to .0035 to 0.6 P.P.M. to 0.12 of fluorine has appeared in the last analysis. This constitutes an imposition on the rights of the voters of Tecumseh, and is evidenced as follows:

1. The reinstallation of the fluorine feeders.
2. The appearance of fluorine in the water.

We, the people, are now calling your attention to this violation for your immediate investigation of the party or parties who are guilty of this assault on the constitutional rights of the citizens of Tecumseh, Michigan. That you, the electd officials may be aware of the seriousness of this act and will act accordingly to remove this chemical and the feeders from our public utility, namely the public water supply. The fact that fluorine appears in this water supply is prima face evidence of a serious violation and warrants your careful and prompt investigation without further delay. You gentlemen may be unaware that this condition exists but the reflection is on the entire group of our city government and shall not any longer go unchallenged! Again we ask the immediate removal of the feeders and chemical from the water supply.

WHAT IS YOUR ANSWER?

Earl Bryan
Chairman of Tecumseh Anti-Fluoridation Committee"

★ ★ ★ ★

In his report to the council Monday night Ed Nelson, city manager, wrote "There is talk around town that we are adding fluorine to the water. A number of people have asked us in the office if this is true . . . we know we wouldn't add fluorine to the water until it was voted in again."

Under questioning by councilmen, the city manager said: "Yes, it is possible that some one could add the fluorine to our water without our knowing it, but it is very remote."

He said Tuesday the city has no sodium fluoride stored in well houses. The only supply of the chemical is a 400-pound drum stored in the city garage. This drum, he said, has not been opened.

After checking with a chemist, the city manager said he was told that the polo phosphate placed in the city water last May to counteract rust does not combine with natural ingredients to produce a positive test for fluorides.

He admitted that chemical feeders used in putting sodium fluoride into the water are being used for putting polo phosphate into the water. But, he added, "we are not using all the machinery such as the automatics."

He feels the polo phosphate, which is non-toxic and tasteless, is doing a lot of good. The city uses five parts of the chemical for every 1,000,000 gallons of water.

City water has at times tested .2 fluoride per 1,000,000 gallons of water. When the sodium fluoride program was in, water tested 1.00 parts per million gallons.

The opening of the new well on north Union street, the city manager said, may have something to do with the iron content in city water. The new well tests .9 iron per 1,000,000 gallons of water while the other city wells average only .5 iron per 1,000,000 gallons. This fact has a bearing on the amount of rust in the water, he said.

He also pointed out that Tecumseh is now using a record number of gallons of water per day. The city is using 2,300,032 gallons of water daily.

The city manager believes that this may account partially for the odor in some city water because he believes more sulphur is being brought into the water from the wells because the drain on the supply makes necessary deeper pumping.

Water consumption is going up daily, he pointed out, "and it has come to the point where we do not have anything extra."

He said the Tecumseh Products Company will give the city sufficient land north of River Arces for a well and the Michigan Department of Health has been asked to check the location.

Councilmen have authorized a well drilling company to make a test drilling for a well in this location.

Proposed Law Curbs Refuse In Tecumseh

The placing of certain kinds of refuse in city streets will be curbed by a proposed ordinance.

The first reading of the regulation was made at the council meeting Monday night. The ordinance will become effective Sept. 1.

The ordinance points out that the placing of refuse, leaves and grass in the street is expensive to the city because it clogs storm sewer drains. And it also "results in unsightly premises and decreases the efficiency of surface drainage."

When the ordinance becomes effective it will be unlawful "for any person to throw, scatter, sweep, deposit, or leave in any city street or alley or upon any other grounds, either public or private any paper, posters, placards, signs, cards, wrappings, cartons, containers, waste, excelsior or other packing materials, leaves, grass clippings, garden wastes, trees, branches of trees, shrubbery or other litter."

Persons violating the proposed ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Tecumseh Saw Erects Building

Charles L. Kempf, who has been conducting the Tecumseh Saw Shop in the Hotrum building for several months, is erecting a new building for his business on north Mill street.

Work already has begun on the lot north of the Dairy Queen across the Evans Street bridge and Mr. Kempf hopes to move to the new location by the first of Sept.

His work includes the sharpening of saws and lawn mowers, repairing all kinds of small engines and doing locksmith work.

Bush, Rohrback Elected to Britton Board of Education

At the Britton-Macon Agricultural school meeting, two members were elected for three-year terms as trustees.

Leland Bush was re-elected and Harold Rohrback was elected as a new member in place of Jennings Fraver.

At the organizational meeting, these officers were elected: Clarence Hereford, president; G. E. Rodgers, secretary; and Leland Bush, treasurer.

APPOINTED TO BOARD

Perry C. Satterthwaite was appointed to the Herrick Memorial hospital board by action of the council Monday night.

He succeeds Lloyd Rhein who resigned from the board.

HERALD OFFICE CLOSED SATURDAYS

The office of the Tecumseh HERALD will be closed all day Saturday the rest of July and all day Saturday during Aug.

Mrs. Elizabeth Foster, Resident 58 Years, Dies

Elizabeth McKendry Foster, widow of James Foster, and one of Tecumseh's oldest citizens, died Monday morning in Herrick Memorial hospital at the age of 92.

Until the last two years, she had lived alone in the house on West Chicago Blvd., which had been her home for 35 years. Since that time she had been cared for in the LaBounty nursing home.

She was born Dec. 12, 1862, in Antrim County, Ireland, coming to America at the age of 14 and living in the Tecumseh area for the past 58 years. She was a member of the First Methodist church of Tecumseh.

Mrs. Foster is survived by five nieces, Ruth McKendry, Mrs. Wilma Davis, Mrs. Clarence McClure and Mrs. Howard Powers, all of Detroit; Mrs. Chester Gooding of Milan; and four nephews, George McKendry of Tecumseh, John McKendry of Adrian and David Nealy and John Harbison of Milan. A daughter-in-law, Mrs. Bessie Aten of Jackson, has been a devoted daughter to Mrs. Foster.

She was preceded in death by her husband James Foster in 1918 and by a son Albert in 1937.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Green Funeral Home with the Rev. Alvin Brazee officiating and burial was in Brookside cemetery. The bearers were George McKendry, Robert McKee, Sr., and Gordon and Robert McKee, Jr., of Tecumseh, Warren Allen of Tipton and John McKendry of Adrian.

Want To Fly?

Flyers and those interested in learning to fly an airplane are invited to attend an organizational meeting of a flying club, to be held next Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the large hangar at Tecumseh airport.

Forest Abner, local airplane enthusiast, is in charge of the meeting.

Presbyterians Plan Recreation Day

Because rain cut short the annual Presbyterian church school picnic on Children's Day, June 12, members are requested to meet on the recreation field at 1:30 p. m. next Sunday, July 24, to complete the program.

There will be a soft ball game between the teams of David Van Winkle and John Hamilton, other games for all age groups and swimming.

The Men's Club will furnish free swim tickets for all children of school age whose names are on the church school roles.

The committee reminds members, however, that there will be no picnic, so have your dinner before you come.

SERVE BIBLE SCHOOL

These persons are serving as the staff of the First Presbyterian church's Bible school which ends Friday: Mrs. C. W. Hanna, Mrs. R. G. Anderson, Mrs. Laine Holden, Mrs. Earl Baldwin, Mrs. Dave VanWinkle, Misses Julia Boyce, Judy Kempf, Susie Hite, Judy VanWinkle, Ruth Boyce, Joanie Johnston, and Linda Baldwin, and Mr. Harold Hammel.

Jaycees Sponsor Midget Car Races Here Next Sunday

A three-quarters midget auto race will be held on the city parking lot behind the Strand Theater Sunday.

Permission to use the lot was granted to Del King, Jaycee secretary by the council Monday night.

The first race will begin at 2 p. m. There will be three heats, a pursuit and a feature race.

The cars are from the Detroit area. The world record for the cars is 108 miles per hour, but they are expected to reach only 35 miles per hours in the race here Sunday.

Children 14 years and under, if accompanied by their parents, will be admitted free.

Proceeds go to the Jaycees' youth activities program.

Aged Pedestrian Dies from Traffic Injuries

George A. Silberzahn, 72, of Adrian died Tuesday in Bixby hospital after suffering two broken legs and other injuries when he was struck by a car driven by Mrs. Frank T. Marsh, 7415 Occidental road, Tecumseh.

The accident happened Monday on Winter street in Adrian.

Witnesses said he crossed in the middle of the block and stepped in front of Mrs. Marsh's car.

Mrs. Marsh was not held.

RECKLESS DRIVER JAILED

Ernest R. Gomez, 22 years old, of 103 North Wyandotte street, Tecumseh, was sentenced to pay a fine and costs of $58.60 and to spend five days in jail after arraignment in Justice John K. Lowe's court Saturday.

Gomez was charged with reckless driving after his arrest by Adrian police on Deerfield road Saturday.

BAKED GOODS SALE

The Tecumseh Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold a baked goods sale in the empty Palman's store building Friday, July 22, from 2 to 8 p. m.

Proceeds from the sale will go for the club's youth activities program.

NAME PARTRIDGE

Mel Partridge was re-appointed to the city cemetery board by action of the council Monday night.

Board

The new Tecumseh Lumber Co. has discovered that there is nothing new under the sun.

The week of its opening, workmen, remodeling an old house at the foot of Prospect Hill, uncovered a board with the painted lettering "Tecumseh Lumber Co." The owner, Mrs. McKerchey gave the board to Howard Truesdale, owner of the new lumber company.

Research on the part of Mrs. Truesdale found in the issue of the Tecumseh HERALD for Jan. 25, 1883, the following announcement—"We have a five-year lease of the lumber yard on Shawnee street near the depot, besides being the sole owners of the planing mill and sash and door factory at the corner of Pearl and Shawnee streets, formerly owned by S. W. Temple. We have come to stay to do an honest, legitimate business and cordially invite the people to call on us and make our acquaintance. We are bound to please. Respectfully, The Tecumseh Lumber Co."

Five Golfers Go To State Tourney

Five local boys have qualified for the state golf tournament which is being held at Lansing this week.

They are Val Spangler, Ron Gurtzweiler, Dick Baker, David Lamkin and Marshall Boike.

National Jaycee headquarters recommends that only four golfers be sent by each club but because of the fine play by the local golfers it was decided to send all five of them.

Play in the state tournament lasts for three days with the top golfers going to the national tournament.

Jaycees thank the recreation board for its donation in helping to pay the expenses of the local golfers.

Val Spangler topped the Lenawee entries in the tournament. His 78 was the best showing of county entries, giving him a tie for seventh with nine other golfers. He had a pair of 39s.

Other Tecumseh scores were Dick Baker, 83; Ron Gurtzweiler, 85; Dave Lamkin, .80; and Marshall Boike, 102.

Dog Nights Bring Fine

Opal Jennings of Tecumseh was charged with disturbing the peace when she was arraigned before Justice Robert L. French Tuesday.

She paid a fine and costs of $13.60.

She was arrested by Tecumseh police when complaints were brought against her for having three tied up dogs barking all night.

Police Chief Kilbourn warns dog owners to keep their animals tied up but quiet at night. He said his department has had too many complaints and that offenders will be prosecuted.

BULLETIN!

It has happened in Tecumseh. The first small fry to get a Davy Crockett haircut is Max Handy, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Handy of Route 2, Tecumseh. Max received the famous tonsorial job giving him a built-in coonskin cap Monday afternoon at Henkel's. Another lad was scheduled for one, too, but barbers talked him out of it.

U NU, BURMA PRIME MINISTER, still wears the 4-H Club tie clasp that Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson gave him recently in Washington. The prime minister was wearing the friendly memento when he had his picture taken for the HERALD with Geneva and Perry Satterthwaite in Ann Arbor. Perry, incidentally, reports that U NU speaks perfect English and, because he was educated in England, he has a pronounced English accent.

EVER NOTICE HOW MUCH CONFIDENCE is placed in a red traffic light? This thought reoccurs every time I see a pedestrian crossing the boulevard on green and with cars having the red light and it is indeed wonderful to place such confidence in mere color.

THE E. B. KIMBALLS FROM Houston, Texas, here last week visiting old friends, have an air conditioning unit in their car. The "heart" of the unit, Mr. Kimball proudly reported, was made in the Tecumseh Products Co.

IT'S ALWAYS GOOD COPY when some one or some company in the home town makes the pages of a national magazine. This distinction came to Baldwin Hardware in the July issue of "The Hardware Retailer" which has a circulation of 36,000 in the United States and Canada. Ned Baldwin, owner, and Mary Drake, manager of the toy department, are shown in a three-page picture story as they attended a large toy show in Toledo, Ohio. Baldwin's inventory of toys this year, according to the article, will be valued at more than $6500.

WALKING IS A LOST ART but a guy still has to get to the garage somehow.

ADD NATURAL SCIENCE DEPT.: Occupational diseases among woodpeckers should logically include scrambled brains, loosened eyeballs and ruptured eardrums. But nature, as usual, has a logic of its own in adapting its creatures to peculiar living habits. A two-page release from Cranbrook Institute of Science included this most interesting comment: "Hours of daily hammering into trees would jar loose many delicate head membranes if there were not a built-in shock absorber of spongy cartilage between the beak and cranium. This buffer functions in the same manner as the cushion on a catcher's mask softens the impact of a ball striking the iron grillwork."

TECUMSEH TOWNSHIP SUPERVISOR W. G. Waldron thinks folks should be talking up the possibility of a Tecumseh anniversary day. "It should be more than just a homecoming carnival," he said. "A worth while program would include the historical pageantry of the Tecumseh area which is so rich in lore." He recalled that in 1924 Tecumseh had a three-day celebration and he believes such a program could be repeated again for the mutual benefit of every Tecumseh citizen.

DR. BOB MOHR BROUGHT in a clipped W. W. Lutz column in the Detroit News which discussed the ever-growing fashion of men wearing Bermuda shorts. The article quoted a psychologist who said "Men who wear shorts run the risk of being called aggressive individualists." Dr. Bob says this may or may not apply to others who wear shorts but it most certainly does not apply to him and his shorts.

A PLACE THAT USED TO PRODUCE soy beans is now putting out a fine crop of talented actors and actresses. It's the Saline Mill Theater in Saline. If you want to see and to enjoy real theater in a historical and cool setting, drop over to Saline (it's a leisurely 20-minute drive from Tecumseh) and attend one of the plays.

MRS. VERN MANWARING just can't wait for her family reunion. So when she read, or heard or something that the Pocklington clan was meeting at the Britton park on Sunday she "baked a cake." There did not seem to be familiar faces in either of the groups in the park so the Manwarings drove over to the Elmer Eberhardts for reinforcements. You've guessed it. The reunion was two Sundays away. But the Eberhardts already had unexpected guests so five more—plus a cake and fixings—were just the merrier. Now they are wondering how much fried chicken

PRAIRIE SCHOOL REUNION

The Prairie school reunion was held Saturday afternoon at the Britton park and was well attended by its former members. The business meeting was opened by the president, and was followed by Mrs. Jennie Theeke singing "School Bells Are Ringing." A poem was read by Mrs. Vern Gripton. Election of officers was held with the following reelected: President, Mrs. Martha Gorham; vice president, Mrs. Jennie Theeke; secretary, Agnes Rickert; treasurer, Harry Tucker, and corresponding secretary, Lilly Millyard. It was decided to hold the next reunion in the same park the third Saturday in July 1956. Mrs. Gorham taught in the Prairie school 60 years ago.

DUETS CLASS MEETS

A picnic was held at the Evans lake cottage of the Rev. and Mrs. O. E. Priest Sunday by the Duets class of the Congregational Christian church. The Rev. and Mrs. Gerald Hallauer of Algona, Iowa and Mr. and Mrs. Don Curry of Ypsilanti were out-of-town guests. The Rev. Hallauer and Mr. Curry organized the Duets class a few years ago.

The Mary-Martha Circle of the Congregational Christian church met last week for their July meeting in the home of Mrs. Helen Bryan. Refreshments were served by the hostess following the business meeting. There will be no meeting in August.

Mrs. John Keran entertained in her home Thursday evening at a shower in honor of Mrs. Oliver Craig and son Jimmy. Twenty-eight ladies were present and games were played for prizes which were givn to the honored guests, who also opened many other lovely gifts. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

The Sarah DuBois Past Noble Grand club met recently at the home of Mrs. Delora Zarnow near Milan. It was decided during the business meeting to hold a bazaar in the fall with Pearl Smith and Mrs. Eva Covell in charge. An apron set, which was given away by the club, was won by Mrs. Ray Covell of Plymouth. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Belle Cundiff, which will be a potluck picnic supper Aug. 12.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith and children and Mr. and Mrs. Forest Weichner returned Saturday from a week's vacation at Cranberry lake in northern Michigan.

The Rev. and Mrs. Gerald Hallauer of Algona, Iowa, who are spending a week at Wamplers lake were Sunday callers in Britton and are leaving for their home Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Fairbanks and children are spending a week at Evans lake.

Mrs. O. E. Priest returned from a week's vacation at Camp Hoven.

Mrs. Martha Gorham accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Sturtevant and Mrs. Gertrude Birdsall were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Gorham's son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gorham at Hanover, Mich.

Jennings Frayer has entered Herrick Memorial hospital for X-rays and treatment.

Mrs. Fannie Allen of Detroit, who is spending the summer in Tecumseh, spent from Friday until Monday at the home of Mrs. Maude Davis.

Dr. and Mrs. Raynor Brown of Adrian were callers Sunday of Dr. Brown's mother, Mrs. Viva Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wirth of Urbana, Ill., returned to their home Monday after a 10-day visit with her mother, Mrs. Mary Adams and other relatives. Terry and Candice McEnroe of Tecumseh accompanied them to Illinois for a week's visit.

Mrs. Charles DesErmia returned to her home in Britton after her recent illness at the Herrick Memorial hospital.

Alice M. Lawhead Becomes Bride of William Bearinger

Cathedral candles in tall holders tied with satin bows lined the aisles of the Ridgeway Church of the Nazarene as Alice Mae Lawhead and William A. Bearinger were married at 8 p.m. Saturday evening.

The Rev. C. A. Bearinger, father of the bridegroom and pastor of the church, performed the ceremony before an altar banked with white gladioli, palms and branched candelabra. The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myrle Lawhead of Rt. 3, Blissfield, was given in marriage by her father.

A concert of nuptial music was played by Mrs. Loren Avery and a sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Kline Dickerson, sang "Because" and "Always" with Mrs. Avery as accompanist.

The lovely bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace made with paneled skirt over hoops, Peter Pan collar and long pointed sleeves. Her finger-tip veil was edged with lace and held by a sequin trimmed band and her flowers were white orchids in a hand bouquet.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Paul Hawley of Florida, a sister of the bride, wore yellow net over taffeta and carried red roses in a bouquet accented by pale yellow tulle. Miss Janet Bearinger, a sister of the groom, and one of the bridesmaids wore a similar dress in pink carrying pink roses and tulle while Mrs. Lee Spohr, the second bridesmaid, was in blue with yellow roses. A niece of the groom, little Cathy Lynn Poole was flower girl.

Bernard Bearinger of Britton served his brother as best man and the bride's brother, Harold Lawhead and Verl Ballmer, a brother-in-law of the groom were the ushers.

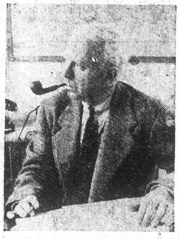
Mrs. Lawhead wore aqua lace with white accessories for her daughter's wedding, while Mrs. Bearinger's gown was pale rose, also with white and both wore rose corsages.

Three hundred guests attended the reception held at the Grange hall. The five-tiered wedding cake was cut by Mrs. Donald Baker and Mrs. Robert Hosemeyer and Mrs. Veril Lidster served the punch.

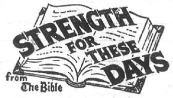
The new Mr. and Mrs. Bearinger left on a trip through the east, the bride wearing an aqua dress with white accessories and an orchid from her bouquet. Returning, they will live in an apartment on west Main street in Britton.

Mrs. Bearinger graduated from Britton high school and for five years has taught in the Deerfield schools. Mr. Bearinger, a graduate of Wayne high school, served four years in the U.S. Navy and is now employed at the Tecumseh Products Co.

Leland Stowe to Teach at U-M



Leland Stowe, noted author, lecturer and war correspondent and at present a roving editor for The Reader's Digest, will be visiting professor of journalism at The University of Michigan this fall. Prof. Wesley H. Maurer, chairman of the Department of Journalism, says Stowe will teach a course in world affairs, open to any student, and courses in foreign correspondence and in advanced writing for graduate students in journalism during the Fall Semester.



The heavens declare the glory of God, and the firmament showeth His handiwork. — (Psalm 19, 1.)

Looking upward to the beauty and the orderly course of the myriad stars at night, how is it possible that a man could doubt there is God? And how wondrous it is that each of us, as each of the stars, is part of a loving God's creation, and of His plan.

Is That So!

By Clara Waldron

DO-IT-YOURSELF SUCCESS STORY NO. 1

It was nearly three years ago on one of those "just a breath of air" drives about town. Turning south off M-50 into Billmeyer Highway, we were absorbed in pleased approval of the way someone was restoring "the old Waring place" when, as a complete surprise, there was a new house going up on the site of the old barn. An ambitious, two story one of cinderblock construction that promised to be most attractive.

"I wonder who is building that." "Well," said the driver, who believes in the direct approach, "Let's stop and find out."

It seemed a trifle brash but the young couple working on the new lawn were perhaps used to such queries. Anyway, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Milkeim not only answered our question but showed us through the house, and to our slack-jawed amazement we learned that they were building it, literally from the ground up with their own four hands.

It seemed almost unbelievable then and today viewing the finished result, so complete and perfect in its details that it might have stepped out of a magazine, it seems even more impossible. Even the Milkeims wonder now 'how they did it.

It took them five years during which Mr. M. worked full time as a salesman of floor coverings and Mrs. M. did laundry work to earn extra money for furniture. But they had lived for seven years over a store. Now there was a baby boy who needed room to grow up. "If you want it badly enough you can and when you have invested all your savings you just can't stop."

Neither had ever built "so much as a dog house" but Mr. M's work had brought him in contact with building and builders and some of it "rubbed off" on the observant amateur. Meanwhile Mrs. M. was reading government bulletins and drawing plans. She learned about cement, basement footings, septic tanks, putting up frames and everything else imaginable. They had no plans and specifications except the ones she drew.

The lot had a dividend in the form of a good well and expediency led them to have a professional digger do the basement but the big outside cistern and the long, deep ditches for its pipes and those to the well were dug by Mrs. Milkeim. Just pick and shovel work of the "back-breaking" variety and she has pictures to prove it. Incidentally she weighs 125 pounds.

The time element forced them to have help on the roof, the plastering was done by a professional and an electrician laid the main cables but all the rest is pure Milkeim.

They built the fireplace, installed the marble window sills, assembled and glazed the aluminum window sash, "plumbed" the tiled bath, the basement shower and the sink across the corner window of the "dream' kitchen with its lovely view over the fields. There are built-in dressing tables and beds with book-shelf headboards, cupboards in every spare inch (each with chrome edged shelves and linoleum surfaces) and the 20 (count 'em) closets all have raised floors for easy cleaning.

One decorative item links all the rooms. The pulls on drawers and door are shallow, cupped, wooden disks with a center inset of linoleum, keyed to the color of the rooms. These were turned out by Mr. M. but they, and all the birch doors and woodwork and the painted walls were finished by his wife. Every surface was "gone over" from five to seven times. Their satin smoothness tells the story.

After a year and a half of work the Milkeims moved in and then one room at a time was completed down to the last detail. Not an orthodox method, but "we could buy one gallon of paint but not 20." For this was almost entirely a pay-as-you-go enterprise.

The power saw was moved from one room to the next. For the rest, "You need a good hammer, a level and a plane, a spade and a wheelbarrow" and it might be added an iron determination and infinite patience.

Last year they added a two-car garage and now they are screening a westward-view porch. There is a roomy office and display room in the basement for now the house is both a home and a place of business. There is a big lawn, lovely flowers and a thrifty vegetable garden, for with the house built Mrs. Milkeim has to have something to do.

SCHAFER INVITED TO CONVENTION

Ralph Schafer of Tecumseh, has been invited to Valparaiso University, Valparaiso, Ind., to attend the second annual campus convention of the Valparaiso Advisory Council on Aug. 5-6. Convention participants will discuss problems and methods of gaining increased understanding and support for Valparaiso's program of Christian education.

Mr. Schafer was appointed by Dr. O. P. Kretzmann, V.U. president, to serve as a member of the Valparaiso Advisory Council. The Council is composed of representatives from congregations of Synodical Conference Lutheran churches.

Mr. Schafer is a member of Emmanuel Lutheran Church at Britton.

W.S.C.S. MEETS

Mrs. Nina Sturtevant and Mrs. Thelma Frayer were hostesses to the Ridgeway W.S.C.S. at the church Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Juanita Francer was program leader assisted by Mrs. Pauline Bailey, Mrs. Jane Bird and Miss Julia Gilmore. During the business meeting, conducted by the president, Mrs. Pauline Bailey, announcement was made of the district meeting to be held in Saline, July 28. Dessert was served by the hostesses.

Jennings Frayer is again a patient in Herrick Memorial hospital.

Robert Hite and son of Reading called on Ridgeway friends Sunday.

Daniel Linn visited friends in Tipton, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Boaz and family of Sherman, Texas, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Johnston and other relatives, left for their home Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Sturtevant, Mrs. Gertrude Birdsall and Mrs. Martha Gorham were guests Sunday of Mrs. Gorham's son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gorham of Concord.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lewis and Mrs. Rachel Lewis of Ann Arbor were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Strong.

Mrs. W. E. Allen, who has been spending some time in Tecumseh, visited friends in Ridgeway and Britton last week. She will return to her home in Detroit July 31.

Helen J. Taylor Is Bride of Paul E. Graham

Palms and cathedral candelabra decorated the Ridgeway Church of the Nazarene last Wednesday evening for the wedding of Helen Joyce Taylor and Paul Elden Graham.

The Rev. C. A. Bearinger, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony at 8 p.m. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Taylor of Ridgeway and Mr. Graham is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Graham Sr. of Hillsdale.

Elaine Lawhead accompanied Mrs. Stanley Reid, cousin of the bridegroom of Ann Arbor, as she sang "I Love You Truly" and "As the Years Go By."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a floor length gown of satin with a lace covered bodice, which featured a pointed waistline and long lace sleeves with Peter Pan collar. Lace insets formed points in the front and back of the full nylon tulle skirt. A fingertip veil embroidered with seed pearls was attached to her small lace cap. She carried a white Bible covered with lace and satin topped with a miniature yellow cross of rosebuds tied with ribbons.

The bride was attended by Miss Janet Lawhead as maid of honor and bridesmaids were Marilyn Baker and Jacquelyn Jenkins of Adrian. Jacquelyn Graham, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl.

Roger Harsh was Mr. Graham's best man and Robert and Floyd Graham, brothers of the bridegroom, were ushers.

Miss Lawhead, as maid of honor, wore blue embroidered nylon fashioned matching haedband gown, with matching headband and gloves. Miss Baker and Miss Jenkins were in yellow and pink gowns, respectively, and the flower girl wore a floor length dress of Nile green. They carried bouquets of white chrysanthemums and baby's breath.

Mrs. Taylor chose a powder blue nylon dress with pink accessories for her daughter's wedding and she wore a corsage of pink rosebuds. Mrs. Graham was in nylon print with white accessories and a corsage of white rosebuds.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Belt of Dexter were hosts at the reception which followed at the Tecumseh Grange hall. Mrs. Robert Graham and Mrs. Floyd Graham cut the cake, which was made by Mrs. Foster Hardesty, and Mrs. Clifford Graham of Monroe poured. Mrs. George Glover of South Bend, Ind., served the punch.

Others who assisted were Mrs. Gail Hall, Ruth Boyce, Frances LeBaron, Edith and Elaine Kimerer, Kathryn and Delores Lidster, Carol Loveland, Mrs. Sidney Hathaway and Mrs. Russell Lawhead. Mrs. Francis Ponder of Bay City registered the guests.

The new Mrs. Graham is a graduate of Tecumseh high school this June and the bridegroom graduated from the same school in 1954. At present he is serving with the U.S. Navy stationed in Brunswick, Ga., where the couple will reside following a trip through northern Michigan.

Gardening People Garden Club Topic

"Gardens and Gardening People" was the title chosen by Miss Ann Carson for her talk before 25 members of the Garden Club, Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Floyd Elliott. They were the gardens and the people she had visited on her trip through the southern states early this spring and the brought much of interest and information to her audience.

Mrs. Joseph Sheward was admitted to membership in the club during the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Harold Wilson, and Mrs. John Thompson told of the work of the hospital landscape committee. She reported that iris, which were the gift of Mrs. Neil Pearson had been set on the grounds and that other bulbs had been ordered for fall planting.

Mrs. Don Heesen gave a very satisfactory report of the activities of the committee of the Library Garden Center, and Mrs. Harold Wilson and Miss Ann Carson, who were delegates to the 24th annual conference of the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan held in Jackson recently gave an interesting and worthwhile report of the things they heard and saw there.

The hostess and her committee, Mrs. George Wright, Mrs. Neil Pearson and Mrs. Joe Rice served a dessert luncheon at the close of the meeting. The club will not meet during August but will be entertained in September by Mrs. Heesen.

HEBB—WHITE REUNION

The fifth annual reunion of the Hebb and White families was held at the 4-H building at the fairgrounds in Adrian, July 18. Some 125 members of the two families were present, those from out of the state being Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Broan and son of Gulfport, Miss. and Mrs. Mary Kinsey and H. D. Grey, also of Miss.

Tuckey--Sanders Vows Exchanged in Georgia

At the Methodist church of Ft. Valley, Ga., July 3 occurred the marriage of Gene Tuckey, son of Mrs. Harry Tuckey of Tecumseh and Miss Elinor Ann Sanders, daughter of Mrs. Horace Avera of Ft. Valley. It was attended by a large group from Tecumseh.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Granville N. Rainey, pastor of the church, and the bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Dr. J. G. Mingledorf of Macon, Ga.

Attendants were the bride's sister, Mrs. Harold Wall of Macon, as matron of honor; another sister, Mrs. William Martin of Tecumseh and Miss Juanita Thompson of Ft. Valley as bridesmaids, while William Martin acted as best man and William Hudson of Ft. Valley, Harold Wall of Macon, William Avera of Smyrna, Ga. and Robert Rentschler of Tecumseh were ushers.

Organ music before and during the ceremony was played by Mrs. George Haslam Jr. and the soloist for the occasion was Mrs. Jean Holliday of Hickory, N. C.

Miss Sanders chose eyelet embroidered swiss for her wedding gown and her veil of illusion fell from a tiara of seed pearls. Her bridal bouquet was of white roses, lilies of the valley and stephanotis.

Pastel shades of dotted swiss formed the gowns of the attendants and their flowers were painted daisies.

A reception was given after the ceremony at the Ft. Valley Woman's Club by Mr. and Mrs. Avera after which the couple left for a trip through the Smoky mountains.

The bride, a graduate nurse, has been employed at the University hospital in Ann Arbor and after Aug. 1 will be a member of the nursing staff at Herrick Memorial hospital. Mr. Tuckey, who graduated from Tecumseh high school and has served for four years with the U. S. Air Force, much of the time overseas, is now employed by Howard Truesdale, contractor. Mr. and Mrs. Tuckey are living in the Watkins apartments at 209 E. Chicago Blvd.

Saturday evening, July 16, Mrs. Harry Tuckey gave a reception for her son and his bride at her home on north Ottawa street, an open house which was attended by their many loyal friends and by relatives and friends from Milan, Dundee, Kalamazoo and Clinton. The house was beautifully decorated with garden flowers and Mrs. B. B. Moon, Mrs. Marvin Barber and Miss Nellie Wilson assisted Mrs. Tuckey.

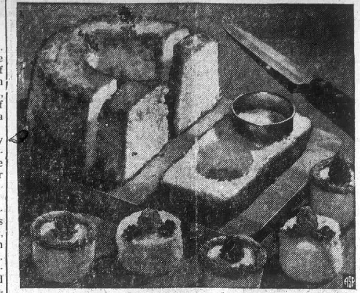
PASTOR'S WIFE HONORED

The ladies of the Tecumseh Missionary Baptist church honored their pastor's wife Friday evening with a surprise party at the home of Mrs. Wheeler Brown on Mill street. Gladioli were used throughout the house and decorations were in pink and green. Games were enjoyed and prizes won were given to the honored guest.

In addition to the hostess, Mrs. Brown and the honored guest, Mrs. Sadie Owens, those present were Mrs. Carson Bayless, Mrs. Robert Maupin, Mrs. I. V. Engle, Mrs. Lewis Lake, Mrs. Robert Hamilton, Mrs. Dollie Gainey, Mrs. Gladys Wilbar, Mrs. Burton Cosby, Mrs. Roy Bunch, Mrs. Calvin Dixon, Mrs. Ima McClain and Mrs. Edgar Ritch.

Smoked shoulder butt should be simmered in water until tender, about 45 minutes per pound. If you like, glaze it in a hot oven for a few minutes before serving.

Angel Cake Rounds



With a packaged, un-iced angel food cake and your pastry tube you can make adorable little party cakes for bridal showers, church gatherings, or any occasion that calls for a light, pretty Summer dessert.

The little cakes are easy to cut from slices of either the round or loaf angel cake from your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department. The cake is made from a home-type cook book recipe and will cut easily with either a cookie cutter or any round glass. One 8-ounce cake will make 10 rounds.

Decorate the angel cake rounds with a sweet and creamy butter and confectioner's sugar icing. Add a few drops of red and green food coloring to portions of the icing to make pink flowers and delicate green leaves.

MACON NEWS

Mrs. Hamilton Moore

Correspondent

MACON W.S.C.S.

The July meeting of the Macon Women's Society of Christian Service will be held at the home of Mrs. Herbert Morden Tuesday, July 26 instead of Thursday, July 28. The date has been changed so that women of the group may attend the district seminar and officers' training course to be held in Saline that day. There will also be a seminar at Trenton Tuesday, July 26 and in Munith Tuesday, Aug. 2.

BIBLE SCHOOL BEGINS AUG. 1

Vacation Bible school will be held each evening from 7 until 9 o'clock beginning Aug. 1 through Aug. 5 for boys and girls of the Macon vicinity. Closing exercises will be Sunday morning, Aug. 7. The Macon Sunday school picnic will be July 27.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Halladay and granddaughter Linda Hoover of Clinton have been spending a few days with their son Eric Halladay and family at their cottage on Lake Huron.

The Macon Youth Fellowship will sponsor a song festival Sunday evening, July 24 in the Macon Methodist church. Ice cream will be served following the program. A free will offering will be taken and contributed to the remodeling fund. The public is invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mueller are the parents of a baby daughter born in Saline Community hospital Saturday morning. The Muellers are building a new home on Short street in Macon.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton F. Moore and son Richard were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Paull and family at their cottage on Big Lake near Hartland.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Patterson were hosts to the third and fourth degree team of Tecumseh Grange Sunday evening. A hot dog roast and potluck supper was served. The evening was spent socially.

At the Macon church board meeting, it was decided to obtain bids to finish the remodeling work on the church. The Rev. and Mrs. H. Vaughn Whited will be vacationing through the month of August. Substitute pastors will fill the Macon pulpit.

Mr. and Mrs. James. Thomas have returned from their wedding trip through northern Michigan. They are residing in Macon.

Douglas Wilcox of Tecumseh is visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Verl Sanch.

Mrs. Richard Vershum spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Reum in Milan. In the afternoon they attended the funeral of an uncle in Dundee.

Several friends gathered at the Macon church Thursday evening for a miscellaneous shower for Mrs. Merle Hammons, the former Thelma Howell.

Rices Entertain French Guests

Tecumseh Rotarians were introduced Tuesday evening to two visitors from Lyon, France, who were guests of Mr. Joe Rice. They were Louis Garin and Pierre Carlier, refrigeration engineers who have been visiting the Tecumseh Products for the past week.

To Mr. Rice, however, they are more than business acquaintances for when the Rices were in Lyon last Sept. they were entertained by M. Carlier, his wife and their three children for two delightful days.

Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Rice returned that hospitality by a typically American back yard picnic and barbecue at their home.

o

Charged with Gross Indecency

Elmer W. Sharpe, 39, of 29 Mill street Tecumseh, demanded examination when he was arraigned before Justice L. J. VanDeusen of Clinton Tuesday on a charge of gross indecency.

He was released on a $2000 bond and his hearing was set for next Monday in justice court.

He was charged with indecent relations with a 16-year-old Tecumseh boy.

From Cradle to Combine

The history of harvesting, from cradle to combine, is graphically portrayed by students from the departments of agricultural engineering and drama at Michigan State University. The hand cradles, patterned after the ancient sickle of the Egyptians, remained in use as late as 100 years ago. A comparatively recent innovation in harvesting, the self-propelled combine in the background was introduced in the original model in 1938. From cradle to combine was a forward stride which reduced labor, permitted more timely harvest and helped make America the greatest small grain-producing nation on earth. The role which power farming equipment has played in minimizing this danger of crop failure in achieving maximum yields will be highlighted at the big free Centennial of Farm Mechanization, Aug. 15-20, on the Michigan State University campus and farm. The daily pageant will depict a hundred years of progress in agriculture. People from all parts of the world are expected to visit the 20 million dollar display, largest of its kind ever held anywhere, at East Lansing. (MSU Photo)

BIRTHDAY HONORED

Miss Myrtle Mattis was most happily surprised Monday evening when the members of the traffic department of the local telephone office entrtained in honor of her birthday anniversary. An outdoor barbecue and picnic at the home of Mrs. Wendell Crowley on James street was attended by 22 operators, former operators and guests.

There was a lighted birthday cake and a gift from the group for the honored guest, whose reaction was that she felt like "Queen for a Day."

Patty and Carol Barris of Jackson were out-of-town guests. Mrs. Merval Mattis of Clinton was unable to attend because of illness in her family.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS from The Bible

Ye have heard that it hath been said, Thou shalt love thy neighbor and hate thine enemy. But I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you and persecute you.—(Matthew 5:43,44.)

The Silver Lining

they could have made way with if they had innocently barged into one of those other groups.

THIS OLD HOUSE—THE ONE BUILT by Musgrove Evans in 1826 which still stands on Logan street—was pictured in Sunday's Detroit News with an article by Bill Noble, News staff writer. Bill, I thought, did the best job to date of any of the daily writers.

MISS GRACE KELLEY has been making an extended stay at the Strand. For the past three weeks Walt Nichols has had her cavorting on his silver screen. The first week she played in "Rear Window;" then she was there in "Bridges of Toko-Ri;" and last weekend the versatile and beautiful Miss Kelley outdid herself when she co-starred in "Country Girl." Incidentally, Hollywood's leading man, William Holden, appeared in two of the pictures.

YES, YOU CAN BE A PACEMAKER:

You've all that the greatest men have had;
Two arms, two hands, two legs, two eyes,
And a brain to use if you would be wise,
With this equipment they all began.
So start for the top and say, "I can."
Look them over, the wise and great,
They take their food from a common plate,
And similar knives and forks they use,
With similar laces they tie their shoes,
The world considers them brave and smart,
But you've all they had when they made their start.
YOU are the handicap you must face,
You are the one who must choose your place.
You must say where you want to go,
How much you will study the truth to know;
God has equipped you for life, but He
Lets you decide what you want to be.
Courage must come from the soul within
The man must furnish the will to win.
So figure it out for yourself, my lad,
You were born with all that the great have had,
With your equipment they all began,
Get hold of yourself and say, "I can."

— Anon.

THOUGHT FOR THIS WEEK: Anyone who proposes to do good must not expect people to roll stones out of his way, but must accept his load calmly if they even roll a few more upon it. — Albert Schweitzer.

Living With Peace Of Mind

By KIRBY PAGE

Through the eyes of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, look upon the beneficence of nature:

And nature, the old nurse, took
The child upon her knee,
Saying, "Here is a story book
My Father has writ for thee.
Come, wander with me," she said,
'In regions yet untrod
And read what is still unread
in the manuscripts of God."

And rejoice, with Clare MacDermott:

His hand pours beauty from a shining cup
Upon green hills and leafy mountain-ways,
That I may pause in wonder—looking up,
And worshipping throughout my length of days;
While the slim willows bend in cloudy lace,
And zephyrs voice his praise, blowing cool,
In the blue mists above I see his face;
It gleams, tree-shadowed, from some silver pool.
I read his meaning in a thousand ways;
Each slight, half-open bud, each waving strand
Of meadow-grass unfolds to my rapt gaze
Some message that I know and understand;
While in the glory of fruit-laden tree,
The magic of the rose—a ripened pod,
In fields encircled by his mystery,
I hark the vibrant murmur—here is God.

He that hath eyes let him see, let him behold the glory of God everywhere. Pay attention to the manuscript of God, read the record of his unfathomable love for his children. And rejoice! And give thanks in word and deed!

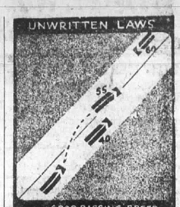
UNWRITTEN LAWS



No. 69 GOOD PASSING SPEED IS 15 MILES FASTER

Sometimes passing the car ahead is like getting a tooth pulled. It is a painful process so you better get it over as soon as possible.

Experts say that in passing another car it is best to go 10 to 15 miles per hour faster than the car you are passing. If you go only 5 miles per hour faster it will take too long to get by—and you are in that "head-on" lane too long. If you travel 20 miles per hour faster your top speed gets so high you will have trouble recovering if an emergency develops. It does not take much to put your car out of control at 70. Remember the slogan, "SLOW DOWN AND LIVE".

Tecumseh Has Points of Interest Too...

16 - 13 - 20 - 17 - these are not only statistics. They are people, the numbers of living, breathing, spending people who have been brought to Tecumseh each day — to stay here and patronize our city. Yes, they spend here, some a little and some a lot. Many have sent others here, a few have become permanent residents — and all Tecumseh has benefitted.

The Tecumseh Motel has spent thousands of dollars to bring these people to Tecumseh. Tecumseh, through the Tecumseh Motel, is recommended in many travel bureaus, including the AAA. The direct result of this favorable publicity has been THOUSANDS of paying visitors to our community. We are happy and proud to thus be of service to our city.

It is so much better to try to bring people to Tecumseh rather than to devise means of sending them away.

CITY OF TECUMSEH COUNCIL MEETING

July 18, 1955

Present: Mayor Hanna; Councilmen Hamilton, Moore, Powell, Purkey, Schwartz.

Absent: Councilman Titley.

Meeting opened with the invocation by Hamilton.

Minutes of the meeting held July 5, 1955 were read and approved.

Motion Schwartz and seconded Purkey the bills amounting to $21,531.38 be allowed and orders drawn up for the same. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion Powell and seconded Purkey the Junior Chamber of Commerce be given permission to hold "Midget Races" at the City Parking Lot, which is located on West Logan Street, Sunday, July 24 in the afternoon. Motion carried unanimously.

Hearing was held, in regard to the rebuilding of the "Protane Gas Company," and tabled until next meeting when more complete maps and an agreement regarding screening and boundaries could be presented.

The following ordinance was presented and tabled until next meeting.

ORDINANCE

WHEREAS the placing of refuse, leaves and grass in the street is a cause of expense to the City in that it clogs the drains; and

WHEREAS such a practice results in unsightly premises and decreases the efficiency of the surface drainage.

NOW THEREFORE THE CITY OF TECUMSEH ORDAINS:

Section 4.535. That it shall be unlawful for any person to throw, scatter, sweep, deposit, or leave in any public street or alley or upon any other grounds, either public or private, any paper, posters, placards, signs, cards, wrappings, cartons, containers, waste, excelsior or other packing materials, leaves, grass clippings, garden wastes, trees, branches of trees, shrubbery or other litter.

Section 4.536. Effective 1 September 1955. That any person or persons who shall violate any of the provisions or requirements of this ordinance, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

Communication from Earl Bryan, Chairman of the Tecumseh Anti-Fluoridation Committee was read and ordered placed on file in the City Clerk's Office.

The City Council wishes to go on record as stating that there is no fluoride being put in the city water to the knowledge of the City Council and City Manager. If there is fluoride in the water it is by natural sources. Investigation is being made at once to ascertain the percentage of fluoride reported to be in city water.

Mayor Hanna recommended the appointment of Perry C. Satterthwaite to the Hospital Board to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Lloyd Rhein.

Motion Moore and seconded Hamilton to accept the mayor's recomendation. Motion carried unanimously.

Mayor Hanna recommended the appointment of Mel Partridge to the Cemetery Board to succeed himself. Motion Hamilton and seconded Schwartz to accept the mayor's recommendation. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion Purkey and seconded Powell the City Clerk be instructed to engage the services of Moore, Smith and Dale C.P.A. to audit the city books. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion Schwartz and seconded Purkey, Mr. Nelson be authorized to engage Dunbar Drilling Company to make a test drilling for a well on property located in the northern section of River Acres Subdivision. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion Schwartz and seconded Hamilton to accept the City Manager's report and the same placed on file in the City Office. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion Schwartz and seconded Hamilton the meeting adjourn.

Local Topics

Mr. and Mrs. George Elliott and children are vacationing at Otsego Lake near Gaylord this week.

Mrs. Lauren Gall, Mrs. Maurice Malady, Marie Philips and Myrtle Mattis visited Mrs. Ilah Meade in Ann Arbor Tuesday evening. Mrs. Meade, who is a patient at the University of Michigan hospital, is still undergoing treatment and her condition shows no change as yet.

Community Calendar

As nearly all local organizations are now on vacation, the regular Community Calendar will be suspended until Sept. 1. Special events, however, will be listed under this heading.

Hostesses for the ladies luncheon at the Country Club Wednesday, July 27 are Mrs. Clarence Beach, telephone number 177 and Mrs. Wilbur Rumpf, 125-M. Members should make reservations before Tuesday noon.

There will be a "Singing" at the Tecumseh Missionary Baptist church at seven o'clock Saturday evening. The public is welcome and all those who sing are urged to attend.

Following regular morning service at the Methodist church Sunday, there will be a family dinner in the church parlors as a reception for the Rev. and Mrs. Lyle Harper. Those attending are to bring table service, rolls and a dish to pass. Meat and potatoes will be supplied by the committee. The Rev. Harper will be the supply pastor for the day.

The Welcome Class of the Friends church will hold a weiner roast and picnic on the church lawn Friday evening. Members are to bring buns, frankfurters, a dish to pass and something to drink for their own party. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Reeves will be hosts and devotions will be in charge of Mrs. Everett Fielder.

hickory AND horsehide

by DIZZY TROUT

WELL, I SUPPOSE it's only natural to "second-guess" the manager when the team starts slipping a little. It's been going on since baseball was born, and the guy who runs the team is almost always the target of the fans.

Bucky Harris, who accepts such things after more than a quarter of a century in the game, finds himself on the pan now that the Tigers, after a very fine start, have slowly but surely fallen back to fifth place in the pennant race.

Ol' Diz admits to a little second-guessing himself now and then, but upon more mature consideration I realize how foolish this is.

After all, it's easy to say what should be done when you're in the broadcasting booth or in the stands, but if you're wrong you can forget it and there's nobody to criticize you. If you happen to be right, then you can loudly proclaim it.

Paid for Knowledge

If I were such a hot-shot, I'd be in the dugout running the team instead of Bucky Harris. He's being paid a good salary for his knowledge, and the Tiger management is not in the habit of throwing its money away, so he must know more than Ol' Diz.

When Bucky's strategy turns out right, there are few to cheer. If something goes wrong, there are those to say he should have played the game differently. Yet who knows if he had played it differently if the game wouldn't have turned out the same anyway?

The question Bucky most frequently is asked why he apparently keeps his pitchers in so long. Why doesn't he take them out when they appear to be weakening? The answer:

"It's not always that easy to determine if they really are weakening. Sometimes there'll be several grounders just out of the reach of the infielders. A little to the left or the right and they would have been converted into putouts. Does that mean the pitcher is weakening?

No Effective Reliefer

Bucky maintains he has to string along with his starters as long as he can since he doesn't have an Ellis Kinder or a Hoyt Wilhelm to replace them.

"We don't have an effective relief pitcher, someone who can come in and put out the fire," Bucky declares. "Al Aber is the best of our reliefers, but even with him you can't be sure if he'll be in form on any given day."

As for the Tigers being displaced from fourth, it isn't so much them slipping as Boston getting red hot and surging into the first division, displacing Detroit. At this writing, the Red Sox have taken something like 25 out of their last 30 games and given no indication of running out of gas.

We've been going along at a fair-to-middling pace but what hurts is our lack of depth. When the regulars are injured, we're in trouble. Also, our fielding has faltered, notably in the infield. The Tigers lead the league in batting but are last in fielding.

Man, this Hickory and Horsehide game is rough.

Friends Are Breathing on Wilson Motors Softballers

Winning their game last week, the Friends Church is breathing down the neck of Wilson Motor Sales, current leader in the Men's Softball league.

Friends clipped Britton IOOF, 12-5, while Wilson's took the Legionnaires, 9-6.

In the other games Dick's Standard Service walloped Gambles, 9-4 and the Legion forfeited to Britton IOOF because not enough Legionnaires showed up to play.

Results last week put the Friends one-half a game behind the leading Automen. The leaders have a 6-2 record while the Friends have a 5-2 record.

The Friends led the Lodgers all the way and were leading 12-0 when Britton erupted for five runs in the bottom of the last inning. The battery of Meads and Kelley worked for the Friends while Auten and Saxton toiled for the IOOF.

Murran whaled out a homer for the Friends and Verrier added a triple.

B. Smith had a double for the losers.

The Friends had 13 hits while the IOOF had two hits.

The Legionnaires led the Wilson men 6-1 at the end of two innings but the Auto team added three runs in the third and fourth and a brace of counters in the sixth while holding the Legionnaires scoreless after the second inning.

Thorpe and F. Hamilton provided the battery for the winners while J. Petrovich and Murphy worked for the losers.

Wilson's outhit the Legionnaires 10-6.

Gilpin had four hits in four trips and scored three runs for the winners while Roost hit a double and two singles in four trips.

Van Camp with a triple and Colson with three singles led the losers' attack.

Dick's Standard Service, scoring more than enough runs with a five marker fourth inning, outhit the losing Gambles team 8-5.

Wheeler and Withrow comprised the winning battery while Gleason and Pasky worked for the losers.

Robertson of Dick's had a single and two doubles in four trips to the plate and Fisher had two hits for the losers.

Cards Set Baseball Tryout

A St. Louis Cardinal baseball tryout camp will be held at Cairn Field in Monroe, Michigan, Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 1 and 2, it was announced today.

Prominent Cardinal scouts will be on hand to conduct the work outs which may result in a baseball career for some of the youthful hopefuls on hand. Workouts, open to all players between 17 and 23 start each morning at 10 a.m.

Players attending the trial sessions need bring only a glove, baseball shoes and a uniform, if he has one. All other equipment will be furnished by the St. Louis National League team.

Tryout camps have long been a source of a great amount of the player talent that is contained in the Cardinals' farm system, largest in the world and hence the one with the most opportunities.

For example, three of the 25 players now on the Cardinals' major league roster were discovered in tryout camps — Pitcher Harvey Haddix, Rookie Third Baseman Ken Boyer and the incomparable Second Baseman, Red Schoendienst.

Cardinal Manager Harry Walker, pointing out the opportunities for young players in tryout camps, said: "Don't be discouraged if you're not as good as the major league players right now. Come out to the tryout camp, anyway. Remember that great stars like Haddix and Schoendienst and a fine rookie like Boyer were once raw and green.

"They didn't always pitch or hit or field as they do now. They had to learn how, and when they did, the Cardinal organization was equipped to give them their big chance in the major leagues."

Northville Downs Heading for Best Season

Northville Downs, with an average nightly pari-mutuels handle of $252,070 for the first 14 nights, seems heading for its best season since the pioneer harness track opened 12 years ago.

The nightly average is $20,213 more than it was last year and $12,236 above the 1953 figure, the highest previous record. In 1954 the average was $231,857 and in 1953 it was $239,834.

This year's good showing was made despite threatening weather and rain on some of the weekend nights which cut into the betting. The track was operated "rain or shine" for the past several seasons.

The 39 night meeting will continue through Aug. 6. Following the Governor's Cup Trot last Friday, the next $10,000 event will be the Michigan Pacing Derby Friday, July 22.

Rain Hampers Car Races at Adrian

Hampered again by wet weather, stock car pilots of the Midwest Association for Race Cars again will be trying to stage their weekly race card at Adrian Speedway this Thursday, with the program still calling for a 50-lap Mid-Season Championship and several special features.

The Marilynettes, twice Ohio Junior American Legion marching champs again are prepared to hold their snappy drills of some 88 youngsters at Adrian Speedway Thursday. Marilyn Krall of Toledo, director of the group, says the drills may help add some polish for the Marilynettes' bid for a third Ohio title scheduled soon.

There also will be free rides for children in their favorite stock car as part of Thursday's program.

On the racing front, Herb Robison of Adrian added his second feature win of the season last week at Wauseon Raceway and will be aiming to crash the main event winner's circle on home grounds Thursday night.

Marv Pifer of Adrian is slated to race Saturday night at Toledo Raceway Park when the All-American Racing Club big cars return for a sprint program there. Pifer qualified his car but mechanical trouble forced him out of action when ARC pilots staged an action-packed card at Toledo on June 25.

Track Manager Frank Canale of Adrian Speedway reports that negotiations are being made to sign a championship race of American Motorcycle Association riders on the Adrian track on one of the Speedway programs for a Thursday night in the near future.

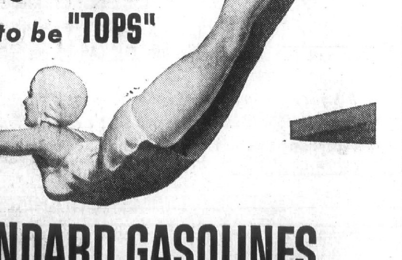
Everything it takes to be "TOPS"



STANDARD GASOLINES

balanced for top power, economy, and all 'round performance ... and raised to the Highest Octane levels in our history

High octane is mighty important—and Standard's new gasolines, WHITE CROWN and RED CROWN, have been raised to fulfill the anti-knock requirements of modern high compression cars—and older cars, too. But important as octane is, good gasolines need something more . . . they must be balanced to give you controlled volatility—the right gasoline for the right season; prevent vapor lock in hot summer weather; and give you all 'round smooth, efficient, economical performance.

Try a tankful of one of these clean-burning, efficient gasolines today and prove to yourself that there is a difference in gasolines.

You expect more from STANDARD and get it!

A Way To Peace

Maybe if we but look for it with searching minds, hearts and souls a lesson may be gained for Tecumseh and its people in the meeting "at the summit" between President Eisenhower and leaders of other governments meeting at Geneva, Switzerland.

World leaders, including our president, are searching out, among other things, ways in which world peace and international cooperation may become possible.

Many of us here are hoping and praying that these leaders will be successful in their quest.

Yet, and this is a seeming paradox, many of us here are embroiled in petty and emotional differences and resentments that if continued will mean that Tecumseh and its citizens never will have "peace in our time."

President Eisenhower upon reaching Geneva said: " . . . I bring the goodwill of America, the great hopes of America . . . to find some road that will lead all mankind into a more tranquil, better, fuller way of life!"

A meeting "at the summit" has merit here. Perhaps some of our differences could be resolved if we were able to sit down and talk them over instead of becoming so bottled up that releases take negative instead of positive paths that only tend to tear down, thus creating more resentments and antagonisms.

Perhaps . . . somehow . . . there's a road in Tecumseh that will lead all of us here into a more tranquil, better and fuller life for all,

Need Birth Certificate?

Copies of Michigan birth records have been available for the past 88 years, "but it's surprising how many people still don't know where or how to apply for certificates," reports Dr. F. S. Leeder, director of the division of disease control, records and statistics for the Michigan Department of Health.

In view of the "marked increase" in requests for birth records, Dr. Leeder said the health department is anxious to spell out the simple but necessary procedure in getting copies of birth records.

He said you can make application for birth records to the local registrar of the city or village in which you were born or to the county clerk's office of the county in which you were born. If it is more convenient, you can apply directly to the Michigan Department of Health. Requests should include your full name; month, day, year, and place of birth and names of your parents.

A certificate of birth registration, which is accepted for school enrollment, costs 25 cents. However, for legal transactions, Dr. Leeder said you will need a certified copy of your birth certificate, which costs one dollar.

Dr. Leeder said more than 5,400 certificates of registration have been issued by the state health department in the first six months of this year, contrasted to 3,838 put out in the same period in 1954. Snowballing school enrollments, he said, and changes in social security provisions are upping demands both for certificates of registration and for certified copies of birth records.

Letter to Editor

To the Editor:

Regarding the editorial concerning the one way street which appears in the July 14 issue, we wish to make the following comment.

We feel that where a known danger exists, it is the best policy to rectify that condition before any damage is done, rather than wait until someone is hurt or some damage done.

As the writer of the editorial has suggested that no fenders have been dented as yet and also intimated that the Presbyterians are seeking special favors, I feel that it is better to lock the barn BEFORE the horse is stolen rather than afterwards, and I believe that any intelligent and unbiased person will agree.

I also feel that the chief of police and city manager are not only intelligent but also unbiased and therefore saw the merit in the suggestion and acted accordingly.

Former Resident Buried Tuesday

Mrs. Oscar Blum, a former resident of Tecumseh, died Saturday evening in an Ann Arbor hospital. Mrs. Blum, who was 81 years old, had made her home in Ypsilanti for many years.

She is survived by a daughter, Miss Magdalyn Blum and two sons, Oliver and Leo.

Services for Mrs. Blum were conducted Tuesday morning in Ypsilanti.

Those attending from Tecumseh were Miss Mary McWilliams, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Manley, Mrs. Milburn Brooks, Perry Satterthwaite, Albert Kolkloesch and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Lowry.

Burial was in the Manchester cemetery. Mrs. D. F. Wright and Mrs. Floyd Elliott attended the burial services.

"I'm at your mercy," Mrs. Swarm said as we inspected her home. "I dont know what this place is worth."

"We'll treat you fairly," I replied, "but you surely have some price in mind."

"No, really," Mrs. Swarm replied. "You see, I've been out of the state for seven years. This house has been rented. I don't know what the market is like today. Tell me what my house should sell for."

"Can you offer good terms or do you want cashed out?" I asked.

"It's clear," she said, "and I don't need the money. I'd rather have the interest. $1,000 down, or maybe less, would be okay."

"On that basis," I said, "it should bring between $7,500 and $8,000."

"Oh," said Mrs. Swarm, "that sounds all right. I must confess I had hoped for about $8,000."

"Fine," I said, "we'll write up an exclusive listing at that figure."

Mrs. Swarm smiled. "Good," she said, "Dad said I'd get honest treatment from your firm."

"Tell your Dad to keep up the good work," I replied. "We can use more home listings right now!"

Supt. Reports on School Progress

The following is a report made by Supt. James McDowell at the annual board of education meeting last week to members of the board:

"It is with pleasure and pride that I present the annual report of progress achieved by the board and staff of the Tecumseh Public Schools during the year 1954-1955.

"Enrollments in Tecumseh Schools in June showed increases of 33 in the secondary school and eight in the elementary school despite the opening of a parochial school in our district in Sept. Total enrollments in the secondary school in June were 634 and the elementary school 913. A staff of 75 persons serves these children, as of the previous year even though we had an increase of 41 pupils. There were 25 elementary teachers, 20 secondary teachers, two music teachers, four physical education teachers, one art teacher, librarian, two elementary principals, high school principal, three secretaries, maintenance engineer, eight custodians, three bus drivers, three cafeteria workers, and superintendent of schools.

"Since the public library is also under the jurisdiction of the board of education and there are two librarians, the total number of persons employed directly by Tecumseh District No. 7 is 77. These people have served well the community during the past year and my congratulations are extended to those who so fully gave of their patience, understanding, cooperation, and overtime in making the year so full of educational opportunities and happiness for the children of Tecumseh.

"That the children are happy and enjoy school is partially evidenced by the fact that Tecumseh Schools have an enviable attendance record for 1954-1955, 94 per cent for total school; 93.4 per cent in the elementary and 95 per cent in the secondary.

HAVE FIVE SCHOOLS

"Five schools have been operated daily: West Branch, Brownville, Patterson, Central, and the high school. These buildings are at peak capacity for optimum educational opportunities for the children at present and will be overtaxed next year.

"The 1955 school census which has just been completed shows that Tecumseh is still growing since there are now 789 children under five, a gain of 35 over last year and 1672 children 5 - 19 years of age, a gain of 100. The total census is 2461, a total gain of 135. Additional noon classes in the secondary schools will be necessary for next year as well as at least two additional grade rooms.

"The sale of the East Branch school property was consummated and the funds used to provide badly needed supplies and educational equipment. A full and well rounded physical education program has been enjoyed by both elementary and secondary pupils for the first time this year as gymnasiums were not available in the past. Extra-Curricular activites in the secondary school consisted of football, basketball, baseball, track, Future Farmers of America, Varsity Club, Girls Athletic Association, debate, forensics and Student Council.

"Also, it was possible for the first time to form intramural basketball teams and a full schedule was provided one evening a week throughout the season. Tecumseh High School was awarded for the first time a regional basketball tournament in classes B & C and later was assigned a class 'A' quarter final tournament game. The board also authorized the expenditure of $2800 toward a track which is being built under the combined auspices of the city, the recreation board, and the board of education. The cooperative training program was successfully continued and the junior and senior plays were exceptionally well done.

ADULTS HELPED, TOO

"Two semesters of adult educational or evening school programs for adults were operated with 168 in attendance in nine classes in the following fields: crafts and avocations 45, high school subjects 40, drama and fine arts 27, and other fields such as square dancing, etc., 56. Young farmers classes were held in the evening weekly and other educational classes met periodically during the year such as the four cardiac homemaking adult classes were held in the home economics department under the auspices of the Herrick Memorial hospital, Michigan Heart Association, and the Lenawee County Extension Service.

"The public library has operated with two full time librarians for its first full year as required by the State Library Board. Improvements in seating, floors, and other physical facilities as well as an increased volume of new books has resulted in increased patronage by the community. The librarians have been of service to the adults and children in many areas which were impossible in the past because of lack of qualified personnel as well as shortage of capital with which to purchase new books.

"The salary schedule for professional personnel was again adjusted to meet changing needs and competition in the field, particularly the shortage of teachers. Base pay for beginning teachers is now $3500 for degree personnel and $3700 for advance degree people, and the entire schedule extended three years making the maximums $5180 and $5380 respectively. Hourly rated employees were given a five cent per hour raise which approximates the annual increment for teachers of $120. The staff for next year is complete with an exceptionally large percentage of advanced degree personnel, 13 per cent in the elementary school and 54 per cent in the secondary school.

SALK SHOTS GIVEN

"The Salk vaccination program was completed and the topical treatment of teeth with fluoride was provided for those who desired such at a nominal cost. Showers were required of all pupils in physical education classes from the 4th through the 12th grade and health education was emphasized throughout the program.

"The operation of the school busses was exceptionally well done by Purkey & Son. Starting times of the elementary and secondary schools were staggered so that the busses could be used to exceptional capacities. We carried an average of 455 pupils daily who lived more than a mile from school with three busses at a per pupil cost of but $21.65.

MET 13 TIMES

"The board of education met 13 times during the year and has succeeded in solving many difficult problems. Lack of operational funds has hampered plans for improving the educational opportunities for the children and adults of the community. However, the board is well aware of the inadequacies of the present system and has instigated plans and procedures for securing additional funds in the future.

"The board and staff have completed an outstanding and widely recognized professional personnel policy handbook. Additions this year include policies relating to staff qualifications, medical examination, birth certificates, instructional loads, substitute teachers, contracts, retirement at 65 and resignation from staff.

"Your superintendent was appointed by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction to the State White House Committee on Education and to the State Committee on Adult Education and Community Colleges and has enjoyed working with outstanding educators in these fields.

"I appreciate the opportunity of serving this community and have endeavored to coordinate the activities of the board, staff, children, and parents toward a common goal of a well rounded education for all. It has been a particular pleasure to serve such an outstanding progressive board of education and I express my deep appreciation to them and to the staff for their cooperative attitude and vision of an outstanding future for education for all in Tecumseh."

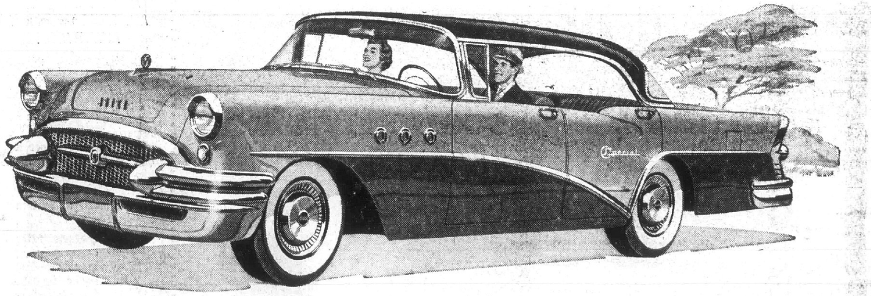
No wonder this Hardtop is the HIT OF THE YEAR!



IT'S 4-DOOR HANDY
—and priced for action!

This one you'll just have to see.

It's a beauty. It's a brand-new kind of car. It's a Buick Riviera with four doors. And to top it all—it's a SPECIAL—the lowest-priced of all Buick Series.

Know what that means?

It means you can have the newest hit in hardtops—the most advanced new body design yet—and you can have it in the price range of America's smaller cars.

It means you can have a steel-roofed car with the long, low, sweeping sportiness of a convertible—with no center posts in the side window areas—and with two separate doors to the rear.

And you can have all this hardtop beauty with sedan comfort and convenience at the easy-to-take modest extra cost of a 4-door model over a 2-door model.

But if you think that's all—listen:

This gleaming grace of automobile is a Buick through and through—a '55 Buick, from the hottest-selling line of Buicks in all history.

So here you have the soft, firm steadiness of Buick's all-coil-spring ride and torque-tube stability. Here you have Buick brawn, Buick solidity, Buick handling ease, Buick styling and visibility and interior luxury.

And here you have the lift and life of vigorous new V8 power of record might—and coupled to the spectacular performance of Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflow.*

Why wait a day longer—when you can come in right now and try the first true hardtop with the extra comfort, room and convenience of a full-sized 4-door sedan?

Drop in tomorrow, first thing—for a look at the price, and an idea of the whopping-big trade-in deal our huge sales volume permits us to make.

Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at modest extra cost on other Series.*

90 Mothers Go to School at M.S.U. Campus

More than 1,500 Michigan women untied their apron strings this week and are attending the 28th annual Homemakers' Conference on the Michigan State University campus.

Entertainment, fun and informative sessions seemed to be "the vogue" as the ladies listen to nationally known speakers. They attended daily classes, many of which are taught by Michigan State staffers. And they toured the campus and take advantage of its recreational facilities.

The kick-off event on Tuesday (the 19th) followed the general registration and took form of a Centennial tea. Women from all over the state dressed in gowns of their mothers and grandmothers. This centennial observance was in conjunction with the 100-year birthday celebration of Michigan State University.

Special evening events included the Wednesday night 4-H talent show, "Accent on Youth." Youths representing 4-H Clubs from Eaton, Midland, Calhoun, Barry, Kent, Clinton, Kalamazoo, Ingham and Genesee counties presented a variety of acts including instrumental and vocal selections, tap and folk dancing, baton twirling and readings.

The final evening program (Thursday) consists of a musical vocal team, Doraine and Ellis, who present costumed cameos of light opera classics.

Final sessions of a variety of 10 classes will be held on Friday morning. Subjects from which the conference visitors could choose included religion, equipment, flower gardening, writing, photography, foreign trade, savings and investments, music, insect control, leadership, family problems, speaking, recreation, books, crafts and geography in the news.

Michigan Dairy History Printed

The history of 250 years of Michigan dairying—from the importing of the cows to the establishment of the $2½ billion industry of today—is outlined in a publication just off the press.

Authored by Prof. P. S. Lucas of the Michigan State University dairy department, the booklet credits the start of the dairy industry with the establishment of the city of Detroit in 1701.

Called "Two Hundred and Fifty Years of Michigan Dairying," the publication is being distributed by the American Dairy Association of Michigan. The booklet pays tribute to the Michigan Agricultural society, M. S. U. and other organizations for their part in building the Wolverine State's dairy industry.

Vogel Appointed A & P Treasurer

Appointment of Edward J. Vogel as treasurer of the Central Western Division of A & P Food Stores was announced today by president John M. Toolin.

Vogel, a member of the company's headquarters auditing staff in New York for the past 10 years, replaces Stanley F. Dole who will retire from the company Aug. 1 after 34 years service. Dole will become vice president of Olivet College.

Vogel will make his headquarters in Detroit with the division, which operates company stores in Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, Illinois, Kentucky and Tennessee.

He started with A & P's Milwaukee Unit as a bookkeeper in 1926 and later was office manager of the unit and served in a similar capacity with the St. Louis Unit. He also had experience as a store supervisor in Kansas City and as a superintendent in Milwaukee.

He became auditor of the Middle Western Division with headquarters in Chicago in 1934 and held that position until his appointment to the headquarters auditing staff in 1945.

Small Farm Makes Good Family Living

Think you could make a good living on a small farm?

Take a look at the Clarence Ruess farm near Owosso in Shiawassee county if you want to know how it can be done. The Ruess farm is the third stop on the Michigan Farm Management tour on Aug. 4.

The farm contains the story of hard work, a quick adoption of new ideas and wise marketing. This is part of the story:

Clarence, 30, started farming on shares with his father in 1943. He was married in 1945 and he and his wife purchased the farm from his dad in 1948. At that time they were milking 10 to 12 cows and keeping 500 hens.

Since then they have increased crop production to produce feed for 24 cows and young stock plus the grain for 650 hens. Last year, they sold 500 bushels of corn from a crop which averaged 90 bushels per acre.

In the past seven years the Ruess's have spent more in building improvements than the original cost of the farm. The improvements have included a new corn crib, silo, a milkhouse, feed room, and a remodeled kitchen. A new foundation has been put under the barn and tie stanchions and a gutter cleaner have been installed.

The Ruess family have operated the farm so efficiently that since 1948 they have retired all of the debts acquired in buying the farm, the machinery and livestock and remodeling the farmstead.

Leonard Kyle and Warren Vincent, Michigan State University farm economists, will interview the family during the farm visit.

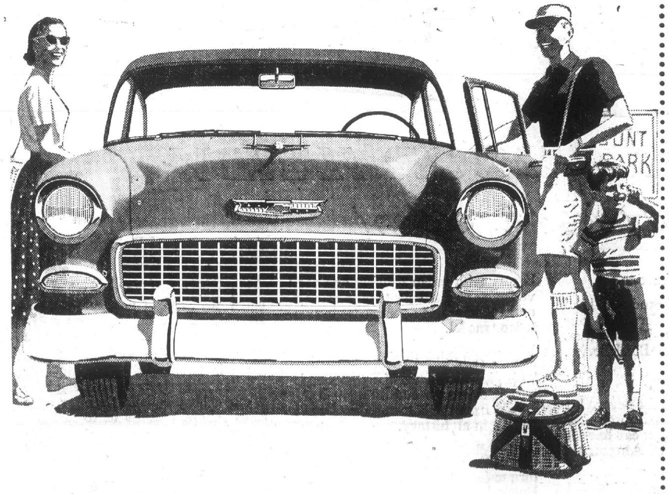
in the large economy size!



Surprising, how little it takes to put this big dreamboat in your driveway for keeps. And your dollars couldn't begin to buy more pure pleasure anywhere else. Here's beauty that's putting the high-priced cars in the shade. Here's action that'll have you driving the long way home just for the fun of it. You owe yourself this new Chevrolet. Come in and see how easily you can swing it!

YOU CAN PAY A LOT MORE MONEY AND STILL NOT GET ALL THESE CHEVROLET ADVANTAGES!

Body by Fisher
Found in many of America's costliest cars—you get it only in Chevrolet in the low-price field.

12-Volt Electrical System
Delivers twice the punch for quicker starting in all weather; better ignition for finer performance!

Ball-Race Steering
Special ball bearings in the steering gear reduce friction . . . make steering a lot easier.

High-Level Ventilation
Takes in air above road heat, fumes and dust. A special chamber prevents rain from entering the car, and supplies a more even flow of air.

Outrigger Rear Springs
Spaced wide apart to give you sure-footed stability on curves.

Anti-Dive Braking
Chevrolet's the only car in the industry that stops with its head up! An exclusive Chevrolet development greatly reduces "nose down" under sudden stops.

Hail State School Program

The school program adopted by the 1955 Legislature will put Michigan ahead of all other states in solving educational problems, according to experts in the field.

One of the most important features was the $100,000,000 bond issue for school construction loans to help hard-pressed districts meet their needs.

Under the program all school districts in the State found their borrowing power expanded, they were relieved from having to retire bonds in 15 years, and long-term financing arrangements were made possible.

State aid to schools was increased by $17,142,728 to a total of $184,000,000. Including the primary school interest fund, local schools will receive more than $225,000,000 from the State in the 1955-56 fiscal year, a record sum.

Of this total, $10,000,000 will be available for adjusting teachers salaries and $2,500,000 will be special aid to distressed districts.

A new appropriation of $750,000 from the general fund for junior colleges supplements a $1,475,000 appropriation from special funds for this purpose.

In addition, several counties were authorized to join together to establish junior colleges with State help.

Teachers and other school employees were given the right to choose to come under Federal Social Security laws. The retirement fund was bolstered with a $14,500,000 appropriation.

Adoption of a new school code, under study for three years, eliminated many conflicts and provided that 870 closed districts must either open up schools or become attached to other districts within the next two years.

In the field of higher education, the Legislature appropriated $57,908,699 for operational purposes, an increase of $6,571,971, and laid out an over-all $52,000,000 building program.

An appropriation was made to start a University of Michigan branch at Flint, the name of Michigan State College was changed to Michigan State University, and the four colleges of education were renamed Michigan Eastern College (at Ypsilanti), Michigan Western College (Kalamazoo), Michigan Central College, (Mt. Pleasant) and Michigan Northern College, (Marquette).

Extension Club Plans Picnic

The Annual Lenawee County Extension Club picnic is scheduled for Wednesday, July 27. This a family affair.

The picnic will be held at Island Park, Adrian, with potluck lunch at 12 noon. Bring sandwiches, a dish to pass, and table service for your own family, and your own drink. The Home Economics Executive Board will be hostesses for the day.

There will be recreation and games for everyone. Mrs. Albert Smith, county recreation chairman, and her committee, have planned for much fun for everyone.

State Fair Entries To Close Aug. 12

Donald L. Swanson, general manager, announced that the Michigan State Fair premiums have been increased to $131,000 — the largest amount ever offered.

Swanson said that entries for the State Fair, Sept. 2 through 11, will close Aug. 12, earlier than usual.

The premium amount this year has been increased by more than $5,000 over the 1954 total.

Swanson urged farmers to make their entries as early as possible to avoid the last minute rush. He said that judging from last year, many will not be able to enter because of lack of space.

As a matter of fact, some of the classifications are being divided in order to accommodate all the farm entries, he said. For example, Belgians, Percherons, Clydesdales and Grade horses will be shown from Sept. 2 through 6, and will be exhibited in the Coliseum on the night of the 6th. Morgans, Quarter horses, and Arabians will be shown from Sept. 7 through 11 and will be exhibited in the Coliseum on the 7th and 8th.

The 1955 premium books are now being mailed. All 1954 exhibitors have been added to the mailing list and anyone not on the mailing list during the past few years should write to the Michigan State Fair, Detroit 3, Michigan.

ONLY POISONOUS SNAKE IN STATE IS MASSASAUGA

Michigan has 17 kinds of snakes but only one is dangerous, according to Norman E. Hartweg, curator of reptiles and amphibians in The University of Michigan Museum of Zoology.

This one poisonous snake, a pit viper belonging to the rattlesnake family, is known as the massasauga. "It is smaller than most rattlesnakes, and its venom, compared with that of the diamond-back rattlesnakes of the west and south, is comparatively weak," the herpetologist says.

Campers can take comfort from the professor's statement that he knows of no deaths due directly to the bite of the massasauga in Michigan. "I believe that any healthy adult will recover from the bite of this snake, but there is some doubt in my mind as to whether a really small child would recover without treatment."

He explains that in Michigan the massasauga lives in swampy areas but does spread from them into adjoining farm lands in the summer time. The young massasaugas are born alive and in broods they number from three to twelve with an average of about seven.

TAKE PRECAUTIONS

Professor Hartweg urges that adequate precautions be taken, even though the bite is rarely if ever fatal. "A person can become very sick and the bite is to be avoided if possible. There's no getting around the fact that in many places in Michigan the massasauga is quite numerous."

Here's some special advice for campers and bathers in areas in which the massasauga is known to occur: (1) avoid walking around at night bare-footed; (2) never pick up a log or turn ove ra stone; (3) avoid putting your hands into dark places where snakes might lurk. He explains that most bites occur on the limbs below the knee or below the elbow.

"First aid kits are inexpensive and one or more should be at the disposal of every camper," the U-M professor continues. "These consist of a suction apparatus, a turniquet, razor blades and antiseptic. A complete set of instructions accompanies each kit." Getting to a doctor immediately, however, is best.

HE WILL RATTLE

Assuming that you have been bitten by a massasauga, how do you identify him? The massasauga will usually rattle as soon as he is aware of the person of an intruder. One mark of identification is the presence of a pit between the eye and the nostril. You can further know him by his rattles, or if these have been lost through an accident, the tip of his tail will be very blunt. He also will have a vertical pupil.

The professor further explains that the arrangement of tooth marks that remain on the flesh after the bite tells the story. "If you have been bitten by a harmless snake, there will be rows of tiny punctures. If you have been bitten by a poisonous snake, there will be a pair of punctures much larger than any others that may appear.

If a doctor is not available, apply the suction cups and follow the instructions carefully."

Christian Science Services Listed

The healing power of true prayer will be set forth at Christian Science services on Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Truth."

Among the scriptural selections to be read is the account of Christ Jesus' healing of the child with the "dumb spirit' including the answer his disciples received to their question as to why they did not cure the child: "And he said unto them, This kind can come forth by nothing, but by prayer and fasting" (Mark 9:29).

The practical power of prayer is also brought out in passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy including the following (11:27-31): "Prayer cannot change the unalterable Truth, nor can prayer alone give us an understanding of Truth; but prayer, coupled with a fervent habitual desire to know and do the will of God, will bring us into all Truth."

Offer Free Trees, Shrubs

Farmers living south of highway M-20 can act now to take advantage of the Michigan Conservation Department's offer of free trees and shrubs for wildlife planting this fall.

According to County Agricultural Agent Louis G. Hall, the planting stock offered without charge includes pines, spruces, multi-flora rose, bush honeysuckle, coralberry and others.

Hall points out that, at the request of the landowners, a farm planner from the Conservation Department will inspect the farm and determine what can be planted to improve the land for wildlife.

The planner's recommendations generally tie in with soil and water conservation practices. Trees and shrubs may be planted on eroded hillsides, in gullies, along pond or marsh borders or along edges of woodlots.

Qualifying farmers who would like to take part in the program can get additional information by writing to the Game Division, Michigan Conservation Department, Lansing 13, Mich.

RAISIN GREEN BEES

Seven members of the Raisin Green Bees Extension club enjoyed dinner at The Cottage in Addison last Thursday evening. Following dinner the group met at the home of Mrs. Gaza Kish and plans were made for a picnic for the members and their families in August. The remainder of the evening was spent playing cards.

The Silver Lining

Look for the silver lining
Whenever a cloud appears

CONDUCTED BY BOB WARREN

ONE SURE WAY TO get folks to read the ads is to goof. This was proved again last week when a chap walked into Ken Heflin at Tecumseh Tire Service and said: "I'm going on a vacation and I would like to have some tire insurance." Ken patiently explained that he was not in the insurance business so his potential tire insurance buyer pulled out his HERALD and there it was: "GET TIRE INSURANCE". The words, of course, should have been "TIRE ASSURANCE."

BOB FRENCH SAYS Ike got the Russians to agree on one thing. Ike said "Gee, it sure is hot." And the Russians agreed "It sure is."

NEIGHBOR GLENN KOHLER, NOW ON vacation with his family at Otsego Lake near Gaylord, thinks his lawn is getting bigger. He says every time he has to mow it it seems larger. We suggested that he get a pedometer to prove it.

IF YOU'RE AN AVERAGE faher you can have your choice of flavor when you kiss the kids goodbye of a morning. By doing some personal research I have discovered the truth of this observation. After breakfast the kids, believing that they may also gain their food through the process of osmosis, are covered with various types of food, including egg, honey, cereal and peanut butter. So you can have your choice of flavors. About the best unadulterated kiss comes at bedtime right after their baths, but these are not half as tasty and exciting as the after breakfast ones.

OUR SOCIAL REPORTER whose initials are C.M.W. called Miss Myrtle Mattis to seek information about the fine birthday party fellow operators at the phone company gave her. "May I tell them how old you are?" the reporter asked. "Sure," Miss Mattis shot back, "I was born the year you graduated from college."

THE FINEST BIT OF promoting Michigan was recently in the Northwest Mutual Life Insurance Company's magazine. Written by Herbert G. Schell, it is titled Michigan.

Where blue waters of the Great Lakes meet the azure of the sky,
Where the scent of pine and hemlock greet the traveler passing by,
Where the wild game roam the forest, or romp by sylvan glen.
You are in the Nation's playground, the State of Michigan.

Where eleven thousand lakes and streams are gleaming in the sun,
Where highways lure you onward for pleasure and for fun,
To the land of Hiawatha, the land of Indian lore,
To enchanting points of interest you have never known before.

There's much to see in Michigan, where Nature did her best
To bring you recreation, or give you needed rest.
You'll want to see Isle Royal, so famed throughout the Nation,
Or go by boat to Mackinac to round out your vacation.

Historic Greenfield Village with its quaint and charming ways
Portrays a vivid mode of life, as lived in ancient days.
The arts and crafts of olden times, the shops, the Inn, and where
The Golden Jubilee of light was once enacted there.

There's much to do in Michigan, and it is no surprise
That in her many waters is a fisher's paradise.
Or if it's sailing you prefer, or if golf is your game,
It matters not where 'ere you go, the setting is the same.

The home of giant enterprise where production set the stage.
To change all transportation to a new and "horseless" age.
You'll want to visit factories where motor-minded men
Have flung afar, throughout the world, the fame of Michigan.

There's no monotony to life, the seasons come and go.
The apple blossoms of the Spring soon follow Winter's snow.
Then Summer's cooling breezes foretell the wild duck's call
And the glamour of the Autumn leaves proclaims that it is Fall.

Oh, I can't begin to tell you or in any way relate
The beauty its pleasure parks, or the grandeur of the State.
You cannot get a picture from the books upon the shelf,
Why don't YOU come to Michigan, and see it for yourself?

THE OLD TIMER SAYS: "Lend some neighbors a garden tool, and they'll always come back for mower!"

A CARD FROM WILLIAM SULLIVAN of Los Angeles offers food for thought. He writes: "Traffic congestion can be solved very easily if we so desire. Just keep making the driver's license code more rigid until the number of cars fit the size of our roads."

SIGN OF THE TIMES: A conference of community law enforcement officials at Michigan State University heard Donald Schoof of Detroit, a postal inspector, advise that padlocks should be put on mailboxes. An authority in stopping bad check artists, he fears that the guaranteed annual wage benefit checks will be taken from mailboxes as are the checks distributed now to veterans and old age survivors.

THOUGHT FOR THIS WEEK — Whatever enlarges hope will exalt courage.—Johnson.

Flying Club To Hear Beardsley

J. C. Beardsley is scheduled to speak to the second meeting of the recently organized flying club which will be held in the large hangar at Tecumseh Airport next Monday at 7:30 p. m. Mr. Beardsley will explain the legal procedure for incorporation of the club.

Election of officers will also be held at this meeting and flyers or anyone interested in learing to fly may attend.

Fifteen persons attended last Monday night's initial meeting of the group, when plans were made to form a non-profit corporation, which would provide instructors and a plane to teach members to fly.

Membership in the club is not restricted to licensed flyers.

Will Give Salk Shots Aug. 1

Central school students who did not receive the Salk vaccine booster shot to guard against polio the latter part of May, may attend the clinic which will be held Monday, Aug. 1, in the gymnasium of Central school.

Dr. R. E. Dustin is in charge of the clinic, which is scheduled for 9 a. m. with Mrs. Mildred Bauer, Lenawee County Health Dept. nurse, assisting.

WHEAT

While the average citizen of the Tecumseh area has not been too happy over July's sweltering weather, the farmers of the vicinity are reporting the best crop conditions in years.

According to William Beardsley, manager of the Hayden Milling Co., their elevator has handled more wheat this season than ever before in the long history of the company.

Yields of 45 bushels to the acre have been common while a few higher reports have been made and nearly all of it is No. 1 grade, due to ideal weather conditions. Because of these conditions and because of increasing use of efficient machines, the rush of marketing was over in three days although most loads were handled without undue delay.

Only at one time lines were reported reaching back as far as Pottawatamie street.

Injury from Hessian fly was fairly common in all parts of the county but in every case it was due to too early planting last fall.

The 1954 "fly date" was Sept. 21 and because of weather many farmers "jumped the gun". In one case an early planting of four days showed up graphically in infestation.

Oats also are the best on record, running a 44 to 45 test in contrast to the usual 32 pounds to the bushel, and the corn crop promises to be phenomenal.

Most fields are even now past the point where they can be injured by dry weather and the expected yield is very heavy.

Rotarians Hear Probate Problems

Mrs. Fawn Platt of the judge of probate's office discussed some problems of the office before members of the Tecumseh Rotary Club Tuesday night.

She said the office handles newborn babies to children 17 years old. The office has a variety of duties, some of which overlap, but the two chief duties are placing children for adoption and in dealing with delinquent children.

Defining delinquent as "socially maladjusted", she said in too many cases the problem stems from delinquent parents who do not care to keep the proper parental controls over their children.

She said cases are referred to Judge L. B. Kuney's office by local and state police, the sheriff's office, school officials, parents, neighbors and in one case a 12-year-old girl referred herself.

Virgil Tucker was in charge of the program.

Car Accident Injures Jay Howell

Jay Howell, 68, of Route 2, Tecumseh, was transferred Saturday from Herrick Memorial hospital to the University hospital in Ann Arbor.

He was injured Friday night while he drove his car on M-50 near Pentecost Highway.

The accident was unexplained because Mr. Howell could not talk to state police who found the car on its side in the highway. No other car was involved in the accident.

He received head and chest injuries and a fractured shoulder.

CONSERVATION LEAGUE PLANS TRAP SHOOT

The Tecumseh Conservation League will hold a Trap Shoot July 31 at its range on Carson road. August 7 there will be an open archery shoot at the same place under the auspices of the league.

SUCCESSFUL FLIGHT — Lt. Bill Wright, foreground, compliments his pilots after they completed a successful gunnery "hop."

Lt. William A. Wright of 303 W. Pottawatamie, recently completed two weeks' annual training duty at the Naval Air Station, Willow Grove, Pa., with his unit, Fighter Squadron VF-737, from the Naval Air Station, Grosse Ile, Michigan.

He followed a syllabus of training which included extensive exercises in gunnery, bombing and rocket-firing, with additional flights devoted to navigation, instrument, and night flying.

Commanded by Lieut. Comdr. Anthony P. Rasmovich, of Fenton, Mich., the squadron with its 38 officers and men, completed another important step in its training schedule July 17 in keeping with the Navy's policy of keeping its Weekend Warrior "minute men of the air" at a high level of combat efficiency.

INCREASE

Two more rooms are being added to the St. Elizabeth parochial school.

The school now has four rooms. When the new addition is completed, it will have six.

The school also is enlarging its kitchen facilities.

The Rev. Father Thomas J. Collins, pastor, reports that the school expects an increase of 61 students this year. Last year it had 169 students. In Sept. it expects 230.

Farewell Party Given for Runks

Nearly 75 members of the teaching staff of the Tecumseh schools, who were in town Friday evening, gathered on the lawn of Patterson school for a potluck supper and social evening.

It was an informal get-together honoring Mr. and Mrs. Lester Runk, who are leaving Tecumseh's teaching ranks.

The Runks, who have taught here for five years will move their family to Grand Rapids, Saturday. Both will teach in the Grand Rapids schools this coming year.

SHARPE BOUND OVER TO CIRCUIT COURT

Elmer W. Sharpe, 39, of 29 Mill street, Tecumseh, waived examination in Justice L. J. Van Deusen's court Monday on the charge of gross indecency.

He was bound over to circuit court trial and his bond of $2,000 was continued.

Arrested July 15 by Tecumseh police, he demanded an examination when he appeared before Justice Van Deusen July 17.

PLEADS GUILTY TO DRUNKENNESS CHARGE

August A. Kuntz, 70, of Route 1, Tecumseh, pleaded guilty to drunkenness charges when he was arraigned in Justice L. J. Van Deusen's court Monday.

Arrested in a parked truck in Franklin Township by state police Saturday, he was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and costs of $6.30 or to spend 15 days in jail.

Joseph C. Satterthwaite
(Dept. of State Photo)

Joseph Satterthwaite Promoted to Career Minister in Foreign Service

President Eisenhower has announced the promotion of Joseph C. Satterthwaite, United States Ambassador to Burma, to the rank of career minister in the United States Foreign Service.

This is the highest permanent rank provided by law for officers of the career foreign service.

Mr. Satterthwaite, a career foreign service officer, was born in Tecumseh, March 4, 1900. He is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and of the University of Michigan, where he received his B. A. degree in 1923, and his A. M. in 1924.

He served with the United States Army overseas between 1918 and 1919.

After serving as an assistant in the University of Michigan political science department from 1923-24, Mr. Satterthwaite accepted a position as clerk in the United States Consulate at Stuttgart, Germany. In Sept., 1926, he was appointed an officer in the career foreign service, and assigned to the Foreign Service School in Washington.

HE WAS NAMED vice-consul at Guadalajara, Mexico, in April, 1927, and transferred to Mexico City with the rank of third secretary of embassy in March, 1929.

In Jan., 1934, he was assigned to the United States Embassy in Buenos Aires. He served as second secretary of embassy there until Jan., 1937, when he transferred to Baghdad, Iraq.

While assigned to the near east, Mr. Satterthwaite was appointed Secretary General of the American delegation to the International Radio Conference and the International Telegraph and Telephone Conference held in Cairo in 1938.

In Dec., 1939, he went to Ankara, Turkey, where he served as first secretary of embassy. In 1944 he transferred to Damascus as first secretary and consul, from which post he was ordered to the department in Washington in March, 1945, to become assistant chief of the division of near eastern affairs.

HE LATER SERVED as special assistant to the director, office of near eastern and African affairs and acting chief, division of research for near east and Africa.

Mr. Satterthwaite was named personal representative of the president with the rank of minister, to head the special United States diplomatic mission to the Kingdom of Nepal in 1947.

In Sept. of that year he became deputy director of the office of near eastern and African affairs; and was named director of that office in July, 1948.

HE WAS APPOINTED United States Ambassador to Ceylon on Sept. 22, 1949, serving in that position until July, 1953, when he became American diplomatic agent with the rank of minister at Tangier, Morocco.

He has been United States Ambassador to Burma since March, 1955.

Stricken in Parking Lot, Worker Dies

George Edward Rusling, 37, of Deerfield died on the way to Herrick Memorial hospital Tuesday after being stricken at the Tecumseh Products Company.

He was about to get into his car at the parking lot when he was stricken. Rushed to the hospital, he was dead on arrival.

Coroner Edward J. Braun of Adrian was called and he ruled that Mr. Rusling who had a heart condition history died of natural causes.

Mr. Rusling was born September 20, 1917 in Deerfield and had lived there all his life.

He is survived by his widow, Ruby Cornell Rusling; two daughters, Sandra and Suzanne; one son George E. Jr. all of whom are at home; one brother, Clifford Rusling of Lima, Ohio; four sisters, Mrs. Ernest (Ada) Gobba of Britton, Mrs. George (Doris) Holcomb of Petersburg, Mrs. Guy (Bernice) Seidel, Britton and Mrs. John (Laura) Root of LaSalle, Mich.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Rusling preceded him in death in 1923 and 1925.

Funeral services will be conducted by the Rev. William Weinlander at the North Blissfield Lutheran church, Friday at 2 p. m. Until then friends may call at the Niblack Funeral Home in Britton.

Children Bruised at Midget Car Races

Three children received bruises Sunday afternoon when a midget racer went momentarily out of control and crashed through a baled straw barricade at the junior chamber of commerce races held on the city parking lot on Logan street.

Taken to Herrick Memorial hospital were Mary Ann Hunter, 12, and her sister Sherry Lynn, 3, of 208 west Logan street. They received bruises on their legs and arms. They were discharged after observation.

Keith Auten, 6, a friend of the Hunters who accompanied the Hunter children to the races, received a bruise on his hip. He ran to the Hunter home to tell of the accident.

It was estimated that the midget racer was going 15 to 20 miles an hour when it crashed through the barricade. The straw, acting as a buffer, probably kept the children from becoming seriously injured. A parked truck stopped the car and the children were pinned between the straw and the truck.

RESIGNS FROM FORCE

Stanley Westgate, a member of the Tecumseh police department since last July, resigned his position last Saturday.

ISSUES BAD CHECK

Irene Knight, 23, 312 West Patterson, Tecumseh, paid a fine of $5 and $8.60 costs when she was arraigned before Justice Robert L. French Saturday.

Arrested early Saturday morning by Tecumseh police, she was charged with issuing a check with insufficient funds. The check for $23 was cashed at the Kroger store.

She also was placed on 90 days probation and was ordered to make restitution.

Manager Reports on Water Tests

Tests of samples of city water were received from the Michigan Department of Health Tuesday. They showed positive tests for fluoride.

Ed Nelson, city manager, was instructed by the council to have the tests made after the anti-fluoridation committee asked for an investigation because its tests showed fluoride in the water.

Tests from the health department showed .05 parts per million gallons of water in samples taken from the well at Union and Patterson streets. The well on north Union street showed .4 parts per million gallons of water.

The city manager said the tests showed natural fluoride.

MOVE

Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall-Slater Post No. 4187 has moved from 109½ east Chicago boulevard to its new home at 19 Mill street.

The post moved the last of its furniture Saturday.

Next month a dedication of the new home and open house will be held. When final plans have been completed for the day's program, a public invitation will be made.

State Legion Convention Draws 12 from Local Post

Six members of Underwood-Orr Post 34, the American Legion, and six members of the Auxiliary will attend the four-day American Legion convention which begins Aug. 4 in Detroit.

Attending the convention from the local post will be Vern Manwaring, commander; Al Curtis, adjutant; Lyle Grigg, immediate past commander; Louis Schneider, state welfare chairman; Robert Lowe, immediate past county commander; and Larry Cote, second vice-commander.

Auxiliary delegates from Tecumseh who plan to attend one or more sessions of the convention are Mrs. Vern Manwaring, Mrs. Donald Woods and Mrs. Harold Easton. Alternates are Mrs. Louis Schneider, Mrs. Charles Howe and Mrs. Joe Russell.

Detroit is preparing for one of its largest conventions of the year. The motor city is expecting some 8,000 Legionnaires, Auxiliares, 40 et 8 members, their families and friends, to jam hotel space and occupy all available housing facilities for this 37th annual state Legion convention.

Statewide interest is highest in years among the 75,000 Legion membership with three candidates running neck-and-neck in the race for state commander. Legion old-timers are predicting the hottest fight in a decade, estimating the election for the Legion's highest office will stretch far beyond the first ballot.

In contention are World War I vet and retired detective inspector of the Detroit Police Department, Charles W. Snyder; World War II vet and insurance agent from Niles, Harold L. Willard; and Donald J. Smith, World War II Air Force veteran and farmer from St. Johns.

DURING THE FOUR-DAY convention, more than 50 resolutions are scheduled to come up before the 2,020 delegates for an official expression of opinions, covering everything from federal government action regarding citizens trapped behind the Iron Curtain to the formation of a special Constitution research committee.

Provoked by the news that numerous American citizens and military personnel are being held and detained behind the Iron and Bamboo Curtains and also by the inadequate action taken by the U.S. Government to relieve them of their unfortunate situation, Legionnaires of Thomas F. Grant Post 62, St. Ignace, recommend by resolution "that the American Legion . . . extend all of its powers in an effort to urge and procure more effective action by the Government . . ."

ANOTHER RESOLUTION urges the National American Legion to form a special research committee to try to find a solution to prevent abuses of the tolerant provisions of the 5th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution providing a "deceitful means of refuge and evasion of criminal prosecution for many under investigation of treasonable and seditious acts . . ."

Also scheduled to come up is a resolution endorsing the proposal of the Commandant of the Ninth Naval District, Great Lakes, Illinois and the Naval Reserve Policy Board, that a special training carrier be constructed and located on the Great Lakes since at present there are no facilities for flight training from ships in this area.

FEATURED THIS YEAR during Legion activities will be the 40 et 8 Legionnaires and their colorful French-style locomotives and box cars that are generally fun-making and general convention atmosphere.

Friday night will be highlighted with the "Festival of Rhythm" which includes the annual Legion sponsored drum and bugle corps contest, considered tops in Legion entertainment, at Keyworth Stadium, Hamtramck. At this time the American Legion's famed Jackson Zouaves, internationally known fancy stepping drill team, will make their annual appearance before convention members.

IN ADDITION TO the appearance of national Americanism Vice-Chairman J. Addington Wagner—Michigan's candidate for 1955-56 national commander—Governor Williams and Wilbur M. Brucker, Secretary of the Army, Maj. General C. W. Christenberry, of the Korean Foundation, will be the keynote speaker when the convention officially gets under way Friday, August 5.

State Commander Kent T. Lundgren of Menominee will preside over all business sessions to be held in the Veterans Memorial Building.

Three other conventions of allied Legion groups will be in session during the same period. The Legion's honor society, the 40 et 8, will hold its sessions at the Fort Shelby Hotel, and its auxiliary, the 8 et 40, at the Tuller Hotel, while the Legion's auxiliary, representing 30,000 women in Michigan, will make headquarters at the Statler Hotel.

Mrs. Louis Howe Died Tuesday

Martha M. Howe, widow of Louis Howe, died Tuesday morning at Herrick Memorial hospital where she had been a patient for only one day. In failing health for some time, she had been cared for in the home of Willis Baker southeast of Tecumseh for several weeks.

Mrs. Howe was born near Dundee, Feb. 11, 1876, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fogelsang and was married to Louis P. Howe of Dundee August 18, 1894. She had lived near Tecumseh for 40 years. Mr. Howe died Nov. 17, 1946.

Survivors are one daughter, Mrs. Louis Collins of Milan; three sons, John of Onsted, Charles of Tecumseh, and Louis of Ann Arbor; six grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

The Rev. Edward Escolme will conduct funeral services for Mrs. Howe at 2 p. m. Thursday afternoon at the Green Funeral Home and burial will be in the Ridgeway cemetery. The bearers will be Marvin Watkins, Lyman Curtiss, William Mackey, Oscar and John Snyder and Victor Voorhees.

TROOP 4 WILL NOT MEET UNTIL SEPT.

No more meetings of Boy Scout Troop No. 4 will be held until Tuesday, Sept. 13.

Bob Custard Promoted by Air National Guard

Four changes in the top command of the Michigan Air National Guard were announced today by Colonel Budd Marks, Commander of the 127th Fighter Interceptor Wing, based at Detroit Wayne Major Airport.

Maj. John A. Johnston has been promoted from command of the 171st Fighter Interceptor Squadron to Wing Director of Material. Replacing him is Capt. Ronald R. Kimler, a former flight commander.

Maj. Robert McMath, former commander of the 107th Fighter Interceptor Squadron has been moved up to operations officer of the 127th Fighter Interceptor Group. He will control operations of the two squadrons at Wayne Major Airport and the 172nd Squadron at Battle Creek.

New 107th Commander is Capt. John C. Stegman, a former flight commander.

Col. Marks said the changes are being made to move men with experience into more responsible positions and create openings for younger officers.

CONTROLS SUPPLY

Johnston, who works full time for the Guard and is in charge of the Base Detachment, will control supply, transportation, maintenance and installations. He will be chief staff advisor to Marks on these matters.

McMath will direct flight operations, unit training, intelligence and planning for the three squadrons.

Johnston, 32, is a veteran of World War II and Korea. He flew 98 combat missions in fighters over Europe and was a jet instructor during the Korean War. His home is at 17116 Sumner. He is married, but has no children.

McMath flew 35 missions in B-17s during World War II. He is now an executive pilot with Ford Motor Co. He lives at 14308 Brammel. He is married and has a son, Douglas, one year old.

HAS 38 MISSIONS

Kimler, 31, flew 38 fighter missions over Europe during World War II and was a jet instructor during the Korean War. He is on full time duty with the Air Guard and lives at 1401 Whittier Place, Dearborn. He is married and has two children, Ray, 8, and Steven, 3.

Stegeman, 31, a bachelor, is in the real estate business and lives at 512 West Hoover, Ann Arbor. He flew 23 bomber missions over Italy during World War II and was an instructor pilot during the Korean War.

Eleven promotions in Wing flying squadrons were confirmed by Col. Marks today.

Grade hikes in the 107th Fighter Squadron went to Louis H. Lovelette, 736 Campbell, Ypsilanti and Leon D. Worden, 21667 Woodbury, Mt. Clemens. They were promoted to Captain. Charles H. Church of 500 E. Washington, Ann Arbor earned the silver bar of a first lieutenant.

MAKES CAPTAIN

Earning new rank in the 171st were Keith W. Muir, 32456 Florence, Garden City; Robert L. Custard, 3070 Shady Lane, Tecumseh; field, Inkster; and Robert G. Smith, ifeld, Inkster; and Robert G. Smith, 4637 Washington, Wayne, all promoted to the grade of Captain.

The 172nd Squadron of Battle Creek was represented on the promotion list by Richard L. Wiles, 320 W. Michigan, Battle Creek, promoted to Major. Up graded to First Lieutenant were Rudolph D. Bartholomew, Battle Creek and Henry L. Dobbertein, 274 Hunter, Battle Creek.

A run down on civilian jobs held by the Air Guard officers promoted today is an interesting story by itself.

Lovelette works for TWA as a Flight Officer. Worden is a pilot for AC Spark Plug Division, General Motors Corp, while Lt. Church is a physicist at the University of Michigan.

BOB'S AN ACCOUNTANT

Civilian jobs of the newly promoted 171st officers are even more varied. Muir is one of the CAA Air Traffic Controllers at Wayne Major Airport. Custard is an accountant with Tecumseh Products in Tecumseh. Lagrou is on the full time air alert staff with the Guard, while Smith is on the engineering staff of the Ford Motor Company.

Wing headquarters was represented on the promotion list by the hike of John R. McDonnell, 346 Longfellow, Inkster to First Lieutenant.

Lt. McDonnell is a casualty underwriter for Traveler's Insurance Co.

Here's why Record-Breaking Thousands Name Pontiac "America's Greatest Buy"!

It takes only one word to explain why today's Pontiac is the most popular Pontiac ever built. That word is VALUE.

Buyers from both ends of the price scale are finding that Pontiac provides just about everything any car at any price can offer. It's a matter of fact, not opinion, that Pontiac is the biggest, most powerful car anywhere near its modest price!

For size, Pontiac reaches high into the fine-car price range—and comes up with a long 122" or 124" wheelbase. This is size where it counts, because nothing beats wheelbase in providing solid comfort and stability on any road at any speed.

Pontiac's performance is strictly Pontiac's alone—and it stems from the most modern, most advanced V-8 in the industry! Its mighty 200-h.p. Strato-Streak V-8 with four-barrel carburetor* provides more power than any car within hundreds of dollars of Pontiac's modest price.

Another Pontiac extra value, so easily measured when you get behind the wheel, is the supreme ease of handling that keeps all its eager power and husky bigness under instant and almost effortless control.

And if you interpret value in terms of appearance—here again Pontiac's your kind of car. Its distinctive Twin-Streak beauty and Vogue Two-Toning will stay new and fresh for years!

And for the final value clincher—bear in mind that Pontiac prices fit easily into any new-car budget!

No wonder Pontiac sales are at an all-time high! Come in soon and drive this wonderful car. We're sure you, too, will join the big swing to Pontiac!

Goodyear Honors George Blanchard

Michigan winners in a national, annual soil conservation awards competition, were announced today, by the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., sponsor of the program.

Michigan's first place winners are Sidney Hungerford, Rt. 2, Sault Ste. Marie, selected by the Chippewa soil conservation district, which was named outstanding by the judges, as its representative; and Clyde W. Ball, Rt. 1, Sault Ste. Marie, selected as the outstanding farmer-cooperator in the grand award winning district.

Second place honors for the state were won by Lenawee soil conservation district, Hal C. Benner, RFD 1, Clayton, chairman, which named George Blanchard, Rt. 1, Tecumseh, as outstanding farmer-cooperator.

The two Michigan representatives of the first place district, along with 98 winners from the other 47 states, will be guests of the sponsor on a vacation outing to Wigwam guest resort and Goodyear Farms, Litchfield Park, Ariz., in Nov. or Dec.

The first and second place districts each will receive bronze plaques as permanent symbol of their achievement at a state meeting of the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts later this year. All members of the governing bodies and the outstanding farmer-cooperators of the two districts will be presented framed certificates of achievement.

The national program entered its third year on May 1, with the beginning of a new competition that will run until March 31, 1956, and bring similar awards to the nation's top conservation districts and farmers next year.

RECKLESS DRIVER GETS JAIL TERM

Arrested by Tecumseh police Sunday afternoon, Marvin Higgins of Route 2, Tecumseh, was arraigned before Justice L. J. Van Deusen Monday on a reckless driving charge.

He was fined $35 and assessed costs of $6.30 and was sentenced to spend five days in the county jail.

FINE IS PAID

Richard Wayne, 58 of Tecumseh, paid a fine of $15 and costs of $8.60 when he arraigned before Justice Robert L. French Monday. Arrested by Tecumseh police Saturday night, he was charged with drunkenness.

Last year the American Red Cross issued over 2,052,200 certificates to persons completing free Red Cross training courses, including safety services training and home nursing training.

Turnpike Roads Seen Helping Interstate System

Turnpike self-liquidating highways in Michigan can spell the difference between success and failure of the state in meeting the $3,500,000,000 needs of the interstate system in the next decade Turnpike Authority Chairman, George Higgins, said today.

Here is the text of his statement: "The Michigan Turnpike Authority will help fill the billion dollar gap between the $3,500,000,000 needs of Michigan's trunkline highway system and the $2,500,000,000 presently in sight from a combination of the recent state gas tax increase and the best hoped-for federal legislation.

"The State Highway Department says the ten-year needs of the state trunkline system alone as shown by an upcoming highway needs study will be in the neighborhood of $3,500,000,000.

"The Michigan Turnpike Authority is prepared to issue revenue bonds and build the 113 mile Rockwood to Saginaw Turnpike as a self-liquidating project.

"The Turnpike revenue bond issue will not involve the faith and credit of the state nor will it use any gas tax monies for construction or its support.

"Thus it will offer a 'bonus' four lane divided limited access highway of the highest standard to the rest of Michigan's road program.

"The Turnpike Authority has conducted a preliminary reconnaissance study of a proposed east-west Turnpike from Detroit to the Indiana line near Chicago and after the Rockwood to Saginaw project gets underway, it's highly possible this highway can also be undertaken as a turnpike project.

"Thus, Turnpike construction could provide Michigan with almost a half-billion dollars in pay-as-you-go self-liquidating superhighways within the next few years.

"Turnpikes and toll financing can at best satisfy a small part of the total requirement for overall road modernization, but they can be used to excellent advantage to solve certain major critical problems.

"The fact is, the Turnpike program will be a material benefit to every taxpayer in Michigan because it will build miles of limited access expressways to relieve congested traffic corridors without state credit or gas tax involved. Thus, the program will free considerable gas tax funds for use by the State Highway Department to build other new roads and badly needed highway improvements all over Michigan.

"It is obvious that Michigan can build more highways through the combined and prudent use of both gas tax funds and toll charges."

'Local Experts' Lauded for Aid to Communities

One of the biggest assets of Michigan's small units of government is the "expert" who lives in the community and gives his time and energy to the community's development and planning.

Good words for local community leaders were voiced by two representatives of local government at Michigan State University's summer forum in state and local government.

"Small communities depend very much on the free advice of experts living in the community," said Mayor David Calhoun of Huntington Woods. In his town, the mayor said, a group of men are serving on one commission "whose combined salaries are probably $500,000 a year, but they serve the community for nothing, except their desire to help and improve it."

Agreeing that such service is "a wonderful thing" was James L. Gardner, president of the Michigan State Association of Supervisors. "It means a lot," he said, "to get for free a lot of high-class talent who can do future planning, prepare information and make suggestions."

In discussing Michigan's home rule act, Mayor Calhoun declared that "we have always felt very strongly that home rule is the way we would like to be governed. It is not up to the legislature in Lansing to tell us what to do internally."

Mayor Calhoun also objected to what he called "the legislature's attempt to set the hours for fire and police officials." Contending that this is a matter for the local community to decide, he said the setting of these working hours by the state would amount to "interference."

After the business session conducted by the president Clayton Bigelow, program leader Ralph Halladay presented the guest speaker, Elmer Pocklington of Ridgeway, who entertained the group with original poems and humorous stories.

Refreshments were served in conclusion by the hostess and her assistants.

W.S.C.S. MEETING POSTPONED

The Macon Women's Society of Christian Service meeting has been postponed from Tuesday, July 26 until Thursday, August 4 because of the death of Jesse Frost. The meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Herbert Morden.

FELLOWSHIP ENTERTAINS

Some 100 friends of the Macon Youth Fellowship were entertained in the Macon church yard Sunday evening. The grounds were lighted with Japanese lanterns and colored lights and the outdoor cross was illuminated.

Jack Crittenden announced the following program: Piano solo, Jean Thomas; vocal solo, Miss Molly Gordon of Saline accompanied by Mrs. Charles Gorton Jr.; a selection by the junior choir and one number by the senior choir. Carl Thomas sang "Old Man River" and the double quartette sang "It Is Well Within My Soul." This quartette is composed of Mr. and Mrs. James Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gorton Jr., Miss Geraldine Beck and Bill Gorton. The Rev. and Mrs. Vaughn Whited sang a duet and there were selections by the Youth Fellowship followed by singing by the entire group. Mrs. Carl Thomas was the pianist.

Ice cream and cake were served in conclusion.

Vacation Bible school will be held at the Macon church for all children five years of age and older from Monday, August 1 through Friday, August 5 from 7 until 9 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Reynolds Jr. and family of Gibson City, Ill., spent Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bruder. Additional guests in the Bruder home on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Furlong and Susan of Ypsilanti and Mrs. Chalmer Bruder and family of Belleville.

Beverly Ann Murphy Is Bride Of B. F. Swindeman

The altar of St. Alphonsus Catholic church in Deerfield was decorated with bouquets of white gladioli and pompoms Saturday morning when at 9 o'clock, Beverly Ann Murphy of Tecumseh became the bride of Bernard F. Swindeman of Deerfield.

Miss Murphy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin R. Murphy of North Union street and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Swindeman.

Melvin Murphy gave his daughter in marriage and the double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Fr. Sigismund Osmialowski.

The bride's gown was of scalloped imported Chantilly lace in waltz length made over satin and nylon tulle. The bodice had a wide portrait neckline and the sleeves were short with matching mitts. A crown of lace and pearls held the double veil of illusion and her costume was accented by pearl earrings and choker. Her flowers, miniature white roses were carried on a white prayer book, which was the groom's gift.

Her bridesmaid and only attendant was in forget-me-not blue tulle over taffeta made with waltz length skirt. She wore a matching stole over the strapless bodice, gloves of the same material and a head band trimmed with pearls. She carried a nose gay of red rosettes and contrasting tulle.

James Iott of Deerfield was Mr. Swindeman's best man.

Musical selections before and during the high nuptial mass were sung by the church choir accompanied by Mrs. Clara King at the organ.

Mrs. Swindeman, mother of the bride, wore an ensemble of pink orlon with white and pink accessories while Mrs. Murphy's gown was navy and her accessories navy and white.

A wedding breakfast for the wedding party and immediate families followed the ceremony at the Clinton hotel and a reception at the Products Union Hall that evening was attended by 150 guests.

They were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Melvin A. Murphy and registered in the guest book by Mrs. Delbert Gritzmaker of Adrian. Others who assisted at the reception were Mrs. James Bishop, Mrs. Danny Kauffman of Adrian, Mrs. Lewis Downing of Britton and Mrs. Melvin A. Murphy.

The refreshments featured a beautifully decorated, four-tiered wedding cake which had been made by Frank Carver of Milan, an uncle of the bride.

Mrs. Bernard Swindeman wore white organdy with white accessories when the newly married couple left for a ten day trip to Yellowstone Park.

The bride graduated from Tecumseh high school in 1954 and until her marriage was employed in the offices of Stubnitz Greene Corp. in Adrian.

Mr. Swindeman, who attended Deerfield high school and graduated from Davis Business College in Toledo is the manager of Applewood Orchards in Deerfield, where the couple will make their home.

BRIDE-ELECT HONORED

Mrs. Robert Hirsch entertained a group of 22 of the friends and relatives of Miss Mary Louise Kotts Monday evening. The occasion was a miscellaneous shower for Miss Kotts, a bride of August 6.

The hostess served delightful refreshments and games were the entertainment of the evening. The most amusing was a contest of "dress the bride" featuring costumes of crepe paper, tissue paper lace, etc. Prizes won were given to the honored guest who was also the recipient of many lovely gifts.

MRS. WILLIAM LEE BURIED IN JACKSON

Those from Tecumseh attending the funeral services of Mrs. William Lee in Jackson Saturday morning were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Blohm, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bachtal, Mrs. Ernest Robinson and Mrs. Geneva Cooper. Their sister, Mrs. William Smith of Flat Rock was also present.

The former Mae Herring, Mrs. Lee lived in Tecumseh for many years. The Rev. Edward Escolme of the Tecumseh Friends church conducted the services.

Local Topics

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Patton and daughter Mrs. Robert Roadarmel were Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Pannone of Jackson.

The Women's Missionary Society of the Baptist church will hold a potluck picnic supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wood of Brooklyn, Thursday, August 4. Husbands will be guests. Mrs. Clifford Curran and Mrs. Llewelyn Sisson will be assistant hostesses and members are to bring sandwiches and a dish to pass. For transportation, call Mrs. Curran.

Insect study will be the topic of the August 2 meeting of the Raisin Cookies 4-H group at their club house. Raymond Sweet and Max Handy will be in charge of games and John Clark of refreshments.

Hostesses for the ladies luncheon at the Country Club August 3 will be Mrs. Homer Colson, phone 43-W and Mrs. E. J. Crawford, 85. Those attending should make reservations before noon on Tuesday. Lady golfers from Hillsdale will be guests of the club that day.

A breakfast for the benefit of St. Peter's Guild will be held Thursday, August 4 at the home of Mrs. Paul Ammer. Serving will be from 9 to 11 and all women of St. Peter's Episcopal church are welcomed.

Local Topics

Mrs. William O'Brien of St. Louis, Mo. has been called here by the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. Claire Beland. She arrived with her four children about two weeks ago.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Harper this week are Billy Willard of Los Angeles, Calif. and Miss Terry Lynn of Chicago. Mr. Willard is returning home the last of the week but Miss Lynn will remain for the summer. Additional guests of the Harpers, Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Poling of Addison.

Ten ladies of the Tecumseh Methodist church, who are officers of the Women's Society of Christian Service are attending the summer seminar of that organization at the Saline Methodist church today.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith and daughter Lois of St. Clair, Mich. were overnight guests Sunday of Mrs. Smith's sister and husband the Rev. and Mrs. L. H. MacPherson. Lois remained for a week's visit with her aunt.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Bacon, who have been living for some time with Mrs. Bacon's grandmother, Mrs. John Finnegan on Rogers highway, have moved to Petersburg.

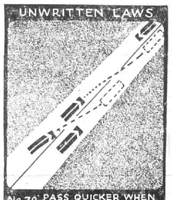
The Parent-Teacher Association of the Kelly School held a miscellaneous shower Friday evening at the schoolhouse for Mr. and Mrs. Gail Righter of Sutton road, who were recently married.

Raymond Lasky, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lasky, who was seriously injured during the Fourth of July weekend is still a patient at St. Joseph's hospital in Ann Arbor and underwent further surgery last Tuesday morning. The accident occured when the front wheel came off his bicycle throwing him to the ground and causing severe internal injuries. Extensive abdominal surgery has already been necessary.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Morden are now established in their new home in Danville, Ill., where Mr. Morden is part of the Tecumseh Products organization.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Curtiss and daughter Trudy are spending a few days in Traverse City with Mr. and Mrs. Morris Tubbs and family. Jacky and Beth Ann are staying with their grandparents.

UNWRITTEN LAWS



No. 70 PASS QUICKER WHEN BEING FOLLOWED

When traffic is heavy, remember that you are not the only driver who wants to pass that slow car up ahead. So, when you pull out to pass and your rear view mirror shows you another car trying to make the pass right behind you, speed up to pass quicker. Pull way up into the gap in the right hand lane to make room for the driver following to pull in behind.

Taking it easy in passing is being a "dog in the manger" in traffic. You prevent someone else from getting ahead. Even more important, if the car behind you doesn't make it you may be involved in a three car accident. Remember the slogan, "SLOW DOWN AND LIVE".

OSCAR MEADS FAMILY HAS ANNUAL PARTY

The Oscar Meads family held their annual summer party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Meads on Occidental highway, Sunday. The yearly gathering was advanced from the usual date in August because of the departure Friday of the Meads for the west coast.

Twenty-nine children and grandchildren were present for the potluck dinner which featured a wedding cake in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Campbell, who were married recently. The couple also received many gifts from members of their family.

hickory AND horsehide

by DIZZY TROUT

NO SINGLE factor is responsible for astounding Al Kaline's spectacular surge in batting prowess. This on the word of 20-year-old Al himself, who discusses his phenomenal hitting as impersonally as an engineer studying a blueprint.

Here's what young Mr. Kaline believes has contributed to making him the major league's leading hitter:

Added weight. Since marrying his high school sweetheart, Louise Hamilton, last winter he has gained almost 15 pounds.

Stronger wrists. He did lots of push ups and pull ups and swung a heavy bat in a gym all winter.

Better knowledge of opposing pitchers. Just out of Baltimore's Southern High School last year, Al needed almost a full season to learn what kind of stuff enemy flingers had and how and when they used it.

Early Signs

But long ago there were signs of Kaline's big league potential. Back to those days on the sandlots when he played as many as three games a day. To his years in high school when he batted, successively, .333, .409, .433 and .469.

To the encouragement of his mother, Naomi, and his father, Nicholas, a former semi-pro catcher who taught him much about baseball, and his two elder sisters. To his championship play on the Baltimore semi-pro team that twice won the state title.

The signs were there when scout Ed Katalinas paid him a $35,000 bonus to sign a Detroit contract after Brooklyn had tried him out and sent him home because he was "too small." The money, incidentally, went to his parents.

From the outset, Al showed tremendous speed on the basepaths and in the outfield. His slingshot arm soon made opposing hitters afraid to take an extra base.

But Al was fearful that he couldn't hit big league pitching well enough to become a regular. He worried particularly over the cunning slow ball pitchers.

Off With a Bang

Former Manager Freddie Hutchinson told Ol' Diz last year that if Kaline hit .270 he would help the team. Al played virtually the entire season and wound up with a .276 average and four home runs.

This year, of course, he started off with a bang and kept up the noise all season, his batting average as of this writing around .370 and his home run production in the twenties. Not to mention all those hits and runs batted in.

What makes this all the more amazing is that Al now rarely gets a good ball to hit. Pitchers are too wary of him, Boston's Willard Nixon being the only one still giving him any trouble.

Kaline not only likes playing the Hickory and Horsehide game for Detroit but living here as well. He's renting a place in suburban Oak Park and hopes to winter here if the right off-season job comes along.

Robison Leads Adrian Racers

Herb Robison of Adrian, who won the Adrian Speedway stock car racing championship two years ago, may be on his way to winning another season's title this year on the quarter-mile track at the Lenawee County Fairgrounds.

"My car is really running perfectly these days," Robison said after winning the 50-lap mid-season championship race at Adrian Speedway last week. Herbie has his mount in top shape for the 25-lap stock car feature event scheduled at the Speedway this Thursday night. Time trials will begin at 7 p. m. with the first race at 8:30.

Robison has been about the hottest driver around the Midwest Association for Race Cars modified stock circuit since swapping cars a few weeks back. He switched from a Ford to the automatic-transmission, Lincoln-powered car which carried him in front all the way for the 50-lap win last week.

It was the first appearance of Robison's Lincoln-p[illegible] re due to several rainouts and he made it a big evening for Adrian pilots. Since switching to the Lincoln, Herbie has added 100 points to his total with the 50-lap Adrian victory, has become the first driver to win three features at Wauseon Raceway including the 50-lap mid-season title event and also has been a feature victor at Toledo Raceway Park.

Ken McCullough of Adrian, who won a heat race and finished second in the semi-final, also has his new car in fine tune for future local victories.

Possible Play-Off Looms in Rec. League

In the men's recreation league softball games last week Friends Church won two games to keep pace with Wilson Motors, still league leaders.

Wilson's also won and now has completed its season of regular play with an 8-2 record. By winning next Monday night in its last game of the season, the Friends could tie up the standings and force a play-off for the title. The Friends now have a 7-2 record.

Wilson's clobbered Britton 18-8 in their season final.

The Automen had 13 hits and made two errors. Batterymen were Whitecotton and T. Hamilton.

Britton IOOF made seven hits and bungled five times. Auten and Saxton provided the battery.

Roost blasted a homer for the winners. And Gilpin had a single and double, while Whitecotton added a double and pair of singles.

Auten collected three singles in four trips for the losers.

Wilson's grabbed a 9-3 advantage in the first and were never headed.

In their second game the Friends took Dick's Standard Service, 8-3.

The Friends had six hits while Dick's had five. The Friends, however, played errorless ball while the Servicemen made four errors.

Meads and Kelley comprised the Friends battery while Barrs and the Withrow boys Don and Harry worked for Dick's.

Murran had two hits in three trips for the winners while Kelley added a double.

Pinch-hitter Whelan had a double in the seventh inning for the losers.

The Friends scored two runs in the second and fifth innings and added the clinching four runs in the sixth.

Dick's had all its runs in the sixth.

The Friends squeaked by the American Legion, 6-5, to remain in contention for the title.

Van Camp and Williams labored for the Legion while Meads and Kelley worked for the church.

Colson hit a triple for the Legionnaires and Williams walloped a homer. Goller had three hits out of four trips to the plate.

The Friends took a 1-0 lead in the second but the Legion knotted the count in the same inning. The church team added a run in the third and two runs each in the sixth and seventh.

The Legion added single runs in the fifth and sixth and two runs in the seventh.

Wilson's won its second game of the week by clipping Gambles 7-3. Thorpe and T. Hamilton labored for the winners while McKenzie and Meyers toiled for the losers.

The winners had nine hits while Gambles were held to three hits.

Gleason whaled a double and single for Gambles while Gilpin had two out of four and Thibbs added a homer.

Wilson's made two runs in the second inning and five in the sixth. Gambles had one run in the third and two in the fourth.

Cards Tryout Planned for Next Week

Veteran Cardinal Scouts Bob Kline and Jack Sturdy have been assigned to handle the workouts for the Red Bird tryout camp scheduled at Cairns Field in Monroe next Monday and Tuesday.

Kline, former major league pitcher, hoped that a large group of young players in the 17 to 23 year age bracket would be on hand.

"All we ask a player to do is bring his own glove, a pair of shoes, and, if he has one, a uniform. We'll have bats and balls and catching equipment.

"Besides that," he continued, "any boy reporting can be assured that he will get a one hundred per cent fair and impartial evaluation of his talents. Any player we see who has the potential to become, some day, through development, a major league player will be offered a contract to play and develop his talents in the Cardinals' minor league organization.

"Everyone in the Cardinal organization works with and for a young player, helping him to make good. The Cardinal formula of plenty of personal attention, plus a generous amount of individual instruction and a chance to play regularly is an unbeatable combination to help a player climb the ladder of baseball success."

No charge or fee is required to attend the tryout camp. In addition, players who are signed will be refunded any expense incurred as a result of participating in the tryout camp.

A Letter to a Maniac

This is an open letter to a young maniac driving a new DeSoto:

Twice last week a group of men standing in front of the First Methodist church saw you go crazy at the wheel of your new, shiny car and jeopardize life, limb and property.

You will remember the circumstances: first, you dashed past another car going west on the boulevard, crowding its driver so much that he almost had to take to the island. After some heated words you must have thought "Why, I'll show that . . . . . ". You then made a U-turn at high speed and, going east, you jetted into a parking place in front of a local tavern, narrowly missing two cars in your stupid haste and anger.

You are a maniac. You would be no more dangerous if you went about town with a loaded pistol and shot at citizens just to see how close you could come to them.

A car with more than a ton and half of steel and glass hurtling irresponsibly about is a dangerous weapon, particularly when it is driven by an uncontrollable moron like you are.

You have no right to be on the streets menacing others. And if we had our way you no longer would be.

If you are able to read and to comprehend, this may do some good. The men in front of the church watching you a week ago Tuesday, including us, all took a pledge. If any one of us sees you again driving like a person gone berserk, you will be turned over to the police. And all of us would appear in any court against you.

We feel that it is our duty to report such maniacal driving. By doing so we may save a life.

It Should Be Concrete

Two points can be brought out from the complaints heard by taxpayers who have had their assessments raised by the city assessor.

First, more of us should take an active interest in how city government is run. When we see a notice that the board of review is going to meet "to hear aggrieved taxpayers" maybe it would be a good idea to attend the meeting. We might possibly be among those "aggrieved".

Secondly, we would know for sure that we have been "aggrieved" if the assesor sent us a notice saying that he had raised our assessment. According to the City charter the assessor is supposed to send a notice in the mail to those property owners whose property valuation has been raised.

This year, we will admit, the situation was abnormal what with the state claiming that the city's assessed value should be raised. The assessor, trying to get the city's total assessed valuation more in line with the state figures, did arbitrarily raise some property owners.

But, he said, he did not have time to get all the notices of the increases in the mail. He did send some to those who had new property and to those who took out building permits to make additions. But there just wasn't time to send out 1,300.

He inadvertently did do the next best thing. In the Feb. 24 issue of the HERALD he was quoted at a council meeting "increases will be spread over industry, business and home owners where inequalities now exist." Of course, this can not be construed as an official notice of raised assessments.

The city's plan for a re-appraisal of all real and personal property can change this confusion and ill feeling. It is geared to equalizing assessments and the assessor supports this program.

At the Feb. 24 meeting he appealed to the council to have an independent, scientific re-appraisal made. He said "then you will have something concrete to go on."

Let us all hope that the re-appraisal plan will prove the assessor right.

This Beats Everything

Well, we've heard just about everything now.

A member of the anti-fluoridation committee did not think we should print the page-one story last week and Monday a member of the pro-fluoridation group asked "why in the world did you play up that story like you did?" He further explained that the story hurts his group's cause.

Others have asked why too.

Consider the facts:

A group charges that somebody somehow is doing something to the public water supply which it should not be doing. The charges are common gossip on the street and in almost every home.

One of the group appears at the most public meeting in town — the city council meeting — and reiterates that an official investigation should be made. The city council authorizes more tests of the water and makes a public statement in its official minutes answering the charge.

Yet, "why did we have it in the paper?"

Well, we suppose the only answer is that because we are a NEWSPAPER!

"Help me find a house to buy," Mrs. Blanton requested. "As you can see, we're expecting an increase in our family, and we'll simply have to have more room."

We looked over our list and selected a house designed for an expanding family.

Mrs. Blanton loved it. The only question was on possession. The sellers were building a new home and didn't want to move twice. Possession would be at least 60 days away.

"That's all right," Mrs. Blanton said. "We really have three or four months. I'd rather delay possession awhile than continue house hunting. The fact I hadn't spotted the right one until now gave me an awful unsettled feeling."

So, the Blanton's bought the home. And the "unsettled feeling" disappeared.

Maybe that uneasiness you feel while you are renting a house or apartment is nothing more than an "unsettled feeling." If so, we have the cure—a home of your own!

Faith in the Bible's Teachings Essential to Our National Welfare

Letter To Editor

July 26, 1955
Tecumseh, Michigan

To the Editor:

After hearing President Eisenhower's report to the people of the summit conference at Geneva I am moved to put in writing some of the ideas and thoughts I have had and some of the conclusions I have reached about peace.

Peace is our most important business and we should do all in our power to treat it as such. Peace is of equal importance to all people in each of our great political parties. Our efforts toward peace have got to be elevated and held above partisian politics and party influence. To be constructive we must plan and live for the future and only use the past as a reference and guide for improvement in future acts. The past cannot be changed. The difference in interpretations and of opinions of the past cannot be resolved. We are all affected alike by the result as we shall be in the future.

To insure the ultimate in our efforts toward peace we have got to capture the bipartisan spirit now prevalent and secure it against the weakening effects of another national election campaign which will soon be absorbing the thoughts and energies of the people we depend on to run the business of our government. How can we do this? I believe we can do it if we act quickly before we get into another political campaign and field a super peace team Co-captained by a man from each the Republican party and the Democratic party who has the confidenee of the majority of the people in their respective parties. I believe this team could be held above partisanship and would receive all the authority and power necessary to implement its decisions through the support of public opinion.

I believe we would receive the greatest benefit if Dwight Eisenhower as a man and presently titular head of the Republican party and Adlai Stevenson as a man and presently titular head of the Democratic party were to divorce themselves from politics and devote their time and efforts to co-captaining this peace team. I think they have the intelligence, ability, integrity and experience that would both compliment and supplement each other to the fullest.

The intentions of this action could not successfully be challenged. It would give prestige and strength to our efforts for peace.

Think it over and if you come up with a better idea I would like to know what it is.

Sincerely,
Grenval Spangler,

Services Held for Jesse D. Frost

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon for Jesse D. Frost of Macon whose death occured early Saturday morning at Herrick Memorial hospital.

Mr. Frost, who was 82 years of age, had been in failing health for about two months, entering the hospital July 16.

The son of George and Clarissa Jackson Frost, he was born August 29, 1873 in Macon, where he lived his entire life. As a young man, he worked as a farm laborer and later on the Ford farms. For several years he was owner of the Frost and Chambers threshing outfit, and had also been employed at the Tecumseh Products Co.

He is survived by his wife, Margaret; a son, Kenneth Frost; a daughter, Mrs. Elwyn Bugbee and seven grandchildren, all of Macon.

The Rev. Vaughn Whited conducted the services at the Collins Funeral Home and burial was in Macon cemetery.

Give to the Goodwill

Persons wishing to contribute household discards to help the handicapped employees at Goodwill Industries are asked by Mr. William Kuster and Mrs. Carl Burch, local telephone representatives, to be certain that it is the Goodwill truck which makes the pick-up. "All Goodwill trucks are a bright red color with the name of the organization painted in large white letters on the side," Mr. Kuster and Mrs. Burch said.

Since Goodwill trucks do not make door to door solicitations, the drivers stop only at homes where a request has been made in advance to Mr. Kuster and Mrs. Burch. Persons who do not expect to be home when the pick-up is made may leave their discards near their rear door. Items to be taken should be plainly marked for Goodwill Industries.

The next regularly scheduled pick-up by the Goodwill trucks in Britton and Tecumseh will be Tuesday, Aug. 2.

Anyone with clothing, shoes, toys, small appliances and other household articles to be contributed may arrange for a pick-up by calling Mr. Kuster of Britton at Britton 2121, and Mrs. Burch of Tecumseh at Tecumseh 868.

Household discards are used by Goodwill Industries to provide jobs and training for 400 handicapped men and women in the Detroit Goodwill workshops.

Music Camp Schedules Plays and Operetta

Heading the program for the fifth week of activities at the National Music Camp will be the second dramatic presentation of the season. High school students in beginning dramatics classes will act in three scenes from great plays. Performances will be at 8 p.m. in Grunow Theater and will run from Wednesday, July 27, through Friday, July 29.

Included will be the balcony scene from Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet," a cutting from the second act of Jean Giraudoux's "Mad Woman of Chaillot," and an act from J. M. Barrie's "The Old Lady Shows Her Medals." The plays will be directed by J. B. Stephenson, camp faculty member and instructor of speech at the University of Michigan.

The rollicking music of a Gilbert and Sullivan operetta will highlight the sixth week of activities.

"Patience," a satire on the fad of the '80's for the aesthetic side of life, will be performed by high school students under the direction of Maynard Klein, Director of Choirs at the University of Michigan.

The operetta will be presented in Kresge Assembly Hall at 8 p.m. on two evenings, Friday, Aug. 5 and Saturday, Aug. 6. It will be the only operetta presented this season.

Three selections will be played by the National High School Orchestra at the regular Sunday evening symphony concert, July 31. The three are: Grieg's "Symphonic Dances," Sibelius' Symphony No. 5, and Dvorak's "Slavonic Dance, No. 8."

Sunday night's concert Aug. 7 will feature Schubert's Symphony No. 7, and Copland's "Rodeo Suite." Both concerts will be at 8 p.m. in the Interlochen Bowl.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Modern Science Finally Catches Up With Grandpa

I got put in my place the other night. Deserved it, too. My father-in-law said we were due for bad weather. "Birds are flying low," he reported. "That means a storm."

I started to josh with the old gentleman about being superstitious. Then my nephew Jim, on vacation from college, pipes up. "Grandad's right," he says.

"At least, that's what they say at school," Jim goes on. "The heavy air you get before a storm forces insects down low—so high-flying birds have to swoop along the ground if they want to eat."

From where I sit, there's probably sound reasoning back of most old sayings . . . back of anything people have learned to believe in. Take the idea of a stitch in time saving nine—sparing rods and spoiling children—of drinking hot milk, or a refreshing glass of beer, at bedtime. You may not hold with any of these beliefs yourself . . . but it's not smart to give them the "bird."

It's the 4-Door Riviera—
the stunning new hit of America's Hardtops

WHEN Buick introduced this nation's first hardtop—the Riviera—folks went for it, and fast.

They liked the Convertible look of this 2-door beauty—long, low and rakish. They liked the added security of the steel roof overhead. And they certainly liked the absence of center posts in the side window areas — which gave a completely unbroken view left and right.

People liked it all so well that, over the past six years, they made the Riviera the biggest-selling hardtop in the world, bar none. And it still is.

Now Buick has come up with another great advance in hardtops — the 4-Door Riviera—and it's a sensational hit.

It has everything the original 2-Door Riviera has—plus separate doors for rear-seat passengers, and a whale of a lot more room for them.

Rock-solid half-pillars on either side are what latch the front doors and hinge the rear ones. So there's no center post above the door line—and a completely open sweep of view to both sides.

And the roominess provided by this gorgeous new hardtop is really something — over 9 inches more hiproom and 5 inches more legroom in the rear.

Why don't you come see this brand-new kind of automobile that's heading up the parade of the hottest-selling line of Buicks in history?

That way you can also try Buick comfort, Buick power, Buick ride and handling and roadability — plus the electrifying action of Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflow.*

Do it this week—tomorrow would be fine — and you'll see what record volume really means in the way of record-high trade-in deals.

*Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at modest extra cost on other Series.

Christian Science Services Listed

How spiritual understanding of God as divine Love assures man of wise guidance and unlimited inspiration will be brought out at Christian Science services this Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Love" will include the following passage from the Biblical account of the guidance the children of Israel received in their flight from Egypt: "And the Lord went before them by day in a pillar of a cloud, to lead them the way; and by night in a pillar of fire, to give them light; to go by day and night: He took not away the pillar of the cloud by day, nor the pillar of fire by night, from before the people" (Exodus 13:21, 22).

Among the correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following (454:18-21): "Love inspires, illumines, designates, and leads the way. Right motives give pinions to thought, and strength and freedom to speech and action."

The Golden Text is from I John (4:8): "He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love."

A REAL MOVIE EVENT COMING TO STRAND

Walt Nichols, manager of the Strand Theater, Tecumseh, will offer patrons an old fashioned movie show presenting outstanding hits of the gay nineties and one of the first features ever released for the screen—"THE GREAT TRAIN ROBBERY."

Another hit of this period will be shown which was a super-duper thriller "TEN NIGHTS IN A BARROOM" and W. S. Hart, the bad man of the movies at that time, in his great success "EVERY INCH A MAN."

You also will see such stars of yesteryear as America's Sweetheart, Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, Sr., the greatest of all screen lovers Rudolph Valentino, dainty Clara Bow, Francis X. Bushman, Norma Talmadge, Clara Kimball Young, Tom Mix, John Bunny, Lillian Gish, Mabel Normand, Fatty Arbuckle and Marie Dressler.

There will be old songs to sing, should you care to join in. You can hiss the villian and have one of the most enjoyable evenings you've ever had at the movies. "GOOD OLD DAYS" will be seen starting Tuesday, Aug. 2, continuing through Wednesday and Thursday, Aug. 3 and 4 at the Strand Theater, Tecumseh.

Phony Magazine Salesman Misuses Name of AP

From reports received, Harold Dison, previously a representative of a reputable magazine agency, is now soliciting subscriptions throughout the central section of the country, mostly in villages and throughout the rural areas.

Dison uses a printed receipt form giving the name of National Literary Association (a well-known magazine agency) but listing as its address Columbus Circle, New York City. There is no such organization as National Literary Association at Columbus Circle.

In addition Mr. Dison on occasion flashes a card bearing the imprint of the Associated Press and presumably identifying him as an employee of that well-known news agency. Mr. Dison is completely unknown to the Associated Press.

Thus far, Dison has operated in Arkansas, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Tennessee and the District of Columbia but, according to one solicitor who was with him for a very short period of time, moves rapidly from area to area.

Dison is described as being about 23 years of age, small, sallow and appears unhealthy. He has a 1955 Buick Century sedan bearing Missouri license plates.

In addition to selling subscriptions on the forms of this non-existent agency, Dison is reported as contacting young men endeavoring to have them work for him and accompany him on his travels.

It is suggested that Better Business Bureaus and Chambers of Commerce alert the police in their vicinity to the activities of this individual since he may, from previous reports, turn up almost anywhere.

ENJOYS OUTING

Paul Edward Underwood, son of Mrs. Opal Jennings, 301 East Pottawatamie street, Tecumseh, a Wentworth Military academy summer camper, is enjoying an outing in the Missouri Lake-of-the-Ozarks resort area with the academy's camp group this week.

While on this excursion, Paul and other campers are engaging in such recreational activities as swimming, boating, fishing and hiking.

Evenings are spent telling stories around the camp fire, participating in stunt programs, and studying nature and astronomy. Each night small groups participate in overnight canoe and camping trips.

This year's program includes an all-day bus trip around the lake region, visits to Bridal and Jacob's caves, and a speed boat outing at Bagnell Dam.

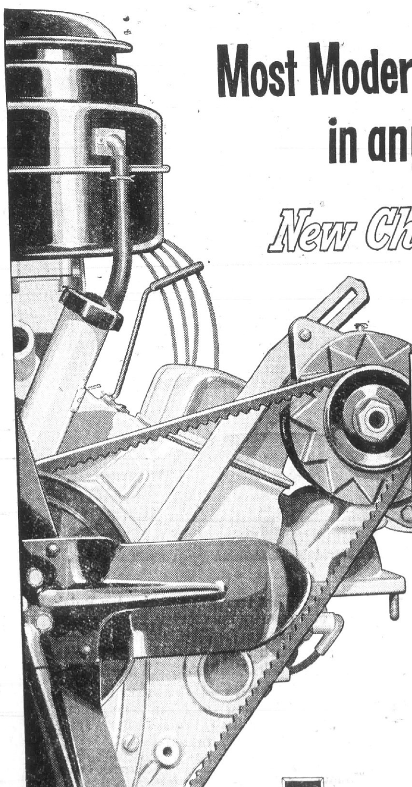
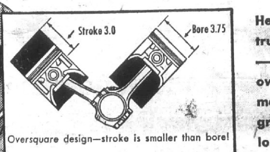
Most Modern, Shortest Stroke V8's* in any leading truck!
New Chevrolet Task-Force Trucks





Oversquare design—stroke is smaller than bore!

Here's the measure of a truly modern V8 engine—Chevrolet's advanced oversquare design. It means less friction . . . greater efficiency . . . longer engine life!

Here are more dollar-saving reasons why new Chevrolet trucks offer you the most modern V8's* your money can buy!

MODERN 12-VOLT ELECTRICAL SYSTEM
Double the punch for quicker starting and more efficient ignition for finer performance.

GAS-SAVING HIGH-COMPRESSION RATIO
With a high 7.5 to 1 compression ratio, Chevrolet's new V8 truck engines squeeze extra power—and work—out of gas.

EXTRA-HIGH POWER PER POUND
Since these V8's deliver high power per pound of engine weight, more power is available for hauling.

ADVANCED AIRCRAFT-TYPE VALVES
Valve action is more positive for finer, smoother performance.

FLOATING OIL INTAKE . . . FULL-PRESSURE LUBRICATION
Oil intake selects the cleanest oil for positive, full-pressure engine lubrication.

*V8 standard in the new L.C.F. models, an extra-cost option in all others except Forward-Control models.

Is That So!

By Clara Waldron

THRESHING

The combine turned the corner of the standing wheat and clattered away down the other side of the field, spewing shattered straw in its dusty wake. This one was self-propelled. Not even a tractor was needed. Just one man to make sure it cut the proper swath and that the insides of its grotesque hulk were working properly.

Presently a wide, flat-boxed wagon would draw along side, there would be a shift of gears and a stream of golden grain would pour out of the creature's dinosaur-like mouth. Then man and machine would go on. One man, in one hot July day, doing the work that not long ago required a dozen men for almost that many days. So much wheat, in so short a time with so little effort — it had all the efficiency of a modern production line.

And yet, for one with nostalgic memories of the "horse and buggy days", admiration for that efficiency did not quite compensate for the friendly bustle of old time neighborhood threshing.

For the youngsters on the farm the fun and excitment began the night before. Far down the road would come the chugging cough of the threshing machine engine and presently, steam hissing and sparks shooting into the evening dusk, the monster would turn into the farm yard, pulling the lumbering "separator" and the long bulk of the tank-wagon and would maneuver them to the spot chosen for the "set" of the next day's work. There were usually three of the threshing-crew and, if the farm house did not have sleeping quarters for so many, they were quite content with the hay-mow but their three meals a day were taken for granted.

Next morning the teams and men who were "changing work" began to arrive while the mist was rising and each was assigned —or chose— his place for the day. Nearly every man had some special skill or preference. They "pitched on" or loaded (loading had a very special knack); one man could build the best straw stack another preferred to "carry away", shouldering the sacks of grain and emptying them into the storage bins.

Usually at least one farm dog had followed his team and there would be a moment of panic (or anticipation, depending on the point of view) while he and your Shep walked a stiff-legged circle to decide who was boss.

The engine fire had been raked out early and when steam was up and the long twisted belt had been adjusted from drive wheel to separator, there would be a jet of steam, a shrill, high blast of the whistle, the first lead of sheaves would draw along side and the days work was begun.

All day there would be good natured "kidding", time work jokes, shrewd speculation on how the wheat would "run to the acre" and always friendly rivalry in the amount and skill of the work done by each man. Even the horses came in for a share. The smart, steady team who followed the rows of shocks, stopping and starting with only a word of command was a source of pride to their owner. The heat, the dust, the hard, long hours were taken as a matter of course.

Meanwhile in the house things were just as busy. Usually, here too, there was a change of work with a neighbor's wife or a relative with probably exchange of news as well and a prodigious amount of food had been prepared. The table she "set for threshers" was the test of the farm housewife. Those field grown appetites did not crave "fancy vituals" but they wanted good food and lots of it. The table that groaned under its load when the dinner bell rang would be swept clear in a matter of minutes. And there would be a supper to follow.

To the grown-ups threshing was work but to the young fry it was pure joy. From the engine to the straw stack to the grain bins it was all new and exciting. They ran errands for all and sundry and carried jugs of cool well water or "ginger drink" out to the field, bare toes curled against the sun-scorched stubble and rode back on the swaying top of the incoming load.

Now it is all as outmoded as the cradle and flail. The man on the combine is modern and efficient. But somehow that day as he rounded the far corner of the field he looked just a little lonely.

City Officials Deny Charges Of Suit

Services Held for Britton Accident Victim

Funeral services for Iva E. Downing, wife of Emery Downing of Britton, were held Monday afternoon at the Niblack Funeral Home in Britton.

Mrs. Downing died last Friday evening from injuries suffered in an automobile accident at the County Line road and Redman road in Monroe county Friday afternoon. She was taken to Herrick Memorial hospital and later transferred to University hospital, Ann Arbor. Mr. Downing is still a patient at Herrick Memorial hospital.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spencer, Mrs. Downing was born March 7, 1894, and married Mr. Downing in Dec., 1913.

She is survived by her husband, four daughters, Mrs. Douglas (Audrey) Palmer, of Britton, Mrs. Robert (Charlotte) Bigelow, Mrs. Melvin (Shirley) Wertenberger, Jr., and Mrs. LaVern (Arlene) Weyher, all of Dundee; two sons, Dean at home and Donald of Dundee; her mother, Mrs. Alice Bumpus of Tecumseh; a brother, Frank Spencer of Detroit and 11 grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her father and one sister.

The Rev. O. E. Priest officiated at the funeral services and burial was in Ridgeway cemetery. Bearers were nephews, Merlyn Downing of Tecumseh, Russell Downing, Louis Downing and Charles Barrett of Britton, Ransom Squires, Jr., of Milan and Melvin Wegner.

Mrs. Claire Beland Services Are Friday Afternoon

Hazel Hall Beland, wife of Claire Beland of 3361 E. Monroe road died early Wednesday morning at Herrick Memorial hospital after a month's illness.

She was the daughter of Daniel and Eunice Davidson Hall, both members of pioneer Tecumseh families.

She was born Nov. 3, 1892, on a farm east of the village.

Mrs. Beland graduated from Tecumseh high school with the class of 1911.

She was a member of the Tecumseh Baptist church, the Abi Evans Chapter of D.A.R., the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Co., the Tecumseh Grange, the Auxiliaries of the Spanish American War Veterans and the V.F.W. and the Lenawee Historical Society.

She is survived by her husband, Claire; one daughter, Mrs. William J. O'Brien of St. Louis, Mo.; two sons, Charles C. and Harry F. Beland both of Tecumseh; nine grandchildren; one brother, Russell D. Hall and several nephews, nieces and cousins.

Funeral services for Mrs. Beland will be conducted by the Rev. Alvin Brazee, Friday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. at the Collins Funeral Home and burial will be in Brookside cemetery.

TWO ARE FINED

Two Tipton area men were sentenced to pay fines and costs after pleading guilty to drunkenness charges at arraignments Thursday before Justice L. J. Van Deusen at Clinton.

Ralph C. Fisher, 25 years old, was ordered to pay a fine of $25 and costs of $6.30. Ned Ruesink, 24, was sentenced to pay a fine of $15 and costs of $6.30.

Both are of Route 1, Tipton.

Clinton state police booked both men at the jail early Thursday morning after their arrests on US-112 in Franklin township.

CITY WILL HAVE NEW PARKING METERS

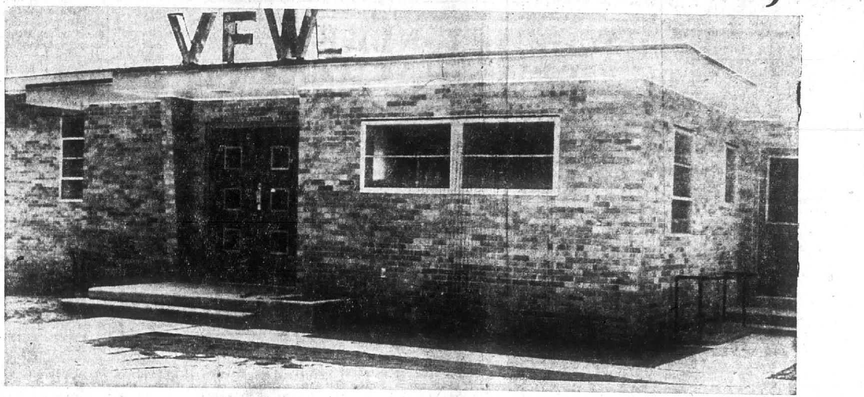
Twenty-five new type parking meters have been ordered by the city. One of them is now up on the boulevard in front of the Tecumseh Tavern.

Chief George Kilbourn said the new meters are fool-proof and they have less working parts than the old.

A REMINDER

The HERALD office will be closed all day Saturdays during Aug.

V. F. W. Will Dedicate New Home Aug. 14



A ten-year dream will come true for members of Hall-Slater Post 4187, Veterans of Foreign Wars when they didicate their new $50,000 post home at 19 Mill street Sunday, Aug. 14.

A combined open house, dedication and 10th year birthday party will be held Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 13 and 14.

The post actually was 10 years old in June but the new memorial home was not completed in time.

An open house for the public will be held Saturday, Aug. 13. The home will be open for public inspection from 1 to 5 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m.

The home will be open to the public Sunday, Aug. 14, from 1 to 3 p.m.

At 3 p.m. Sunday the dedication ceremonies will be held with Leon Buer, past Michigan Department commander, as speaker. District and national officers will be guests.

After the ceremony light refreshments will be served by the post auxiliary on the lawn until 5 p.m. when the doors will be closed to the public. A plaque will be dedicated during the ceremony.

The birthday cake will be made by Mrs. Lloyd Stites, senior vice-president of the auxiliary.

Features of the new home are these: the main section is 55 x 35. The meeting room is 40 x 35. The new home has a well equipped kitchen, an office, two rest rooms and a lobby. In the basement there is a 40 x 35 recreation room.

It has an oil furnace with forced radiant heat.

The new brick home has laminated ceilings.

Earl Kruger was chairman of the building committee which was comprised of Clifford Curran, Lloyd Stites, Carl Kemp, Robert Starkey and Richard Butler.

ASK WATER CURB

Because of the extreme heat which has caused a maximum of water usage and lowered pressure, the city asks that home owners voluntarily cooperate with a plan to conserve water.

Owners of even numbered houses are asked to sprinkle their lawns on even days and odd numbers on odd days.

Lightning Strikes But Show Goes on

Lightning does strike twice in the same place.

Twelve years ago a bolt struck the Strand Theater tearing a huge hole in the roof and Tuesday about 6:30 history repeated when lightning again caused extensive damages to the theater's roof. The loss is covered by insurance.

This time four holes were blasted in the roof. Cement shingles went flying, some landing in the street, while some peppered the neighboring roof of Butler's Motor Sales and the used car lot.

Firemen were called when folks on the street saw what they thought was black smoke shoot sky-ward. The "smoke," however, turned out to be dust and there was no fire.

Walt Nichols, manager of the theater, had finished his bath just in time to hear some of the shingles go through a sky-light at the rear of his apartment over the theater.

He immediately contacted workmen of Pete Thielan who put up a tarpaulin over the largest hole which was near the screen. Rain gushed through before the hole was covered.

Tuesday Pete's crew was busy repairing the holes.

Walt was mighty proud that because of the fast action of the workers right after the bolt played tag on the roof, the show went on . . . and it was only 15 minutes late.

Man Burned as Hoist Breaks Power Line

Hugh Raper, 23, of near Adrian is in serious condition in Herrick Memorial hospital suffering from second degree burns on his hips and legs, but his condition is improving.

He was burned when a broken power line caused a minor fire at the Tecumseh Products Company early last Thursday morning.

Mr. Raper and two fellow workers James Hill and Ted Collar of the Addington Roofing Co. of Adrian were working on the roof of the south end of the administration building when a 7500 volt power line accidentally was broken by a hoist that they were using.

Mr. Collar received burns on the wrist and was treated at Herrick Memorial hospital. Mr. Hill was not injured.

A partition and false ceiling were ignited.

A sprinkler system and Tecumseh firemen put out the blaze.

The fire caused damages estimated at $500 to the building.

Okay Contract for Re-appraisal

The council Monday night authorized Mayor Hanna, Mrs. Naomi Sallows, city clerk, and Ed Nelson, city manager, to sign a contract with the J. M. Cleminshaw Co. of Cleveland, Ohio, to reappraise all real and personal property in the city.

The re-appraisal, which will begin this fall, will cost about $12,500.

APPROVE WELL SITE

The Michigan State Department of Health has approved a new city well site north of River Acres. The well site was given to the city by the Tecumseh Products Company.

Swim Classes End Friday

Swimming classes at the Joyce Andrews Memorial pool will end Friday.

Make-up day for swimming tests for children in the beginners class will be Wednesday, Aug. 10 at 10 a.m. These special tests are being given for those students who were unable to be present during the regular testing period.

FIREMEN CALLED

Firemen Wednesday morning were called to the home of Miss Bess Pulver on north Union street.

An electric stove had a short. There were no damages.

GET SECOND SHOTS

One hundred and sixty-five children received their second Salk polio vaccine at Central school Monday morning.

Dr. Laidlaw Writes Letter to Council

This letter from Dr. Robert W. Laidlaw was read by Mrs. Naomi Sallows at the city council meeting Monday night, accepted and placed on file:

29 July 1955

Gentlemen:

Here are some facts which may be of assistance to you concerning the claims made by the Anti-Fluoridation Committee.

1. Published water analyses for the last several years have listed the natural fluoride content of our water as .20 parts per million (ppm). In 1952 and 1953 several tests were made in connection with the proposed installation of fluoridation equipment. All tests verified this natural content. You will remember that because of this NATURAL content it was only necessary to add .80 ppm to bring the content up to the ideal level of 1.00 ppm. This is a matter of record.

2. The four analyses taken and published by the anti group gives an average fluoride content of .21 ppm which corresponds to the natural content.

3. Analyses for fluoride cannot differentiate between natural and added fluoride.

4. The claim that our water showed no fluoride content in several tests conducted by the anti group suggests strongly that there was an error in method, either in the analyses or in the samples.

5. This probability was discussed with the State Health Department laboratory and the following information is offered.

The tests for fluoride, both quantitative and qualitative at the concentrations we are concerned with are difficult and are extremely sensitive to error. The 1955 edition of the book "Standard Methods of Examination of Water, Sewerage and Wastes" lists four tests for fluoride. The test suggested as best is the Scott-Sanchis modified test which is the one used by the nationally famous Michigan State Health Department laboratory. The main point is that all of the fluoride tests give inaccurate results in the presence of centain agents such as iron, phosphates, carbonates, chlorine, etc. The fact that three different certified labs did not give consistant results further leads to the conclusion that their accuracy is in doubt, certified or not.

6. Accurate tests require accurate samples. The state, in order to get good samples, has gone to considerable expense to buy and prepare special containers and to standardize sampling methods. Accurate samples for testing such minute concentrations cannot be expected of persons untrained in scientific methods, especially when using makeshift containers.

All of the above points were carefuly explained to the chairman of the anti group in a prolonged personal conversation over a week ago. In spite of his knowledge of the true facts the charges and insinuations are continuing.

What can be done?

Sincerely,
Robert W. Laidlaw, DDS

Pit To Show Lessons Learned

Duaine Furbush, swimming instructor and life guard at the pit on South Adrian street, announces that there will be a public demonstration of water skills and safety Friday afternoon, Aug. 5, at 6:30 p.m.

The personnel of the swimmers will include all grades from beginners through all phases of life saving and water safety techniques. A feature will be swimming by two seven-year-olds whose hands and feet are tied and then linked by the same rope. Everyone is welcome to this demonstration. There will be no charge.

Mr. Furbush reports an excellent attendance for the classes which are held mornings five days each week. The ages of the pupils vary from four years to 52.

CONDUCTED BY BOB WARREN

BIMBO HAS BEEN FOUND. The pet monkey owned by the Wayne Selders family has been returned. Missing two weeks, three days, two hours and 10 minutes, the family pet apparently had been living on top of the silo at the Kuehman potato farm north of Wesco Supply which he used to visit. There is great joy in the Selders home and the prodigal has been accepted again.

NOT CONTENT WITH THE garden space they now have, the Misses Vie, Mary and Ellen Snedicor are going in for the hanging variety. A lusty sunflower in full bloom dangles from a precarious root held in the crotch of a tree well above their heads. They give credit to the birds for this aerial planting.

LEON ROSACRANS HAS A Barometer in his store that is 98 years old. The case is of solid walnut. Made in 1857, it belonged to his great grandfather. He adds that he doesn't even have to check the perfect mechanism to tell that it has been both hot and humid of late.

YOU HAVE ONLY ONE more chance to see "The Good Old Days" now playing at the Strand. The picture, about two and one-half hours in length, is a masterpiece in the history of movie making. You'll see such famous earlier stars as Mary Pickford, Clara Bow, William S. Hart, Douglas Fairbanks, Sr., Francis X. Bushman, Norma Talmadge, Fatty Arbuckle, Snub Pollard, Tom Mix and Tony and a host more. It is really fine entertainment. The last night is tonight (Thursday).

A SHOE FROM AN OX was found in one of his fields by Arthur Eaton a mile and a half east of town. Since his farm has not been out of the family since his great grandfather's day, Art estimates that the shoe is 100 years old.

Answer to Anti Group Is Filed

An answer to a bill of complaint filed by six members of the anti-fluoridation committee against three city officials was filed Monday in circuit court by J. C. Beardsley, attorney for the defendants.

In his answer, the attorney denied that those named in the order to show cause "are putting fluoride, fluorine or its chemical components into the city water."

Attorney Beardsley said the hearing on the case will be held when Judge Rex G. Martin returns from his vacation, probably about the last of Aug. Since this is a non-jury case, Mr. Beardsley explained, it probably could be worked in without too much difficulty.

Judge Martin, however, Monday morning told the HERALD that he does not know exactly when the hearing will be held. He said it is possible that it will not be heard until Nov.

Told that a number of Tecumseh citizens who would like to see it settled as soon as possible are interested in the case, he was asked if visiting Judge Charles O. Arch of Hillsdale, who will replace him on the bench during his vacation, could hear the Tecumseh case, he said: "No. He will have quite a back-log of cases to hear."

None of the defendants appeared in court Monday.

Particulars in the bill of complaint against the city and three of its officials were read Monday night at the council meeting by Mrs. Naomi Sallows, city clerk.

Mayor H. H. Hanna said: "These charges, of course, are ridiculous, but I wanted all of you councilmen to hear them."

Earlier in the council meeting he asked if anybody in the large audience had anything to say before the council and, although there were members of both the anti-and pro-fluoridation groups present, nobody commented.

The suit, started last Thursday, by Earl Bryan, Charles E. Morris, C. C. Richards, B. E. Brees, Helen Creger and Harry Morris, plaintiffs, represented by Baker and Baker of Adrian, is against the City of Tecumseh, Mayor H. H. Hanna, city manager Ed Nelson, and John Kopka, superintendent of the water plant, all defendants.

This is the official wording of the plaintiffs' bill for an injunction: "To show cause why an injunction should not be issued restraining the city . . . and each defendant, your officials, agents, or employees from permitting, causing or continuing the introduction of fluorine or fluoride or any of its chemical components into the water supply of the city."

Essential points in the bill of complaint are:

I. Plaintiffs are taxpayers and citizens of Tecumseh, Michigan. Defendants are the mayor, city manager and water superintendent of the City of Tecumseh.

II. In the March 8, 1954, election 43 spoiled ballots were thrown out by the city clerk.

III. The council March 15, 1954, ordered the city manager to dismantle the equipment used to fluoridate the water and to store the equipment . . . this was carried out.

IV. Several periodic tests showed a total absence of fluorine.

V. June, 1955, a test showed .06 of fluorine (parts per million gallons of water). Three different parts of the city were tested . . . and three testing laboratories showed that fluorine or fluoride were present. The first location showed .12 parts per million; the second showed .35 parts per million; and the third showed .6 parts per million of fluoride.

VI. A communication to the council was read July 18 calling attention to fluorine in the water and equipment used previously to fluoridate the water was attached and operating in the pump house.

VII. On or about July 20 all hydrants were flushed and allowed to flow for an extended period of time, so as to clean the mains and water supply for any possible evidence of any fluoride in the water.

VIII. Councilmen have stated to their knowledge there is no fluorine being put into the city water and that the manager has denied any fluorine has been added.

IX. Because of previous tests showing fluorine content and because recent tests show fluorine in the water, the same could occur only by artificial introduction of fluorides into the water—through the acts, instruction of the defend-

(See ANSWER, Page 3)

J. C. Beardsley, appearing for the defendants, filed these points in his answer:

II. Admits paragraph two with respect to tabulated vote but denies the allegation of spoiled ballots and alleges issue is completely irrelevant.

III. Admits paragraph three.

V. Is without sufficient information to form a belief as to allegation in paragraph four and demands plaintiffs prove same.

V. Is without sufficient information to form a belief as to allegation in paragraph five and demands that plaintiffs prove same. And alleges that natural fluoride content of water in City of Tecumseh is .20 parts per million.

VI. Admits paragraph six.

VII. Admits allegation with respect to flushing of hydrants but denies that they were flushed to remove fluoride and alleges that hydrant flushing is, and always has been, an established procedure of the city to remove stale water from the terminals of the mains.

VIII. Admits paragraph eight.

IX. Denies nine and alleges that it is a mere conclusion by plaintiffs and denies the introduction of any fluoride whatsoever into the city water system since the voters' mandate.

X. Ignores paragraph 10 as expressing a conclusion of law and a prayer for action by the court.

XI. Admits paragraph 11.

"The defendants pray that judgement be rendered in their favor with costs to be taxed."

Baton Twirlers Try-Outs Set

Try-outs for baton twirlers for the Tecumseh senior high school band will be held Monday, Aug. 8, at the athletic field at 9:30 a.m. Participants must be high school students and able to play a band instrument. All former twirlers are asked to be at this meeting.

Those interested in baton twirling in the junior band of the seventh and eighth grades are to meet at the athletic field Monday, Aug. 15, at 9:30 a.m.

Try-outs for high school students who have not played the snare drum, bass drum or cymbals in the senior band will be held at the field Monday, Aug. 8 at 10:30 a.m.

Donald Johnson, director, reports that the high school band has been invited to take part in the University of Michigan's seventh annual band day Saturday, Oct. 15, under the direction of Dr. William Revelli. Michigan plays Northwestern on this day.

Living With Peace Of Mind

By KIRBY PAGE

Both sides of our Civil War wanted the same soldier to command their armies. On the eve of the conflict, Robert E. Lee was almost universally recognized as the greatest military strategist of the nation. President Lincoln offered to him the field command of the United States Army. This offer was declined, and Lee instead became commanding general of the Confederate forces.

The sublime greatness of Robert E. Lee rests upon the character of the man, rather than upon his military achievements. He came from a long line of distinguished ancestors, and grew up as a child in the home of one of the leading families of Virginia.

On both sides, his grandparents and parents were slaveowners. The man himself loathed slavery, and said that it was " a greater evil to the white man than to the black race." He set free the slaves which he had inherited.

General Lee fought without bitterness and with no words of denunciation of enemies. His wife recorded the fact that "he wept tears of blood." And when honors were heaped upon him, she said: "No honor can reconcile him to this fratricidal war." In the hour of defeat, he bore himself with dignity and high courage.

When the fighting ceased, he became the mightiest force for reconciliation in all the South. He deplored all mourning over "a lost cause," and urged his people to heal the wounds of bitterness and hatred, and set themselves to the task of rebuilding. His own forgiving spirit loomed as an example for all.

When one remembers the tragic post-bellum days of the carpetbaggers, he is prompted to let his imagination go and reflect upon the probable course of events if Abraham Lincoln had been spared to respond in magnanimous mood to the magnanimity of Robert E. Lee.

Dr. E. W. Adamson and Miss Marie Rocha of Douglas, Ariz., were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Adamson for the past two weeks. Dr. Adamson received the honor of being named "Doctor of the Year" in Arizona recently. The Adamsons and their guests were in Bay City a few days last week.

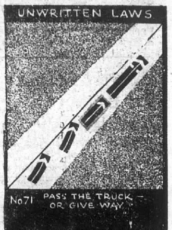
UNWRITTEN LAWS



No71 PASS THE TRUCK — OR GIVE WAY

One of the most irritating and dangerous situations is where a timid motorist follows a truck for miles and passes up one good opportunity after another to get by safely. This holds up traffic behind. The resulting driver frustration tempts some motorist to chance the "long jump" and pass both the timid car and the truck.

The timid driver should "either fish or cut bait". He should either pass at the first safe opportunity or he should lay way back of the truck. This would let a driver behind pass him and then pass the truck. This results in two safe passes instead of one dangerous one. Impatient drivers should remember the slogan, "SLOW DOWN AND LIVE".

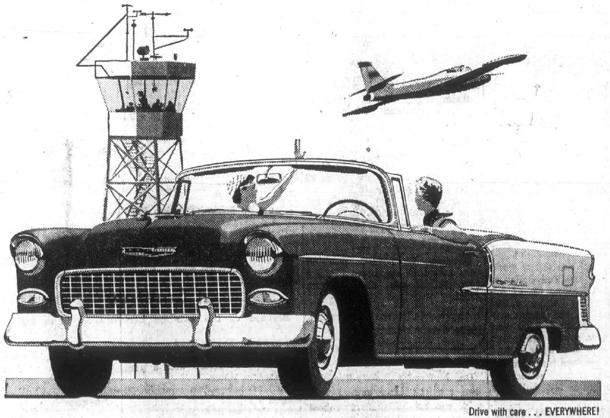
Nothing GOES like a Chevrolet V8!



Drive with care . . . EVERYWHERE!

It's the new winner in stock car competition . . .

and it's winning new, young-minded friends faster than you can say America's hottest V8.

Because of its liveliness, its looks, and because it holds the road like it loves it—which it does.

Come try it, won't you, if only for the fun of it!

NOTHING (not even the high-priced cars)
HAS GOT SO MUCH TO GO WITH!

The most up-to-date V8

V8

So advanced in design and so efficient in operation that it needs only 4 quarts of oil instead of the usual 5. Shortest stroke of any V8 in the industry. Delivers more horsepower per pound than any engine in Chevrolet's field. Take your choice of the 162-h.p. "Turbo-Fire" or the 180-h.p. "Super Turbo-Fire," optional at extra cost.

Two Sizzling 6's

They're the most powerful 6's in Chevrolet's field—And like the V8's, they give you the extra punch, performance and reserve power of the only 12-volt electrical system in Chevrolet's field.

Powerglide, Overdrive or Synchro-Mesh

Chevrolet gives you the drive to suit your driving. A new and finer Synchro-Mesh transmission, or as extra-cost options, oil-smooth Powerglide automatic transmission or Touch-Down Overdrive.

New engineering advances on steering, springing, suspension

Special ball bearings in the steering gear roll with the turn of the wheel to reduce friction. Glide-Ride front suspension rolls the bumps smooth. Outrigger rear springs straighten the curves.

Family Reunion Held in Britton

The 47th annual reunion of the Pocklington clan was held in the Britton park Sunday. Due to the intense heat, not as many members of the family were present as in previous years.

Following the potluck dinner, a business meeting was held and the afternoon was spent socially.

Officers elected at the business meeting were: president, William Pocklington; vice president, Elmer Pocklington; secretary and treasurer, Estella Strong; historian, Elmer Pocklington, press correspondent, Mrs. Guy T. Pocklington; program, Mrs. Elmer Eberhardt and Elmer Pocklington; arrangements committee, Elmer Eberhardt and Julian Strong.

Members of the family were present from Toronto, Canada, Adrian, Tecumseh, Detroit, Dundee, Plymouth, Livonia, Ridgeway and Britton.

The 1956 meeting of the group will also be held in the Britton park.

The Silver Lining

An interesting sidelight developed when Art showed the shoe to postmaster Jack Metcalf. Art was sure that the pm did not know what the object was but quick as a flash Jack shot back "Sure, I know what it is. It's a shoe off an ox. When I was stationed in Germany during the war we saw a lot of oxen."

A PREDICTION: If Arthur Collingsworth retains his interest and his inquiring mind, he will become a first-rate newspaper man. Arthur, one of the assistants at the public library, dropped in to ask if we had a job open in the composing room and he stayed quite a while to ask questions about the overall production of a newspaper. Arthur is on the right track. Pointing to a plaque copy of the Declaration of Independence that hangs over the desk, he said: "Every newspaper should have one of those to remind it of its freedoms." A more sage remark could not have come from an adult five times Arthur's 11 years.

League Archers' Tourney Planned Next Sunday

The Tecumseh Conservation League will have a "housewarming tournament" on its new field archery range which has recently been granted approval by the National Field Archery Association.

The housewarming will take place Sunday, Aug. 7, with shooting starting at 9:30 a.m. Registration fees will be charged, with awards being given for the winning places in each class and division.

Beginners as well as "experts" will be welcome. Guest bowmen who have "tried out" the course report uniformly that they enjoy the range.

The new range, complete with bunkers and paths, has been laid out on the grounds of the Tecumseh Conservation League located two miles north and one mile west of Billington's Corners, (the junction of M-50 and M-52). The conservation league grounds occupy the northwest corner of the intersection. It has 56 targets.

Field Captain Harold "Robin Hood" Hall is anticipating a good turn out to help with the housewarming tournament, and has indicated there may be visiting celebrities present to try their hand at the initiation ceremonies.

The course promises to be in excellent condition in plenty of time for the tournament. Soft drinks will be available at the course, but visiting archers from other communities are urged to bring their own lunches as the clubhouse is not yet equipped to handle food requirements.

Also for those who do not care for archery, there will be a trap shoot so bring those shotguns as well as the bows and a picnic lunch for the family and enjoy a Sunday on the club grounds.

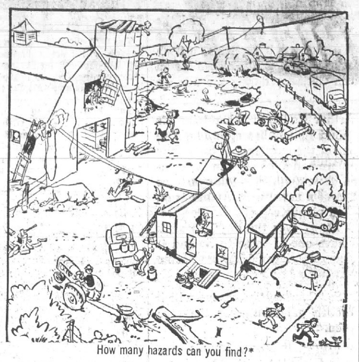
4-H'ers Eliminate "Accident Havens"



How many hazards can you find?*

SAFETY, a crop to be harvested on every farm and in every home, is receiving special attention from more than one-half million 4-H Club members taking part in the 1955 National 4-H Safety Program.

As a part of their 4-H Club work, members in all 48 states are correcting hazards such as those seen in the above drawing. They are attempting to reduce the Nation's annual farm toll of 14,500 lives, 1,250,000 injuries, and an economic loss of about a billion dollars.

4-H'ers, working as individuals or in groups through their local clubs, conduct surveys to locate hazards, then correct the unsafe conditions. They give demonstrations on hundreds of topics pertaining to farm, home and highway safety. Members present talks before group meetings and over radio and television; put displays in store windows; and build booths at fairs.

To assist the Cooperative Extension Service in conducting the 4-H Safety Program, General Motors has just published a new "4-H Safety Handbook for Local Leaders," which provides how-to-do-it ideas for carrying out successful safety programs. Copies of the manual will be distributed to volunteer 4-H leaders through County Extension Offices.

In addition, GM provides incentives in the National 4-H Safety Awards program which is arranged by the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work. Medals are made available to four county winners; an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago is given to the state winner; and $300 college scholarships are presented to eight national winners.

*In the drawing, there are more than 45 accident hazards or unsafe practices shown. Don't let them occur on your farm or in your home.

Decide; Then Plan Action On Family Values

Whether they stop to think about it or not, parents do a lot of things just for the happiness of the family.

Mother automatically prepares and buys food which she knows her husband and children will enjoy. Father helps in the kitchen or in the yard after work to lighten the load of other family members.

Happiness, health, education (and many other ideas) are called values, says Dr. Irma Gross, head of the home management department at Michigan State University. Values, she says, are important to people and make them act as they do.

Because what you do is based on your values, it is important that parents give some concentrated thought to values. Sit down and ask yourself: What are my values? What basically do I want for my family?

In this world of today where so many of the used-to-be family activities are carried on outside of the home, many family values are being overlooked. For example, it has been pointed out that the value of holding a family together was formerly secured by the family pastime of churning ice cream. Now we save time and energy by running to the corner and buying it and we lose the fun and "togetherness" had by making it as a family. Here we have substituted the value of holding the family together for speed and convenience. But, Dr. Gross questions, is it worth it?

"We are constantly making decisions like this one," she continues, "and what is right for one family may be right or wrong for another. The only way you can know is to make an effort to decide what your family values are. Then decide what your family can do to set up lines of action which will lead to these values."

Annie Oakley and Cisco Kid Signed for State Fair

Followers of the wild west (radio, TV or movie versions) will have their day at the 1955 Michigan State Fair, Sept. 2 through 11, when Cisco Kid and Annie Oakley will make personal appearances.

The grandstand entertainment program has been selected with an eye to pleasing everyone, according to Don L. Swanson, State Fair general manager. The Cisco Kid, that colorful pseudo-desperado who blithely risks his neck to see that right conquers over might, will appear from opening day, Sept. 2, through Monday, Sept. 5.

Annie Oakley, the straightest shooting cowgirl known in the saga of the west, will come to the fair starting Tuesday, Sept. 6, through Saturday, Sept. 10.

Both will give afternoon and evening performances.

Included will be a full-length rootin' tootin' Wild West Rodeo given by the Border Legion Rodeo under the direction of Colonel Selby.

On closing day, Sunday, Sept. 11, the feature of the grandstand will be a 100-mile auto race in the afternoon and the famed Congress of Canadian Dare Devils will crash and smash their way through two hours of "motorized mayhem" Sunday night.

G I Home Study

About 60 per cent of the GI loans of 1954 were made for purchases of new homes, and the balance for existing homes, a VA study disclosed in July.

Here were other findings:

Average income of GI purchasers was $5780.

They bought homes averaging $11,640 and obligated themselves for average monthly housing expenses of $95.15.

Their average age was 32 and they had an average of $2,000 in liquid assets and made an average down payment of $1,100.

Two of every five new home loans, and one of every five existing home loans, were made with no down payment.

More than a third of all mortgages and maturities ranging between 26 and 30 years.

Price range for homes bought under the VA-guaranteed mortgage plans was from $3,000 to $53,000 for new homes ,and from $2,000 to $40,000 for existing homes.

ORDINANCE

Meeting of the council of the City of Tecumseh, County of Lenawee, and State of Michigan, held on the 18th day of July 1955.

Present: Mayor Hanna; Councilmen Hamilton, Moore, Powell, Purkey, Schwartz, Titley.

Absent: None.

The following preamble and ordinance was presented by Councilman Moore and supported by Councilman Titley.

WHEREAS the placing of refuse, leaves and grass in the street is a cause of expense to the City in that it clogs the drains; and

WHEREAS such a practice results in unsightly premises and decreases the efficiency of the surface drainage.

NOW THEREFORE THE CITY OF TECUMSEH ORDAINS:

Section 4.535. That it shall be unlawful for any person to throw, scatter, sweep, deposit, or leave in any public street or alley or upon any other groups, either public or private, any paper, posters, placards, signs, cards, wrappings, cartons, containers, waste, excelsior or other packing materials, leaves, grass clippings, garden wastes, trees, branches of trees, shrubbery or other litter.

Section 4.536. Effective 1 September 1955. That any person or persons who shall violate any of the provisions or requirements of this ordinance, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

AYES: ALL.
NAYS: NONE.
ORDINANCE DECLARED ADOPTED:
Attest:
Mayor: H. H. Hanna

State 4-H Club Show Scheduled

60,000 4-H Club members in Michigan comes Aug. 30-Sept. 2, when 2,200 of them show the fruits of their work at the 40th annual State 4-H Club Show. The event is slated at Michigan State University, reports Ray Peffers, Lenawee county 4-H Club agent.

The youngsters will compete for statewide honors and cash prizes. Highest honors will go to two boys and two girls who earn top awards in achievement booth competition. Achievement booths are made up into an attractive display of 4-H Club accomplishments. The four winners will receive a trip to the National 4-H Club Camp in Washington, D. C., next June.

Final training and elimination meetings to cut down on the number of entries in state competition are slated for the northern district this month—Standish, Aug. 10; Gaylord, Aug. 11; and Cadillac, Aug. 12. For the southern district, similar meetings will be held at M.S.U. Aug. 4-5 and Aug. 8-9.

Those 4-H Club members from the Upper Peninsula who will participate in the State Show were selected last week during the annual 4-H Club encampment at Camp Shaw.

The judging schools and eliminations listed above will apply to 4-H members judging dairy, livestock, poultry, crops, vegetable garden, home improvement, food preparation, food preservation and clothing.

hickory AND horsehide

by DIZZY TROUT

SUPERIOR TEAM play, rather than any one individual, is responsible for the Tigers' improved performance over the dreary seasons of 1952 and 1953. But some players have stood out more than others during the long struggle from the black depths of the American League basement.

High among the leaders is Harvey Kuenn, a big, blond, raw-boned young man with a crew cut and twinkling blue eyes.

Harvey's meteoric career with the Tigers is almost as phenomenal as Al Kaline's. But where Al took a year to become adjusted to big league pitching, his skill in 1954 being largely defensive, Harvey began clobbering the ball from the day he entered the line-up.

After batting .340 in 63 games for Davenport in the Three-Eye League, his first professional effort, Kuenn finished the 1952 campaign with the Tigers, hitting .325 in 19 games. In fact, he was the only bright thing about an otherwise dismal season that saw the Tigers wind up last for the only time in their history.

Rookie of Year

In 1953 Harvey visibly helped Detroit struggle to a sixth-place finish, batting .308 and pounding out 209 hits, a remarkable achievement for a freshman. For this he was named "rookie of the year." Moreover, he appeared in the '53 All-Star game, quite a feat for a rookie.

Just to prove it was no fluke, Harvey came back last year to register a .306 batting average and collect 201 hits, the feat of topping 200 hits in successive seasons being a rarity in big league baseball.

This year, of course, young Mr. Kuenn is batting even better, and many say he is the best shortstop ever to wear a Tiger uniform. Certainly he is worth every penny of the $55,000 bonus offered by scout George Moriarty to lure him off the University of Wisconsin campus.

Harvey, who chose Detroit over 10 other major league teams because of opportunity for faster advancement, is of German descent, the only child of Harvey and Dorothy Kuenn.

Born Dec. 4, 1930, in Milwaukee, he played baseball at Lutheran High School before moving on to Wisconsin, where he batted .330 and .444 in two seasons.

Built Home for Parents

This brought the scouts knocking on the Kuenn door, and Harvey has used part of his Tiger bonus to provide his parents with a fancier door in a much more expensive home. Naturally, the recreation room has a distinct baseball atmosphere.

Harvey has been busy along other lines, too, becoming engaged this spring to a very lovely young lady named Dixie Sarchet, who was Miss Wisconsin in 1954.

They are to be married in November and Billy Hoeft, Harvey's roommate and also a Wisconsinite, will be the best man.

Harvey, who has been serving as a public relations man for a Milwaukee bank during the off-seasons, is considering making his permanent home in Detroit.

Dixie shares his love of sports, both enjoying football, hockey, boxing and basketball. But the number one sport remains the Hickory and Horsehide game.

Gambles and Dick's Service Win in Tourney

Gambles and Dick's Standard Service upset the dope in the men's softball league tournament by winning from the Friends Church and the American Legion.

Gambles had an easy time with the Friends, winning, 10-2. The winners had 14 hits and made two errors. Gleason and Pasky formed the battery.

Leading the Gambles attack were Barrett and Fisher with three singles; Deaner with two singles and Gleason with a double and two singles.

The Friends made five hits and five errors.

The battery was Meads and Kelly for the Friends.

J. Chase had a homer for the losers. And Kelly had two hits.

Dick's Standard Service clobbered the American Legion, 16-6.

Dick's had 13 hits and four errors.

Wilson's, Friends Tie for Rec. Title

Regular season play in the city's men's softball league ended with two teams tied for the title. In their last game the Friends won over Gambles, 9-5, to tie for first place with Wilson Motor Sales. Each team ended the season with 8-2 records.

The Friends had 10 hits while Gambles gained four. The battery for the church team was Meads chucking and Kelley catching. For Gambles it was Gleason, pitching, and Meyers catching.

J. Chase hit a triple and single in four trips for the winners. And Kelley had three out of five, all singles, for the Friends.

It was a close game, tied at two all at the end of the first, three all at the end of the fourth and Gambles led 5-4 at the end of the sixth.

But the Friends caved the roof in in the final inning, pushing across five runs for a decisive victory.

In another scheduled game Britton won on a forfeit from Dick's Standard Service.

Stress Water Safety

Small boats and canoes will play a part in about one-third of the nearly 1,400 drownings that will occur during Aug. Mr. Francis Hazen, Water Safety Chairman of the Lenawee County Red Cross Chapter, warned today.

This predicted toll, a figure based on the records of the last few years, can be reduced drastically, he said, if the millions of boat and canoe users will follow these simple rules of safety:

First — learn to swim. You should be at least able to keep yourself afloat in the water before you go out in a boat or canoe. If you can't swim, don't let pride take your life — year a jacket at all times while afloat.

Second — learn how to handle your craft, whether it is a boat, canoe, outboard motor, or sailboat. With skill comes increased safety.

Third — Don't overload your boat. At least two-thirds of your craft should be "freeboard" —

13 Ways To Ruin Your Town

These lines, appearing in an advertisement of the Bowling Green, Mo., Chamber of Commerce, are appropriate for the City of Tecumseh:

1. Don't pay taxes. Let the other fellow pay his. Vote against taxes. Then fuss because your town does not keep up with progress.

2. Never attend any of the meetings called for the good of the town. If you do, don't have anything to say. Wait until you get outside and then cuss those who made the suggestions. Find fault with everything that was done.

3. Get all the village will give you, but don't give anything in return. Write unsigned letters to the editor demanding more for your tax money.

4. Talk cooperation, but don't do any work for "our town" unless you get paid for it. And by all means refuse to serve unless they make you chairman.

5. Never accept an office. It's easier to criticize than to do things. Accuse anybody who serves in an elected office of being a publicity seeker.

6. Don't do any more than you have to. When others willingly and unselfishly give their time to make a better town, howl because the town is run by a clique.

7. Don't back your fire department or your police officials. Don't thank them for endangering their lives that you might have a safer town in which to live. Demand special treatment, raise cain if anybody expects you to obey traffic and parking laws.

8. Look at every proposition in a selfish way. If you are not the one that gets the most good out of it, vote against it. Never consider what it will do for the town as a whole.

9. Don't do anything for the youth of our town. Criticize them as potential delinquents. Keep your feet on them. Encourage them to move away when they grow up.

10. If you have good town leaders, don't follow them. Take a jealous attitude, and talk down everything they say.

11. Don't work on any committee. Tell them you are too busy.

12. Don't say anything good about your town. Be the first to point out its shortcomings. Pretend that if trouble comes your way it will be residents of some other town who will visit you while you are ill; bring in the fire department if your home is burning; comfort you if you lose a dear one; stand back of you in disaster.

13. And don't support your local retail stores and industries. Claim the prices and services in stores in other towns are better. Claim industry and its payroll hurts the town. But if you need a donation ask your local stores. Expect them to back you, but don't back them.

IF THESE 13 STEPS DON'T RUIN YOUR TOWN,
IT ISN'T YOUR FAULT!

Letters to Editor

July 26, 1955

Editor of the Herald:
To whom it may concern:

Whoever is shoveling fluoride into our water supply—please shovel a little faster, you still don't have enough to help the kids. You should use a large scoop and more elbow grease. Mother Nature for years has put more fluoride into our water than you've been able to so far!

Children need 1 part per million, that's what Ann Arbor, Monroe, Hillsdale, Jackson and over 1,000 other cities have done and they have only one-third the cavities that our children have here in Tecumseh.

If you need any help on the night shift, don't hesitate to call.

Yours very truly,
Robert J. Murray, D.D.S.

PS. Mother Nature, if you are the guilty one, any effort to raise that level to 1 part per million would be appreciated — after all, you've done it for Britton.

To the Editor:

I read with interest your editorial "A Letter to a Maniac" which appeared in last week's HERALD. Reckless driving is not an unusual occurrance in the City of Tecumseh and I was astonished that you did not report this driver to the police. Do you honestly believe that your letter will do any good? Did you consider that "the next time" may be too late? Your child or mine could be the victim of such a driver if he is not reported immediately.

These were my first thoughts to your editorial. Then, I recalled a like display of maniacal driving which somewhat tempered my attitude, and perhaps you should not be criticized too severely.

Three and one half months ago a car passed our home on north Union proceeding north at an extreme rate of speed — so fast in fact, that we couldn't even catch his license number. Ten minutes later he returned at the same excessive rate just missing one car, and cut off another as they approached the stop light on west Chicago. This time we were prepared and got his number. I immediately drove to the police department and signed a complaint, and advised them that there were four other witnesses that would be willing to appear in court. But the story doesn't end here. Currently, I am still endeavoring to learn what disposition has been made of this case.

After waiting over a month, I called the police department, who advised me that the driver had been brougt in and turned over to the justice department. I called the justice department, who could find no docket but who thought the owner of the car was not the driver, and a new complaint would have to be signed. I again contact-

SUBMITTED TO THE LAYMENS' NATIONAL COMMITTEE

BY DON L. JORDAN
President, Johnson-Carper Furniture Company, Roanoke, Va.

We beseech Thee, O. God, for clearness of vision, for soundness of judgment, for courage of conviction, and for quiet confidence in Thee as we face the great problems of our time.

Deliver us from an atitude of defeatism or of compromise with the forces of evil.

Fill us, at needed times, with the holy indignation that the Master had when He cleansed the Temple.

Imbue us with the spirit of service and sacrifice and let the peace of God which passeth understanding continually, guard our minds and hearts from fear, we ask in Jesus' name.

School Days are coming. Probably many of you would like to find a permanent home near the school of your choice. With school only a month away, the time is NOW!

Perhaps you have held off buying, wondering about the real estate market. If so, let us assure you the outlook is favorable. According to a national news magazine: "The experts tell us you can make plans for buying or selling a home with the expectation that things will be fairly steady for a good while ahead."

It is easy to buy now too. The longer terms and smaller down payments on government-insured mortgages may make a "home" a reality for you.

You and your children will enjoy living near school. But, NOW, before the first School Bell rings, is the time to select a home.

Merely phone or stop in our office. We'll help you get "settled" before School!

Lorissa B. Peotter and Richard A. Elinski Wed

High noon was chosen by Lorissa B. Peotter as the time of her marriage to Richard A. Elinski, Saturday, July 30. The ceremony took place in St. Elizabeth Catholic church in Tecumseh and was performed by the Rev. Fr. Thomas Collins, using two rings.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Peotter Sr. was given in marriage by her father. The parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Herman Dorer of Munith, Mich.

The vases on the altar were filled with white gladioli and pompoms and its rail was banked with palms. White satin ribbon marked the family pews and the bridal party entered over a white aisle carpet. Wallace Whiting sang the traditional nuptial selections with Mrs. Ben Hammack at the organ.

The blond bride was very lovely in her wedding gown of white taffeta, made with a fitted bodice, pointed in front and back and finished with rows of tiny self-covered buttons. It had a round neckline finished with lace and pleated cap sleeves with which she wore matching mitts. The full pleated skirt entended into a short train and her finger-tip length veil of illusion was held by a pleated cap edged with pearls. Her cascade arm bouquet was of white Pinnochio pompoms interspersed with small leaves of white velvet.

Miss Peotter's maid of honor was Patricia Elinski, sister of the bridegroom, and her gown was of pale blue crystalette with full, waltz length skirt and off the shoulder bodice. With it she carried a cascade bouquet of yellow pompoms backed with tulle.

The bridesmaids were Joan Pfaus and Doris Tressler, both of Tecumseh and they wore crystalette in yellow and pale green, respectively, made in identical fashion as the maid of honor's dress. Joan's flowers were bronze pompoms while Doris' cascade was of pale pink. All three attendants wore white hats as did the junior brides maid, Shirley Luckhardt, niece of the bride, whose dress was pale blue crystallette. Her miniature bouquet was of pale pink poms.

The bride's nephew, Paul Kruse carried the rings, Kenneth Adams attended Mr. Elinski as best man and his cousin, James Franklin and Warren Gerveck were the ushers.

The mothers of both bride and groom wore dresses of light blue with white accessories. Mrs. Peotter's shoulder corsage was of red rosettes while that of Mrs. Dorer was of rosettes in Carol-Aimling pink.

A luncheon for 150 guests was served at 1:30 following the ceremony at the Fellowship Center of the Presbyterian church. The massed bouquets of the bride's attendants decorated the bridal table and the four-tiered wedding cake was circled with white pompoms and greens.

Irma Broiller was in charge of the guest book while Mary Rundquist, Barbara Nelson and Phyllis Breuninger assisted with the gifts.

For their wedding trip to northern Michigan, the bride chose a suit of white linen with which she wore accessories of light blue.

She is a graduate of Tecumseh high school with the class of 1953 and has been employed in the purchasing department at the Tecumseh Products.

Mr. Elinski is a graduate of Stockbridge high school, class of 1950, and is employed at the Consumers Power plant in Erie, Mich. They will live in a newly purchased home in Erie.

Because Buick sales are soaring past all records—

We're declaring a profit-sharing bonus for you

1. You Profit On The Trade-In Deal —with the biggest allowances in our history.

2. You Profit On The Buy You Make —because in Buick you get the thrill of the year—in style, power, performance, value.

3. You Profit On The Resale —because a Buick always resells high—brings you more money when you trade it in.

$2253.88† delivered locally
—less the whopping big allowance we'll make on your present car!

†2-door, 6-passenger Buick SPECIAL Sedan, Model 48, illustrated. Any state and local taxes, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities. A wide variety of extra-cost equipment and accessories available at your option.

THIS we've never seen before—a sales year that's shattering every record in the Buick book—a soaring success far greater than the one that moved Buick so solidly into the Big 3 of America's best sellers.

So we're going to share profits with you—by stretching our regular big trade-in allowances to practically our break-even point.

That means you can now buy the most wanted Buick ever built—for less than ever before.

That means you can have Buick style distinction and prestige—Buick room and comfort—Buick size and solidity—for plenty dollars less on the profit-sharing deals we're making now.

And that means you can have, at a terrific buy, the hottest-action Buick in history—with walloping V8 power raised to new highs, and with the spectacular performance of Variable Pitch Dynaflow*—world's first and only transmission using the switch-pitch principle of the modern plane's propeller.

Come in today—tomorrow, for sure—and see for yourself that you can now make the biggest buy of the year on the car that's far and away the thrill of the year.

*Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at modest extra cost on other Series.

Thrill of the year is Buick—

Biggest-selling Buick in History!

that is, above the level of the water.

Fourth — If bad weather threatens, don't go out.

Fifth — If your craft overturns or capsizes, stay with it — it will float. You can hang on to it, kick your legs, and head for shore. If you are far from shore, you can right the craft, get in, and hand paddle it to land. It will float even when filled with water, and even with an outboard motor attached.

AIR MATTRESSES, inner tubes, and other devices to help keep you afloat in the water are lots of fun but potentially dangerous if not used properly, Mr. Hazen said.

"If you can't swim, never go in water above your shoulder level, even when you have something to keep you afloat," he warned. "Inner tubes, mattresses, and other floating devices can slip away easily, leaving the non-swimmer helpless and in panic."

"CONSIDER THE SAFETY of others, too. If you are using an air mattress or surfboard to ride the waves, make sure no one is in your path. You may strike them and cause injury.

"Follow the regulations for use of fluoridation devices in pools and other swimming areas. These rules are made for your safety," Mr. Hazen concluded.

Christian Science Services Listed

The fact that spiritual understanding of God results in practical goodness, health, and power will be stressed at Christian Science services Sunday.

Readings from the King James Version of the Bible and "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy comprise the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Spirit."

Among the passages to be read from Science and Health is the following (99:23): "The calm, strong currents of true spirituality, the manifestations of which are health, purity, and self-immolation, must deepen human experience, until the beliefs of material existence are seen to be a bald imposition, and sin, disease, and death give everlasting place to the scientific demonstration of divine Spirit and to God's spiritual, perfect man."

The Golden Text is from Ephesians (5:9): "The fruit of the Spirit is in all goodness and righteousness and truth."

Who likes to cook during hot summer weather?

I don't imagine there are many ladies that like cooking on a hot summer day. But I can show you plenty of homemakers who find summer cooking easier and much more pleasant since they started using an automatic gas range. And, they learned about the advantages of a modern gas range the same way you are right now.

They read all about the new easier, faster cooking features such as spacious ovens, smokeless broiling, accurate top burner controls, convenient electric outlets, smart styling, and easy-to-clean porcelain finishes. But what really sold them was the automatic clock controls that enabled them to bake and roast complete dinners automatically. They could relax or take it easy while cooking chores were taken care of with hardly any work at all.

Why don't you stop in at your gas range dealers store and see these new gas ranges. You'll be amazed when you learn how easy it is to own and enjoy one in your home. Get the facts! Don't wait. See them today.

Your Gas Appliance Dealer... will be glad to show you these new automatic ranges. They cost less to buy, less to use, and less to install than any other automatic range on the market today.

ed the police, assuring them that I would sign another complaint if necessary. I was promised they would follow through and call me, but I heard nothing more. Since then I have made numerous inquiries to no avail. Last Friday I again talked to the police department, who said they thought the case had been disposed of, but again promised they would get in touch with the justice, who would contact me and give me the disposition. I am still waiting for the call. The case was probably disposed of alright—right in someone's waste basket.

I appreciate the police can be only one place at a time and have always felt it my responsibility as a citizen to report such violations. Am I wrong?

Frozen Jam Saves Hot Summer Job

It's the berries—frozen raspberry jam, that is. Because it is not cooked, the jam (it can be made from frozen or fresh fruit) must be kept frozen for long storage or refrigerated for short storage.

With frozen jam you need no longer spend long summer hours over boiling kettles to save fruit when it is ripe. Now you can freeze the fruit and make up the jam as needed by the family and as the job fits your schedule.

The Human Nutrition laboratories of the U.S. Department of Agriculture developed the jam to increase the use of fresh fruit. It has undergone practical home-kitchen testing in which homemakers made the jam in their own kitchens and then sent samples to the laboratory for testing.

Home economists at Michigan State University describe the jam as having delicious fresh-fruit flavor, bright natural red color and a texture jellied just enough to hold its shape and spread well. And the making of it is so easy and quick.

Almost any fruit can be used for frozen jam. In making raspberry jam, the fruit would be crushed and the sugar added. After allowing it to stand until the sugar was completely dissolved, you add the pectin—either powdered or liquid.

After letting the pectin, sugar and fruit mixture stand a few minutes, it is ready to be ladled into jelly glasses. Then let it stand at room temperature 24-48 hours or until jellied. Seal it with hot paraffin, cover and store in the freezer.

For proportions of ingredients needed for different fruits, see your home demonstration agent in your county extension office.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan E. Boles and two children, who were enroute from their home in Scarsdale, N. Y. to a vacation in Colorado Springs were Tecumseh visitors Sunday. They came because of their interest in the town through the family connections of their friends, the Barnes brothers, who are publishers of the Bristol Press of Bristol, Conn. They called on Mrs. Perry Hayden and at the Clarkson farm in Macon, which had been the family home.

Famous Band Will Appear at State Fair

The United States Air Force Band will be presented at the Michigan State Fair Friday, Sept. 2, through Monday, Sept. 5, in afternoon and evening concerts. The 1955 fair dates are Sept. 2 through 11.

The USAF Band is considered the world's most versatile musical organization, according to Graham T. Overgard, State Fair director of music. In turn it is a 100-piece marching band, a 90-piece symphony orchestra, an 85-piece symphonic band, a 25-voice glee club (The Singing Sergeants), 5 dance bands, and numerous instrumental groups and ensembles.

"We consider this one of the major attractions for the 1955 Michigan State Fair," commented Don L. Swanson, general manager. "It is a musical organization with an unsurpassed record of accomplishment, and one that has captured the fancy and the imagination of music lovers all over the world."

When the band was organized in 1942 over 1400 professional musicians were auditioned from a wide variety of organizations ranging from the Philadelphia Orchestra and Honolulu Symphony to the Tommy Dorsey Dance Band. The 100 members are experts in their field, capable of producing a program of music to satisfy every appetite with selections ranging from opera to be-bop.

Frequently referred to as a "Symphony In The Sky," this colorful aggregation has presented its acclaimed art in five international tours. It has the distinction of being the only American musical organization privileged to play for the Royal Garden Party at Buckingham Palace. In Berlin's Funkturn Gardens an audience of over 35,000 sat in a driving rain storm for two hours while an additional 6,000 were trying to break down the gates.

Sustained yield is the most important single thought in conservation, — Cheyney and Schantz-Hansen, in "This Is Our Land".

Five of today's dream kitchens will be on display for you to come see, touch and ask questions about it at the Centennial of Farm Mechanization to be held at Michigan State University, August 15-20.

"That country is rich whose people do the most with its land, its water, and its forests. All else depends on that." — Hon. Sam H. Jones, former Governor of Louisiana.

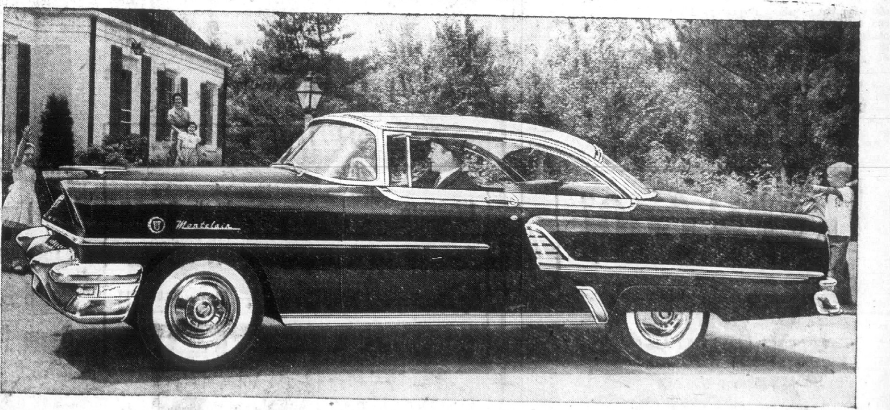
Mercury beauty, power and resale value boost sales to record high...



Co-op

And record sales mean record deals. Cut your cash outlay by acting now—get a far bigger allowance for your present car.

HIGH-VOLUME DEAL—Mercury's record-breaking popularity now permits us to operate on a much higher-volume basis. We can offer the best deals in our history. And, remember, a Mercury deal means far more than just a low price. Look at what you get:

EXCLUSIVE STYLING—No "look-alike" styling for Mercury. You get fresh, distinctive beauty—styling shared by no other car.

SUPER-TORQUE POWER—You get more than just high horsepower (188 and 198 hp)—you get far more usable power. More power is put to work in pickup and passing speed ranges—where you can use it for everyday driving, not just for high speed.

EXTRA-VALUE FEATURES—Only Mercury in its field offers you so many important extras at no extra cost. For example, a 4-barrel carburetor on all models. Special anti-fouling spark plugs. Ball-joint front suspension. And dual exhausts on all Montclairs, Montereys, and Custom Station Wagons.

CONSISTENTLY HIGHEST RESALE VALUE—Mercury protects your investment better than any other car in its field. Independent reports show that Mercury consistently returns more of the original purchase price at trade-in time. In short, no other car offers you bigger reasons for buying it. And you couldn't pick a better time to get a deal. See us today.

THE BIG MOVE IS TO MERCURY

Mercury is setting new sales-records every month. More than 2,000,000 Mercurys have been bought since 1946.

Is That So!

By Clara Waldron

A "DO-IT OVER" YOURSELF STORY

One can only wonder what Mary Waring would think about the things Don Parrett has done to the kitchen of her "new" house. Mary was the wife of Daniel Waring and the new house was the one he built in 1853 to take the place of the log cabin east of Tecumseh village on the Old Trail Road to Monroe. Now we locate it as the corner of M-50 and Billmyer highway.

As one of the first brick houses on the road it was highly regarded and Mrs. Waring's kitchen was right up to the 1853 minute with a sink and cistern pump. There was also a "summer" kitchen at the end of the east wing where the woodburning kitchen stove could be isolated and where the "hired men" could wash up at the soap-stone sink.

Although it had known some years of emptiness and neglect, few major changes had been made in the house in the century before the Parretts took it over and their aim is to keep it that way and still make it livable by the best twentieth century standards.

. Mary Waring should be very happy to have it fall into such understanding hands and especially so as the Parretts are almost "connection." A bit far-fetched perhaps, but one of the Waring daughters became Mrs. Horace Eaton, who lived on part of the original 300 Waring acres; her grandson is Arthur Eaton and his wife and Mrs. Parrett are sisters. So the Parretts are not "outsiders" and had they been lineal descendants they could not have lavished more loving care on the restoration.

They like the two recessed porches with their square columns, one of which opens on the terrace at the back of the house overlooking the sloping lawn which joins that of the Milheims, next door. They like the standstone sills and lintels with "1853" cut into the one over the front door. And especially they like the soft, irregular red bricks and speculate on whether they were made at the nearby Comfort brick yard or on the farm itself. Either is possible for many years builders made their own brick and these are not all uniform and have an amateur look. In fact the Parrett children found one with a clear imprint of a dog's paw where some long ago pooch had walked across the drying forms.

The builders used brick lavishly, even for the interior partitions, some of which look 18 inches thick. This probably accounts for the "four square" condition of the house and it gives an attractive, recessed effect to the doors and windows but it meant long hours of drilling for Mr. Parrett when he installed electricity. That installation, the plumbing, carpentry and everything else except some plastering and the ceramic tile in the beautiful bathroom are his own work.

As he has carried a full time job it has taken all of the seven years since they moved in in 1948 and there are still things he plans to do. One is to sand, paint and replace the window shutters which have been carefully preserved. Then the house will look almost exactly as it did in the drawing in the County Atlas of 1874, for the new two-car garage and breezeway replace the torn down summer kichen.

To be sure the white picket fence, so characteristic of the 70's is no more, many cherished evergreens were lost to the new highway and the flagstone walk to the front gate had to be replaced. But those broken flags now form the "crazy pattern" of the back terrace. Only a roofed "well house" near the front door is needed to complete the picture and even here the original flag stone cover remains over the well that provides their water supply.

Inside, the woodwork has the same simple Doric lines as the porch columns and needed only paint and hard work to set off the papered walls. Even most of the old floors could be used although they represent long, dusty backbreaking hours of sanding and polishing before the wide, pine boards reached their present mellow glow.

The narrow, enclosed stairway, which ended abruptly in the dining room, posed perhaps the hardest problem. An upstairs partition was removed, a section of brick wall chiseled away into the living room (once the almost never used parlor) and now graceful, curved, open stairs lead to the upper floor.

That upper floor was characteristic of the period. Front stairs led to the family "chambers," back stairs to the rooms for the "help" and there was no connection between the two. Unever floor and ceiling levels added to that problem which the Parretts solved by a sliding panel opening. Now that sloping roofed "ell" has been made into the kind of rooms of which youngsters dream. There are built-in beds, shelves for toys and hobbies, even an electric train table and, best of all, their own private stairs.

It is the kitchfen, of course, that would be the miracle to Mary Waring. One end has a breakfast nook whose seat is a curved "banquette" in padded red plastic. A double decked counter brings every working gadget within easy reach and divides the room into food and utility "areas." Every inch of space is utilized. Even the recessed niche that was made especially for the Seth Thomas clock. Here the works of a modern clock have been installed and faced with a handmade clock face to match the kitchen's decor.

These have been busy but rewarding years for the Parretts. They have taken time out to enjoy their growing family of four children and to give them a part in the rebuilding of their home. Now that home combines the best features of two centuries.

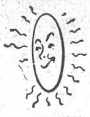
The Silver Lining

Look for the silver lining
Whenever a cloud appears



CONDUCTED BY BOB WARREN

BY THE TIME MOST of you read this I'll be sitting on an Oakland County lake thinking of all of you and catching a mess of fish—it is hoped.

The thought of fishing carries me back about 31 years when a little tyke, not unlike the one pictured here, used to go fishing in Horseshoe Lake in Hillsdale County.

So let's go down memory lane to the beginning of one of those glorious and sunny days. First you cut a pole; then you hack off a hunk of binder twine for the line and whittle out a bobber. It really doesn't matter which activity comes first. For hooks all you need is a mess of safety pins and after digging a can of angle worms (the can usually had had beans in it — beans were supposed to bring you luck), you're ready to go.

Then comes the meandering mile walk to the lake. Feel that dust of the road swish between your bare toes. It is like powder and it is warm and soft on your feet. Again like the fellow pictured, you often had a rag bandage around one of your toes which had been cut by a broken piece of glass or your whole foot might be bandaged "to protect" a puncture caused by a rusty nail.

It will be difficult to tell whether the walk to the lake or the actual fishing will be the most exciting. But after a fine catch of punkin seeds off the shore of the lake, the walk back home will be the most exciting.

And you always will catch some. You don't have high falutin' fishing gear but the fish don't know this, nor do they care. They just bite and you stand or squat there joyously hauling them in.

Like Georgie Goebel would say "You can't hardly get fish to bite like that no more."

I've caught many fish in the past 31 years but none of the catches has equaled the thrill of pulling in those punkin seeds with make-shift gear when I was a five-year-old country kid.

SMALL WORLD DEPARTMENT: Met Ray Uhlinger, concert manager at the National Music Camp, last Friday night at Interlochen. Ray thinks the Tecumseh Country Club golf course here is tops. He played on it once with Herb Dillon . . .

Saturday morning the aroma of our bacon wafted into the neighbor's cabin and out popped a fellow named Martin from Saline. He said the smell awakened him; then he told us that he used to play baseball with Oley Hanna. Talking about Tecumseh's wonderful baseball teams, Martin (I was too sleepy to grab his first name) said he was in the stands the day Fred Merkel goofed infamously during the world series.

LITTLE GENE MANWARING was flying his model plane Tuesday in his yard on Brown street when the plane landed beside a four-leaf clover. And later in the day he found another one.

DO YOU FEEL LIKE THIS when the paper, for some reason, doesn't come?

My father says the paper he reads
  ain't put up right;
He finds a lot of fault too, he does,
  perusin' it all night;
He says there ain't a single thing
  in it worth to read,
And then it doesn't print the kind of stuff the people need;
He tosses it aside, and says it's strictly on the bum,
But you ought to hear him holler
  when the paper doesn't come.
He reads about the weddings and he snorts like all get out;
He reads the social doin's with a most derisive shout.
He says they make the papers for women folks alone;
He'll read about the parties and he'll fume and fret and groan.
He says of information it doesn't have a crumb —
But you ought to hear him holler
  when the paper doesn't come.
He is always first to grab it and read it plumb clean through.
He doesn't miss an item, or a want ad—that is true.
He says they don't know what we want, those darn newspaper guys;
"I'm going to take a day some

Services Held for Hugh Browne

William Hugh Browne, a resident of the Tecumseh area for the past nine years, died Thursday afternoon at Herrick Memorial hospital.

He was born, Feb. 18, 1898, in Chicago, the son of William and Kate DeRutte Browne and had been employed as a mechanical engineer by the Monroe Auto Equipment Company for the past 18 years.

Nine years ago he purchased the old Sutton farm at Sutton's Crossing and moved his family there.

He was a veteran of World War I and a member of the Carl F. Payson Post of the American Legion in Monroe and was a member of Tecumseh Lodge No. 69 F. and A. M., the Bay City Consistory and Elb Khurofeh Shrine of Saginaw.

A member of St. Peter's Episcopal church, he had served as a member of the vestry and as senior warden.

Mr. Browne is survived by his widow, Ruth; three daughters, Mrs. Robert Kidney of Toledo, Mrs. Fred Saber of Detroit and Hilary Elizabeth at home; three sons, William Hugh, Jr., John Thomas and Philip Godfrey at home; four grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. Victor Sisung of Oak Park.

His parents and an infant brother preceded him in death.

The body was taken from the Green Funeral Home Friday to his home where a prayer service was held Monday followed Monday afternoon by funeral services at St. Peter's Episcopal church.

The Rev. Edward C. Dickin was in charge and burial was in Brookside cemetery with Gibbs Barber, Lawrence Blum, Lawrence Larsen and Philip Colgrove of Tecumseh and George Streicher and Kenneth Hildenbrand of Monroe acting as bearers.

Britton Girl Involved in Fatal Accident

Shirley Mae Bortel, Route 1, Britton, was involved in a two-car crash Friday that took the life of Mrs. Anna Gunder, 55, of Riga.

Mrs. Gunder's husband Francis received hip and leg injuries in the crash.

Miss Bortel and her passenger Sandra Hall, 15, of Tecumseh suffered cuts and bruises.

The accident happened on Stadler highway at County Line highway, three miles east of Riga.

Mr. Gunder told state police of the Blissfield post that his wife, traveling west on Stadler highway, stopped at the intersection; then she started forward and saw the Bortel car traveling south on County Line.

Mrs. Gunder stepped on the gas to avoid a collision but the two cars collided.

Miss Bortel told troppers she applied the brakes and her car skidded 150 feet.

The Gunder car was knocked into a ditch. Mrs. Gunder was thrown out and pinned under the overturned car.

Rushed to Bixby hospital, she died two hours later.

Mr. Gunder also was admitted to Bixby.

Miss Bortel and Miss Hall were treated by a Blissfield doctor.

Woman Injured in Accident

Mrs. Pearline Withrow, 31, of Route 1, Tecumseh, was injured Saturday afternoon at M-50 and Occidental highway when the car she was riding in was struck by a car driven by Fred Wilkins of Onsted.

Mrs. Edna Bush of Tecumseh, driving, slowed to turn left from M-50 when her car was hit by the Wilkins car.

Mrs. Withrow was treated at Herrick Memorial hospital for neck injuries and shock and released.

Wilkins was given a summons by sheriff deputies for failing to have his car under control.

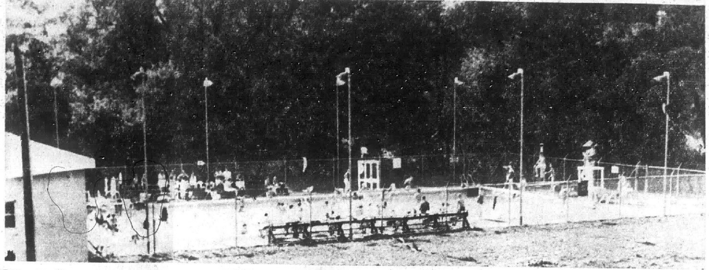
FIREMEN ARE BUSY

Tecumseh firemen had a busy Aug. 3 when they answered four calls in one day.

They first were called to the home of Miss Bess Pulver, 215 north Union street. An electric stove shorted but there was no fire.

The second fire was in a field on Billmeyer road. It was quickly put out.

The third and fourth fires were in Johnson's Grill when an air conditioning unit burned out. Firemen were recalled on this fire.



Swimming Pool Popularity Grows

Figures released this week by Carl Hale, pool manager, show that the popularity of the Joyce Andrews Memorial Swimming Pool is increasing.

The pool up to last Sunday had 2,879 more swimmers than the corresponding compiled total last year.

Another interesting aspect of the figures was this: 3,480 more swimmers used the pool in July than in June. In June the pool had 4,833 swimmers; in July it had 7,313.

These figures show the attendance by months for last year and this year (the Aug. figure is up to last Sunday):

1954		1955
June	6,018	June	4,833
July	3,737	July	7,313
To Aug. 7	855	To Aug. 7	1,343
TOTAL	10,610	TOTAL	13,489

Manager Hale also released these figures:

The pool had 421 enrolled for swimming lessons. Of these 75 passed their Red Cross beginners' tests; 35 passed the junior intermediate tests; 22 passed intermediate Red Cross tests; six passed swimmers' Red Cross tests; and 131 certificates of achievement were given out.

Four junior life savers and one senior life saver also passed their tests.

In addition, 20 adults had swimming lessons in the pool.

Last year the pool had 61 beginners, 19 intermediates and 10 swimmers who passed their tests.

The manager explained that the tests at the pool are even more strict than the Red Cross provides. He said swimmers must pass a test given by the lifeguard before they can go into the deep part of the pool.

He commended the excellent instruction of Vic Lawson and Bob Marsh. He said without this fine teaching the record number of swimmers passing tests could not have been reached.

Twirlers

Baton twirlers for the Tecumseh high school senior band were selected after try-outs Monday on the recreation field.

These girls were selected by Donald Johnson, band director; Shirley Larned, drum majorette; and three judges Del King, Cal Damon and Bob Warren:

Sandra Ross, ninth grade; Geraldine Drouillard, twelfth grade; Mary Lou Partridge, twelfth grade; and LaVonne Lister, eighth grade, alternate.

Try-outs for junior band twirlers will be held next Monday, Aug. 15, on the recreation field at 9:30 a.m.

Attends Council at Valparaiso

Ralph Schafer of 10685 Macon highway, Tecumseh, was termed an ambassador of a modern Wittenberg University at a weekend meeting on the campus of Valparaiso University. He was accompanied by his wife.

Schafer, with 150 other Valparaiso advisory councilmen and their families, attended the second annual Valparaiso Advisory Council convention. The council is composed of lay members of Lutheran churches throughout the U. S. who represent Valparaiso, a Lutheran university, in their respective home congregations, by appointment of Dr. O. P. Kretzmann, Valparaiso president.

Dr. Walter E. Bauer, dean of the Valparaiso faculty, told the convention of the academic progress of the university in its 29 years of Lutheran administration since 1925. Then he predicted a great and influential future for the school, comparing it to Wittenberg University in Germany, where the Protestant Reformation was born.

Dean Bauer told the Councilmen, "As representatives of Valparaiso University, you may be the ambassadors of the Wittenberg of the twentieth century for all of Lutheranism in America."

Schafer is a member of Emmanuel Lutheran Church at Britton, Mich.

COMPLETES CAMP

Paul Underwood, son of Mrs. Opal Jennings, 301 East Pottawatamie street, Tecumseh, a camper at Wentworth Military academy at Lexington, Mo. the past six weeks, was honored at the concluding exercises held last Thursday.

Maj. W. L. Stagner, camp director, said that Paul earned the following awards as a Wentworth camper this summer: four American Red Cross citations, four Boy Scout merit badge recommendations for swimming, life saving, athletics, physical development, AAU—junior track and field physical fitness award.

He attained the rank of buck and the rank of hunter in the We-Wo-Mil-Ac Indian tribe, a major camp activity at Wentworth.

DD. ARRESTED

Harold E. Greer, 32, of Route 2, Tecumseh, was arrested by Tecumseh police early Sunday morning after a disturbance in a local tavern.

He was charged with being drunk and disorderly. As the HERALD went to press his arraignment had not been held.

Kids to Have Spot at Fair

Tecumseh's small fry will have a corner of the 1955 Michigan State Fair all to themselves. There'll be the Kiddies' Barn Yard and the Kiddies' Playground where the little people can enjoy all the attractions of the gigantic fair in miniature.

The Kiddies' Barn Yard will be constructed on the site of the old Home Arts Building which was razed last summer. A complete small scale farmyard will be portrayed including a farm house, barn, silo and weather vane. The farm will be compeltely fenced in, and animal stalls will house farm animals of all types.

Young animals will be shown whenever possible — lambs, colts, calves, shoats, kits, rabbits and barnyard fowl, all supplied by 4-H Club members in Michigan.

This feature, the original idea of general manager Donald L. Swanson, will enable parents to show all the farm animals to their children with a minimum of effort.

League Archers Hold 1st Tourney

The first archery tournament of the Tecumseh Conservation League was held at its club grounds last Sunday. More than 30 archers attended.

Much favorable comment concerning the lay-out of the new course was made during the day by those who attended.

Several national celebrities were present at this meet, including Harold Doan and his son, Robert of Adrian.

Harold is one of the nation's leading archers. He was once national champion and second on six other occasions.

The following awards were presented at the conclusion of the shoot:

Services Held for Miss Vesta Wilson

Vesta K. Wilson, who had spent her entire life in Tecumseh, died early Saturday morning at St. Joseph hospital in Ann Arbor.

She had been seriously ill for several months and was previously a patient at Herrick Memorial hospital.

She was the daughter of the late Andrew and Harriet Kimball Wilson and was born in Franklin township, June 22, 1892. She graduated from Tecumseh high school with the class of 1909 and attended Alma College.

For 39 years she was employed by the R. J. McCoy Real Estate office and she was well known in Tecumseh business circles.

Miss Wilson was a member of the Tecumseh Presbyterian church and of the Order of Eastern Star of Tecumseh.

Survivors are one sister, Mrs. Fred Camburn of Saline; three brothers, Sidney of Tecumseh, Orton, Trenton and Howard Wilson, Sr., of Ridgeway and several nieces, nephews and cousins.

Funeral services for Miss Wilson were held Tuesday afternoon at the Collins Funeral Home with the Rev. George Walworth officiating. Burial was in the family lot in Brookside cemetery.

The bearers, all nephews of Miss Wilson's, were Howard Wilson, Jr., Harold Wilson, Robert Wilson, Andrew Wilson, James Wilson and Joe Camburn.

Legion Members Attend 37th State Convention

Six members of the Underwood-Orr Post 34, the American Legion, and six members of the post auxiliary attended the state Legion convention in Detroit last weekend.

Attending were Vern Manwaring, commander; Al Curtis, adjutant; Lyle Grigg, immediate past commander; Louis Schneider, state welfare chairman; Robert Lowe, immediate past county commander; and Larry Cote, second vice-commander.

Auxiliary delegates attending were Mrs. Vern Manwaring, Mrs. Donald Woods and Mrs. Harold Easton. Alternates were Mrs. Louis Schneider, Mrs. Charles Howe and Mrs. Joe Russell.

A crowd of 50,000 viewed the colorful Legion parade in downtown Detroit. Members of the ladies' drill team of the local post who took part in the parade were Mrs. John Snyder, Mrs. Richard Sherman, Mrs. Frank Daehne, Mrs. Bart Aiuto, Mrs. Roger Williams, Mrs. Virginia Dick, Mrs. Mary Lou Peck, Mrs. Marguerite MacGeorge, Mrs. Harold Meads, Miss Marilyn Baaske, Mrs. Richard Eggleston, Mrs. Harold Easton, Mrs. Agnes Woods, Mrs. Milton Meyers, Miss Joanne Burke, Mrs. Ned Rosacrans and the drill master, Dermont Poley.

The men's drill team of the local post placed third in the competition.

Climaxing the end of the 37th annual convention was the election of a new state commander for 1955-56, Donald J. Smith of St. Johns, a World War II veteran of the Army Air Corps. He is a farmer.

Delegates to the Legion's auxiliary convention, meeting at the same time, chose Mrs. John E. Starkey, 18095 Fairport, Detroit, as their president to lead approximately 30,000 members.

Resolutions adopted by the over 2,000 delegates attending the official convention sessions included:

One urging all Senators and Congressmen to vote for the passage of the Bricker Amendment and that the President of the United States be urged to favor the passage of this amendment.

One in opposition both to federal aid to education and to federal control of education, restating its belief that supervision of education is best accomplished at the level of the local boards of education within the respective states and that similar action be commended to the 1955 National Convention of the American Legion.

One that the American Legion go on record as being opposed to the admission of Red China to the United Nations.

Lansing was chosen as the site for the 1956 state convention to be held Aug. 2-5, 1956. It will be the first time that a veterans' group will use the new veterans' memorial building in that city and the first time that the Legion has met in Lansing for a state convention since 1935.

Three Plead Guilty in Drinking Cases

Three men pleaded guilty Monday in justice court to drinking cases.

Wayne J. Turpin, 35, of Flint, and August Kuntz, 70, of Route 1, Tecumseh, were arraigned before Justice Robert L. French Monday.

They pleaded guilty to driving while under the influence of liquor.

Each man was sentenced to seven days in jail and ordered to pay a fine of $50 and assessed costs of $8.60 or to stay in jail 60 days.

Turpin was arrested early Monday by Tecumseh police and Kuntz was arrested by Tecumseh police Saturday.

Arrested by Tecumseh police Saturday, Robert Lowry of Tecumseh was arraigned by Justice French Monday on a charge of drunkenness.

He was ordered to pay a $15 fine and $8.60 costs or to spend 14 days in jail.

Hot Stuff

The Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce has received this information from The National Better Business Bureau, Inc.

Highly flammable "Davy Crockett" caps, made of crepe paper and cardboard, have been placed on the market, and have been discovered in stores in several communities in New York. It is thought that these caps are manufactured in Pennsylvania. The distribution is unknown; it may cover areas throughout the nation.

The city chemist of Rochester, N. Y., conducted laboratory tests on the caps and found them "extremely flammable." He stated that such caps could be flame-proofed very easily by the manufacturer, but that such precaution had not been taken in this case.

The chamber of commerce wishes to warn their retailing members, and the entire community, about these caps, in order to avert possible tragedy to some young frontiersman.

You Never Outgrow Your Need to Progress . . .

That you never outgrow your need for milk is a matter of medical record. Physicians will tell you that the calcium content of your body needs constant replenishment. Milk is your principal source of calcium.

Your dairy farmer knows this, among other scientific facts, and he knows that the high quality of the milk he produces today makes it possible for physicians to recommend three glasses every day as an almost indispensible health formula. For growing children, the rate of consumption is higher.

Scientific methods in dairy farming, stemming from cooperative programs in the classrooms, laboratories and experimental procedures of our great colleges, and by progressive farmers, have brought the quality of milk production to the highest standards in history. Michigan State University has worked unceasingly for a century for technical improvement in all phases of milk production and marketing.

Michigan's dairy farmers recognize this valuable, continuing contribution. In saluting Michigan State University's 100 years of cooperation the 17,500 members of this organization agree that you never outgrow your need to progress.

PROGRESS PROVIDES PROTECTION

One of the outstanding progressive steps taken by the Michigan Milk Producers Association was the adoption and perfection of its plan for leveling production and minimizing seasonal variations in the milk supply in the Detroit Metropolitan market.

Known as the "base and excess plan", it assures consumers of adequate supplies of pure, fresh milk throughout the entire year. For the dairy farmer, it provides a real incentive for adopting modern methods of management and production, resulting in more profitable disposition of his milk supply.

Just how this progressive step reacts to the public benefit is well shown in the box score at right. The figures compiled by the U. S. Department of Agriculture represent the percentage of fluctuation between the seasons of high and low milk production in the major marketing areas listed.

Detroit's exceptionally low percentage of seasonal variation guarantees an ample supply of pure, fresh milk during the winter months when many cities suffer shortages—it safeguards the public health and welfare.

Milk is one of life's essentials. Like water, it is needed every day of the year and a constant, dependable supply of milk flowing into a big city is as important as a constant flow of water through its mains. Members of the Michigan Milk Producers Association, by means of their progressive thinking and action, have made that constant flow of milk available in Detroit as well as many other Michigan markets.

Percentages of Seasonal Variation in Milk Supplies

1	Detroit	17.5	4	Cincinnati	46.9
2	Cleveland	34.6	5	Chicago	47.7
3	St. Louis	42.9	6	New York	62.9

Future Farmers Report On Summer Group Projects

During the summer months the Tecumseh Future Farmers assisted by their adviser Paul Burns have been busy working on many of their group projects.

The broiler project was continued by Darrell Lowery who cared for the chickens and furnished the bedding for them. The chapter furnished the brooder house, feed and equipment. The brooder house was moved by Partridge Implement Company from Roger Finnigan's farm to the home of Darrel Lowery.

The chapter started 156 chicks and there has been a mortality of 4.5% up to the present time. Dressings of the broilers will begin in three weeks.

Lawrence Reichenbaugh has two registered Duroc Gilts from the pig chain that were turned back by Charles Hendershot. Melvin Scheffler has a Duroc gilt and a boar to give back to the chapter. The chapter will give the gilt to some boy and feed off the barrow, with two more that they plan to buy, for a feeder pig project for the coming year.

The chapter gives a boy a registered Duroc gilt, the boy then has it bred to a registered boar and when the gilt farrows the boy raises the pigs to nine weeks, then gives the chapter back two pigs. The chapter has three gilts out now in the chain. The object of the pig chain is to get the boys started in the registered hog business.

The feeder pig project consists of three barrows. The chapter furnishes the feed for the pigs and gives a boy points on the point system for his labor in caring for the pigs. The object of the project is to give the classes an understanding of the hog business and to raise money to finance their projects.

Bill Every has just completed this year's feeder pig project and plans are being made to start another project in the near future.

The boys combined their wheat of 4.5 acres with the help of the Tecumseh Implement Company. E. D. Colthurst did the actual combining for the boys. The practices the boys used on the project were as follows:

Seeding rate: three bushels per acre, certified Vigo; fertilizing with 400 lb. 3-12-12 per acre then top dressing with 20 lb. actual nitrogen when the wheat was six inches tall. The wheat yielded 34 bushels per acre.

The boys also had four acres of oats on a seeding experiment. Two acres each were completed using the same practices except the seeding rate of one plot was 2.5 bushel per acre and the other plot 3.5 bushel per acre. The variety of oats used were certified Clinton 59. The boys used 180 lb. 4-16-16 per acre and topdressed with 30 lb. actual nitrogen.

The plot with the lower seeding rate yielded 85 bushels per acre and the plot with the higher seeding rate yielded 64 bushels per acre. Fay Whelan of the Whelan Implement Company combined the oats for the boys.

The Tecumseh FFA officers and their adviser Paul Burns will attend the fifth annual regional Leadership Training Camp at Wolf Lake Aug. 22, 23 and 24. The purpose of the camp is to train the new FFA officers in their respective duties for the coming year.

Officers of the Tecumseh chapter are: President, John Cadmus; vice president, Bill Spreeman; secretary, Edwin Lewis; treasurer, Roger Finnigan; sentinel, Gerry House, and FFA reporter, Darrel Lowery.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

Husbands were guests last Thursday evening when the Baptist Women's Misisonary Society met at the Wamplers lake cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wood. Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Bailey and Mr. and Mrs. Llewellyn Sisson were assistant hosts and there were about 35 or 40 in attendance. There was a potluck picnic supper and the balance of the evening was spent socially.

The society has decided on a new date for their meetings and will now meet on the second Monday of each month at 7:30 p.m. The place will be in the Baptist Youth House as usual. Mrs. Clifford Curran is president for this season with Mrs. Earl Wood as vice president and program chairman. The date of the next meeting will be Sept. 12.

Sandwiches Are Bound To Please

Whether it's a meal, a late evening snack or the highlight of an afternoon party, sandwiches fit the occasion.

Supper sandwiches should be hearty, says Elaine Mishler, home economics staff member at Michigan State University; use plenty of meat or cheese on fresh buns or bread. But party sandwiches should be dainty and just as pretty to look at as they are good to eat. For these party foods, she says to be sure to contrast fillings, shapes and garnishes and display them attractively on trays and platters.

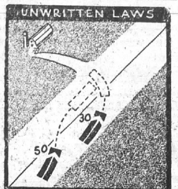
Miss Mishler passes on some tricks in making party sandwiches. The bread should be one day old as it will cut more easily. And, she adds, if you cannot buy bread sliced the thickness you want, then a sharp knife and a cutting board are necessities.

Another suggestion is to cut the bread lengthwise so the spreading of the filling will be easier and you will have less slices to handle. She points out that all bread should be sliced at the same time and before any of the actual sandwich making is done. Slicing, too, is much easier if all but the bottom crust is removed.

To prevent bread from drying out, Miss Mishler suggests keeping slices stacked and in a pan lined with a damp cloth and covered with wax paper. Cover the sliced bread with wax paper and a damp cloth, too.

Butter should be creamed until it is the proper consistency to spread. Melted butter only soaks into the bread and makes the sandwiches soggy. Fillings and garnishes should be prepared ahead of time and stored in the refrigerator.

UNWRITTEN LAWS



No.72 WATCH PASSING OPPOSITE FARM DRIVE

Any vehicle moving slowly on a high speed highway should be an automatic danger signal to a driver approaching from the rear at regular highway cruising speed. Especially if a farm drive appears on the left hand side — into which the slow moving vehicle could turn.

To pass such a car at high speed when there is an available place for it to turn is to court disaster. A slow moving vehicle has something in common with a pedestrian. Either one can move sideways very quickly and sometimes with no warning at all.

Smart drivers pass slow drivers very slowly so that they can stop in time if an unexpected turn takes place. Remember the safety slogan, "SLOW DOWN AND LIVE".

Taffy Wins Ken-L-Ration Gold Medal Award

Taffy, a shy little cocker spaniel from Coer d'Alene, Idaho, who raced for help and brought rescuers to where her three-year-old master lay drowning in icy Fernan Lake last April, today was named winner of the second annual Ken-L-Ration gold medal award as America's most heroic dog for 1955.

Taffy will receive a $1,000 U. S. bond, a gold-plated leash and collar, a gold plaque, a dog blanket, and a year's supply of dog food. She and her owners will receive a three-day, all-expense-paid trip to Chicago, where she will receive her awards at a dinner in her honor in the Crystal Room of the Palmer House Aug. 17. Four other dogs, runners-up in the voting, were named to receive prizes for second, third, fourth, and fifth places, these to be awarded in their own localities.

LOST HIS FOOTING

The performance that won the top hero award for Taffy and her owners, Mr. and Mrs. Perry K. Wilson and their son, Stevie, 3, began when Stevie and Taffy wandered away to the edge of the lake. Stevie lost his footing and tumbled into four feet of ice water, and Taffy sprang into instant action. She raced some distance away to the boy's father. When her first efforts to attract attention proved unsuccessful, she rushed back to the lake and leaped into the cold water in an attempt to aid the drowning tot.

Unable to be of help, she again hurried back to the elder Wilson. and this time her frantic actions and bedraggled condition sent him on the run behind her to the lake, where he saw his son's coat floating on the water. Plunging in and lifting the unconscious boy onto the bank, he began artificial respiration while bystanders summoned a pulmotor squad. After hovering between life and death for hours, the lad recovered. The dog refused to leave his side throughout the long hours of uncertainty.

LIST OTHER PRIZES

Prizes of bonds, silver leashes, medals, and plaques, plus a six months' supply of dog food, went to four other dog winners. Second place winner of $500 in bonds went to Pup, a mixed-breed from Washington, Ga. Pup was tossed from a passing car as a puppy, and was given a home by an elderly couple. Three years later, he repaid their kindness a thousandfold by routing them and an invalid relative from bed as fire flashed through their home, destroying it completely and with it all their household effects. Pup herded all three through the door just as the roof caved in.

Third prize of $250 in bonds went to Shadow, a German shepherd, of San Diego, Calif. Shadow, protecting his little 3-year-old mistress from a large rattlesnake in a canyon behind their home, killed the reptile but was severely bitten himself, recovering after a siege of hospitalization. The little girl was unharmed.

Fourth prize of $150 in bonds went to Rocky, a Belmont, Mass., springer spaniel, for the unusual feat of saving the life of another dog last February. A boxer dog had fallen through the ice of a large pond, and Rocky swam to his rescue. Holding the half-conscious boxer by the collar, Rocky kept him above water until city firemen could extend ladders out onto the ice and extricate both.

Fifth prize of $100 in bonds went to another mixed-breed, Tag, of Albuquerque, N. M. Tag's three-year-old mistress had connected a bobby pin with an extension cord and received a severe shock, causing her to scream and bringing Tag rushing into the room. The dog seized the child by the clothing and yanked her away, receiving a strong shock himself in the process. Both survived.

Teachers Work Hard, Earn Little In Saline Mill Summer Stock Theatre

To many teachers, worn out by trying to control and please classrooms jammed with teenagers nine months of the year, summer is a time reserved for pleasing only themselves. But in the case of four young teachers from the general area of Detroit, it's the season in which they seek to charm an even more critical group, audiences of adult playgoers.

They are members of the company of the Saline Mill Theatre, the small summer stock theatre located in Saline, eight miles south of Ann Arbor. Two of them are actors, one is supervisor of apprentices, and the fourth is producer of the company.

Earl Matthews, 29, teaches radio speech and English in the regular curriculum of Mumford High School, in the northwest section of Detroit. At Mumford Matthews guides 11th and 12th graders in radio programming, script writing and English research. So far this summer he has played the romantic lead in Tennessee Williams' "You Touched Me!" and an important role in "Jane," a high comedy by S. N. Behrman.

SHE'S ALSO COOK

Margaret Booth, the theatre's supervisor of apprentices, will join the staff of the Denby High School in Detroit in Sept. as an English teacher. A native of Birmingham, she moves to Detroit from her previous post in the Unionville Community School, in Tuscola County on Saginaw Bay. Miss Booth not only keeps track of the apprentices at Saline, she is also food buyer, dietician and cook for the company.

William Taylor, 30, teaches 10th and 11th grade English at Ann Arbor High School, where he also is in charge of dramatics. Before coming to Ann Arbor he was on the faculty of the high school in Oxford for three years. Taylor, the second teacher-actor of the company, played the Captain in "You Touched Me!" and is currently appearing as Lord Frobisher in "Jane."

Miss Barbara Hamel, founder and producer of the group, is teacher of speech and dramatics at Kingswood School Cranbrook, in Bloomfield Hills. She previously taught English and Spanish at the Dryden Community School, near Imlay City.

WORK 12-HOUR DAYS

Life for members of the company is not a bed of roses. Each day is a twelve-hour one. Mornings are spent learning lines for the next play, teaching formal classes in acting and stagecraft to the apprentices, doing paperwork and other chores. Every afternoon finds a four-hour rehearsal scheduled for the following show.

In the evening there are costumes and make-up to put on, tickets to sell, stagelights to operate—all for the performance of the play running at the time. Company members get one day off every two weeks. Every other day—including Sundays—has its full quota of work to be done, and a performance to be given in the evening.

All four teachers live at the old Schuyler Mill or in a nearby country hotel. Like the rest of the company they eat their meals (prepared by Miss Booth) at the mill, and in hot weather they rehearse in its basement. The plays are presented in a machine shed behind the mill. This building, built in 1935 by Henry Ford when he bought the property for his soybean experiments, now is a straw-hat theatre seating nearly 200 around an arena-type stage.

Salaries of the company are small and are geared to the rate of box office return. All in all, this job offers long hours, low salaries and hard work in the blistering summer heat. But, for these "vacationing" teachers at least, the play's the thing!

WE'RE TRADING HIGH, WIDE
-and then some!

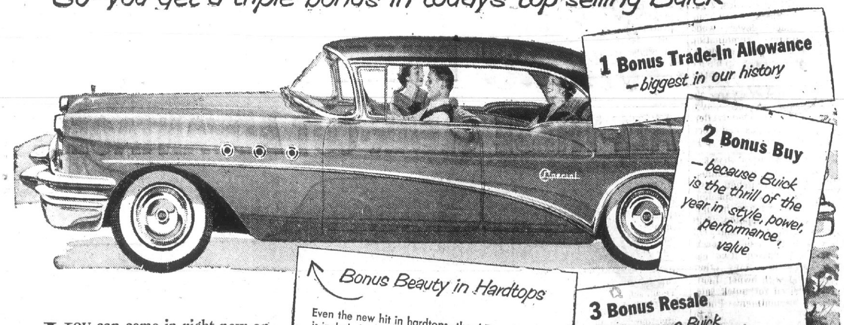
So-you get a triple bonus in today's top-selling Buick

1 Bonus Trade-In Allowance
—biggest in our history

2 Bonus Buy
—because Buick is the thrill of the year in style, power, performance, value

Bonus Beauty in Hardtops
Even the new hit in hardtops—the 4-Door Riviera—is included in our profit-sharing bonus deals today. Shown here is the low-price Buick SPECIAL, 6-Passenger, 4-Door Riviera, Model 43. Also available in the supremely powered CENTURY Series as Model 63.

3 Bonus Resale
—because a Buick always resells high
—brings you more money when you trade it in



You can come in right now on a Buick dividend distribution that's like money in the bank for you. And a look at the nation's new-car sales figures will tell you why.

This year, Buick is doing far better than just outselling all cars in America except the two most widely known smaller ones. This year, Buick sales are soaring past every high-water mark in the book —past 600,000 cars—and we're still going strong.

So we're declaring an extra dividend — for you. On top of the long trade-in allowances we have been making all year, we're adding a profit-sharing bonus allowance.

But you'll be getting a lot more than a great deal. You'll be getting a great car—the hottest-selling Buick in history.

You'll be getting Buick's far-in-advance styling, Buick's mightiest V8 power, Buick's highly envied all-coil-spring ride, Buick's extra size and room and comfort and solidity of structure. And you'll be getting the performance thrill of the year —Variable Pitch Dynaflow* — the switch-pitch transmission that's taken the country by storm.

Come in today and see for yourself that there's never been a car like this before — and never a deal so easy to make.

*Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at modest extra cost on other Series.

Thrill of the year is Buick—

Community Calendar

As nearly all local organizations are now on vacation, the regular Community Calendar will be suspended until Sept. 1. Special events, however, will be listed under this heading.

BOND-FORBES SCHOOL reunion. Sunday, Aug. 21, beginning at 10 a.m. On school grounds located between Macon and Saline. Potluck dinner with coffee provided.

There will be no church service or Sunday School at the Baptist church for the three Sundays of Aug. 21 and 28 and Sept. 4.

The Pythian Sisters will hold a bake sale at Eggleston's Cleaners Saturday, Aug. 13 at 11 a.m.

GRACE LUTHERAN church will hold its annual Mission Festival Aug. 14. Pastor Bauman of Ohio will conduct both the 8:30 and 10:30 services. Sunday school at 9:30. Aug. 21 and 28 there will be only one service each week at 8 a.m. with Sunday school at 9:30. There will be further announcements next week.

COMFORT CLUB — A special meeting of the Comfort Extension Club will be held Monday evening at 8 p.m. at the Centennial school. This is the lesson entitled "Deserving Desesrts" and will be taught by Mrs. Sarah Lowery. Refreshments will be served by the club.

The Good Cheer Class of the Baptist church will hold an evening meeting Friday, Aug. 12 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Hewlett. This will be in place of the picnic which was originally planned. There will be a business meeting.

Grass on land taken out of cultivation should be properly grazed to give maximum return and control erosion.

METEORS

Heavenly fireworks will be the feature attraction in the Aug. sky when the Perseid meteor shower begins this month.

This annual display of "shooting stars" reaches its peak around the nights of Aug. 10 and 11, says University of Michigan Astronomer, Hazel M. Losh.

"You can expect to see about 50 of these meteors an hour under favorable conditions," she says. They may be found in any direction but their paths when traced back will seem to intersect in the northeast where the constellatic Perseus rises at about 10 p.m. This explains the name given to the event.

These pieces of iron and stone become visible only when they enter the earth's atmosphere. They come in at very high speeds, their flight is slowed by the atmosphere and the resulting friction sets them burning, the professor explains. Most of them burn out during their plunge, she adds, so you needn't duck when you see one falling.

Among the bright planets this month will be Saturn in the southwest sky until midnight, and the Milky Way will appear in its full half circle running as nearly north and south as it ever does.

You'd never believe that summer is gradually on the wane, but Prof. Losh points out that the Sun is rapidly dropping from its high June position and this means that by the end of the month we'll be having a 13-hour day instead of the June high of 15 hours.

Adolescents Have Priceless Assets When Given Chance

When does an idealistic adolescent become a cynical, uncaring, or disgruntled adult?

This question suggests an interesting research project to Dr. Ralph D. Rabinovitch, chief of Children's Service in the University of Michigan Neuropsychiatric Institute.

Far from being crazy, mixed-up kids, adolescents find themselves in a crazy mixed-up world. According to the U-M child psychiatrist, "With all his problems, the adolescent has priceless assets which given proper nurture far outweigh the negatives."

In other words, adolescents seem to have more to offer the world than the world offers them.

THEY ARE "LOST"

"But in recent years," declared Dr. Rabinovitch, "I have been much impressed by the lostness of so many of our pupils."

It is a lostness which borders on psychic automation, breeds in the cold, impersonal corridors of modern life, and at the sound of a bell, shuttles from room to room with no apparent purpose.

"We mustn't blame the teachers," said Dr. Rabinovitch, "but something is wrong when we continue to design schools which weaken rather than strengthen the teacher-student relationship."

In an article entitled, "Our Adolescents and Their World," which appeared recently in the English Journal, published by the University of Chicago press, Dr. Rabinovitch then gets down to cases, picks up a few child psychology chestnuts and replants them in the soil of common sense. For example:

IT'S COMMON SENSE

(1) "Give the boy his head." Parents nowadays tend to take the adolescent's striving for independence so seriously that they pull the family rug of security out from under their children.

"In some families," declared Dr. Rabinovitch, "it is as though parents no longer dare to direct a child after he has reached the magic age of 16."

The U-M doctor added: "It is certainly nice to grow up with one's children, but it is also wise to be more mature than one's children."

(2) "Make the amenities fun." It is perhaps quite appropriate, according to Dr. Rabinovitch, to want your child to become a graceful ballroom dancer at 16. But teachers must stand firm against growing pressure that such social graces be forced on 11 or even 10-year olds.

Said the doctor: "No matter how we try to stretch their squeaking ego, this age group is definitely not ready for this kind of involvement."

He added: "The children themselves are often ready, in fact anxious, to be reasonable in these matters, and where the parent's social standards foster superficiality and phoniness, it is all the more the school's job to stand firmly for real enduring values."

LIST OTHER BOGIES

(3) "Comic books are the evil of the times." Actually life itself is more gruesome than the comic books. And it turns out that the really gruesome comic books are more often read by adults than by children.

Dr. Rabinovitch says he doesn't doubt that some horror comics are unsavory and disturbing to children, but states that modern bogies such as housing scandals, tax frauds, and professional liars in government are far worse because the children have no escape from them.

"At least," said the doctor, "in Superman and Mighty Mouse the child knows that good triumphs over evil."

(4) "Give adolescents solid courses in sex education." Like most panaceas, this one represents a gross over-simplification.

It is helpful but not enough, declared Dr. Rabinovitch, to teach children the anatomy and physiology of sexual functions. Furthermore, such is actually of secondary importance.

"The primary elements of sex education are found in family relationships, in feeling tones between parents, and in feeling tones between parent and child," said the U-M child specialist.

EDUCATE TO LIVE

"After all," he added, "sex education is education in living."

(5) "It's all because of momism." Today the tendency is to equate masculinity with toughness or with lack of feeling.

"Well," speculates the U-M psychiatrist, "if our aim is to raise gangsters ,then, of course, we must avoid sentiment at all cost."

But, he added, "If we want to produce thinking, feeling young citizens capable of spotting potential despots, then sentiment, far from being a sign of weakness, has an important place in the school experience."

The school, concludes Dr. Rabinovitch, is the repository of fine literature, and it is in literature that children learn a respect for individuality, for creativity, and for originiality.

The doctor added a postscript: "By literature I do not mean only the voices of cold decadence and avant-garde impersonal schizophrenic — or worse, phony schizophrenic — outpourings, but writing that evokes a deep emotional response through its genuine warmth and understanding of human values."

26 FFA Chapters Reach Finals in Farmers' Contest

A total of 26 Future Farmers of America chapters have qualified for final judging in the 12th annual Best Chapter contest of the Michigan FFA, state headquarters announced today.

Preliminary judging has reduced the field of 223 FFA chapters from all sections of Michigan in the competition to determine the state's outstanding farm youth groups. Chapters are judged on their year-long group projects and programs and their work in aiding members to become established in farming.

All three of last year's top chapters in the contest program sponsored by A & P Food Stores, remain in the competition for this year's honors, FFA officials said. They are Cassopolis, Sandusky and Williamston.

The Michigan Association Executive Committee has appointed a judging team to determine final winners in the contest involving more than 10,000 farm youngsters.

Michigan's representatives in the National FFA competition and winners of the state Gold and Silver awards will be announced at a luncheon meeting in Detroit Aug. 24. Officers of winning chapters and their teacher advisors will participate in educational and recreational activities with A & P officials during the day-long program.

Other chapters qualifying for the 1955 state finals are: Alma, Bellevue, Caro, Cedar Springs, Chesaning, Charlotte, Colon, Elkton, Felch, Ionia, Imlay City, Marlette, Midland, Marshall, Merrill, Mount Pleasant, Niles, Olivet, Ovid, Pinconning, Stockbridge, Saranac and Yale.

Local Topics

The women of the Baptist church completed baking pies for their booth at the Lenawee County Fair Tuesday. Later they will prepare and freeze vegetables.

Mrs. George Gabler is spending this week with friends and relatives in Harbor Beach, which was her former home town.

Harry Hoffman is taking a week's vacation from his work in the plant protection department at the Tecumseh Products Co.

Miss Beverly McLaury, formerly of Tecumseh and now a student nurse at Sparrow hospital in Lansing, is spending a month's vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Ted Sisson. She has just returned from ten days in New York, where she visited the parents of her fiance, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Schard.

Philip Hendershot, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Hendershot spent several days this week at the 4-H camp at Brighton.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Lee Prettyman were in Marion, Ohio over the weekend where Mrs. Prettyman was a bridesmaid at the marriage of her sister, Miss Helen Lyon to Robert E. Evans Jr. The wedding took place at the Kirkpatrick Church of Christ near Marion.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haughn and children and Mrs. N. C. Brown of Adrian spent the last of the week in northern Michigan. The trip included a visit to St. Ignace.

Glenn L. Green III has returned from Dearborn where he spent several days with his grandparents.

The Rev. and Mrs. Loren Kuhn and daughter Sandra Sue came yesterday from Flushing, Ohio to spend two weeks with Mrs. Kuhn's mother, Mrs. Naomi Sallows and grandfather, Reuben VanWinkle.

Mrs. Irving Gove is a patient at Herrick Memorial hospital.

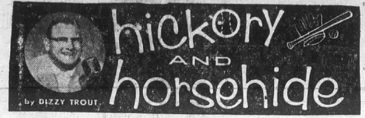
AMERICA'S FOREMOST FOOD RETAILER . . . SINCE 1859
A&P Food Stores
THE GREAT ATLANTIC & PACIFIC TEA COMPANY



THEY'RE STILL talking about the game-winning steal of home against the mighty Yankees by Detroit's new first baseman, Clifford Earl "Torgy" Torgeson, and they'll be talking about it for a long time to come.

Called Earl or Torgy by his teammates, aggressive, tobacco-chewing Torgeson excited everyone in both major leagues by his dramatic theft some Sundays ago to give the Tigers a clean sweep of the three-game series and help tighten up the pennant race.

The fellow Ol'Diz shares a microphone with, Van Patrick, still calls it his greatest thrill in all his years of baseball broadcasting.

Torgy can be expected to do things like that. He's a fierce competitor and fast of foot. In the short time he's been with us, Torgy's fit into Detroit's plans like the spokes on a wheel.

Former National Leaguer

His inspiring play is of as much interest in the National League as the American because he spent more than eight years in the senior circuit, coming to the Tigers last June 14 from the Philadelphia Phils.

Big, bespectacled Torgeson, who looks enough like Clark Kent to be called "Superman" by the players and even many strangers, is in his fifteenth season of professional baseball.

While attending Washington State Teachers College and Ellensburg Teachers College, Torgeson broke in with Seattle in 1941 and stayed there through the 1946 season, with time out for Army duty during 1943-45.

Sold to the Boston Braves before the start of the 1947 campaign, he enjoyed his best major league season there in 1950, batting .290, scoring 120 runs, stealing 15 bases and getting 167 hits, including 23 home runs, 30 doubles and three triples.

Traded to the Phils in a four-way deal in 1952 that saw the shifting of players among Boston, Philadelphia, Brooklyn and Cincinnati, the left-hand hitting Torgeson experienced a succession of misfortunes that benched him much of the time.

Edged Out of Job

He sustained a broken foot in 1953, and in 1954 dislocated a shoulder and thumb, the latter requiring an operation. This year he was edged out of his regular first baseman's job by Marvin Blalock and was used largely in relief. Thus he was expendable to the Phils when the Tigers came along.

Torgy is known as one who never backs away from a fight. He's paid the National League some $700 in fines for his on-the-field encounters.

Among his more notable scrapes were those with Pittsburgh's Cliff Chambers, a pitcher, who dusted him three times and broke two ribs with a fast ball, and Giant catcher Sal Yvars, who broke Torgy's bat on home plate after he had singled.

Born in Snohomish, Wash., of Norwegian descent, Torgeson, now 31, was married in 1946 to the former Norma Syverson. They have two children, Christine, 8, and Andy, 6.

The Torgeson home is on Anna Maria Island, 10 miles from Bradenton, Fla., and a four wood shot from Fred Hutchinson's place.

Wilson's Win League Title; Dick's Cop Tourney Crown

Dick's Standard Service won the Men's Softball League Tournament title.

In one of the tournament games Dick's edged Britton IOOF, 11-10 and then knocked off Wilson's, 12-6.

Wilson's gained the tourney finals by beating Gambles, 12-9.

Dick's made 12 hits off the Britton team and made eight errors.

Britton had five hits and four errors.

Batteries were Whelan and J. Withrow for Dick's and Saxton and Bill Smith for Britton.

D. Withrow banged two doubles and a single for Dick's while Whelan added a double and two singles and Fawson had two singles and a homer.

Britton's Spreeman had a triple and a single in three trips.

The lead was held by the IOOF most of the game, leading 3-1 at the end of the first inning and 8 to 3 at the end of three.

Dick's, however, scored eight runs in the last four innings while holding Britton to two over the same period. Dick's scored four runs in the fourth, three in the sixth and the big, deciding run in the seventh.

Wilson's had 10 hits and one error against Gambles. The Martin Men made 11 hits and six errors.

Batteries were Thorpe and F. Hamilton for Wilson's and Gleason and Myers worked for the Gambles team.

Gilpin had a homer and double for the winners while Thorpe had a homer and single.

Russ Hyatt had a homer and Gambles Gleason had a single and triple while Pasky walloped a double and two singles.

In the title game Dick's Service won from Wilson's, 12-6. Wilson's scored five times in the second inning after a first inning 1-0 lead and Dick's tied the score with a pair of three run innings in the third and fourth. The tourney champs added a single run in the fifth and cemented the win with a five-run outburst in the seventh.

Dick's had 12 hits and three errors while Wilson's had seven hits and four errors.

Whelan and H. Withrow served as the battery for the winners with Thorpe and Tom Hamilton providing the battery for the losers. Whelan had a double and single while Ladd added two singles and H. Withrow a double and two singles for Dick's.

Thorpe had two singles out of two tries while Gilpin had a double in three trips and Babcock hit two singles in four trips for the losers.

Wilson Motor Sales won the Men's Softball League title by defeating Friends Church in a play-off, 15-4.

The two teams finished the regular season play with 8-2 records, forcing a play-off.

The Friends led 4-2 after four innings but Wilson's powered 10 runs across in a big fifth inning to win the title.

The Automen made 13 hits and played errorless ball.

The Friends had six hits and made four errors.

Thorpe and F. Hamilton provided the battery for the winners while Meads and Kelley forked for the losers.

Hyatt, Dean Hamilton and Gilpin each had two hits for the Automen while Kelley was the big gun for the Friends with a double and single in four tries.

FOOTBALL

Physical examinations for Tecumseh High School varsity, junior varsity and junior high football players will be held in the high school gym Thursday, Aug. 25, at 9:30 a.m.

Equipment for varsity and junior varsity players will be handed out Saturday, Aug. 27, at 9 a.m. in the school locker room.

Junior high candidates will not receive their equipment until after school begins again.

MARC Features Majorettes

Drilling by the famed and colorful Cochran Majorettes of Port Clinton, O., will be the highlight of another double feature program listing two 25-lap main events in the MARC stock car racing card Thursday night at Adrian Speedway.

Directed by Paul L. Cochran, the 76 girls in the Port Clinton Majorettes team long have entertained sports fans in Ohio, Michigan and Canada with their precision marching and drilling. It will be their first appearance this year at Adrian Speedway.

Breaking a long-standing jinx, Leo Caldwell of Perrysburg finally notched his first main event victory of the season at the Speedway last week ahead of Rollie Beale and Herb Robison. Dick Mortemore and Kenny Nemire have been the only double winners at the Adrian track this year, while Robison took the 50-lap midseason championship event.

Paul Timmerman, who edged Clark Whittacre and Russ Loveland last week, will be aiming for another Class B feature victory.

Balance Budget, Cut Taxes

The budget can be balanced and taxes cut—without any reduction in military strength, and without eliminating any item of useful public works or any "delivered" Federal contribution to health, education and welfare.

That is the conclusion reached in the final Hoover Commission report to the Congress, which summarizes the recommendations made in the 18 previous reports on specific agencies in the executive branch of the government.

This second Hoover Commission, which has now wound up its monumental task, was given a much broader assignment than the first Hoover Commission of 1947. It dealt extensively with questions of policy, whereas the first Commission was pretty much confined by the enabling law to administrative and organizational matters. In the course of its work it studied 60 of the 64 independent government agencies for which the President is directly responsible.

These account for over 95 per cent of executive branch expenditures. The magnitude of the job is indicated by the fact that federal medical services are carried on by 26 executive agencies, legal services by 54, research and development by 29, insurance and related activities by 104, and transportation by 22.

During their investigation of the government's activities in food and clothing, to take just one illustration, members of the Commission's task force on subsistence visited 115 separate installations.

The recommendations fall into three categories. Fifty of them are of a nature which might be presented to the Congree by the President under the Reorganization Act of 1949 or implemented by executive order; 145 are within the authority of the various departments and agencies to adopt; and 167 would require Congressional action, though they could be covered by a much smaller number of legislative acts.

The reductions in expenditures which could be made, according to the studies, are enormous. Here are a few examples of specific estimated savings: Budget and accounting, $4,000,000,000; medical serices, $29,000,000; lending, guaranteeing and insurance activities, $280,000,000; overseas economic operations, $360,000,000; paperwork management, $288,300,000; real property management, $185,000,000; personal adjustments in the Department of Defense, $388,800,000.

In addition to the estimates, task force reports also say that great potential savings could be made by lessening and eliminating government operations which are in competition with private enterprise and in other ways, though specific sums are not mentioned.

The total estimated savings specified in the reports comes to $8,500,000,000. This, as Mr. Hoover pointed out, is too high a figure, because there is some overlapping. Even so, there would be enough to balance the budget (the deficit this year will be about $2,400,000,000) and to allow for tax reductions.

The Commission also shows how large capital sums could be regained by the Treasury by liquidating certain lending agencies, speedily disposing of surplus property, and so on. It makes recommendations for lifting some of the burden of administrative responsibility from the shoulders of the President who, obviously, cannot possibly give adequate personal attention to all the varied and complex agencies in the executive branch.

Legislation to put the Commission's proposals into effect is now being drafted. Some of the laws, in all probability, will be passed without any great difficulty. Others will deal with highly-charged and controversial issues and will be long debated.

Truly Local Advertising Medium

"'All business is local' is still a 100 per cent factual statement," says Editor & Publisher. "The sale has to be made at the local level. It takes the only truly local advertising medium—newspapers—to do the selling job."

The newspaper is the running history of its community. Its advertisements are read because they appear beside the news and other material that people are interested in. That's why, despite the growth of other forms of mass communication, the local newspaper still tops the list.

"This is John Jowett," the man said on the phone. "I want to sell my house. You sold my son-in-law's home not long ago. Now we would like to have you sell ours."

That day we inspected the house. It was a nice home, just a few years old, with a beautiful garden.

"Your price is in line," I mentioned to Mr. Jowett. "It looks good too. We'd be pleased to handle the sale on an exclusive listing basis."

Mr. Jowett nodded. "That's fine with us. After the recommendation of our son-in-law we really didn't want anyone else to work on it."

Based on this cooperation and confidence, the task of selling the Jowett home was a pleasure. Within 60 days, his home was sold at the agreed listing price.

If you want to sell, call us out to inspect your home and go over the details with you.

By working together on a friendly business-like basis, we can arrange a satisfactory SALE for you!

Letters to Editor

Aug. 5, 1955

Editor of The HERALD:

In answer to Dr. Robert Murray's letter of July 26, 1955. I must say he has shown his true colors. We all know how he stands on fluoridation, but now he is attacking the one thing which should be precious to every one of us, our constitutional laws and liberty. We don't live in a communist land where they can shovel anything down our throat, and we have to take it. We live in a land where the government is the people, and the liberty of the ballot is our right. The question of fluoridation was settled by this ballot, which every American should hold dear. Did you ever think about how communism gets in? By undermining our precious liberties and many subtle ways. As a loyal American I am opposed to having anything shoveled down our throat, be it fluoridation or anything else. The vote of the people is sovereign, and when we lose it, we have lost our liberty and justice and are under the Red tyrant.

When Dr. Murray says "Whoever is shoveling fluoride into our water supply—please shovel faster," he is not upholding the ending of our pledge to the American flag, "with liberty and justice for all."

Why did three of our boys come home from Red China? They would rather face death in a land of justice than to live in a Communist land. Are there anymore loyal Americans or are we all afraid to show our colors?

Dr. Murray isn't.

Squires-Ricica Vows Exchanged in Milan

The Marble Memorial Methodist Church of Milan, Mich. was the scene of the wedding Saturday evening of Ann M. Ricica and L. James Squires.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ricica and Mr. Squires is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Squires, both of Britton.

The Rev. William [illegible] performer the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Wililam Kanitz sang "The Lord's Prayer" before the service accompanied by Mrs. Carl B. Witton.

The church was beautifully decorated with hampers and altar vases of white glads.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown fashioned with redingote of white embroidered tulle over a full, triple skirted, nylon strapless bodice gown. Her veil of fingertip silk illusion was held by a seed pearl trimmed coronet. She carried a crescent shaped bouquet of pink glamelias.

Mrs. James Vallie, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and wore a floor length gown fashioned in ice pink crystalette with torso waist and portrait neckline. Her bouquet was of white glamelias with red roses.

Bridesmaids were Marge Papp, Beverly Rohrback, Ann Korican and Mary Louise Studnicka. Their gowns were similar to the matron of honor's in coral crystalette and their bouquets were white glamelias.

Sherry Squires, sister of the groom and Sandra Vallie, niece of the bride were flower girls. They wore pink, floor length gowns and carried baskets of daisies.

David Squires, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and guests were seated by William Kanitz, Joseph Porter, Duane Reum and James Vallie.

The bride's mother wore for her daughter's wedding an aqua dress with matching accessories and a corsage of cibidium orchids. Mrs. Squires wore white lace over blue satin with blue and white accessories and a cibidium orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the V.F.W. Hall in Dundee for 600 guests from Toledo and Metamora, Ohio, Capac, Milan, Tecumseh and Britton. The four-tiered wedding cake was decorated in pink and white and topped with a miniature bride and groom.

The new Mrs. Squires is a graduate of Britton-Macon high school with the class of 1955. The groom graduated with the 1952 class from Milan high school and is engaged in farming.

On their return from a trip through northern Michigan, they will reside at 12345 Pennington Rd., Britton.

Tecumseh BOOK SHELVES Library

By Mrs. Conrad Fosbender

The Library is proud to announce the arrival of new fluorescent lighting. Our ancient bulbs have been taken out and modern new fixtures installed. We are very pleased and are sure you will be too.

You have no idea the difference it makes until you come in. Titles of books are so much easier to read and you aren't standing in your own shadow. From the outside we look so bright and cheerful, you can really see us when you drive by.

Next time you're out, why not make it a date to stop in and see the lighting. While you're inspecting our lights, inspect the books and take one home to read. We will be looking forward to seeing you.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

"Light" Snack For Ducks

Coming back from Balesville the other night I noticed a powerful light at Whitey Fisher's Duck Farm. Seemed to be shining out over the water.

I stopped to ask Whitey what went on. He took me down to his pond and pointed out a 200-watt bulb—rigged up on a pole about three feet above the surface. The light was attracting thousands of insects for the ducks to eat.

Seemed kind of odd to me—but Whitey was enthusiastic. "Best idea I ever heard of," he claims. "Keeps the feed bill down—and the bug population, too. Why do you suppose I never thought of it before?"

From where I sit, Whitey's the type who's always ready to pioneer a worth-while new trick. Me, I stick to old methods. Just a case of personal feeling, I guess . . . like the way you may prefer coffee with meals while I always prefer a traditional glass of beer. Not that I'd claim you're wrong—respect for the other man's opinion is my "guiding light."

Spalding Goes to Convention

Russell Spalding of Britton was in for a double treat at the 36th annual Conference for Teachers of Vocational Agriculture at Michigan State University recently.

He not only received the latest information about agriculture at his conference but he also participated in the university's College of Education Centennial Symposium, which was held concurrently on the Spartan campus.

About 250 vocational agriculture teachers participated in their five-day conference of workshops, tours, lectures and demonstrations. The events were staged at Kellogg Center and Brody Hall on the Spartan campus.

The event annually is sponsored by the Michigan State Department of Public Instruction, Office of Vocational Education; the Michigan Association of Teachers of Vocational Agriculture, and the M.S.U. Colleges of Agriculture and Education and the Continuing Service. tguyo xz.... ps sc c cmfwypcmfwp

Major speaker at the Vocational Agriculture conference was Dr. M. D. Mobley, executive secretary of the American Vocational Association, Washington, D. C.

Among the activities at the symposium, attended by the vo-ag teachers, were addresses by Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, of the Methodist Church, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Rollin Brown, president of the National PTA, and many others. Dr. Mobley was among those who received special university centennial citations.

Mary Louise Kotts Is Bride of Allen Bordine

Mary Louise Kotts became the bride of Allen Rae Bordine last Saturday evening on the 42nd wedding anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Kotts of North Adrian highway. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Bordine, whose home is also on N. Adrian highway.

The Rev. Edward Escolme performed the double ring ceremony at 8 p.m. in the Tecumseh Friends church of which both bride and groom are active members. The chancel of the sanctuary was decorated for the occasion by lighted candles and a large white cross, in front of which was a hamper of white gladioli flanked by massed palms and lighted cathedral candelabra. Satin bows fastened clusters of white galdioli to the altar rail and the center pews were marked by tall lighted candles and satin ribbon.

Mrs. Amos Wilson, organist, played "I Love You Truly" and "Melody of Love" before the ceremony and on the chimes, "Because" during the lighting of the candles. "Open the Gates of the Temple" was the title of a flute solo by Margaret Halley and "O Promise Me" and "I Take Thee" were vocal solos by Martha Hayden and Harry Williams of Adrian. They also sang a duet, "Oh Perfect Love" as part of the concert preceding the ceremony. During the ceremony, Miss Hayden sang "The Wedding Prayer" and at its close Harry Williams sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore nylon tulle over slipper satin. The bouffant skirt had a cathedral length train, which was carried by the groom's little niece, Connie Bordine. It was of tulle with a border of embroidered tulle, tiers of which also formed the bustle back. The bodice of slipper satin had a yoke, Queen Anne collar and long sleeves of the embroidered tulle and her veil fell from a headband edged with seed pearls. She carried white butterfly orchids and crimson rosettes on a white lace-covered Bible with satin streamers, lovers knots and white tulle.

Mrs. William T. Graham of Port Washington, Wis., oldest sister of the bride was Miss Kott's matron of honor and her gown was of mauve crystalette made waltz length with matching shoes, mitts and headband. Her flowers were cream glamellias centered with crimson rosettes.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Dorman Vescelius of Tecumseh, also a sister of the bride, Mrs. Eugene Bushart of Maybee, the groom's twin sister and Miss Gerry Hirsch of Tecumseh wore orchid, pink and blue net over taffeta respectively, made in identical style with bouffant, waltz length skirts, pointed collars and puff-sleeves. Their shoes, mitts and headbands matched their dresses and they carried hand bouquets of cream glamellias, knotted with matching ribbon.

Miss Sandra Graham, niece of the bride, Miss Betty Jean Kish, the groom's cousin and his niece, Miss Diane Bordine were the junior bridesmaids in gowns made like those of the bridesmaids in orchid, blue and pink and their flowers were also similar.

Two little flowers girls, Shirley Ann Kotts, niece of the bride and Donna Glauser, dressed in orchid and pink respectively and wearing wrist bouquets of pink rosettes, scattered rose petals from white baskets in the path of the bride.

Clyde Bordine of Milan served his brother as best man while the ushers were his brother, Orie Bordine of Milan, his brother-in-law, Eugene Bushart of Maybee and John Kotts of Tecumseh, brother of the bride. His junior attendants were Lee Vescelius and James Kotts, nephews of the bride and Russell Rieves of Tipton.

Johnny Kotts and Jerry Bordine, nephews of the bride and groom carried the rings for the double service.

Mrs. Edward Escolme received the more than 250 guests at the reception in the church parlors following the ceremony. Refreshments were in charge of the Quaker Fellowship class of which the bride's parents are members and Mrs. Edith Muhn catered.

Decorations in the church parlors were in red and white with streamers and wedding bells. Crimson and white gladioli were arranged on the serving table and the four-tiered wedding cake was decorated in red and white also. The top and bottom layers were heartshaped and it was trimmed with white hearts edged with red roses and a miniature bride and groom.

The plates were served by Mrs. James Lawson, punch by Miss Carolyn Chase and Miss Kathleen Richmond poured coffee. The guest book was in charge of Harold Bordine and others who assisted were Joan Judd, Marilyn Ma ley, Vonnie Penrod and Gertru Bordine.

When the newly married pa left on a trip through the ea Mrs. Bordine wore a beige su with accessories of red and wh and her bridal flowers. On the return they will be at home in apartment at 5890 Clinton-Mac road.

Mrs. Bordine is a graduate Tecumseh high school in 195 while the groom graduated fr Milan high school, class of 19 and is employed by the Lenaw Highway Dept.

VACATION SCHOOL HAS DEMONSTRATION

The closing program of the Macon Vacation Church school was held Sunday morning. It was opened by the singing of "The Bible Told Me So" and "Let the Sun Shine In" by the group directed by Mrs. Herbert Morden with Miss Hallie Jane Mehler as pianist.

The kindergarten band played "Jesus Loves Me" under the leadership of Mrs. Helen Williams and Mrs. Virginia Thomas. The Misses Margie Papp and Betty Hawkins taught the primary group and told of their projects. Members of the junior department displayed their projects and the intermediates with Mrs. Charles Gorton Sr. and Mrs. Herbert Morden as leaders told of what they had learned about church membership and God. Mrs. Verl Sanch and Mrs. Hamilton Moore taught the junior group.

There were 65 enrolled in the school, which had an average attendance of 53. Twenty-eight students had perfect attendance and 24 only missed once.

Mrs. Carl Hawkins, Mrs. Kenneth Frost and Miss Judy Bausman were full time assistants.

GUEST SPEAKER

The Rev. Edward Escolme of the Tecumseh Friends church was guest speaker at the Macon Methodist church Sunday. The junior choir sang special selections. Sunday, Aug. 14, the Rev. Alvin Brazee of Iron Creek will speak.

W.S.C.S. MEETS

Mrs. Herbert Morden entertained 15 members of the Macon W.S.C.S. recently. During the business meeting, reports on the seminar held in Saline were given. It was decided to hold an ice cream social on the church lawn Thursday, Aug. 11 beginning at 7 p.m. Homemade pie and cake will also be served. Proceeds will go to the remodeling fund. The ladies were reminded of the church supper and fair which will be held Friday, Oct. 7.

Mrs. Wilma Briggs led the devotions and Mrs. Carrie Horton was in charge of the program on "Cities and Some of Their Problems." A letter was read from Mr. and Mrs. Sam Burns, missionaries in Africa.

The group decided to sponsor the U.N.I.C.E.F. Hallowe'en party, when money instead of treats are collected for the benefit of needy children. Orders were taken for Christmas cards and gift wrappings. Refreshments were served by the hostess and Mrs. Lois Jordan.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Heilman and Mr. and Mrs. Dil Burleson are vacationing at Isle Royal.

The Macon Community Club will meet Tuesday, Aug. 16 with Mrs. Eva Camburn and Mr. and Mrs. Clare Camburn for a hot dog roast. Each family is to bring hot dogs. Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Travis are program chairmen.

Robert Osborne attended the funeral of Dr. William Burns in Toledo Sunday afternoon.

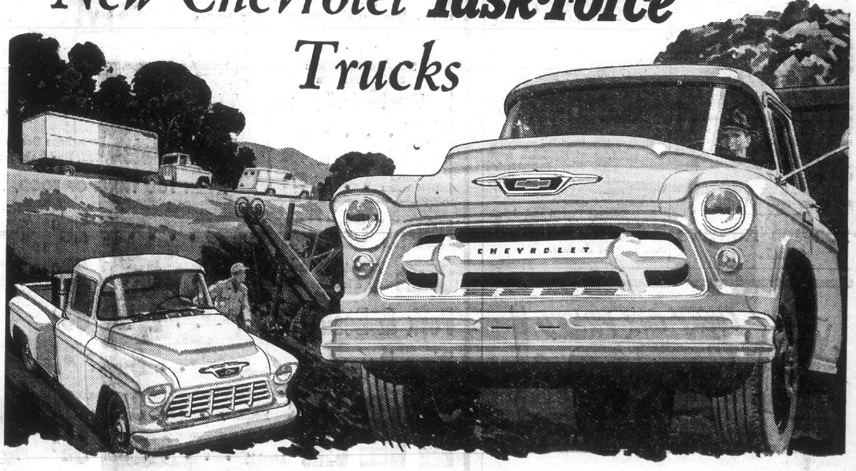
Step in . . . and command the most modern truck power on any job!

New Chevrolet Task-Force Trucks



Seven new "high-voltage" high-compression valve-in-head engines!

Here's hour-saving, dollar-saving power for your job . . . the biggest choice of engines in Chevrolet truck history! And they're the most modern engines in the industry!

You've got it good under the hood with a new Chevrolet Task-Force truck! With two new V8's and five new sixes to choose from, you can pick the power that's tailor-made to do your kind of hauling.

Shortest stroke V8's in any leading truck! Both of Chevrolet's new truck V8's have an ultra-short stroke—shortest of any V8 in any leading truck. They're of modern oversquare design, which means that the piston stroke is smaller than the bore. The result is less piston travel per mile . . . longer engine life. Also, Chevrolet's compact truck V8's deliver exceptionally high horsepower per pound of engine weight. More power is actually available for hauling your loads!

Modern 12-volt electrical system! You get this great development in all new Chevrolet truck engines—both V8's and sixes. The 12-volt electrical system delivers twice the punch for quicker cold-weather starting (up to 30% faster cranking speed). It also provides a hotter, fatter spark for better ignition.

Come in and command the most modern truck power for your job!

V8 or 6
you get the right power for your job!

Year after year . . . America's best-selling truck! CHEVROLET

Is That So!

By Clara Waldron

They do not screech. Neither do they hoot. But the English language does not seem to have the exact word to describe just what owls do do when they talk at night.

The Latin comes close. There the owl is "ulula" and perhaps he does "ululate" part of his conversation. Heard close by, it is rather like a conversation—an ill tempered one—carried on in a monolouge by an irascible old gentleman whose false teeth do not fit.

This particular conversation was almost too close for comfort. Not more than ten feet from our deck chair in the back yard and the old gentleman sounded put out over our being there. For years he and his family had been carrying on their nocturnal life in those trees and why all at once an audience at this time of night? For a moment we had visions of feathered fury, all beak and claws! Then came the memory of the little brown ball that had stubbornly spent a summer's day in the low crotch of the spruce tree. His talk was a lot bigger than he was and probably he was not talking to us anyway.

Whatever it was, he was repeating it over and over, pausing now and then to do a castanet exercise with his beak. He gargled and chittered and then again and again, went into a sort of metallic chuckle in reverse which must have chilled the blood of all the little birds, rabbits and mice in the neighborhood.

Well, if this is a hunting expedition, brother, why advertise your whereabouts so vocally? Now everybody knows where you are and can spot you when you move.

"Think so?" There was one more rasping gargle and then silence—complete and continuing silence. Where was he? He could not have gone. There had not been so much as the rustle of a leaf!

Then, from far off on the other side of the garden came the ghost of a gloating chuckle. Nature equipped this little night bomber with incredibly soft feathers. Like a drift of thistle down he had shifted his base of operations — and found his prey.

MISSIONARY BAPTISTS FORM WOMEN'S GROUP

The ladies of the Missionary Baptist church of Tecumseh have organized a Women's Missionary Union and held their first regular meeting Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Hulda Rich on Adrian street.

Ways and means of raising money for the new church home was the topic of the business meeting.

Mrs. Betty Lake of west Monroe road will entertain the Union, Sept. 2 and all church members are urged to attend.

Monday was the first anniversary of the organization of this church, which now meets each week in the Pythian Hall building. The group began with 13 charter members and has now increased to an official membership of 50 with a weekly congregation of more than 100.

The Rev. Edgar Owens of Jackson is the present pastor.

Christian Science Services Listed

God's inexhaustible goodness and abundance will be brought out in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Soul" which will be read in Christian Science churches on Sunday.

Bible passages will include the admonition of Christ Jesus with regard to man's sustenance: "And seek not ye what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, neither be ye of doubtful mind. For all these things do the nations of the world seek after: and your Father knoweth that ye have need of these things. But rather seek ye the kingdom of God; and all these things shall be added unto you" (Luke 12:29-31).

Also emphasizing the importance of looking to Soul, God, rather than to mammon for happiness, a correlative passage to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states (60:29-31): "Soul has infinite resources with which to bless mankind, and happiness would be more readily attained and would be more secure in our keeping, if sought in Soul."

V.F.W. Dedicates New Post Home Here

About 250 persons turned out Saturday and Sunday for the open house of Hall-Slater No. 4187 Veterans of Foreign Wars and about 200 were on hand Sunday for the dedication of the new post home.

Originally planned to be held on the lawn, the services were held inside because of the rain.

The home was decorated with several bouquets of flowers presented by friends and business persons and members of the post publicly thank everyone who contributed the bouquets.

Post Commander Harold Warren welcomed guests and introduced speakers and Mrs. Warren Filter, president of the post auxiliary, welcomed guests on the part of the auxiliary.

After the Rev. Horace James pronounced the invocation, Mayor H. H. Hanna brought good wishes from the City of Tecumseh.

The speaker was Past Michigan Department Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Leon Buer of Grand Rapids.

Others who made brief remarks included Mrs. Dorothy Mann of Detroit, past National President of the Auxiliary; and Mrs. Don Darher, Michigan Department Chief of Staff, representing the Auxiliary.

A telegram was read from Michigan Department Auxiliary President Frances Hugener; and a telegram from Gov. Williams also was read. He expressed his greetings to the post and regrets that he could not attend.

Other official guests included Elmer Mayer, Sixth District Commander; and Mrs. Mabel Faureau of Lansing, senior vice president of the Sixth District.

Also attending were Mrs. Ben Hutzel of Chelsea, past department president, and Mr. Hutzel; Mr. and Mrs. Wyman Campbell of Milan (he is Michigan Department deputy chief of staff); and Mrs. Esther Matthews of Lansing, Michigan Department junior vice-president of the Auxiliary.

Richard Butler, representing the family of the late Hazel Beland, presented the personal sword of the late Oscar Hall, a veteran of the Spanish-American War, to the post. He was one of the two men who gave their names to the post. Commander Harold Warren accepted the sword for the post.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hall were introduced. He is a brother of the late Oscar Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Slater, parents of Jack Slater, World War II veteran, also were introduced. Veteran Slater was the second man who gave his name to the post.

Earl Kruger, chairman of the building committee, presented the keys to the post home to Commander Warren. Carl Kempf introduced these other members of the building committee: Clifford Curran, Lloyd Stites, Robert Starkey and Richard Butler.

The Rev. Cecil Dickin pronounced the benediction.

After the dedication, cake and coffee were served by members of the auxiliary.

Sunday night a birthday party was held by post members and their wives. The post was observing its tenth anniversary.

A three-tiered birthday cake made by Mrs. Lloyd Stites with a large cross of Malta was cut by Commander Warren; Warren Filter, Senior Vice-commander; and Clifford Curran, Junior Vice-commander.

GOOD CONDUCT MEDAL — In a brief ceremony held recently on board the Mount McKinley, Captain Scarritt Adams, U.S. Navy, commanding officer, presented the good conduct medal to Jason Woodcox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Woodcox of Tecumseh. According to Captain Adams, "He earned this medal by long term service and exemplary conduct, both in the highest traditions of the United States Navy. It is a mark of distinction, to be worn with great pride."

A graduate of Tecumseh High School with the class of 1950, Seaman First Class Woodcox, 23, is in communications. He has been in the Navy almost four and one half years. His ship presently is serving the Pacific Coast fleet out of San Francisco.

Group Picks at Council

Tries To Give Mayor Rough Time

But for questions and comments from three of 12 persons in the audience the council meeting Monday night would have been the shortest and driest on record.

Only routine, every-day business was on the agenda but the group present changed this and before the hour meeting was over they were asking questions that went back to 1952.

Two weeks ago Monday night when given a chance to "bring anything before the council" they had nothing to say but Monday night they had plenty to say.

Mrs. Helen Creger was the first to ask Mayor H. H. Hanna a question. She wanted to know the fluoridation content of city water prior to 1952.

MAYOR ANSWERS

Mayor Hanna told her "You can get that information from the clerk any time in the office, but she doesn't bring such records to the council meetings."

Council business was underway again when Mrs. M. W. Matthews asked why the city is going to pay $12,500 to have all real and personal property re-appraised.

Mayor Hanna said: "This is what people wanted and four members of the council campaigned on this issue promising that if elected the re-appraisal would be done."

Mrs. Matthews replied: "Maybe the city should begin to fix up the leaky spots before raising our taxes."

Asked what she meant, she said she had seen city employees sitting on the grass smoking when they should have been working.

COMPLAINS OF CHARGE

Asked why she did not complain at the time, she said "It never does any good."

Mrs. Matthews also complained about a charge from the city for fixing a water meter. "This was a 30-minute job, but we had to pay $10." The city clerk explained later that the meter was frozen.

Council business continued but not for long. Mrs. Creger wanted to know why a letter was sent to

Justice Fines Three Men

Dalton Shoemaker, 36, of Bay Springs, Mass., charged with driving while under the influence of liquor was sentenced Monday by Justice L. J. VanDeusen of Clinton to pay a fine and costs of $83.60.

At the same time he sentenced Shoemaker's brother, Alton, 43, to pay fine and costs of $23.60 for a drunk and disorderly charge.

Both men were arrested by Tecumseh police Saturday.

Justice VanDeusen also sentenced Eulalio Pizana, 46, of Tecumseh to pay a fine and cost of $81.30 for driving while under the influence of liquor.

He was arrested in Clinton Sunday by state police.

Sept. Jury List Drawn

Mrs. Ernest Brandt of Tecumseh is one of 36 persons drawn to serve on the Sept. term of the circuit court.

Others from the Tecumseh area named to serve are: Arlene Gibbons of Macon; John Gritzmaker of Ridgeway; Bertha McKendry of Tecumseh; Jessie Russell of Raisin; and Lucille Shea of Franklin.

o

DRIVER FINED

Lamar Cheever of Tecumseh paid a $50 fine for reckless driving when he appeared before Justice L. J. VanDeusen of Clinton Aug. 10.

Arrested by Tecumseh police Saturday, Aug. 6, he also paid costs of $4.30 and was given a suspended sentence of 15 days and placed on 90 days probation.

The pick-up truck he was driving was demolished and he was hospitalized at Herrick Memorial hospital for six days.

o

ARREST DRIVER

Tuesday night Tecumseh police arrested Eugene Genest, 26, of Pontiac on a reckless driving charge.

He also is being held for investigation of breaking prison parole.

Schedules Listed

Tecumseh Public Schools will open Tuesday, September sixth and classes will start immediately.

Parents are urged by Supt. James McDowell to make sure their children attend this opening day as important announcements and assignments are made without which children lose valuable educational opportunities.

Five schools again will serve students. Kindergartens will be at Patterson, Brownville, and Central; first, second, and third at West Branch; and first through sixth at Patterson and Central.

The seventh through the twelth grades will be at the high school building.

The morning kindergartens will begin at 9 a.m. and end at 11:15 a.m. while afternoon kindergartens will begin at 1:15 p.m. and end at 3:30 p.m.

All other elementary schools will begin at 9 a.m. and end at 3:30 p.m. with from 12:15 p.m. to 1:15 p.m. off for lunch.

Secondary school classes will begin at 8:15 a.m. and end at 3 p.m. with some classes running through the noon hour due to the large number of children enrolled.

Bus schedules will be announced later.

It is suggested that parents with children in school clip this and future articles for use in their planning.

Alligator

Milford ain't got nothing on us.

Wednesday morning an alligator stopped at the office and wanted to know where the Jim Gablers lived. He said he was lost.

Seriously, though, the Gabler children are upset over their loss of Speckles, their eight-inch long pet that was sent to them from their grandmother in Florida only four days ago.

They had him in a tub of water and believe that the little fellow climbed up on a rock and made his get away.

The Gablers, only a block from a creek in Herrick Park, believe that Speckles might have smelled the water and took off for wetter climes.

They only hope that when he is full grown he doesn't frighten somebody like the 'gator did in Milford some weeks ago.

Accident Injures Britton Woman

Deloris Rohn, 23, of Britton suffered forehead and knee injuries when her car skidded off the road and hit a utility pole and tree last Thursday afternoon.

The accident happened on Academy road two miles east of Adrian.

She was treated at Herrick Memorial hospital and released.

She told Blissfield state police that she lost control when her car struck loose gravel.

o

TAXES ARE DUE

Mrs. Naomi Sallows, city treasurer, reminds city taxpayers that their taxes are due by Sept. 1.

After Sept. 1 a four per cent charge will be added and each succeeding month the taxes are not paid one half per cent more will be added to the tax bill.

Taxes may be paid to her at the city offices.

o

ADD POLICEMAN

Carl R. Barnes, 29, from Fairfield is the new city policeman.

Married, he formerly worked at Gerity in Adrian.

Patrolman Barnes succeeds Stanley Westgate who resigned.

o

HERALD CLOSES

The HERALD office again will be closed all day this Saturday and next Saturday all day.

Beginning in Sept. the office again will be opened every Saturday morning.

Air Lift

Thirteen cadets of the Tecumseh Civil Air Patrol are undergoing a 10-day basic training program at Sampson Air Force Base, Utica, New York.

They were airlifted to the base by plane from the Detroit Wayne Major airport and they will be airlifted back.

Those from the local CAP at the camp are Marshall Boike, Fred Deaner, John Dennis, Grace Lopez, Rudy Lopez, Don Partridge, Lonnie Penrod, Raymond Puffer, Bob Miley, Jerry Robinette, Tom Maupin, Doug LeFevre and Warren Naugle.

They will return home Saturday.

Rotarians See Incas' Lost City

Jack Savage told Rotarians Tuesday night of the Lost City of the Incas in Peru.

Colored slides of the Lost City, more than 1000 years old, were shown by Jim McDowell as Mr. Savage described the scenes.

Hiram Bingham, a yale professor, discovered the Lost City in 1911, he said.

It was founded by a noble and just people whose leaders studied the natural sciences and tried to teach a moral code.

It had a municipal water supply that took care of the needs of 15,000 persons who were expert stone masons.

The Lost City, Mr. Savage said, had a culture that would compare favorably with that of ours, including social security for its people.

Diplomatic treachery on the part of European explorers proved its downfall, he pointed out.

Commenting on Peru in general, he said it is a country with 12,000,000 persons, half of whom are native Indians.

Because the country encourages free enterprise, inviting outside capital and both exports and imports it is prosperous, he said.

o

INSTALLS OFFICERS

A ritual team of the Tecumseh American Legion Auxiliary installed officers of the Hudson American Legion Auxiliary last Thursday night.

Members of the team are Mrs. Bart Aiuto, Mrs. Harold Easton, Mrs. James Dick, Mrs. Don Woods, Mrs. Richard Eggleston, Mrs. Richard Graff, Miss Marilyn Baaske, Mrs. Frank Daehne, Mrs. Roger Williams, Mrs. Harold Meads and Mrs. John Snyder.

Mrs. Glenn Driscoll and Mrs. Roma Waters served as pianists for the team.

Mrs. Charles Howe is director.

Aug. 29 the local ritual team will install Milan Legion Auxiliary officers.

Contests Over; Pick Winners For 4-H Show

For more than 2,000 Michigan 4-H'ers the next two weeks will be chuck full of putting the finishing touches on projects, demonstrations and exhibits for the 40th annual State 4-H Show. These boys and girls will work hard at it because they'll be competing for money and award trips.

These 4-H'ers selected to represent Michigan's 60,000 4-H Club members, were chosen at the final training and elimination meetings held in various districts in Michigan during the past month. The judging school eliminations applied to members judging dairy, livestock, poultry, crops, vegetable garden, home improvement, food preparation, canning and clothing. Winners in archery, public speaking and talent acts were also selected.

Going into its 14th year on the Michigan State University campus, the show is scheduled Aug. 30-Sept. 2. The four-day competitive event has been held on the M.S.U. campus since 1942 when the state fair in Detroit was abandoned during the war. Since then, the boys and girls have wanted to return to the campus to hold their final state-wide show each year. In the 14 years it has been held at M.S.U., the state show has more than tripled in size.

Premiums totaling $18,000 and award trips to the International Dairy Exposition, National 4-H Club Congress, International Livestock Exposition, all in Chicago; Waterloo Dairy Cattle Congress, National 4-H Camp in Washington, D.C. and the Toronto Exposition will be given.

About 5000 individual exhibits will adorn four buildings on the campus. Friends and family of 4-H are welcome to attend the programs and exhibits. They will see 1100 head of livestock, 300 chickens, 150 rabbits and 25 wool fleeces, besides the other displays of home and garden.

Teachers' Qualifications Safeguard Children

Qualifications have been set by the State Department of Public Instruction for teachers engaged by Michigan schools. In addition to these requirements, local boards of education can add qualifications in the interests of better educational opportunities for their school children.

The Tecumseh Board of Education reports Supt. James McDowell, safeguards children with the following qualifications for teachers hired subsequent to Jan. 1, 1953:

Each teacher must have attended college the equivalent of four years and have earned a bachelor of arts degree or its equivalent. Each teacher must possess a current teacher's certificate from the State Department of Public Instruction and have a current loyalty oath on file with the local superintendent of schools.

Each teacher must pass a bi-yearly physical examination and present a clear yearly chest X-ray.

Teachers who wish to hold administrative positions in Tecumseh Public Schools must in addition to the above qualifications have earned masters' degrees in public school administration or its equivalent.

Tecumseh schools, Supt. McDowell pointed out, have an unusually large number of the instructional staff who have earned advanced degrees in their respective fields.

In elementary education 16 per cent of the staff have masters' degrees while on the secondary staff 47 per cent have such degrees. These augmented qualifications help to make Tecumseh Schools outstanding in the state, he said.

CONDUCTED BY BOB WARREN

ELLSWORTH COLLINS SAYS Ike and Abe Lincoln have a lot in common because they both have a Gettysburgh address.

SLOGAN FOR THE DUNDEE Parent-Teachers' Association this year is "Let's get PA in the PTA." It's a sound idea but, frankly, it will take good coffee and cake to do it.

OLEY HANNA REPORTS that Martin fellow we met at Interlochen has the handle of Marty. Marty Martin, Oley further reports, was a pretty darn good country pitcher in his day. Marty, Oley said, once pitched an 18-inning game.

SO MANY HAVE ASKED how fishing was last weekend that a report is in order, although few will probably believe it. To sum it up at the beginning, fishing was great. It was as good as the "good old days." Fish bit in all kinds of weather and in every part of the day. Bob and I were out at 6 a.m. and caught 10 nice deep water blue gills. Three relatives were out in mid afternoon and caught 41 mostly large blue gills. And Bob and I were out again the next day about 11:30 and in the space of less than two hours we had 25 nice ones again. Of course they should have bitten at this time. It was their lunch hour. All totalled, we caught 76 dandy fish without half trying; to say nothing of communing with nature in one of the state's most rugged, wild and beautiful spots which is a story in itself.

THE OLDTIMER SAYS: "He who stands high in his own opinion is still a long way from the top."

YOU STILL CAN GET a lot for one thin dime. In entertainment you can't beat the 10 cent show put on by Tarzan, Bobo, Jiggs, Mary and the rest of the talented and hammy chimpanzee actors at the Detroit Zoo. They now have a new theater and no longer perform behind bars. Added to their act are trained ponies and burros and high wire aerial stunts. Whether you're a kid of four or 40 you'll get a real boot out of the chimps as Davy Crockett, as Indians, as Mexican cowboys, as daredevil racers and as tumblers and aerialists.

THOUGHT FOR THIS WEEK — Who is wise? He that learns from everyone. Who is powerful? He that governs his passions. Who is rich? He that is content. — Benjamin Franklin.

Detroit Times Calls Tecumseh Capital of Refrigerated Air

(Editor's Note: The Detroit Times for last Sunday sold out fast in town. It had an article "Tecumseh Now Capital of Refrigerated Air" by James Boynton, Times financial editor. Monday Mr. Boynton had an article "How a Town Cashed in by Backing Right Man." The two articles are reprinted here.)

* *

Mark Twain once said every one complains about the weather but no one ever does anything about it.

This statement is no longer true for this pleasant, little homey town of 5,400 people 60 miles southwest of Detroit, only a few miles off US-112, the Detroit-Chicago pike, is doing something about it and has been doing something for some time.

For little Tecumseh is the world capital of refrigerated air.

Tecumseh Products Co., right here in little Tecumseh, makes better than 75 per cent of the world's compressors for window type air conditioners, which have had a phenomenal sales growth in the last few years.

The compressor is the "heart" of the air conditioner, and represents about 40 per cent of the manufacturer's cost.

During the recent heat wave, Tecumseh helped bring comfort to millions of people in business places and homes who were fortunate enough to have air conditioners.

And there are millions, for last year alone Tecumseh workers turned out more than 1,000,000 compressors for window air coolers. This year's production will be on a par with last year's but 1956 production should be substantially higher.

The trend should skyrocket upward, according to Frank K. Smith, director of Tecumseh Products. He thinks the air-conditioning industry has "merely scratched the surface."

He declared:

"The saturation point is now only between 4 and 5 per cent but the real push will come when we get it up to about 10 per cent, probably in 1957 or 1958."

He feels certain that 1956 should be a record year because distributors, in addition to disposing of current models, were able to unload about 750,000 units during the heat wave, that had been left from previous years. He said:

"This means we will be starting out 1956 with almost a clean slate, from an inventory standpoint."

Tecumseh Products makes the compressor for almost every window air conditioner on the market with the exception, notably of Frigidaire, which makes its own; York which makes the York as well as Philco's, and Carrier's which is made by Copeland Refrigeration Corp.

The Tecumseh plant also turns out about 35 per cent of all compressors made for household refrigeration.

This dollar volume has made Tecumseh and the surrounding community very prosperous. The company employs about 4,000 in Tecumseh and these ranks include probably more $10,000 to $20,000 incomes proportionately than in any town elsewhere.

This prosperity goes right down the line for $6,500 to $7,500 incomes are quite common among Tecumseh's workers who are on a bonus incentive plan.

Commenting on the recent Ford Motor Co. announcement that its Detroit workers were averaging about $106 a week, Paul C. Hohenstein, treasurer, conceded:

"Our men do better than that although they work harder than at Ford's."

The company works three shifts in Tecumseh and the men stay on the job until the last second. Meanwhile, the new shift stands by, impatiently waiting to get to work.

This hustle has paid off in pay envelopes.

Not a single day's pay has been lost through labor differences since the company came to Tecumseh in 1934.

The Tecumseh plant has an independent union but the company has UAW agreements at a compressor plant in Marion, O., and at a stamping plant in Toledo.

Both of these plants also are on an incentive basis and labor relations there are also excellent.

Ray W. Herrick, chairman, and Joseph E. Layton, president, can point with pride to management's job for share-holders.

Last year sales totaled $124,000,000 and pretax profit was nearly $12,000,000 or a 69 per cent return on capital invested.

Few companies can make that kind of a boast.

The $124,000,000 Tecumseh Products sales are spread between the Tecumseh plant, Toledo and Marion.

The Marion plant makes the big compressors for automobile air conditioning, commercial freezers and for dual heating-cooling systems.

Sales Director Smith also is very enthusiastic about the company's role in automobile air conditioning and dual heating-cooling systems for residences.

He said the industry last year turned out only 75,000 combination heating and air conditioning systems, but it is ready for a big promotion drive.

He predicted:

"A $35,000 house being built today without a combination heating and air conditioning system will be obsolete in five years."

In the South and Southwest, Smith said, this figure can be lowered to about $15,000.

He said sales will climb as the public gets better educated to the fact that it gets comfort and luxury from air conditioning at a relatively low cost. He said:

Interlochen Closes This Week-End

A series of impressive performances will bring to a close the 28th season of the National Music Camp this week-end.

First of the closing presentations will be a dance concert, to be held Friday, Aug. 19, at 8 p.m. Eighty dancers will participate in the program, which will include both ballet and modern dance.

The ballet portion of the program will feature the "Dance of the Hours" from "La Giaconda" by Ponchielli. Also presented will be Tschaikowsky's "Nutcracker Suite" and Dvorak's "Slavonic Dances."

The modern dance group will perform "Concerto Grosso" by Handel, and a traditional number entitled "Rite." Also included will be a repeat performance of the well-received "Shakers."

Preceding the concert, a dance demonstration will be given by younger students, beginning at 7 p.m.

Highlighting Saturday's program will be a choral festival combining 400 voices and the university orchestra. The festival choir will sing Mozart's "Requiem" and Vaughan Williams' "Serenade to Music," directed by Maynard Klein, director of choirs at the University of Michigan.

A gala concert will close the season Sunday at 8 p.m., when the massed bands, orchestras, choirs and dancers will appear. More than 1000 will participate in the performance of the camp's traditional grand finale, "Les Preludes" by Liszt.

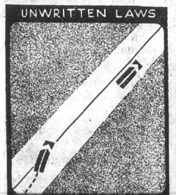
UNWRITTEN LAWS



No.73 GET INTO PASSING POSITION EARLY

The old adage of the carpenter "measure twice and cut once" has a neat parallel in traffic. The carpenter who measures only once may make a mistake and have to cut twice. In passing, the motorist who measures the oncoming car only once may make a mistake and not have a second chance.

The smart thing is to pull left into the lane in which you are going to pass as early as possible. This gives you a lot more time to measure the situation ahead carefully and decide whether or not it is safe to pass. A careful study of the situation ahead pays big dividends. So measure twice and pass once—safely. And, remember the slogan, "SLOW DOWN AND LIVE".

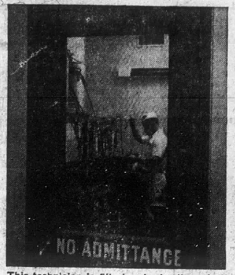
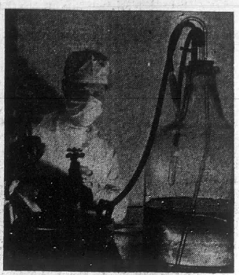
Strict Tests Through Every Process Assure Safety of Salk Polio Vaccine

For the first time in history, a vaccine is protecting millions of human beings from paralytic polio. While the Salk vaccine will not work in every case, American children are being safeguarded against the dread disease, with no more risk than they would take in a vaccination against smallpox or a typhoid shot. The Salk vaccine must pass elaborate tests under the watchful eye of a government inspector at every stage of production. Then the final packaged vaccine is approved by the U.S. Public Health Service for distribution. Here are shown a few of the steps that assure American parents their children are being given a safe vaccine.



This technician is filtering dead cells and all other foreign matter from polio virus after it has grown on animal tissue in glass containers.



Virus is "cooked" in tank with formaldehyde (from bottle) until it is rendered harmless, after which it must pass exacting safety tests.

Animal tissue in tubes is inoculated with vaccine and let stand. If any live virus remains, it will multiply here, hence can be detected.

This expert is examining tissue after contact with vaccine, to determine absence of live virus.

It's all over and it didn't hurt a bit! Salk vaccine makes this little girl safer now from paralytic polio. And her parents feel better too!

Living With Peace Of Mind

By KIRBY PAGE

The New Testament is filled with warnings against conformity to this world. Its challenge is: Come ye out from among them, and be ye different. And Jesus inquired, What do ye more than others?

Perhaps no portion of God's message appears to our generation as more foolish than the injunction, Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good.

What is good? The purpose of God is good, the procedure of God is good, the mind of Christ is good, the spirit of our Lord is good, to follow the Prince of Peace is good, to be compassionate and merciful is good, to forgive is good, to lose one's life for Christ's sake and the Gospel's is good.

Obliteration booming with blockbusters and fire bombs is not good, the use of atomic bombs is not good, the use of hydrogen bombs is not good, the use of disease germs as weapons of warfare is not good, hate is not good, total war is not good.

It is good to have faith in God, in Christ, in the power of the spirit, in compassion and mercy and forgiveness, in the power of vicarious suffering, in the way of the cross.

It is not good to trust what we acknowledge to be evil, it is not good to have faith in our power to destroy, it is not good to trust the obliterating weapons of total war.

It is good to follow the way of Jesus our Lord; it is not good to follow Joseph Stalin in his trust in the power of armed might. It is good to do the will of God with integrity and fidelity; it is not good to act in accordance with the doctrine that the end justifies the means.

It is good to run the risks and take the consequences of doing what you know to be right; it is not good to run the risks and to take the consequences of doing what you know to be wrong.

Former Resident Dies In Detroit

George B. Deery, son of the late Charles and Mary O'Reilly Deery and a former resident of Tecumseh, died suddenly Saturday afternoon while returning to Detroit on a Bob-Lo Island excursion boat.

Mr. Deery, who was 49 years of age, was born in Tecumseh and spent his boyhood here, graduating from Tecumseh high school with the class of 1924. He graduated from the Universtiy of Michigan and lived for some time in Adrian, later moving to Detroit, where he was associated with various advertising and newspaper enterprises. These included being director of advertising and public relations for the First of Michigan Corporation; staff member of the Michigan Graphic, a publication of the former First National Bank of Detroit; associate editor of the Michigan Investor and reporter for Automotive News. At the time of his death he was managing editor of the Northville Record.

He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Robert (Theresa) Sack of Adrian; two nieces, Mary Theresa Sack of Toledo and Kathryn Anne Sack of Adrian; and three nephews, Corp. Robert Sack in Germany and Joseph and John Sack of Adrian. Two aunts also survive, Sister M. Philomena of Monroe and Mrs. Agnes Hiler of Defiance.

The Rosary was recited Tuesday evening at the Dunsmore Funeral Home in Adrian and funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Fr. Francis Kolb Wednesday afternoon at St. Joseph Catholic church in Adrian.

"Air conditioned bars, beauty shops and restaurants are our 'best salesmen.' They are teaching people that they can have this cooling comfort at home or in their automobile."

Smith said the big furnace companies are working closely with Tecumseh Products and that a dual system can now be installed in a small house for about $1,800 to $2,500 or about $1,000 more than for the heating plant alone."

Tecumseh Products also has a big stake in automobile air conditioning. Its Marion plant soon will be turning out 2,000 of these compressors a day.

Smith said Tecumseh will supply 100,000 of the 200,000 automobile air conditioners sold this year. It supplies Ford, Chrysler and the independents. Last year Tecumseh turned out 41,000 units.

* * *

The fabulous success of Tecumseh Products Co. can be traced to the dynamic personality of one man and the faith of an entire town.

The dual success story of Ray W. Herrick, chairman of the board of Tecumseh Products, and the town of Tecumseh starts back in the depression years of 1934.

Little Tecumseh was on its uppers. Its civic leaders, casting about for new industry, chanced upon Herrick and his Hillsdale Machine & Tool Co., which was foundering with debts of $134,000 and no cash worth mentioning. But Herrick was an ace toolmaker and had been proving to be a crackjack manager when the depression hit.

Tecumseh had a broken down factory with 30,000 square feet with a leaky roof and a rickety floor. Tecumseh civic leaders helped to move the former Hillsdale company in it. And the town's business leaders put $5,000 to meet the first payroll.

That's all the start Herrick needed.

In the first year he cleared $66,800 on $413,000 worth of volume at a time many companies were taking work without the prospect of profit, mainly to keep their help busy.

Through the help of Henry Ford, in whose shops Herrick learned his trade, the new Tecumseh company was able to establish a line of bank credit. And in 1936 volume went to $1,500,000 and earnings amounted to $105,000 — 89 per cent of net worth.

Today Tecumseh Products' annual sales total $125,000,000. It makes compressors for refrigeration — the heart of any cooling system. And last year it made 5,630,000 compressors that went into domestic refrigerators, freezers, room air conditioning units, etc.

Pretax profit in 1954 was nearly $12,000,000 — a 69 per cent return on capital.

In fact, Tecumseh Products has averaged 77 per cent since 1947.

It would be an amazing record, even if Herrick had a monopoly. But he has none. He has no protective patents or processes. He owns no machinery others cannot buy or duplicate.

Tecumseh Products has achieved these marks because it is the industry's lowest cost producer, regularly passing back savings to its customers in the form of price reductions.

Also Tecumseh Products gambled after World War II by tooling at great expense for an anticipated postwar demand of immense dimensions. That decision has paid handsomely. Sales jumped from $13,146,191 in 1946 to hit a high of $130,337,905 in 1953.

The town has shared in this prosperity. Workers are on a bonus incentive system and $6,000 to $7,500 is not an exceptionally large income for an ordinary production line worker.

Seventy-eight per cent of Tecumseh's 600,000 shares are owned by its executives and the rest is held by 1,000 outsiders.

Traded for $1 a share in 1943, owners are now asking $110 a share for it.

Herrick owns 53 per cent of the company's stock, currently worth about $32,000,000. He has put this into a trust to permit officers of Tecumseh Products of the future to operate with the free hand he has been able to use in the past.

In addition, the company has made at least half a dozen of its executives millionaires.

Herrick has been very generous to the town that gave him a chance.

He gave $400,000 to start the Herrick Memorial hospital, financed a campaign a few years ago to take over a tottering country club that now operates for the benefit of the whole community.

And the company recently purchased and subdivided a residential section known as Herrick Park, gave every qualified employee a lot and $200 as the foundation toward the building of a new home.

Ray Herrick and the town of Tecumseh have been good for each other.

CHICAGO—Does crossing a city street leave you a nervous wreck? Do you long for the safety of farm life?

Well, you had better think twice.

Only high hazard occupations such as construction and mining surpass the accidental death rate of farm workers.

COUNCIL

the Wayne Federal Savings & Loan Associaton telling them that her special assessment for water and sewer lines on south Union street had not been paid.

Mayor Hanna reminded her that a public meeting was held last Nov. describing the procedure of adding special assessment costs to the tax bill.

After the meeting, Mrs. Naomi Sallows, city clerk, said she had explained this to Mrs. Creger at the time the special assessment roll was made out. All special assessments not paid before April 1 were turned over with tax bills to the companies holding mortgages on the homes, she explained. She said this is a common practice.

BRYAN RAISES QUESTION

During a piece of routine business Earl Bryan, chairman of the anti-fluoridation committee, left his chair to ask the HERALD a question.

Mr. Bryan wanted to know "Were you here when the meeting began? Did you hear what the mayor called me?" Then he produced a black notebook. He said his attorneys Baker and Baker of Adrian have instructed him to take down all council comments.

The HERALD reporter was five minutes late for the meeting and told Mr. Bryan that the mayor's opening comment was not heard.

More routine business was being transacted when Mrs. Matthews asked mayor Hanna if he was conducting the meeting according to the rules of parlimentary procedure.

She explained that after a motion is made no one person can "support" the motion. She said the motion must be seconded by one member and then supported by the entire council.

The mayor corrected himself.

And more business but again not for long.

Mr. Bryan, who was sitting between Mrs. Matthews and Mrs. Creger in the front row, turned and asked Stanley Packard to ask the mayor to make his opening statement about Mr. Bryan again.

Mr. Packard did and the mayor replied:

"Yes. I'll make it publicly. Looking at Mr. Bryan, he said "You are a malicious liar."

Mr. Bryan turned to the reporter and asked: "Will you put that in the paper?" There was no response.

ASKS ABOUT ELECTION

Mr. Packard also asked the mayor why he had questioned him about his right to vote in the school election in 1952. The mayor, at that time a member of the election board, explained to Mr. Packard that since only property owners could vote on the bond issue, it was customary to ask voters if they were property owners.

Asked whether he voted, Mr. Packard said: "Yes, I voted."

And the mayor replied: "Then what are you crabbing about?"

Then Mayor Hanna and Mr. Bryan argued some more.

The mayor said: "You're at the end of your rope."

Mr. Bryan replied: "We'll let the court decide who is at the end of the rope."

HAMILTON COMMENTS

More words were exchanged, then Councilman Hamilton told Mr. Bryan that an ad he put in the shopper three weeks ago was "really bad." Mr. Bryan denied that he put it in.

Then he and Mr. Bryan began talking at the same time.

Councilman Titley turned around in his chair and said: "All right. Let's take it easy." There were no more comments.

During another piece of business Mr. Bryan approached the reporter and asked again if the mayor's comments were going to appear in the paper. The reporter said: "I don't know yet."

Then the reporter questioned Mr. Bryan. He asked him if he was prompting Mrs. Matthews and Mrs. Creger in what to ask.

Mr. Bryan said: "No. They are here as taxpayers on their own free will and they have a right to ask questions."

He did admit, however, that he had asked Mr. Packard to have the mayor repeat his comments."

"IT'S NOT POLITICAL"

Mr. Bryan, replying to other questions, said "I'm not interested in politics or in any political office. Yes, I'm only interested in the fluoridation question." He said he did not represent an "anti" group, just an anti-fluoridation group.

Mayor Hanna Tuesday explained what happened Monday night. He said Mr. Bryan spoke to him when he came into the council chamber. The mayor told him: "You have your nerve speaking to me. You're just going around telling a pack of malicious lies."

The mayor also said that he would like to apologize to his colleagues and friends for momentarily losing his composure.

You'll welcome a refreshing snack this busy month while you are filling your freezer and canned fruit shelves with Fall's luscious fruit bargains, and getting the children ready for school.

Our suggestion is one the whole family will enjoy—big glasses of milk, served with cook book quality packaged doughnuts from your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department. Serve them as is from the package, or make them into a glamour snack by splitting them crosswise, and putting them together again with banana slices. Banana slices can be dipped in a lemon juice solution to keep them from darkening.

To make this simple refreshment idea suitable for company, let the banana slices show between the doughnut halves, and garnish them with slices of maraschino cherry.

ROBIN HOODS — Harold Hall, acting field captain; Fred Cooley and Bob Williamson, acting secretary, retrieve their arrows from a target after shooting.

More than 30 archers were in attendance when the Tecumseh Conservation League recently held its first archery tournament at its new club grounds on Carson Highway.

Archers attending made several favorable comments on the grounds. Some said the layout was the finest they had seen.

It is located about two and one-half miles north and west of Billington's corners.

Several national archers were present at the meet, including Harold Doan and his son Robert of Adrian. Harold was once national champion and he was second on six other occasions.

Twenty awards were presented to men, women and young archers at the tournament.

FOOTBALL

Physical examinations for Tecumseh High School varsity, junior varsity and junior high football players will be held in the high school gym Thursday, Aug. 25, at 9:30 a.m.

Equipment for varsity and junior varsity players will be handed out Saturday, Aug. 27, at 9 a.m. in the school locker room.

Junior high candidates will not receive their equipment until after school begins again.

by DIZZY TROUT

NEVER BEFORE in the American League's 55-year history has the pennant race gone this far with so many teams still in solid contention for the title.

Where in years gone by, two or at the very best three clubs still could be considered in the running at such a late stage, this year New York, Chicago, Cleveland, Boston and Detroit all remain in the thick of the fight.

Naturally, with five of eight teams fighting for the pennant, interest in the American League is much greater than in many previous campaigns.

The rugged dogfight has drawn attention almost completely away from the National League, where Brooklyn is making a run-away of the race, a situation completely reversed from a few years back when the Yankees were way out in front but five teams were blanketed up front in the senior circuit.

Powerhouse Gone

Several factors are responsible for the dramatic American loop race. For one thing, the Indians are not as strong as the champions of last year and the Yankees certainly are not the powerhouse of old.

For another, the Red Sox and the Tigers show vast improvement over last year, both at bat and on the mound.

In addition, Chicago is enjoying the natural improvement of an upcoming team of the past few years and even sixth-place Kansas City is vastly superior to the Philadelphia A's of 1954, knocking off the top teams frequently (consider the four straight they took from the Tigers recently.)

Not since 1948 has the race been as tense, but in that one it boiled down finally to Cleveland and Boston, with the Indians beating out the Red Sox in a playoff.

Before that, New York, Detroit and Cleveland were comparatively closely bunched in 1950, with the Yankees winning out over the Tigers in the final week.

Wasn't Around

Old time sports writers tell Ol' Diz that the 1908 pennant race was likewise close and exciting, but I can't report about that one. I wasn't around then.

But Ol' Diz can write plenty about this year's humdinger. Casey Stengel tells me the Yankees are having their headaches because only Yogi Berra and Elston Howard are hitting consistently. "It's hard to believe we're sixth in team batting," he says.

Pinky Higgins tells me that the Red Sox are up there because of the hitting and fielding of shortstop Billy Klaus and first baseman Norm Zauchin, improved pitching and inspirational spark provided by Ted Williams.

Chicago has obtained needed batting power—through the addition of former Tigers Walt Dropo and Bob Nieman—to go with its fine pitching, speed and defense. Cleveland is not doing as well as last year because the pitching has slackened and the power hitters are not connecting as often in the Hickory and Horsehide game.

Toledo Schedules Rec. Festival

Toledo's annual 10-day Recreation Festival, a panarama of 20 sports, recreation and entertainment events, will begin Aug. 20 in the area parks and waterways, Arthur G. Morse, city recreation supervisor, announced today.

A civic program designed to stimulate interest in the city's parks and playground program, the festival will climax the summer recreation season, under sponsorship of the Citizens' Advisory Recreation Commission and the Welfare Department's recreation division. More than 100,000 spectators and participants took advantage of last year's gigantic festival.

Highlighting this year's festival is the annual Water Circus, scheduled for Aug. 22-24, at Scott Park Pool. A team of nationally famous comedy divers will be featured along with a supporting cast of 150 young local swimmers called "The Synchronettes." An added feature this year is an act by a popular group of "skin-divers."

Also to be held this year in conjunction with the Festival is the State Softball Championship tournament, Aug. 26-31 at McCarty Stadium. The annual Square Dance Festival, climaxing the annual series of weekly dances, is scheduled for Aug. 26, at Jermain Park.

Final in the summer series of eight "Music Under the Stars" band concerts will be Sunday, Aug. 28 in the Toledo Zoo Amphitheatre at Walbridge Park.

Many of the 20 events will determine the champions in various local sports. Open event of the Festival is the Kids' Fishing Rodeo, Saturday, Aug. 20, at Walden Pond in Ottawa Park.

Robison Aims for 3rd Win

Herbie Robison, local speed merchant in the modified stock car field, will be aiming for his third feature victory of the season when the roaring stocks stage another double feature program calling for two 25-lap main events at Adrian Speedway Thursday night.

Getting his automatic-transmission, Lincoln-powered car back into high gear again, Robison finished ahead of veteran Leo Caldwell of Perrysburg in the 25-lap main event last week. Herb, who notched the 50-lap midseason feature victory earlier, could tie Kenny Nemire as the only drivers to win three Adrian Speedway features this year with another win Thursday night.

An added attraction at last Thursday's card was the marching and drilling of the Cochran Majorettes, the group of 76 teen-age girls from Port Clinton, O., under the direction of Paul L. Cochran.

Slows Road Program

Recent Congressional defeat of higher federal aid for state highways will greatly slow down Michigan's widely heralded billion and a quarter dollar arterial highway program, it was pointed out in Lansing this week.

Charles M. Ziegler, estimated that the federal program's defeat would cost Michigan about $140,000,000 a year in money it will not receive.

Now Michigan will receive about $26,000,000 in federal aid for all categories of roads, $6,000,000 of which will be for the interstate system, he pointed out. Combining all revenues,

"The billion and a quarter program for the next 10 years included expectations of increased federal aid," Ziegler said. "We had expected to receive at least $70,000,000 the first year, and up to $160,000,000 in the years to come."
Ziegler said the state will have about $82,000,000 a year for highway construction.

In turning its back on state and local governments which, for more than a year, have been keying their plans to the promise of an expended federal highway program, Congress defeated both the President's bill and the Democrat sponsored measure.

Indications now point to President Eisenhower calling a special session of Congress to re-consider a highway measure.

Record Auto Production

The Aug. issue of "Michigan Manufacturer and Financial Record" points up the importance of the automobile industry to the prosperity of Michigan's economy. The article states:

With the first seven months of 1955 now history, a new all-time annual production record for the automobile industry is virtually assured. Following the record-breaking first six months of 1955, production continued at high levels during July and only now are the initial effects of the annual model changeover period being felt.

By the end of July, production of passenger cars neared the 5,000,000 mark, which will be passed early in Aug. Then, with nearly five months to go, the industry will be shooting for a figure to eclipse the present record of 6,600,000 cars built in 1950.

It is anticipated that many of the shut-downs for changeover to new models, due to drastic changes made a year ago, will be of short duration, and that manufacture of 1956 models will be started much earlier than last year, giving at least an extra month's production at top speed this year than the industry enjoyed in 1954.

With passenger car output passing the 5,000,000 mark early in Aug., substantially less than 2,000,000 units would have to be produced in the balance of 1955 to set a new passenger car production record for the industry. The latter is a certainty because of the phenomenal record achieved by the industry's producers in the first seven months of the current year.

By the time this publication comes from the press, at least one manufacturer will be in production on 1956 models, and others will follow the parade in coming weeks.

By Nov., it is expected that practically all makers will be turning out 1956 model cars, with all such units sure to contribute to the setting of a new all-time record for production in 1955.

All of which means continued prosperity for Michigan.

Letter to Editor:

8-12-55

Dear Editor:

The ferocious attitudes being displayed by the anti-flouridites is going from the sublime to the ridiculous. My small children also display similar tendencies, that is the ability to quarrel loudly over nothing.

I have extracted much pleasure from watching this free show but when the Commies and the American turncoats of Korea are brought into it I feel inclined to add my twenty hundredths of one per cent to the program.

Fluoride, chloride, nicotine, and alchohol can all kill us if taken in sufficient quantities. The argument is not about that. We elected and appointed certain officials to care for our city and water supply. Some people believe they are silly enough to jeopardize their reputations by adding a few hundredths of one per cent of fluoride to our water in spite of a majority vote forbidding it. I don't believe it myself nor will any intelligent person not out and out looking for a fight.

At least it has been demonstrated that there are Tecumsehites who are interested in what is going on in Tecumseh. That is the only good thing that can be said for this whole controversy.

Let's clean it up though. The anti-fluoridites are acting like ridiculous quarreling infants. They are making us the laughing stock of the county.

Realty Views

A Realtor in another city assures action. His ad advises: "If we can't sell it—Burn it Down."

We wouldn't actually advise applying the torch to your property if we can't sell it. Yet, sincerely, a sale is nearly inevitable under ideal conditions.

And what are they? Start with YOUR property. Get it ready for sale, if needed, since top shape is important. Then, of course, we assume a fairly good location. Add, a price in tune with the market.

The only other factor is TIME. A buyer will appear, through our efforts and your cooperation, if the time doesn't run out.

Occasionally we've sold property the same day it was listed. But other times it takes weeks, even months. That's why we prefer at least 90 days on our exclusive listings.

Sometimes a very good property will not spark much interest. Then, all of a sudden, it "comes to life," with several eager prospects at once.

So, in fairness to yourself and the fire insurance companies, before you burn down your property, give us a chance to sell it.

Michigan's Copper Deposits Over 500 Million Years Old

Upper Michigan's impressive copper deposits are over 500 million years old, according to Russell C. Hussey, professor of geology at the University of Michigan.

The copper was deposited during the Keweenawan period, as the result of two main occurrences—one associated with conglomerate rock (composed of rounded pebbles) and one with a series of lava flows.

According to the first occurence, extremely hot copper bearing water, driven by pressure, worked its way up to the surface through volcanic rock, and deposited the copper in the spaces between the rounded pebbles of the conglomerate rock. This is the way copper is found in some of the Calumet and Hecla mines, Professor Hussey points out.

Successive lava flows were responsible for the other type. Emerging from long cracks situated where Lake Superior now is, basaltic lava flowed out for miles and miles, again and again. Each flow cooled. Then, long after, copper bearing water worked its way up through the porous lava, and filled up the blow holes.

These blow holes, produced originally by escaping steam, were filled with copper in solution. Sometimes large cavatics in the rock were completely filled. Deposits have been found which weighed thousands of pounds. All this happened over 500 million years ago.

"Michigan's copper deposits, once among the most productive in the world, and still important, extend along the western side of the Keweenaw peninsula which juts north into Lake Superior," Professor Hussey says. "The copper forms a belt from two to four miles wide and 100 miles long. Twenty-six miles of this have been highly productive. Mining began in 1845 and the belt was the premier district of North America until 1887 when Butte, Mont. mining surpassed it."

According to the geologist, "Michigan copper was mined in pre-historic times by the Indians. To get the precious metal, the Indians built a fire against an outcrop of rock. When the rock was highly heated, they threw water on it, causing the rock to crack and pieces of copper bearing rock to break off. The Indians then pounded the rock until it was pulverized and the copper fell out."

He points out that the Keweenaw peninsula has supported 100 mining companies throughout its history and these companies have paid dividends approaching 350 million dollars.

Some of the mines have been closed and will be closed permanently he says, "The copper has not been exhausted but it is so deep, at 8,000 feet down, that it can't be mined at a profit. However, there's always the possibility of finding a new vein," he asserts.

"And sometimes old mines are put to work agian. In Ontonagon, at the far western end of the Upper Peninsula," Professor Hussey continues, "the old White Pine mine has been re-opened in recent months and is expected to be productive for 50 years."

The first 15 years of their marriage was spent in Detroit. They are now engaged in farming and Mr. Bale is also employed at the Tecumseh Products Co.

GOP Women Launch Program for Public Poll

Republican women workers will launch a new program, "Poll Takers of America" with a public poll in Michigan in September to determine voter sentiment on various issues of national importance.

The poll, part of a national 1956 program, was announced today by Mrs. Peter Gibson, vice-chairman of Republican State Central Committee. She said, "This is anotner of the straight-forward efforts of the Republican organization to continue giving the best possible administration of the government of this nation and to incorporate into Republican policy the sincere desires of the American people."

A poll of every voter in each representative precinct or township in every county in the nation will be made under the direct supervision of the Republican county vice-chairman.

The results will be compiled at the state level and sent to the Republican National Committee to be announced in October. The national program is under the supervision of Miss Bertha S. Adkins, assistant to the Republican national chairman.

It is estimated that nearly 2½ million citizens will be reached by 0,000 party workers during this poll.

The questions to be asked will be formulated by the Republican National Committee with the assistance of a special advisory committee made up of the following: Robert B. Anderson of Texas, former Undersecretary of Defense; Mrs. Eva Bowring, former United State Senator of Nebraska; Dr. James P. Baxter of Massachusetts, President of Williams College; Mrs. Lawrence H. Smith of Wisconsin, former President of the American Legion Auxiliary; Nate Crabtree of Minnesota, and Elizabeth Maher of New York, specialists in the public relations field.

Christian Science Services Listed

How understanding of divine Mind's government of man brings health and harmony into daily experience will be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Mind" includes the account from the King James Version of the Bible of Christ Jesus' healing of the man afflicted by leprosy (Luke 5).

Among the correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following (180:25-27): "When man is governed by God, the ever-present Mind who understands all things, man knows that with God all things are possible."

The Golden Text is from I Corinthians (2:16): "Who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he may instruct him?"

State Fair Seeks 40 Year Teachers

Wanted: The names of teachers who have taught 40 years or more in the same Michigan county.

The Michigan State Fair Teachers' Day Committee is compiling a list of veteran teachers in connection with Teachers' Day at the State Fair, Saturday, Sept. 3.

So if you know of any teachers who have taught that long in the same county, write a note to the Teachers' Day Committee % Michigan State Fair, Detroit 3, Mich.

This will be the second annual Teachers' Day which is under the supervision of Mrs. Doris Flint of Perry, Mich., who is a teacher and member of the State Fair Board of Managers. The director of the event is Robert Hawkins, a Detroit teacher.

All teachers and student teachers will be admitted free that day and special awards will be presented to more than a score of outstanding Michigan educators.

There will be special exhibits and programs saluting the part played in the development of the state by teachers.

Teachers' Day comes on the second day of the State Fair which runs from Friday, Sept. 2, through Sunday, Sept. 11, this year.

Starr, (right) General Manufacturing Manager, as he turns the inspection card over to R. M. Critchfield, Pontiac General Manager. The historic Pontiac came off the assembly line August 11th. It is the first time Pontiac has produced a half-million cars in a single model year. Critchfield predicted the Pontiac Division will build more than 550,000 passenger cars during the 1955 model run.

Is That So!

By Clara Waldron

Have you ever noticed what a preponderance of "worthy characters" there was in our early history? When time has ebbed away it seems to leave a deposit that softens the harsh outlines of unpleasant fact. It can even build up some pretty sorry individuals into impressive public figures.

So it is almost a relief to be able to record one character from our past who was a complete and thorough-going rascal. To be sure he did not really belong to Tecumseh. We shared him with all of southern Michigan and much of the United States. Still "Sile" Doty, horse-thief, robber, counterfeiter, suspected murderer and all around bad man did operate on the fringes of the town.

It was when the lawn of Dr. Blanden's home on east Monroe road was being leveled that evidence was uncovered of the site of a forgotten blacksmith shop. Quantities of horseshoe nails, broken shoes, angle irons and old bricks started an inquiry that was at least partly answered by an old newspaper item.

It read that in 1865, "Workmen remodeling an old blacksmith shop east of the Globe Mill had uncovered counterfeit plates, thought to have been used by Silas Doty."

That bit of news must have stirred some excitement in 1865 for, although he was then still alive, his name was already one to conjure with. He had been in Jackson prison for several years but he must have been vividly remembered and one of the things remembered was that, among many other accomplishments, he was a blacksmith.

According to a book, purporting to be his autobiography, published four years after his death, Silas Doty had been born in 1800 in Vermont. (So much for the rock-ribbed New England virtues!) He seems to have been one of the original juvenile delinquents for he began to steal almost as soon as he could walk. By 1834 the east became too hot for his comfort and he moved to Michigan. Adrian has the dubious distinction of being near his seat of operations but Tecumseh comes in for honorable mention, for he "rented the Patch farm near Tecumseh." (The Blanden property was once part of the "Patchin" farm).

Another tradition also links him with that neighborhood for on several occasions he is supposed to have hidden his robber loot in the hollow trunk of the "Lone Oak," that forest giant that until a few years ago stood beside the road near the Eaton farm.

Under cover of being a respectable farmer, he says he begin to "form new acquaintances of fellows of my own stripe" and makes the flattering observation that "the region was full of rascals of every grade."

"It took me but a short time to become acquainted with all the villians in Clinton, Tecumseh, Adrian and Blissfield and soon in Toledo, Detroit and as far west as Indiana and Chicago." Apparently the gang he organized would satisfy the imagination of the most bloodthirsty modern for he says—"Over this immense body of men I was head chief and ruled with an iron hand" a statement borne out by the fact that he is supposed to have murdered a hired man who learned too much about his enterprises.

Horses at that period were valuable property, and like modern cars easily mobile, so horses were Doty's speciality. He would steal one in the late evening, ride it perhaps fifty miles to the home of a confederate, sell it, steal another and return home or to another rendezvous. Probably his blacksmithing helped him to spot good horse flesh.

It was a long time before he was suspected and there are still those whose grandfathers considered him an exemplary neighbor. Apparently in Adrian and Tecumseh he limited himself to petty robbery for his many arrests, sentences and jail breaks (which were many and spectacular) ranged from Indiana to Port Huron. Finally he came up for trial in Hillsdale and, although the charge was a minor one, the public was by then so aroused that he was sent up for 15 years. Later he was sentenced for two more terms and by then his career was over.

Legend (and his biography) have made him out a local Robin Hood. It was said that he stole from the well-to-do and gave to the deserving poor. Stories that lend substance to the theory tell of farm tools, grain, food and even horses and livestock appearing over night in the farm yards of those who had need of them.

His must have been a queer, twisted personality and no doubt he mingled some good deeds with his multitude of arrogant crimes but even the "patina of time" can not paint him as a "worthy character."

Hay Fever Season Hits Its Peak

A good breeze can blow no good — for ragweed hay fever victims, that is.

The Michigan Department of Health today said that by Mid-August, when the ragweed pollen count reaches 100 grains per cubic yard of air per day, there are literally tons of pollen in the air, and even if a region is ragweed free, the pollen may be blown in by prevailing winds.

State health officials, getting the seasonal high of inquiries about Michigan's "hay fever relief" areas, once again reviewed findings of a ten-year ragweed pollen survey in Michigan.

On the bright side, the northern third of the southern peninsula and most of the northern peninsula were found sufficiently free from ragweed to be comfortable for the average hay fever sufferer.

And while you may be allergic to house dust, silk, glue, certain animals, roses or even to air molds, nine out of ten times, hay fever in Michigan is caused by ragweed pollen.

The health department is glad to try to help hay fever victims, but authorities said that inquiries about job opportunities or good hotels in hay fever relief regions "are not quite in our line."

Because in many cases it's at least possible to ease the discomfort of hay fever, the health department urged victims of the allergy to consult their doctors.

The most valuable resource of this nation is the soil. Gold is more spectacular: iron has in two generations made man richer; copper has opened up greater possibilities of advancing techniques. But, it is the soil which produces the lasting and essential wealth of the nation. — Bringer and Shepard, in "Our Use of The Land."

W.S.C.S. MEETS

The W.S.C.S. of the Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. Agnes Sturtevant last Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Ruth Bailey was co-hostess. An impressive devotional service was conducted by the spiritual life secretary, Mrs. Alice Landin. The program was in charge of Mrs. Edelbrook assisted by Mrs. Edith Southard and Mrs. Haybert Woodall. Two guests were present, Mrs. Laura Schultz of Whitewater, Wisc., and Mrs. Mildred Netcher of Onsted. A dessert luncheon was served by the hostesses.

Mrs. S. W. Boyce of Tecumseh spent Friday with her sisters, the Misses Lulu and Julia Gilmore.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bartle of Flint spent the weekend in Ridgeway.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pennington entertained at a reception Sunday afternoon for their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ragsdale of Flint, who were recently married. Guests were present from Flint, Deerfield, Kalamazoo, Detroit, Clinton, Macon, Toledo, Swanton and Port Clinton, Ohio.

James Matsen of Adrian College occupied the pulpit Sunday in the Ridgeway Methodist church in the absence of the Rev. Haybert Woodall, who was attending camp meeting at Romeo.

Mrs. Everet Netcher of Onsted called on friends in Ridgeway Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Marsh of Eustis, Florida, called on friends in Ridgeway Wednesday. Mrs. Marsh is a former Ridgeway resident.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Landin and son Terry spent the weekend in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Pocklington were in Detroit over the weekend visiting Mr. and Mrs. Clare Pocklington.

David Linn and Bob Brooks were Toledo visitors Saturday.

There will be no August meeting of the United Workers of the Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Wise attended the alumni reunion at Tri-State College at Angola, Ind., Saturday. Mr. Wise is a graduate of the department of mechanical engineering with the class of 1950. While there they visited Mrs. Wise's brother, Blaine Harwood of Alma, a civil engineering student at Tri-State and Mrs. Marilyn Beane of the chemical engineering department. They also met Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sisson of Palmyra, classmates of Mr. Wise.

Joan Pfaus and Diane Dillon spent the weekend as guests of a college roommate, Miss Mary Vernier of Mt. Clemens at the Vernier summer home on the St. Clair river. They experienced the gale winds caused by the fringe of Hurricane Connie but no serious damage was done there.

Mrs. Bertha McCraken of Toledo visited Mrs. Margaretta Brisbin last week and Mrs. Brisbin drove her home on Friday.

Universal Button Will Close Plant

The Universal Button Co. will close its plant here Sept. 1, reports E. G. Ball, Tecumseh plant manager.

The company's parent plant in Detroit and the Tecumseh plant will be moved to Lawrenceburg, Kentucky.

The move, Mr. Ball said, "will assure the company's continued success."

He explained that most of the company's customers are located in the south and in the southwest and by having the plant closer to its buyers costs could be reduced.

Bought last July by Talon, Inc., the plant had been here more than four years. When it was at peak production, it employed 65 persons. It currently has 25 on its payroll.

Employees will be given severance pay depending on the length of their seniority.

Mr. Ball said: "I have never worked with a finer bunch of folks."

He said it presently is not known what will happen to the building here. He said as far as he knows the building has not been disposed of yet.

The Silver Lining

Look for the silver lining
Whenever a cloud appears

CONDUCTED BY BOB WARREN

KIDS ARE GOOD REPORTERS AND sometimes, without trying, they can be very funny. This yarn about a Tecumseh couple was passed on by a tiny six-year-old: "Daddy and Mommy had an argument about what color to paint the house. Daddy wanted brown and mommy wanted green. Mommy finally let daddy have brown but still likes green best."

DAVY CROCKETT MAY NOT have shot an Indian, killed a bear, or saved the Alamo—but in 1955 he sure did wipe the spacemen off the map.

OVERHEARD IN THE STRAND when "Blackboard Jungle" played here last week: "Well, had I known this, I wouldn't have come. I thought this was going to be a jungle picture."

ADOLPH HITLER'S PERSONAL armored automobile, the "Great Mercedes" will be shown at the Michigan State Fair in Detroit Sept. 2 through 11. For protection against assassins, the car has bullet-proof glass, one-half inch thick armor plate inside the regular heavy body, specially constructed pistol compartments, and a movable metal shield which could be raised or dropped out of sight. The car is almost 20 feet long, has a capacity of 56 gallons and gets from three to four miles to the gallon.

A "FALSE ALARM" OCCURRED at the Tecumseh Motel when a burglar alarm on a jeweler's car shorted, touching it off. It sounded for 30 minutes before stopped. Folks in the area thought it was a fire alarm.

WHEN THE TEMPERATURE soared close to 100 it was momentarily cooling to receive a card from W. G. Waldron. The card showed upper Tahquamenon Falls in Michigan's beautiful upper peninsula. W. G. wrote: "Enjoyed these falls today. Had a bit of rain at lower falls but it cleared up for these. Saw Machinac Island yesterday for the first time. Hope to cover some of Minnesota and Wisconsin next week."

TIME OUT FOR THE COMMERCIAL: Bob Seidel is currently selling lots of new and renewal subscriptions to the HERALD. He will be around to see YOU soon. Last Friday he stopped at a house on Iroquois street and his pitch caused one housewife to burst out in laughter. It was my house and Mrs. Lining told Bob that we get the paper for free which is indeed some bargain.

FISHING FOR HIS LINES? Tom Lillard, 18-year old apprentice at the Saline Mill Theatre, was late for his second act entrance during a performance of "The Male Animal" this week. He was supposed to enter from the door nearest the old millrace at the edge of the theatre. After the rest of the cast had adlibbed for about 15 seconds Lillard appeared soaking wet from the waist down, and finished the scene without explanation. He had fallen into the millrace in the dark.

THE OLDTIMER SAYS: "Two hints for making any day more pleasant — think and thank."

A SUPER COLOSSAL EVENT is coming to Tecumseh Aug. 27 and 28 when the Delton Fair will be held at 401 Seneca street. Sponsored by the Delton Club, a group of five to 12-year-olds, the fair will feature displays from Brandt's, the HERALD, Hayden Mill and Porter Printing. It also will feature a $1500 stamp and kool aid (don't know why these are in the same paragraph, but they were like this in the advance man's publicity blurb.) A prize for the best doll and best toy will be awarded. Arthur Collingsworth is president of the club and Jim Cook, club veep, is fair manager.

DICK PEARSON WHO returned to Boston University Wednesday after spending the summer in Jim Beardsley's law office says he has prepared for eventualities. For two and one half years he has been eating his own cooking. In the event that he first starves when he hangs out his shingle, he said he will be well prepared.

THOSE IMPROVEMENTS MADE by Maynard Mulvaney and Charlie Morris to the fronts of their buildings on north Evans street certainly are wonderful. The improvements make the whole block look better.

JOHNNY HAMILTON AND his family are sold on family camping in state and national parks. Just returned from a trip in the east, the Hamiltons and their three children slept on air mattresses in their station wagon. The entire cost was only $197.39. For lodging the Hamiltons spent $3.50 for camp site fees. They slept one night on top of Mt. Tecumseh in New Hampshire, 4004 feet in the clouds. Johnny says "You meet real people in these state and national parks and they get a lot out of traveling. Their kids do, too." He added that his family fully enjoyed the sea, the trees and the mountains and all three children, including two-year-old Mark, were real campers.

175 Attend 2nd District Legion Meet

A special meeting of the Second District of the American Legion and Auxiliary was held in Tecumseh Sunday.

The meeting was opened by District Commander Phillip Perkins of Jackson and conducted jointly with the Auxiliary President Mrs. Ellsworth Vernier of Monroe.

Words of welcome were offered by Vern Manwaring, Commander of Underwood-Orr Post 34 and Mrs. Harold Easton, President of the Tecumseh Auxiliary.

Memorial service in honor of members of the 2nd District who died during the last year was performed by Roswell Burr, 2nd District Chaplain, of Adrian and Mrs. James Rowley of Hudson.

Installation of the Auxiliary officers for the coming year was held with Mrs. Bettie McCollough of Blissfield as installing officer and Mrs. Harold Easton of Tecumseh as sergeant at arms with past District Presidents serving as the installing team.

Officers for the Auxiliary were as follows: president, Mrs. Ruth Chriswell, Chelsea; 1st vice-president, Mrs. Harold Bohs, Blissfield; secretary, Mrs. Myrtle Schooley, Chelsea; treasurer, Mrs. Donald Woods, Tecumseh; historian, Mrs. Mae Uphaus, Saline; and chaplain, Mrs. Harold Carter, Saline.

Officers of the American Legion were installed by the Oakland County 40 & 8 Ritual Team. This team was formed and has been functioning during the past 20 years.

Officers installed were as follows: District Commander, Arthur Klump, Dexter; vice-commander, Robert Stites, Adrian; adjutant, William Buettner, Ann Arbor; finance officer, Glenn Castner, Jackson; chaplain, Yale Kerby, Morenci; historian, Benjamin Alber, Ann Arbor; and sergeant at arms, Roger Howard.

County commanders installed were: Lenawee—George Gould, Morenci; Washtenaw — William Blaess; Jackson — W. K. Cusick; and Monroe — Elmer Frank.

Guests of honor of the afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Smith of St. Johns (Mr. Smith is the new commander of the American Legion, Department of Michigan) and Mrs. Effie Campbell who is the State Chappeau of the 8 & 40.

Prayer was offered by Yale Kerby and the meeting was adjourned by Commander Klump.

Refreshments were served to the 175 attending by the Auxiliary unit from Chelsea.

The flowers used in the memorial service were later given to Herrick Memorial hospital.

Tests

Re-tests for swimming students will be held at the swimming pool Friday, Aug. 26 at 10 a.m. and again Monday, Aug. 29, at 10 a.m.

The tests are for all those children who were not here when the first tests were given and for those who want to be re-tested since their last tests.

Swimmers who have earned Red Cross certificates may pick them up at the pool.

ASSAULT, BATTERY COSTS $31.30

Bruce Osburn, 30, of Tecumseh pleaded guilty to assault and battery when he was arraigned before Justice L. J. VanDeusen of Clinton Saturday.

He was fined $25 and paid costs of $6:30. He also was given a 10-day suspended sentence and placed on probation for six months.

The complaint was signed by his wife who told Tecumseh police who made the arrest Saturday that her husband struck her.

YOUNG ROCKETER — Sgt. Dale Titley sits in a Sabrejet preliminary to taking part in competition of rocket firing teams that are shooting for records at Yuma, Arizona. Should his team, which represents the Eastern Air Defense Force, win at Yuma it will compete in the Air Force-wide rocketry meet at Yuma Oct. 3 to 10. Sgt. Titley is a radio mechanic for the 46th Fighter Interceptor Squadron stationed at Dover Air Force Base, Dover, Del.

Rocket Team Shoots For Record

Staff Sgt. Dale E. Titley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Titley is a member of a rocket firing jet team that is undergoing two weeks of test firing at the Yuma, Arizona, Air Force Base in preparation for the Air Force-wide rocketry meet which will be held in Yuma Oct. 3 to 10.

Sgt. Titley is a radio mechanic for the 46th Fighter Interceptor Squadron stationed at Dover Air Force Base, Dover, Del.

He attended Tecumseh High School and before entering the service Dec. 27, 1951, he worked as a farmer.

Sgt. Titley received his radio mechanics training at Scott Air Force Base, Ill. He joined the 46th in Sept., 1952.

Test runs by the Eastern Air Defense Force will be concluded next Tuesday when officials will select one team to represent EADF in the all-weather interceptor phase of the meet finals in Oct. The other three teams will return to their home units.

With four primary and two alternate jet aircraft in each team, approximately 160 pilots, radar observers, and support crewmen will groom Eastern's sleek F-94C Starfires and F-86D Sabrejets for the October competition with USAF units from virtually all parts of the world.

Eastern's teams are made up from units in its four air divisions (defense): the 26th, with headquarters at Roslyn Air Force Station, Long Island, N. Y.; the 30th, with headquarters at Willow Run Air Force Station, Belleville, Mich.; the 32nd, Syracuse Air Force Station, N. Y.; and the 35th, Marietta, Ga.

Brig. Gen. Donald B. Smith, Eastern's commander, regards this second annual rocketry meet at Yuma as one of the most important interceptor training missions of the year.

Public Schools' Staff Numbers 80

The Tecumseh Public Schools this fall will have 80 persons who directly serve school children and are employed by the Tecumseh Board of Education.

The staff consists of a superintendent of schools, one secondary school principal, an elementary school supervisor and principal, an elementary building principal, 30 elementary teachers, 26 secondary teachers, three secretaries, maintenance engineer, eight custodians, three bus drivers, three cafeteria staff and two public librarians.

Preliminary plans for the year will be completed during staff meetings which will open at 9:30 a. m. Wednesday, Aug. 31, in the study hall at the high school.

Following the general discussion of current problems and a review of the staff handbook Wednesday morning, teachers will meet after lunch with their respective principals to discuss problems specific to their fields.

At 3 p. m. a get-to-gether for all staff members will be held in the high school cafeteria. Wives and husbands of staff members are invited to meet their friends and new associates.

Thursday teachers will meet with their respective principals in the morning for further planning and then be dismissed for conference and work periods in the afternoon.

Final plans in both the elementary and secondary school will be completed by the principals with their staff members Friday morning.

A general instructional staff meeting with the superintendent will follow and the group dismissed at noon for the week end. School children will begin their regular school year on Tuesday morning, Sept. 6 with enrollment and classes.

It is estimated that more than 500 children who live in School District No. 7, Tecumseh Public Schools, live more than one mile from their respective schools. Wherever possible these children will be transported by the three school busses now owned by the board of education.

Bus trips to Ridgeway by local busses have been discontinued and school officials hope that adequate schedules can be arranged for all.

Parents are asked to cooperate in every way possible, particularly in making sure that children are at bus stops promptly as all bus schedules are very tight. Preliminary schedules will be announced next week.

The complete roster of the staff for 1955-1956 is on page two of this section.

Don Norris Will Lease His Bakery

Don Norris will leave his Van's Bakery Sept. 6 to become general manager of Lamson's bakery department in Toledo, Ohio.

He has leased his bakery here to Joseph Church, 29, of Allen Park.

In Nov. Mr. and Mrs. Norris would have observed their sixth year in their bakery.

Mr. Church has had 10 years' experience as a baker. He is married and the couple has one boy, 10 months old.

The Warren Puffer family has bought the Norris house in Herrick Park. The Norris family will move to Toledo next Wednesday.

ARREST DRIVER

Walter V. Walker, 57, of 320 north Pearl street, Tecumseh, was sentenced to pay a fine and costs of $108.30 and to spend five days in the county jail when he was arraigned before Justice L. J. VanDeusen of Clinton Monday.

Arrested by Tecumseh police Sunday, he was charged with driving while under the influence of liquor.

MIGRANT WORKERS GRANTED $200

A meeting of the board of the Community Fund was held last Friday evening at the United Savings Bank with John R. Thompson presiding. Members present were Mrs. F. K. Smith, the Rev. Edward Escolme, Frank Rice, Owen Partridge and George Green, Jr.

The board voted $200 from its emergency fund for aid of migrant workers in Lenawee County.

It was also voted to request that all agencies which will participate in the coming drive to submit their budgets and requests for funds to Mrs. Richard Preston by Sept. 7.

Owen Partridge was appointed chairman of the nominating committee and the board adjourned subject to the call of the president. The next meeting will be the annual one.

DRIVER JAILED

Charged with reckless driving and driving without an operator's license, Eugene Genest of Pontiac paid a fine and costs of $35.30 when he was arraigned before Justice L. J. VanDeusen of Clinton last Thursday.

Arrested by Tecumseh police Tuesday, Aug. 16, he also was sentenced to a five-day jail term.

Plane Crash Kills William Beardsley

William M. Beardsley 49, manager and director of the Hayden Flour Mills at Tecumseh, was killed late Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 17, at Saline Airport where he and Rudolph Schumaier, owner of the airport were testing a plane which nose-dived in the take-off.

Mr. Beardsley had taken up flying this summer and made his first solo flight Tuesday before the accident. Mr. Schumaier, 44, also was killed in the crash.

Witnesses told sheriff deputies and state police that the plane apparently developed motor trouble. It was about 150 feet in the air when it banked for a turn back to the airport and nose-dived into the ground. The plane's motor had just been overhauled.

William Beardsley

(Photo by Dixon's Studio)

Born June 19, 1906, in Chicago, Ill., he was the son of Mrs. Mabel Beardsley of Tecumseh and the late Dr. John Wallace Beardsley practicing physician in Macon and Tecumseh for many years.

He graduated from Tecumseh high school and attended the University of Michigan.

He was employed in the Quaker Oats Company offices in Chicago before becoming affiliated with Hayden Mills 25 years ago, serving as manager 20 years.

Mr. Beardsley was married May 21, 1932, to Gertrude Staulter of Tecumseh.

Until recently he was a member of the Macon School Board and the board of Macon Telephone Co.

He attended the Presbyterian church in Tecumseh.

Survivors are his wife Gertrude, son William S., daughter Barbara K., at home; his mother Mrs. Mabel Beardsley of Tecumseh; two brothers James C. of Tecumseh and Jack W. of Birmingham.

Private funeral services were held Friday from the Collins Funeral Home with the Rev. George E. Walworth officiating. Burial was in Brookside cemetery. Bearers were Ralph Hodges, William Hayden, A. C. Hamaker, Donald Nixon, Irving Shaw and Russell McAffee.

Investigation of Crash Continues

Washtenaw County's Sheriff detectives and the Civil Aeronautics Administration are still investigating the plane crash that killed William M. Beardsley and Rudolph Schumaier, they reported Wednesday.

A spokesman said his department's investigation started because Friday before the accident Mr. Schumaier, owner of the Saline Airport, reported to the sheriff's department that four .22 calibre bullets had been fired into the hangar housing the plane.

Deputies, the spokesman said, had had two or three shooting complaints from the airport prior to the last complaint by Mr. Schumaier.

When he last told deputies of the shooting Mr. Schumaier said one of the bullets narrowly missed him in the airport office.

Close investigation of the plane revealed no bullet holes and Coroner E. C. Ganzhorn of Ann Arbor reported there were no bullet wounds in the two men killed.

Monday Club Luncheon Planned

Mrs. Herbert Murphy, president of the Tecumseh Monday Club, announces that the year books have gone to press and that programs have been arranged by the departments. This year some of the club meetings will be held in the homes and some in the churches according to the nature of the programs.

The Monday Club will open its 62nd year with a luncheon Sept. 26 followed by a program planned by the past presidents.

The elected officers to serve with Mrs. Murphy for the coming year are: first vice president, Mrs. Robert Bonner; second vice president, Mrs. Paul Hadsell; recording secretary, Miss Lillian Cannon; treasurer, Mrs. Carlos Jones; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Floyd Bryan; directors, Miss Bel Plummer, Mrs. Jeanie Satterlee, Mrs. Wilfred Waldron and Mrs. Thomas O'Hara. All of these constitute the executive board.

The president also announces that it was necessary to change the date of the opening meeting of the club to avoid a confliction of dates with the Lenawee County Federation of Women's Clubs since the federation has chosen Monday, Oct. 3 for its benefit project, "Godey Day," and the local members will want to participate in that affair. A change of date was authorized at the summer board meeting.

Goodwill Pickup Is Next Tuesday

Goodwill Industries can help and be helped during this change over period. More than 400 handicapped employees are ready to take your summer discards, work on them, cleaning and repairing them for sale in one of their six retail outlets.

These Goodwill stores sell at a price that will enable others, less fortunate in material things, to buy necessities for themselves and children.

Goodwill's local representatives, Mrs. Carl Burch of Tecumseh and William Kuster of Britton report that the next Goodwill pick-up in this area will be Aug. 30 (Tuesday) giving you plenty of time to set aside your discards and call them at Macon 26 or Britton 2121.

CIVIL DEFENSE MOVIE

C. O. Butler discussed traffic accidents and their causes at the weekly dinner meeting of the Tecumseh Rotary Club Tuesday night.

He also showed a moving picture "Escape Route" which pointed out how important cars are in protecting life in the event of an atomic bomb attack.

John Saling, assistant civil defense director, explained: "It has been difficult to establish a city program for civil defense because so far neither the state or the federal government has told us what we can or cannot do."

But, he added, we hope to have a program this fall. He pointed out that civil defense is needed as much in natural catastrophes as it is in war.

CHILD GETS POLIO

Nancy Hannah, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Hannah of Route 1, Tecumseh, was admitted to University hospital last Sunday with polio. She is the fourth polio case reported in the county this summer.

Arrested for Violating Curfew

A violation of the Tecumseh curfew ordinance cost a Manchester man $23.60 Tuesday.

Raynor Hagadorn, 46, of Manchester was arraigned before Justice Robert French and pleaded guilty to the charge after his arrest by Tecumseh police.

Police first found Hagadorn's 11-year-old daughter on the street at 1:30 a.m. Tuesday.

She and her seven-year-old brother and 16-year-old sister had been brought to the movie here by their father and he was to pick the children up after the show, but he didn't return.

The boy and the older girl also were found on the street.

In addition to the fine and costs, Hagadorn also was placed on 60 days probation.

Name Weghorst Mill Manager

H. C. Weghorst, 53, of Dundee has been appointed general manager of the Hayden Flour Mills. He succeeds William Beardsley.

Mrs. Perry Hayden, president of the company, announced the appointment Wednesday.

Mr. Weghorst, 53, was manager of the Ralston Purina plant at Dundee for 26 years.

Betsy Ann Stair Is Bride of Russell McKenzie

Betsy Ann Stair of Adrian and Russell P. McKenzie of Tecumseh were united in marriage at 3 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 17 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Stair of 914 College Ave. The groom is the son of Mrs. Naomi McKenzie of 316 E. Cummins St. and James McKenzie of Tecumseh.

The Rev. John Marvin performed the double ring marriage ceremony in the parlor of the bride's home, which was banked with palms and baskets of white gladioli and pink asters. The bride was given in marriage by her parents and the couple was attended by Miss Beth McKenzie and Jameson Ford.

Miss Stair wore a dress of ice-blue nylon with a corsage of pink and white roses and Miss McKenzie's dress was blue with a pattern in pink and white and her corsage was of pink roses.

Teal blue was chosen by the bride's mother while Mrs. McKenzie wore deep lavender and both had shoulder corsages of purple orchids.

A wedding reception followed the ceremony at the bride's home. The house was decorated with flowers in pink and white, and the same colors were used on the serving table which featured a tiered wedding cake.

The bride is a graduate of Adrian high school with the class of 1953 and is employed at Sperti-Faraday Corp. in Adrian. The bridegroom, who attended Tecumseh high school is now serving in the United States Army. After a trip through northern Michigan the new Mrs. McKenzie will reside at home for the present.

Comforts Mark 25th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Comfort entertained a party of 16 at dinner at Rock Inn in Adrian Saturday evening in observance of the 25th anniversary of their marriage. Those present included their immediate family, their brothers and sisters and the Rev. and Mrs. Edward Escolme.

On their return home Mr. and Mrs. Comfort were surprised by about 25 members of the Quaker Fellowship Class of the Friends church, who presented them with a silver teapot in honor of their anniversary. The group brought delightful refreshments which included a beautiful wedding cake.

Bryan Family Has 50th Reunion

The 50th annual reunion of the Bryan-Sisson family was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bryan on Dinius road south of Tecumseh. The 50 members of the family who attended were all descendants of Gideon Bryan, who came to Michigan in 1830 and who shortly after took up from the government the farm on which the reunion took place, now the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan.

There were eight present who had attended the first reunion held July 4, 1905, with Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bryan in Tecumseh. Sunday, members came from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Flat Rock, Durand, Clawson, Addison, Palmyra, Adrian, Britton and Tecumseh. There was a bountiful potluck dinner of which three anniversary cakes were a feature.

During the business meeting held in the afternoon, Robert Bryan was elected president for the coming year with Frederick Bryan as vice president and Mrs. Floyd Bryan as secretary-treasurer. Letters from members who were unable to attend were read from Oberlin, Kansas; Portland, Oregon, and from California, W. Virginia, Colorado, Idaho and many Michigan cities.

The program included a talk by Mrs. Delmar Finch regarding the Bryan family tree and geneological research and the display of the original parchment deed of the centennial farm. Mrs. Floyd Bryan gave the highlights of the reunions of the past 50 years and many old family pictures were shown.

After a social afternoon, ice cream and cake were served at the supper hour. The 1956 meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Bryan at Britton.

COMMUNITY CLUB

Mr. and Mrs. Clare Camburn and Mrs. Eva Camburn entertained the Macon Community Club recently assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bartels.

A hamburger and hot dog roast and picnic supper were enjoyed on the lawn of the Camburn home followed by a business meeting conducted by Clayton Bigelow.

Mrs. Rubina Wise, Merl Trout, Mrs. Marion Spitler and Harvey Powers were guests. Mr. Trout was a charter member of the group and told of the first club meeting held in 1921. It was known at that time as the Poultry Association. He also told of the first Macon poultry show and recited an original poem that he wrote in honor of the first show. There were six charter members present the evening of the picnic.

Mrs. Melvin Travis announced the program which consisted of piano selections by Patty, Meredith and Susan Morden. The Morden sisters then sang "The Bible Told Me So." Melvin Travis read several poems. The Sept. meeting will be held in Tecumseh at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Spence.

FAMILY REUNION

The Shough family reunion was held Sunday at Moore's recreation room. Following a cooperative dinner, a business meeting was conducted by Jack Stull of Dundee. There were 75 present and it was decided to hold the reunion at the same place and the same Sunday next year. Among those present from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Partee and family of Bryan, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Shough and family of Hicksville, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Platte and family and Mrs. Shirley Bruder and family of Belleville, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Shough and daughters Virginia and Lorraine, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wustoff and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Furlong and Susan of Ypsilanti, Mr. and Mrs. Oakley Shough of Adrian, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Stull, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stull and family of Dundee, Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Reister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gilman, Miss Mary Lou Alderdyce and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bruder of Tecumseh.

Mrs. Mabel Covert and Mrs. Edith Hart of Flint were Friday afternoon callers on Mrs. Carrie Payne and Mrs. Marion Spitler.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Davis and family spent last week at White lake. Mr. and Mrs. Loren Dicks and sons joined them for the weekend. Other Sunday guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bock and Mr. and Mrs. Duane Bock and son Duane. They celebrated Ricky Davis' birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gilmore and Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Niblack of Ypsilanti are on a trip to Amarillo, Texas. They will visit Cpl. and Mrs. Wesley Gilmore and daughter.

The Rev. Hewgill of Clinton will be guest preacher at the Macon church Sunday, Aug. 28. The Rev. Vaughn Whited will return Sunday, Sept. 4.

Wednesday afternoon callers on Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gilmore were Mr. and Mrs. Leon Temple of Ottawa Hills and Mrs. Nellie Kehoe of Milan.

Among those from the Macon vicinity attending the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bale were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Clare Camburn, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Bortel and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gilmore.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Verl Sanch were his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Renuard of Romulus.

Albert Cross, Herbert and Ray Gilmore and Earl Pennington attended the farm implement show in East Lansing Tuesday.

Mrs. Truman Jordan and son Truman left Thursday to spend a few days in Tennessee visiting friends and relatives.

Mrs. Lila Howell was at Maybee for a few dayes last week attending a camp meeting.

Mrs. Erma Sheward and her committee have completed plans for the W.S.C.S. barbeque and ice cream social to be held Saturday, Aug. 27. Serving will begin at 5:30 p.m. Proceeds will go to the building fund.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Miller are spending a week at Munising. Their sons Tommy and Larry are staying with their grandmother, Mrs. Haddie Miller.

Mrs. Charles Gorton will entertain the girls of the M.Y.F. Friday evening in honor of Miss Karen Swanston, whose marriage to Gerald Miller of Saline will be Sept. 17 in the Macon Methodist church.

Guests on Sunday, Aug. 21 of the Rev. and Mrs. Vernon Schwartz were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schwartz and sons Arthur and Fred of Flint, Mrs. Lloyd Rademaker and daughter Shari of Manistee and Miss Gwen Rupp of Saginaw. Mrs. Rademaker and daughter Shari have returned to their home in Manistee after visiting the Rev. and Mrs. Schwartz for almost two weeks.

The Walther League of the Lutheran church on the Ridge road is sponsoring an ice cream social Thursday, Aug. 25 at 7:30 p.m.

BRIDE-ELECT HONORED

Miss Rena Rebottaro whose marriage to David Vanderpool will be an event of Sept. 3 was the guest of honor at a personal shower Friday evening. Mrs. Douglas Tate entertained eight of Miss Rebottaro's friends at her home on East Kilbuck with the assistance of Mrs. Mac Bater of Clinton and Mrs. Joyce Jones of Lyons, Ohio.

The house was decorated with arrangements of delphinium and the refreshment table had as a centerpiece a doll dressed as a bride. The evening was spent socially after which the hostesses served refreshments. Miss Rebottaro received lovely gifts for her personal use.

Here's why we say New Chevrolet Task-Force Trucks are the most Modern trucks for any job today!

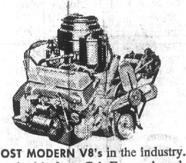
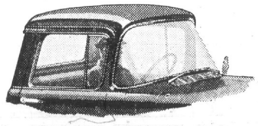
WORK-STYLED LIGHT- AND MEDIUM-DUTY MODELS have their own fresh, functional appearance.

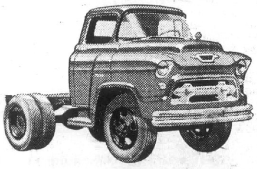
WORK-STYLED HEAVY-DUTY MODELS look every bit as husky, efficient and modern as they are.



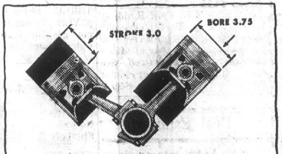
MOST MODERN V8's in the industry. Standard in Low Cab Forward models, an extra-cost option in all others except Forward Control models.



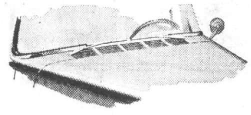
PANORAMIC WINDSHIELD sweeps around the corners to give you a wider, safer view of the road ahead.



REVOLUTIONARY NEW L.C.F. (Low Cab Forward) is much lower than former C.O.E. models yet it offers C.O.E. maneuverability.

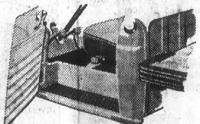


OVERSQUARE DESIGN means less piston travel ... longer V8 engine life.



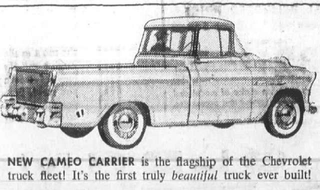
HIGH-LEVEL VENTILATION provides a more constant supply of outside air.

Plus . . . Five new high-compression valve-in-head sixes—the most advanced sixes in the industry! New, roomy Flite-Ride De Luxe cab—the truck driver's "dream cab!" Huge new Full View rear window (optional at extra cost).



NEW CONCEALED SAFETY STEP stays clear of snow, ice and mud for greater safety regardless of the weather.

NEW 12-VOLT SYSTEM delivers double the punch for quicker starting and finer performance.



NEW CAMEO CARRIER is the flagship of the Chevrolet truck fleet! It's the first truly beautiful truck ever built!

These are just a few of the reasons why new Chevrolet trucks are the most modern trucks for any job today. Come on in and see why these great new trucks will save hours and dollars on the job! Come see why anything less is an old-fashioned truck!

ACCORDION RECITAL

Pupils of the De Mass accordion school which is conducted by Mrs. Bruce De Mass of Tecumseh, gave a recital Saturday evening, Aug. 20 at the Adrian skate arena. Those taking part were Larry Flowers, Larry Greene, Marilyn Curtis, Carolyn Woods and Gail De Mass of Tecumseh, Douglas Luce of Devils lake, Dennis Martinus and Kathy Wegner of Holloway and Linda Polacky of Manchester.

CALENDAR

There will be only one service at Grace Lutheran church Aug. 28. It will be conducted at 8 a.m. by the Rev. Baer of Adrian.

No services of any kind will be held at the Tecumseh Baptist church for the next two Sundays, Aug. 28 and Sept 4.

St. Elizabeth Catholic church will have its second annual roast beef dinner Sunday, August 28, serving the public from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Tim Neill and Mrs. Leo Bishop are co-chairmen of arrangements.

MARTIN-McKENZIE

Mrs. Naomi McKenzie and William Martin Sr. were married at 2 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 20, in the Methodist Episcopal church in Angola, Ind. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Sapp. They will make their home in Coldwater, but Mr. Martin will continue his position at the Products.

Hickory & Horsehide

BY DIZ TROUT

OL' DIZ has been asked more than once how the Tigers get along together. Well, I'm happy to report that the team is one big happy family. All the players like and respect one another. They mix socially. Sometimes they go out in a group.

Contrary to the general impression, that is true of most major league baseball teams.

Today's baseball player is better educated and better mannered than his counterpart of years ago. Where the old-time player generally was cocky and difficult to manage, the current crop regards baseball as a serious business and tries to get along with everybody.

Feuded Among Selves

Of course, sometimes there are individual differences between players but rarely is there team dissension such as may be rumored or reported.

In fact, the last case of outright dissension Ol' Diz can recall occurred in 1940 when the so-called Cleveland "crybabies" feuded with their manager and among themselves.

What usually causes such dissension, when it does infrequently occur, is a team faltering under the pressure of a tight pennant race. Harmony prevails on a winner but a loser, being under greater tension, is more susceptible to a blow-up.

In my experience, there has never been real dissension on the Detroit baseball club. A good manager can stop it before it gets fairly well started.

True To Life

Individual disputes, arguments that fade out almost as quickly as they flare up, are another matter. You'll find them in baseball just as you will in the ordinary course of life.

With the Tigers, Ol' Diz recalls a big niffnaw years ago between Birdie Tebbetts, then our catcher and now the Cincinnati manager, and Bobo Newsom, who was the ace of the pitching staff, over what pitch to throw. It started on the field and continued in the clubhouse, ending as abruptly as it began.

Then there was the time in 1949 when Dick Bartell, our coach, and Ol' Diz had a tiff in the clubhouse in Boston over my taking some extra cuts during batting practice.

But even these occasional blow-ups are missing from the Tigers of 1955. The team likes Manager Bucky Harris and his coaching staff. The older players, who may have laxer habits, are careful to avoid going around with the younger players and imparting their bad habits. And when a social event is planned, such as a card game or show, everybody is invited.

This spirit of camaraderie is most evident on a day off from the Hickory and Horsehide game when virtually the entire team and the players' wives get together for a barbecue at a beautiful private home on Lake St. Clair, each couple contributing part of the "fixin's."

Final Races at Adrian Set

The final stock car racing card of the season at Adrian Speedway Thursday night will find Midwest Association for Race Cars entries battling in two feature events, each calling for 50 laps around the Lenawee County Fairgrounds tracks.

Because of county fair preparations, the auto racing season closes this week at Adrian Speedway and Wauseon Raceway, with a MARC Circuit of Stars new car race card slated Wednesday night as the season finale at Wauseon's Fulton County Fairgrounds oval.

Kenny Nemire, who won his fourth feature event of the season last week to top all drivers in that department, will be one of the top contenders in the Sportsman Division 50-lap feature at Adrian Speedway Thursday night. Nemire finished ahead of Al Beale and Herbie Robison in the 25-lap main event last week.

Whitey Crippen, winner of the 25-lap feature for older model hard tops last Thursday, will be one of the choices in the 50-lapper for the season championship of this bracket Thursday. Time trials start at 7 p.m., with the first race at 8:30.

Robison, local driver who pilots the only automatic-transmission car in the field, has his Lincoln-powered entry in top shape for the 50-lap finale.

Winner of two feature events, including the 50-lap midseason title event at Adrian Speedway this year, Robison also took a feature win last week at Wauseon Raceway, his fourth of the season at Wauseon to become top winner there.

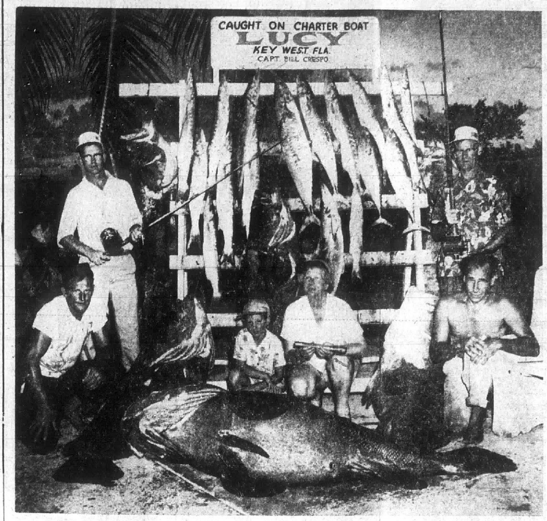
Last year, 122,783 high school students received Red Cross Home Nursing certificates through 6,575 classes held in high schools throughout the country and U. S. territories.



LOTS OF JEWFISH — Mr. and Mrs. William B. Fielder of Tecumseh were members of a fishing party off Key West, Fla., that hauled in this record number of jewfish. The catch, caught Aug. 5, totalled 1800 pounds.

In the picture are Stan Spivey, the boat's mate; grandson Terry Sisty; Mrs. William B. Fielder and Cap. Bill Crespo of the Lucy. In the back row is Jim Fielder and his father William.

The Fielders were visiting the Jerry Egglestons. Mrs. Eggleston is a daughter of the Fielders.

FOOTBALL

Physical examinations for Tecumseh High School varsity, junior varsity and junior high football players will be held in the high school gym Thursday, Aug. 25, at 9:30 a.m.

Equipment for varsity and junior varsity players will be handed out Saturday, Aug. 27, at 9 a.m. in the school locker room.

Junior high candidates will not receive their equipment until after school begins again.

Twenty-seven countries are now participating in the International School Art Program of the Leauge of Red Cross Societies. A total of 12,000 paintings are expected to be exchanged this year among the member countries, so that school children throughout the world can become familiar with the customs of other countries.

Sports Quiz

How to score yourself: Mark your choices 1-2-3-4. You get ten points for a correct first pick, five for a second, three for a third and one point for a correct fourth choice. Twenty is average; thirty, good; forty, very good, and fifty is perfect.

Okay—so it's hot—and all you want to do is sit where there is a bit of a breeze, a cool one in hand and a copy of this newspaper in the other. Then with the local news out of the way, you're going to catch up on your sports reading—and in The Sporting News of course.

Cool thoughts prevail throughout the August 24 issue of The Sporting News. For example, the story on Bob Prince, Pittsburgh Pirate broadcaster and his Bermuda shorts. And that isn't all — you get football stories, too, which should be a nice cool thought.

However, the hot American League race also comes in for much attention—but now let's try The Sporting News Sports Quiz.

1. What major league first baseman hit the first grand-slam home run of his career on Aug. 13?
( ) Ferris Fain
( ) Eddie Waitkus
( ) Mickey Vernon
( ) George Crowe

2. Mickey Mantle achieved the feat of home runs from both sides of the plate in one game for the second time this season, Aug. 15. He hit his righthanded homer against Art Schallock of the Orioles. Can you name the pitcher who gave up the lefthanded homer?
( ) Jim Wilson
( ) Ray Moore
( ) Don Johnson
( ) Erv Palica

3. One of the outstanding major league rookies on Aug. 14 passed his best previous total of home runs in a season as a minor leaguer. Can you name the man who hit more home runs in his first year in the majors than he ever hit in a year in the minors?
( ) Jim King
( ) Bill Virdon
( ) Bob Speake
( ) Carlos Paula

4. Larry Doby established a fielding record for outfielders by playing in 165 games without a bobble. He finally made an error on Aug. 13. Can you describe the way it happened?
( ) Throwing error
( ) Dropped fly ball
( ) Let hit go through him
( ) Prepared to throw and dropped ball

5. In the All-Star-Cleveland Browns' football game, one of the standouts was the young placekicker. What is his name?
( ) Tad Weed
( ) Dick Bielski
( ) Roosevelt Grier
( ) Ron Drzewiecki

ANSWERS TO THE SPORTING NEWS SPORTS QUIZ

1. Mickey Vernon of the Washington Senators. It was the first in his 16-year career and the first by a Washington player this season.

2. Ray Moore. Mantle pulled the unusual feat the first time this year against the Detroit Tigers, May 13. Steve Gromek and Bill Miller were the pitchers.

3. Bob Speake of the Chicago Cubs hit his twenty-first homer on Aug. 14. He hit 20 for Des Moines in the Western League last year.

4. Doby caught a line drive and prepared to throw out an advancing runner but dropped the ball.

5. Tad Weed of Ohio State, who scored 11 of the College All-Stars' 30 points.

Constructive Criticism Needed

"Why are you against taxpayers attending council meetings to ask councilmen questions?

This question was asked of the HERALD in a telephone conversation last Thursday. Such a question, because it strongly implies that this newspaper is against one of our most precious rights—freedom of speech—needs a frank answer to set the record straight.

No, the HERALD is not against citizens attending council meetings to raise questions. On the contrary, we feel that more citizens should attend these meetings and more questions concerning local government should be asked of our city officials.

Citizens have the same right that newspapers have in attending council meetings. The Michigan press as a whole has worked hard and long in its efforts to keep public meetings public and if we were to deny citizens their right to attend council meetings we would be working against our own code of conduct.

For two very good reasons, we always will strive for the "people's right to know." First, it is a basic freedom. And secondly, an informed public is a more intelligent public.

But where does freedom end and license begin? If you think this a strange and philosophical question you should have attended the last council meeting.

It is a healthy condition on the one hand to hear citizens raise questions at a public meeting; but it is quite another question to hear citizens heckle their leaders. And this is exactly what happened at the last meeting of the council.

We doubt very much if those who raised the questions really cared about the answers. They were questions aimed to confuse and to embarrass. Some of the questions went back to 1952 when none of the present councilmen was serving on the council.

It seems to us that the questions could have been more intelligent and possibly could have led to some constructive action.

It is easy to criticize; it is even easier to heckle. But to offer some constructive criticism such as Mrs. Mathews did on parlimentary procedure takes more thought.

Tecumseh, admittedly, has a long way to go before it becomes a first rate city. The mayor, the city manager and all the councilmen realize this fact.

They also realize that the city will reach its goals sooner if more constructive criticism is offered by the public at council meetings.

Attend these meetings by all means. Ask questions of your officials; but try to keep your questions constructive. All of us will benefit if you do.

Hospitals Increase

Michigan has 20,622 beds in fully licensed hospitals which operate under some 100 rigid health and safety rules. Out of 264 hospitals, maternity homes and doctor's offices, the Michigan Department of Health said only 34, with 1,220 beds, hold provisional licenses, which mean improvements are still to be made.

These facts were cited by Dr. Albert E. Heustis, State Health Commissioner, who reports that hospital licensing "has helped move Michigan toward uniformly high-grade general hospitals. The hospitals have given wonderful leadership," Dr. Heustis said. "Everything done has been accomplished because of the real interest our hospitals have in giving top service."

The State Legislature handed the health department the job of licensing maternity hospitals in 1951. Later, the job snowballed into a licensing unit for all general hospitals.

In maternity care, alone, the health department report shows new babies never had it so good. Three years ago, only 143 hospitals with 2,642 beds held full licenses.

Now the numbers have jumped to 230 licensed hospitals with 3,748 maternity beds — enough room for 1,106 more new babies and their mothers.

"The improvement over three years ago means that in the course of a year, fully licensed hospitals are now available in Michigan for about 80,000 more new babies and their mothers," the health department said. "The whole picture is most encouraging to anyone needing hospital care."

President, Sweet Briar College, Sweet Briar, Virginia

O ineffable Creator, Who, of the riches of Thy wisdom, didst . . . apportion the elements of the world most wisely; do Thou, Who art, in truth the fountain of life and wisdom, deign to shed upon the darkness of our understanding the rays of Thy infinite brightness, and remove far from us the two-fold darkness in which we were born, namely sin and ignorance. Do Thou Who givest speech to the tongue of little children, instruct our tongues and pour into our lips the grace of Thy benediction. Give us keeness of apprehension, capacity for remembering, method and ease in learning, insight in interpretation, and copious eloquence in speech. Instruct our beginning, direct our progress, and set Thy seal upon the finished work . . . (Abbreviated prayer of St. Thomas Aquinas for Students).

After sticking a "For Sale, Within" sign in the ground and inserting an ad in the paper, Mr. Ames thought his house selling problem was over.

But two weeks later he phoned, "I need your help. Come out and list my property."

"What kind of experience did you have?" I asked.

"Tiring," he answered. "We've had 14 lookers the past 10 days. I've had to devote full time to trying to sell this place. But I just don't seem to get anywhere. Any suggestions?"

"The most important is to pull down your sign and give us an exclusive listing. At the price you ask, this home should sell."

"Hold on," he replied, "you mean we can't keep on trying to sell it?"

"Perhaps I misunderstood," I replied, "but I thought you were tired. We don't want to compete against an owner. It will be tough enough to attempt a sale now that the "bloom is off the rose."

Mr. Ames nodded. "You're right. It is shopworn. And I need help. There's a lot more to selling a home than I realized. Go ahead and sell it on an exclusive basis."

Profit by this experience — put us to work selling your home the FIRST thing. It'll spare you trouble and lead to a quicker sale!

87th Adventist Camp Meeting Opens

Seventh-day Adventists throughout the state of Michigan will assemble at the Grand Ledge campgrounds during the next few days for the 87th annual camp meeting, to be held this year Aug. 18 through 28.

A special feature of the first weekend of the meetings will be the "Faith for Today" television group. Included in the group will be the speaker, Pastor William A. Fagal and the well-known Faith For Today men's quartet.

About 100 pastors, representing 160 churches in Michigan, have been working at the campgrounds for the last two weeks in preparation for crowds which will number about 14,000 over the week ends. The meetings annually attract some 4,000 persons who stay during the week in a miniature city of tents, trailers, dormitories and permanent buildings.

Governor G. Mennen Williams will address the camp session, as well as other noted persons such as Senators Harry F. Hittle and Edward Hutchinson, and Mr. James Herndon, head of the Lansing office of the Automobile Club of Michigan.

Missionaries and church leaders from the denomination's world headquarters in Washington D. C. head the roster of featured guests. Included will be Elder W. B. Ochs, president of the North American Division, Washington, D. C.; Elder F. D. Nichol, Elder G. W. Chambers and Dr. A. W. Johnson, also from Washington, D. C.; Elder M. L. Rice, president of the church's four-state Lake Union Conference and Dr. E. R. Thiele, head of the Religion Department of Emmanuel Missionary College, Berrien Springs, Michigan.

Meetings will commence at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 18, and daily meetings will be held Friday morning. Most Adventist churches in Michigan will close their doors both Saturdays and members will attempt to be at the Grand Ledge congress.

Regular Sabbath Day services will be held during both Saturdays with separate services for the different age groups, from cradle roll to the youth group.

M.S.U. Quantity Recipes List Now On Hand

Do you have a big family picnic coming up? Or, are you wondering, perhaps, how you're going to handle a community project of feeding hundreds of people?

The answer to your large quantity cookery problems is easy, declares Gladys Knight, tourist and resort specialist at Michigan State University. A listing of quantity food service literature has just been brought up to date and lists over 250 bulletins prepared by commercial companies to help in any community feeding project.

The listing, which was prepared by members of the Tourist and Resort Program, tells you just where the material can be obtained, the cost and a little about the contents of each bulletin.

Miss Knight says the bulletins listed in the bibliography include the following topics: beverages, canned and frozen foods; cereals and baked goods; community meals; equipment and layouts; fish and seafoods; food cost control; fruits and vegetables; herbs, seasons and flavoring; meats; menus and menu planning; milk and milk products; poultry and eggs; safety and sanitation; and miscellaneous.

All the publications listed, adds Miss Knight, are free or low cost. You can get the "Bibliography — Quantity Food Service Literature" by writing to the Tourist and Resort Program, Quantity Food Service, Michigan State University, East Lansing, Michigan.

This list might be just the thing your church group or women's club needs for their community projects.

Irma Jean Brollier and K. R. Adams Wed Saturday

St. Peter's Episcopal church was the scene of a beautiful summer wedding Saturday afternoon when at 2:30 Irma Jean Brollier of Tecumseh and Kenneth Richard Adams of Jackson were united in marriage.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Ellsworth Brollier and the late Mr. Brollier and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Reed Adams, whose home is on Kibby Road, Jackson.

Lavender and white gladioli filled the altar vases and the two tall hampers beside the chancel steps and the family pews were marked by bows of white satin ribbon.

Dr. James Spencer at the organ played traditional wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Spencer when she sang the equally traditional marriage hymn, "O Perfect Love" and "Because." The Rev. E. C. Dickin used the double ring service for the marriage ceremony and the bride's uncle, Martin J. Schniepp gave her in marriage.

White lace with fine mesh at the hem fashioned the lovely bridal gown over slipper satin. It was ankle length with a fitted bodice which had a round neck and long sleeves ending below the wrists. The veil was finger-tip length and she carried a lavender orchid on a white, satin covered prayer book.

Miss Mary Lou Alderdyce was the maid of honor while the bride's twin sisters, Janet and Joyce Brollier were her bridesmaids. All wore blue crystalette trimmed in net and carried bouquets of carnations, pink for the maid of honor and yellow for the bridesmaids.

Dale Vanepps assisted Mr. Adams as best man and the guests were seated by Wells Kollar Jr. and Richard Elinski.

Mrs. Brollier wore navy blue with white accessories for her daughter's wedding and the groom's mother was in brown with accents of white. Both wore corsages of yellow carnations.

A reception for the 150 guests in the Episcopal Parish House followed the ceremony. Those who assisted included two aunts of the bride, Mrs. Hal Turbett and Mrs. Kenneth Seegert, who cut the wedding cake and Mrs. Ted Vincze and Mrs. Lawrence Gunn, who served punch. Mrs. Bill Miller, the Misses Joan Pfaus and Diane Dillon were in charge of gifts while Mrs. Richard Elinski registered the guests.

When the bridal couple left for a week's trip in northern Michigan, Mrs. Adams was wearing an orchid suit with accessories of pink.

The bride graduated from Tecumseh high school in 1953 and attended the University of Michigan for two years. This summer she was employed at the Tecumseh Products Co. The groom is a graduate of Jackson high school and is a Products employee. They will reside on Occidental road.

During the month before her wedding. Miss Broiller was complimented by several parties and showers. Twelve of her friends were invited to the home of Mrs. Glenn Miller on W. Shawnee, July 23 for a miscellaneous shower and a social evening. The prizes won by the guests were given to Miss Brollier, who also received many gifts from the group. The Misses Janet and Joyce Brollier assisted the hostess.

July 24, Mrs. Reed Adams of Jackson, mother of the bridegroom-to-be, entertained a party of 19 with games, prizes being given to the guest of honor. A miscellaneous shower of gifts was also a feature of this evening.

Her fellow workers in the material control department at Tecumseh Products entertained with a shower at the Shaffer home in Macon, Aug. 4 and two days later she was honored with a kitchen shower at the home of Mrs. Ted Vincze on Oneida street. Several couples were present, games were played and Miss Brollier received the prizes in addition to many gifts.

A personal shower was given by Miss Mary Lou Alderdyce, Aug. 12 with the assistance of Joyce and Janet Brollier, this completing a pleasant round of festivities preceding the wedding date.

Lenawee County To Be Tested for Brucellosis

The first county-wide test of Lenawee County for Brucellosis is scheduled to begin during the latter part of Aug. The resolution requesting the testing program was passed by the Lenawee County Board of Supervisors this month.

Brucellosis testing under the cooperative efforts of the Michigan Department of Agriculture and the U. S. D. A. has been going on in Michigan since 1937. Information and educational aspects of the program will be handled by the Agricultural Extension Service.

Testing operations in Lenawee County will be under the direction of Dr. James Moser, of Saline. Dr. Moser, who is the Area State Veterinarian, will be assisted by the local practicing veterinarians and the mobile State Department Laboratory.

A. B. R. Milk tests will be conducted on all milking herds, with follow-up individual blood tests on all A. B. R. suspicious and breeding beef herds. Permanent identification by branding will be made on all reacting animals, with indemnity payments and calf vaccination being optional in all reacting herds.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

After-Dinner Speaker Gets His "Deserts"

"Red" Thomas tells about a dinner party he and his Missus went to in Center City last week. He said it was a wonderful party—except for one guest who was a real "know-it-all," right from the start.

Whatever the subject, this fellow considered himself an "expert." Wasn't quiet about it, either. He told different people what automobile to buy, what books to read—even told some who they "just had" to vote for.

When it came time to leave, this fellow must've felt a pang of conscience. He turned to the hostess and said: "I suppose I was a bit outspoken tonight." Quickly she replied, "Of course not. No one could have out-spoken you."

From where I sit, it's all right to have opinions as long as you don't try to force them on neighbors. Take those who would deny me an occasional glass of beer simply because they prefer something else. They're welcome to their choice but shouldn't try to force me to be a "party" to it!

The best deal you can get is the deal built into a Pontiac!

The Spectacular Star Chief Custom Sedan

There's something you ought to know before you sign up for a new car—something half a million owners of the '55 Pontiac have already learned to their profit.

You actually get two important money-saving deals when you buy a future-fashioned Pontiac.

You get the kind of trade-in allowance you'd expect from Pontiac's volume sales. The biggest year in our history pays off for you in appraisals that won't be topped!

That's deal number one—and the second is even better! We're talking now of the terrific deal that is built right into the car itself.

Compare Pontiac's modest cost with that of any other car combining such fine-car size (124 inches of road-leveling, road-hugging wheelbase), such blazing horsepower (200* eager "horses") and such luxury-car stability—and here's what you'll find:

That combination anywhere else will cost you hundreds of dollars more!

Get the proof that the big, high-styled, high-powered Pontiac you really want to own is actually your easiest buy. Come in and talk trading—now!

1000 State V.F.W. Members Attend National Camp

Michigan Veterans of Foreign Wars — 1,000 strong — begin the trek eastward this week to attend the 56th annual national encampment of the organization in Boston, Aug. 28 to Sept. 2.

The Michigan delegation will have a strong interest in the encampment. The state will be honored for placing first in its membership division during the past year.

Other honors will be presented in the field of youth activities and community service. Michigan had one of the most extensive community service programs in the country counting more than 10,000 individual programs.

A small post in Republic, Michigan, and its ladies auxiliary will receive a $200 cash award for placing seventh among posts in the national community service contest.

SUPPORT BUER

Led by State Commander Don M. Draher, Royal Oak, Michigan, delegates will seek election of immediate past state commander Leon B. Buer, Grand Rapids, to the National V.F.W. Council of Administration, governing body of the organization.

Michigan has no other candidates for national office but often times members achieve high national office without previous mention. Timothy J. Murphy, Boston lawyer, is expected to become the next national commander succeeding Merton T. Tice, Mitchell, South Dakota.

At least one Michigan unit will bid for a national musical title. State champion band, Morley S. Oates Post 701, Lansing, which placed third last year and second in 1953, wil lagain shoot for the senior band championship.

DISCUSS RESOLUTIONS

Business will center about the more than 500 resolutions submitted by individual V.F.W. posts throughout the country. They deal with veterans pensions, legislation, service and rehabilitation, schooling, reserve training, national security and internal V.F.W. affairs.

More than 50,000 V.F.W. members, guests and ladies auxiliary members are expected to swell Boston for the encampment, labeled by national officials as one of the most pivotal in history.

Several Michigan men who will serve on committees during the convention are: Buer, by-laws; Arthur Greig, River Rouge, finance and internal organizations; Peter F. Bommarito, Lansing, publications; James R. Tribbey, Lincoln Park, ritual; Joseph W. Mann, Detroit, rehabilitaton and welfare service; Christie J. Braun, Lansing, Buddy Poppy; Martin Forman, Detroit, Americanism; Russell Holmes, Detroit, civil service and employment; Joseph Kanthack, Wyandotte, youth activities; Herbert W. Devine, Flint, national security; Joseph Ritzenhein, Saginaw, officers' reports; Max C. McCarn, Mason, community service; Zigmund Cybulski, Detroit, civil defense; and Robert Sutton, Detroit, maritime service.

Christian Science Services Listed

The way of health and holiness, of dominion over fear and sin which Christ Jesus came to teach, will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christ Jesus" will include the Master's healing of the servant of the high priest as recorded in Luke's Gospel (22:50, 51): "And one of them smote the servant of the high priest, and cut off his right ear. And Jesus answered and said, Suffer ye thus far. And he touched his ear, and healed him."

Correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (54:10-17): "That he might liberally pour his dear-bought treasures into empty or sin-filled human storehouses, was the inspiration of Jesus' intense human sacrifice. In witness of his divine commission, he presented the proof that Life, Truth, and Love heal the sick and the sinning, and triumph over death through Mind, not matter. This was the highest proof he could have offered of divine Love."

Michigan Salt Can Last 50 Million Years

Pass the salt, please! There's no shortage in sight.

That's the word from Russell C. Hussey, University of Michigan professor of geology.

By actual measurement there is enough salt in Michigan to last the entire world, at the present rate of consumption, for 50 million years, he declares.

"As large as any in the world, Michigan's salt beds provide the source for all the salt used in this area. The great deposits, which underline almost all of the southern peninsula of Michigan, are known to reach a thickness of over 600 feet in some places," Professor Hussey says.

Commenting on the origin of these beds, the geologist explains that during the Silurian period — about 300 million years ago — there was a great desert here, something like the region around Great Salt Lake today.

SEA DRIED UP

This was formed by the drying up of a great sea which once covered the desert. During the drying process, salt was precipitated through excessive evaporation, while a small trickle of sea water coming in to the Michigan rock basin through a shallow ocean channel, renewed the supply of brine. This along with a certain amount of slow subsidence of the rocks, brought about the enormous thickness of salt found in many places.

"Originally," Professor Hussey says, "the great salt basin extended from the Lower Peninsula of Michigan eastward through Northeastern Ohio, Northwestern Pennsylvania and up as far as Syracuse, N. Y.

"As arid conditions developed, the sea which occupied the region grew salty through excessive evaporation and salt and gypsum were deposited over an area of about 100,000 square miles.

"In Detroit, where salt has been mined for many years, layers and layers of tunnels have been driven in solid rock salt. These tunnels extend for many miles under the city," he says.

HAVE TO BLAST

He describes the Detroit salt deposits as beginning at a depth of 1,000 feet below the surface and then continuing horizontally. "Blasting is the method used to obtain the salt here. One unusual feature of the Detroit mines is that, in place of the usual timbering, great pillars of salt are left standing to support the rocks."

In Wyandotte, Manistee, Midland and St. Clair, on the other hand, drill methods are in use. Professor Hussey explains that water is pumped down a well drilled into the salt. "When the water dissolves the salt, the brine is pumped out and the salt is then recovered through exaporation."

"Brine," he goes on to say, "is found wherever water has trickled down into the salt bed, dissolved it, and then has worked its way up again through cracks and fractures of the overlying rock."

Last year, an average of 58,100 Red Cross volunteers a month served members of our armed forces and veterans at military camps and hospitals, through chapter Home Service assistance, and in Veterans Administration hospitals.

The American Red Cross conducted 318 disaster relief operations last year in 47 states and territories, and gave emergency mass care to 62,000 persons and assisted 7,100 families with individual financial aid.

CONDUCTED BY BOB WARREN

ART BARNES PUTS OUT a real fine daily, the Bristol Press, in Bristol, Conn. Perry Satterthwaite brought in a copy of the paper which completely covered the severe flood and the havoc caused by it, both in stories and in pictures.

KEITH BAILEY IS HOBBLING around town. He broke his ankle in a softball game played in Adrian. But the bone is knitting well and he's coming along fine.

OUR LITTLE SIX-YEAR-OLD daughter loves to play football and she runs with the ball like a scared bunny. But I don't think she quite gets the idea of the huddle. When plays are discussed, she says: "Tell me a secret."

THE OLD TIMER SAYS: "A big man is not one who makes no mistakes, but one who is bigger than any mistake he makes."

NEXT TUESDAY HUNDREDS of small fry will return to school. Let's remember to slow up and let them grow up.

DON NORRIS MADE A LOT of dough in the five and one-half years he spent in his bakery here. He estimates that he made 4,000,000 breakfast rolls, more than 1,000,000 fried cakes and more than 60,000 pies. He leaves his bakery Sept. 6 for a job in Toledo and Joe Church of Allen Park will lease the bakery here. The Lining wishes the Norris family well in its new situation and hopes that the Church family will enjoy working and living in Tecumseh.

A COLORED PICTURE FOLDER from Bill Davenport shows famous Atlantic City, the home of 500 state and national conventions annually. Bill and his wife spent part of their vacation in the New Jersey resort.

YOUNGEST ENTOMOLOGIST Greg King, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. King, Jr., 411 south Adrian street, brought in the healthiest specimen of a tomato "worm" that we have even seen. His mother found it when the worm, the larva of the beautiful sphinx moth, dropped from a tree while she mowed the lawn. Greg says he is going to feed his worm and watch it turn into a cocoon and moth.

A NOVEL HEADLINE APPEARED in the Blissfield Advance last week. Publisher Duane De Loach, definitely a pro-school newsman, said this about the return of teachers to school: "One of Biggest Employers in Area Calls Workers Back."

THOUGHT FOR THIS WEEK: To him whose elastic and vigorous thought keeps pace with the sun, the day is a perpetual morning.—Henry David Thoreau

Servel Promotes Two Tecumseh Men

R. J. Arft, of Tecumseh, has been appointed vice-president and assistant to the president of Servel, Inc., according to an announcement by Duncan C. Menzies, Servel president.

Arft will work with the general management of the company in the control of costs and expenses, and in budgeting for profit, Menzies indicated.

For the past year and a half, Arft was executive vice-president, general manager and comptroller of the Martin-Parry Corp., of Toledo, O., steel fabricators. From 1948 to 19554, he was a treasurer-comptroller, a director and a member of the operating committee of the Tecumseh Products Co., manufacturers of electric refrigeration compressors.

From 1941 to 1948, Arft was engaged in special accounting-engineering assignments for several major manufacturers, including the United States Steel Corp., Sperry Gyroscope Co., Thompson Products, Inc., and Ford Motor Co. From 1936 to 1941 he was supervisor of costs for Motor Products, Inc., of Detroit, manufacturers of automobile hardware.

A native of Toledo, Arft attended the public schools and Tri-State University of that city.

His wife was the former Miss Lillian Biernat, of Jackson. They have three children — Sonja Nita and John Bruce, 17-year-old twins, and Ray, Jr., 2.

The Arfts have been making their home at 712 Outer Drive in Tecumseh.

Alton G. Wirick, of Tecumseh, has been appointed manager of manufacturing for the Commercial Refrigeration Division of Servel, Inc., according to an announcement by John R. Morrill, vice-president and general manager of the division.

For the past two years, Wirick has been plant engineer of Tecumseh Products Co., where he was in charge of expanding all manufacturing facilities and supervising maintenance of all plant buildings and equipment.

Previously he was plant engineer of the Ingersoll Division of Borg-Warner in Kalamazoo, Mich., and prior to that he had the responsibility of designing and building a complete kitchen appliance plant for Bendix Home Appliances.

R. J. Arft

Wirick was born in Three Rivers, Mich., and studied electrical engineering at the International Correspondence School. He is now a registered professional mechanical and electrical engineer in the states of Indiana and Michigan.

As manager of manufacturing, Wirick will have charge of the production of the Commercial Refrigeration Division's commercial and industrial refrigeration units ranging in size from 1/4 h.p. through 7¼ h.p. Servel's manufacture of these units dates back to 1922.

TRAP SHOOTS SET

The Tecumseh Conservation League will hold a trap shoot at its grounds every Sunday from now on.

The shoots will begin at 10 a.m.

The league grounds are located two miles north and one mile west of Billington's Corners.

File Third Paper in City Suit

The third document in the anti-fluoridation committee's bill of complaint against the city and three city officials has been entered in circuit court. It represents a reply to attorney J. C. Beardsley's answer to the bill of complaint. Mr. Beardsley represents the City of Tecumseh and the three defendants Mayor H. H. Hanna, Ed Nelson, city manager, and John Kopka, superintendent of the water department.

Plaintiffs in the case seek a show cause order why equipment (used now to place polo phosphate in the water to counteract rust) allegedly used for putting fluoride in the water should not be dismantled and a permanent injuction served on the city officials restraining them from using the equipment.

The plaintiffs are Earl Bryan, chairman of the committee, and Charles E. Morris, C. C. Richard, B. E. Brees, Helen Creger and Harry Morris.

This reply was filed by Baker and Baker, attorneys for the plaintiffs.

Points in the reply are:

There is no natural fluoride content flowing into the city water system and there never has been. It has been done by artificial means and unlawfully.

Between July 8 and Aug. 18 hydrants have been flushed five times. If fluoride or some of its component parts had not been placed in the water on or after July 9 why was the flushing repeated so many times?

There has been a deliberate and purposeful intention to disregard the mandate of the majority of the voters as registered March 18, 1954, when fluoridation was defeated at the polls.

Two members of the dental profession have exerted influence and pressure on city officials to pump fluoride into the city water mains.

One of the plaintiffs — Mrs. Helen Creger—has become seriously ill and doctors have diagnosed her illness as fluoride poisoning from drinking water.

A test of the water at Mrs. Creger's showed .2 parts per million Aug. 17 but on Aug. 20 a test of the water in the Creger home showed no fluoride present.

A permanent injunction should be granted against the pumping of any fluorine or fluoride or any component parts into the city water system and the feeders should be removed. And those who violated the mandate of the voters should be fined and imprisoned.

The document asks that "this matter be brought to trial . . early in Sept." As yet, the date for the civil suit has not been set.

School Bells Ring Again

Public Schools Expect 1700

About 1700 students will re-enter the Tecumseh Public Schools for the new term which begins next Tuesday, Sept. 6.

The following information concerning the beginning of school and the new school year was compiled by Supt. James McDowell:

This year is the second year of a full physical education program from the fourth through the twelfth grades. All grade children will receive half hour classes daily in separate boys and girls sections with a man teacher for the boys and a woman teacher for the girls. The classes are small since only one grade goes to the gym at a time and so the teacher is able to give each child individual attention and instruction.

In seventh and eighth grades gym will meet three days per week with life adjustment classes the other two days for some groups with other groups meeting two days a week for gym and three days for life adjustment. At the end of the semester this program will be reversed.

In grades 9 through 11 one hour of physical education per day is required unless by special permission of the principal. Physical education is elective in the twelfth grade. In addition, the usual sports for boys and girls will be carried out throughout the year. Each boy and girl from the seventh grade through the twelfth will receive a clean towel twice a week. These towels are marked with the school name and it is hoped that, should parents or friends find that pupils are bringing them home, that they will return them to school immediately.

GIVE TUITION RATES

Tuition rates for pupils living outside District No. 7, Tecumseh Public Schools, will be $123.40 for children in grades kindergarten through sixth, and $130.75 for children in the seventh through the twelfth. Tuition must be paid by all pupils living outside District No. 7, half by Nov. 15 and the balance by March 15 of this school year.

The bus schedules are printed on page three.

Playgrounds have been improved this summer and some new apparatus installed. Chains across Ottawa at the school limits during the school day will provide for greater safety for children using Central playground. In the past certain unthinking individuals have seen fit to remove barricades and to drive through, making it dangerous for small children.

Patterson school drive is one way from Union to Democrat and this drive is owned by the Tecumseh Public Schools and has been black-topped at board expense. In the interest of the safety of children violations of this one way street will be reported to local police.

STRESS MUSIC, BAND

A fine program will be provided both in instrumental and vocal music at the elementary and secondary level. In addition to the usual classes in music, the band director will meet with all fifth and sixth grade pupils interested in band and they will receive their instruction during the school day as at the secondary school level. Vocal music instruction will be provided during the regular school day.

Pupils desiring to take private instrumental or vocal music lessons must do so during certain specified times. Fourth through eighth grade pupils may leave school for such purposes once a week during their gym period

Billington Farm Will Become Memorial Garden

Preliminary contract work is expected late this month or early next month on Lenawee Hills North Memorial Gardens, a new 46-acre cemetery at the northeast intersection of M-50 and M-52, Billington's Corners, officials of the cemetery association announced Tuesday.

The site was formerly the Billington farm. McCoy Real Estate handled the transaction.

The new cemetery will be open to all faiths. It will be developed into gardens having from 400 to 800 burial estates. Each garden will have memorials dedicated to different phases in the life of Christ.

The first one to be erected will be a white marble sculpture of the Sermon on the Mount which was done in Italy by Berhard Zuckerman of New York City.

Keeping the garden appearance, no tombstones will be erected over the graves and all markers will be flush with the lawn.

Perpetual care will be provided. Other memorials will be of bronze, granite or marble.

William J. Holland of Port Huron is president of Lenawee Hills North Memorial Gardens. He also is vice-president of the Michigan Cemetery Association. Associated with Mr. Holland is Grant G. Teeple of Port Huron.

They also own and operate Memorial Gardens in Holland, Flint, Adrian, Grand Haven and Bay City.

Resident manager of the new memorial gardens is Tom Berkheiser, presently manager of Lenawee Hills South Memorial Gardens. He and his wife, Grace, and their four sons Von, 1; Jack, 4; Dick, 6; and Alan, 17, will live in the former farm house on the memorial gardens grounds. Other farm buildings will be razed.

Groups Reminded of Calendar

Mrs. Earl Pennington, secretary of the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce, reminds all local organizations of the service available through the chamber's community calendar.

Groups planning to schedule any public meeting may consult the calendar to avoid conflicts and may register the advance date of their event.

In this way the confusion of several civic affairs on the same date may be avoided.

Britton Opens again Today

Britton-Macon Agriculture high school and elementary school reopened today (Thursday, Sept 1) with the following teachers:

Superintendent, Rudolph Koczman; principal, William Saxton; kindergarten, Mrs. Evelyn Le Fevre; first grade, Mrs. Lillian Kniffen; second grade, Helen Forbes; third grade, Mrs. Marion Barrett; fourth grade, Mrs. Myrtle Prielipp; fifth grade, Mrs. Berta Jean Burgin; sixth grade, Mina Lisson; first and second grade overflow, Ruth Davis; third, fourth and sixth grade overflow, Anna Kreger; English, Mr. M. Gierman; agriculture, Russell Spaulding; industrial arts, Harold Battaluca; home economics, Vida Buffit; band, Robert Peterson; mathematics and science, Susan Baglow; English, William Anderson; commercial, Tom Bradley; and coach Mario Marchisis.

Leaders

Five Lenawee county 4-H Club leaders will be honored today (Thursday) during the State 4-H Club Show at Michigan State University for 10 to 30 years service as local leaders.

After a special honor banquet, Ray Peffers, Lenawee county 4-H Club agent, reports that the leaders will receive their awards during the Thursday evening program at the university auditorium.

A total of 201 leaders throughout the state will be honored.

Lenawee county will be represented by:

Mrs. James Gagnon, Rt. 3, Adriaun, ten-year leader of the North Adrian Willing Workers.

Mrs. Fritz Mattis, Rt. 4, Adrian, ten-year leader of the Snappy Snippers.

Mrs. Cleo Burger, Clayton, 15-year leader of the Rip & Tear Club.

Mrs. Lillian Buttolph, Britton, 20-year leader of the Harmony Makers.

Mrs. Purnell Osburn, Tecumseh, 20-year leader of the Snappy Snippers.

The awards will be made by John B. Hanks of the New York Central Railroad, donor of the pins.

Gold 4-H Clover pins will be presented to those leaders with 10 years of service.

Leaders for 15 years will have pearls set in the pins.

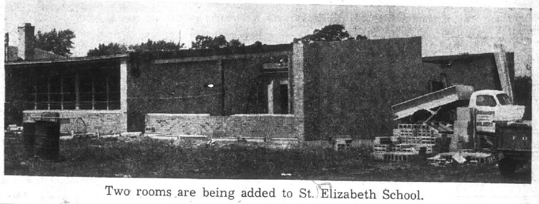
The setting for the 20-year award will be a diamond.

Emerald will denote 25 years of leadership.

SEE BURMA SLIDES

The Rev. Robert Murray of Dexter who served as a missionary in Burma 10 years showed colored slides of Burma and its people at the Rotary Club meeting Tuesday night.

The Rev. C. E. Dickin was in charge of the program.



Two rooms are being added to St. Elizabeth School.

Jaycees Plan Name Band for Tecumseh

The Tecumseh Junior Chamber of Commerce last Thursday night voted to bring a "name band" to Tecumseh for a dance.

The famous band, as yet not selected, will appear here during a holiday period, probably around Thanksgiving.

In other business the club voted to hold a donkey softball game against Milan here Friday, Sept. 9. Proceeds from the ball game will go toward purchasing a moving picture camera for the use of the Tecumseh high school athletic department. Specifically, it first will be used by the football coaches to take practice and game pictures for coaching purposes.

The club also voted to handle the community fund drive again and to paint two playground shelters in Herrick Park and in Tecumseh Acres.

Bob Williamson showed colored slides taken at the National Jaycee Convention held in Atlanta, Ga.

He also explained how fortunate the local club was in obtaining Hugh McKenna, national Jaycee president, who will appear here Tuesday, Sept. 27 at a dinner and dance. The public will be invited to hear the national president and Gov. Williams has been invited. So have Tecumseh civic and business leaders.

The club also voted to take part in the national "I Speak for Democracy" contest with Doug Murdoch as chairman.

General, Union Phone Companies Plan Merger

A merger of the two parent holding companies is expected to lead to the combining of the General and Union Telephone companies.

General system serves Tecumseh, Holloway and Blissfield in the county. Union serves Adrian, Clinton and some rural areas in the county.

The two companies are the second and third largest in the state. General has more than 100,000 customers in 75 exchanges. Union has about 85,000 customers in 33 exchanges.

Stock holders would have to approve the merger and it then would have to pass inspection and approval of the commission.

230 Go Back at Parochial School

St. Elizabeth school will re-open for its second year Thursday, Sept. 8.

Enrollment, reports the Reverend Father Thomas Collins, is increased about 30 per cent over last year. Last year the enrollment was 167. This year it is expected to reach 230 students or more.

The staff is as follows: Sister Ann Xavier, O.P., principal; and Sisters Margaret Edward, O.P., Mary Michael, O.P., and Rose Frederick, O.P. and Mrs. Lois Hendricks.

CLASSROOMS ADDED

Two classrooms have been added to the school, identical in material and workmanship with the original structure. The addition now gives the school six standard size classrooms each of which are adequately lighted and ventilated. They have hot water heating. A gas furnace engineered to heat eight classrooms and an auditorium has been installed.

Two buses furnish transportation to almost 120 students. This transportation is being financed this year by a $2 weekly fee per family, plus additional funds provided by social events sponsored by families of children using the buses.

The St. Elizabeth bus is being driven and serviced by the Tecumseh Texaco Gas Station this year.

Tuition is $25 per family, regardless of the number of children in the family.

This year the girls will wear uniforms in order to lighten the burden of buying clothing.

CLASSES ADDED

The Rev. Father Collins reports that in addition to last year's athletic program of football and basketball in a league of Catholic parishes in Lenawee and Washtenaw counties an optional dancing instruction class and school band are being added to the curriculum. And religion will be taught in the eighth grade.

Playground equipment (swings, slides and a merry-go-round), he said, will be installed.

He also reported that further landscaping is being planned to add to the beauty of the school's setting.

Ocsert Gives Red Cross $1000

Generous contributions from county residents and business and industrial concerns have sent the Lenawee County Chapter Red Cross drive for flood relief over the $1550 quota, reports Harry Hungerford, county chairman. Tuesday night the drive had reached the $2100 mark.

"But," he added "the need in the east is so great that we could pass our quota several times over and still not have enough."

The largest contribution for flood relief to date was a $1000 grant from Ocsert, Inc., formerly Tresco, Inc.

Funds for the relief program may be sent to the Lenawee County Chapter Red Cross, 157 east Maumee street, Adrian.

Closed

Most Tecumseh stores will be closed all day next Monday in observance of the last summer holiday Labor Day.

The HERALD office also will be closed all day.

So will the city offices, the United Savings Bank, Adrian Federal Savings & Loan Association and the Tecumseh post office.

But the office will be open from 2 to 4 p.m. for the convenience of boxholders.

The post office will have its last city pick-up of mail at 3 p.m.

Correspondents and advertisers are reminded that because of the short week their news copy and advertising copy must be in the office by Tuesday noon.

Their cooperation will be appreciated.

Assign Sections for Kindergarten

Children entering the kindergarten of the Tecumseh Public Schools in Sept. will report to the following sections:

Brownville a.m.—Murray Drive, Russell Road, South Union 700 and 800 blocks, Burt Street and River Acres.

Borwnville p.m.—Herrick Park, Brown Street, (east and west), Mill street.

Patterson a.m. — Occidental, Shady Lane, west Kilbuck, south Evans, Maple, Sunset, Orchard Lane, south Pearl, west Chicago (west of 700 block).

Patterson p.m. — west Chicago (to the 700 block), all streets west of Evans, north to Brown; south Union 100 and 200 blocks; west Pottawatamie 400 and 500 blocks; south Pearl 100 and 200 blocks; south Democrat 100 and 200 blocks.

Central a.m. — west Patterson, Green road, west Cummins, west Pottawatamie 100 and 200 blocks; Newburg road, east Monroe road; Blood road, all children living east of Evans north to east Brown street.

Any child who has not been enrolled for the kindergarten must report to the Central school office to enroll. A copy of the birth certificate must be presented at this time.

Quaker Oats Employees Here Share $6776 in Profits

Employees at the Tecumseh plant of the Quaker Oats Company received $6,776 today in annual profit-sharing checks.

This 20th yearly wage bonus added an average of $178 to the employees' regular earnings during the company's recently ended business year.

Donald Nixon, plant manager, explained that 38 local employees were eligible this year to share in company profits. Eligibility, he said, is chiefly dependent upon six months or more of service.

Similar checks also went out to workers in Quaker Oats' Chicago headquarters and in its other plants, grain elevators and sales offices throughout the country. Total profit-sharing sum was $1,377,011.

The plan was voluntarily established by Quaker Oats 20 years ago. It calls for setting aside each year a percentage of company earnings. Employees thus share profits whenever the firm has a successful year. To date, they have shared a total of $15,456,362 above their regular earnings.

W.S.C.S. MEETS

The Women's Society of Christian Service met last week at the farm home of Mrs. William Judkins for its August meeting. There were 15 members present.

Topic of the lesson was "A Vision of Better Life." Sylvia McElroy led the devotions and Edna Bortel assisted by Melva Kanous and Delta Croll gave interesting talks on different settlement houses of Methodism.

The president, Mrs. Nellie Barrett, conducted the business meeting during which it was decided to have afternoon meetings beginning at 3 p.m. this year.

The 15th anniversary of the W.S.C.S. will be observed in Oct. with a special program to be planned at the home of Mary Ricica. The annual church fair is set for Nov. 4. Bonnets are being made for Korean children and a shipment is to be made soon. A donation of $10 is being sent to buy books for the new library at the settlement house in Texas.

Mrs. Judkins, assisted by Eloise Judkins, served refreshments from a lace covered table. The Sept. meeting will be held in the Methodist church dining room.

ANNIVERSARIES HONORED

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Gripton were honored guests of their children and grandchildren at their Wamplers lake cottage recently, the occasion being their 59th wedding anniversary. Those present in addition to the honored couple were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gripton and children, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lewis and children of Dearborn, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Gripton, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Waterbury and sons and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Frayer of Britton.

Also honored at a potluck picnic dinner on their 46th wedding anniversary were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kish Sr. of Tecumseh. The dinner was held at the home of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. August Maska. Other guests were their children and grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kish and family of Dundee, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kish and daughters of Ridgeway, Mr. and Mrs. John Casper of Rt. 1, Adrian, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kish Jr. of Blissfield and Mr. and Mrs. Gaza Kish and children of Tecumseh.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Eberhardt and daughter Pattie and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Judd have returned home after a week's vacation at the Gripton cottage at Wamplers lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Palmer were dinner guests Saturday of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Palmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Crutchfield of Manchester were Sunday callers in Britton.

Recent visitors in the John Beale home were Mrs. Evelyn Molle and Rita Ruhl of Ferndale. Kim Molle, who had been spending some time in the Beale home, returned to Ferndale with her mother.

Mrs. Sarah Boyd, who has been a patient in Herrick Memorial hospital, returned to the home of her granddaughter in Ferndale.

The Misses Alta and Elva Coopper of DesPlaines, Ohio arrived last Monday to spend a few days with their sister Mrs. Ida Miller. Tuesday was spent with another sister, Mrs. Harry Gill of near Dundee. They were guests Wednesday of Mrs. Velma Kuster of Tecumseh. Thursday, the Coopers returned to their home in Ohio.

Ernest Oliver has returned to his home after a brief stay in Herrick Memorial hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorain Sultzman of Hannibal, Mo., and the Misses Janice and Judith Corner of Chariton, Iowa, were recent overnight guests of Mrs. Maude Davis.

Mrs. Gladwin Spohr and infant son Gladwin Kurtis have returned to their home from Herrick Memorial hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Dunbar and son Gregg and William Cundiff Jr. were Sunday visitors of relatives in Toledo.

FFA Officers and Advisor Attend Camp

Officers from the local Future Farmer chapter and their advisor Mr. Paul Burns attended the sixth annual regional leadership training camp at Wolf Lake, Jackson, that began Aug. 22.

Officers attending the camp were: John Cadmus, president; Bill Spreeman, vice-president; Edwin Lewis, secretary; Roger Finnigan, treasurer; Melvin Scheffler, sentinel; and Darrell Lowery, reporter. Bill Lopshire attended the camp as an alternate officer.

The FFA boys arrived at the camp and were divided into officer groups for contests during the three-day stay at the camp. Each group was named after an Indian tribe.

While at the camp the boys enjoyed supervised recreation which included badminton, swimming, sofeball, horseshoes and volleyball.

Mr. Thomas Kerry from the state department of vocational agriculture appeared as guest speaker. Mr. Kerry explained the new method of rating chapters for the state chapter contests.

There were 26 chapters from five counties represented at the camp. Boys were present from Jackson, Washtenaw, Lenawee, Hillsdale, and Monroe counties. There were approximately 135 boys and advisors registered at the camp.

Roger Finnigan from the local chapter was elected treasurer for the regional camp next year.

The object of the camp is to train FFA officers for their respective duties in local chapters for the coming year.

ELEMENTARY INFORMATION

The following information is primarily concerned with the opening of the elementary schools. Should further information be desired call Mr. Greene.

In an attempt to eliminate hazzards in crossing Evans Street, all small children living east of Evans have been assigned to Central elementary school since traffic lights are now available on Chicago boulevard.

Also in the interest of safety a special bus has been provided to transport kindergarten children in the area from Evans west to Adrian street and south of the boulevard to Patterson School kindergarten.

All kindergartens will begin at 9:15 and dismiss at 11:30, or at 1:15 and dismiss at 3:30. All kindergarten children brought by bus will attend morning kindergartens and be transported home by noon or shortly afterwards.

NEW STUDENTS ENROLL

Elementary children who are new to Tecumseh Public Schools are requested to enroll at Central school principal's office Tuesday, Sept. 6 at 9 a.m. The elementary schools will be in session a full day on Tuesday. Schedules are 9 to 12:15 and 1:15 to 3:30 except kindergartens which are 9:15 to 11:30 and 1:15 to 3:30.

Book rental fees are $4 for children in grades 1 through 6 and are due Tuesday. Central school fees are due Tuesday morning and Patterson and West Branch school fees Tuesday afternoon. Kindergarten fees will be collected at all kindergartens Wednesday. Fees for workbooks if needed will be collected at a later date.

Children through the second grade may buy milk at school as in years past.

SECONDARY INFORMATION

Special information concerning the opening of the secondary school follows. Should you desire further information call Mr. Hart.

All junior and senior high school students are to report to the new gymnasium at 9 a.m. Tuesday, Sept. 6.

Students are to pay the textbook rental fee of $5 for grades seven through 12 at this session. After the book fee has been paid class schedule cards will be issued by class advisors. Pupils will be free for the rest of the morning after they have received their schedule cards.

Parents of children in the seventh through the twelfth grade should see that each child has cash or a check to pay the following fees where applicable: book fee $5, lock for hall locker if desired 75 cents, seventh and eighth grade towel and lock fee 50 cents per semester, ninth through twelfth grade towel and lock fee $1 per semester, and athletes' towel and lock fee same rate as high school.

In addition, if workbooks are used in classes, such must be paid for at a later date.

NEW STUDENTS ENROLL

New students who have not already enrolled will enroll at this Tuesday morning session. Such students who wish to enroll in algebra or foreign languages must first pass a prognostic test. These tests will be given Tuesday morning at 10:30 in the study hall. Pupils not having passed these tests will not be admitted to these classes.

Tuesday at 1 p.m. students will report to their respective home rooms for an orientation and organization period. The regular schedule of classes will begin Wednesday at 8 a.m.

Caution Asked of Drivers over Labor Day

Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler appeals to Michigan motorists to exercise extreme caution while driving during the Labor Day holiday weekend.

Every effort must be exerted if we are to cut down the predicted toll of death and injury on Michigan roads and streets over this approaching holiday, the Commissioner says.

The State Highway Department will shut down maintenance and construction operations from Friday noon, Sept. 2, to Tuesday noon, Sept. 6, to remove possible hazards to motorists.

This suspension will not apply to emergency work that may become necessary, nor does it apply to work on relocations on which no traffic is carried.

Maintenance crews will spread dust preventatives before the weekend holiday, smooth shoulder ruts and make certain that barricades and detour signs are in proper condition to give motorists every possible safeguard.

The Commissioner warns that carelessness causes most accidents and urges drivers to:

Start early on trips to allow more than normal time required.

Avoid rushing and the risk of a crash due to fast driving.

Use extreme caution when passing other vehicles.

Slow down when approaching lights and intersections.

Obey all traffic laws and posted speeds.

Signal when making turns.

Avoid straddling lane lines.

Avoid crossing yellow, no-passing lines.

22 from Area Enter 4-H Show

The biggest event of the year for 88 Lenawee 4-H Club boys and girls is almost here. They will travel to East Lansing to take part in the 40th annual State 4-H Club Show now in process on the Michigan State University campus. The show ends Friday..

Competition will be keen, declares Ray Peffers, Lenawee county 4-H Club agent, since there will be more than 2,000 boys and girls vying for the $33,500 in premiums and trip awards.

They will represent 82 counties and will participate in exhibits, judging and demonstration contests. Peffers adds that Lenawee county 4-Hers would get a boost in morale if county folks would show their backing by attending the State Show themselves.

All exhibits, demonstrations, judging and evening programs are free and open to the public. Evenings will be jam-packed with the big annual dress revue, general assemblies, "share-the-fun" talent competition, and presentations of awards and citations.

This year's 22-member delegation from the Tecumseh area and exhibits which they are entering include:

Paul Comfort, Holloway, table lamps; Bill Ruesink, Route 3, Adrian, flower box; Norma Jewell, Route 1, Tecumseh, poultry judging; Frank, Mike and Joe Prochaska, Route 2, Tecumseh, share the fun festival; Karl Kimerer, Britton, crops judging.

Richard Lutton, Route 2, Britton, plowing contest; D. J. Frayer, Route 2, Britton, tractor operating contest; Tommy and Joanne Smith, Route 3, Adrian, vegetable garden; Sharon Ries, Ridgeway, advanced four fruits; Janet Burnett, Route 3, Adrian, three unfrosted cup cakes.

Janet Ruesink, Route 3, Adrian, flower garden; Linda DeJonghe, Ridgeway, flower garden; Elaine Johnston, Ridgeway, flower garden; George Milosh, Ridgeway, flower garden; Marjorie Mitchell, Route 3, Adrian, livestock; Jack McClue, Tecumseh, livestock; Paul Gove, Tipton, livestock; James Dean, Ridgeway, dairy; and Sylvia Helzerman, Tecumseh, horse.

Phone Co. and Union Reach Agreement

Agreement has been reached on all issues in the contract negatiations between General Telephone Company of Michigan and local unions 1177, 1401, and 1410 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers-AFL.

Negotiations have been under way since May 17. Ratification by union membership of the terms agreed to by the bargaining committee is the last step before a new contract can be signed. Effective date of the new agreement is Aug. 24, 1955, with the contract covering a one-year period.

Membership ratification meetings began last Friday.

Approximately 1,000 employees of the telephone company throughout Michigan are represented by IBEW-AFL.

Jacqueline Mae Hoag Is Bride of Herbert Quigley

The Presbyterian church of Tecumseh was the scene of the wedding of Jacqueline Mae Hoag and Herbert D. Quigley. The Rev. George Walworth performed the double ring ceremony Saturday evening.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Bumpus of Britton and Mr. Quigley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Quigley of Milwaukee Rd., Tecumseh.

Palms, candelabra and baskets of gladioli with rose colored sweet peas decorated the altar. Preceding the ceremony, nuptial music was played by Mrs. Babe House, who also played the traditional wedding march.

Miss Hoag chose a gown of white linen, street length with stand-up collar and V-neck with a lace front. She carried a bouquet of white glads with tiny pink rose buds in the center of each flower.

The maid of honor, Miss Marge Papp and the bridesmaids Kathleen Kutzner and Nancy Crutchfield, all of Britton, wore street length dresses of natural color with floral backgrounds. They had V-shaped necklines and gathered skirts on princess styled bodices. They carried hand bouquets of glads with contrasting ribbons.

Junior bridesmaids were Judy Hoag and Sandra Bumpus, sisters of the bride. They wore floral designed dresses and carried bouquets of glads to blend with their brown accessories.

Dianne Miller was flower girl dressed in print on white and carrying a miniature bouquet. Dwight Gentz was ring bearer.

Mr. Quigley's best man was Dale Monagin of Britton. Ushers were Tom Bruce of Britton and John Wilt of Tecumseh.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors for 125 guests from Michigan and Ohio. In charge of the guest book was Miss Wilma Bumpus and the three-tiered wedding cake was cut and served by Miss Carol Dices. Mrs. Virginia Crutchfield served the coffee.

For their wedding trip to the upper peninsula of Michigan the bride wore a linen dress with a short jacket. On their return, they will live in an apartment in the home of the groom's parents and Mr. Quigley will assist his father with farming.

City and Britton Get Road Funds

Net receipts of the state motor vehicle highway fund for the second quarter of the calendar year 1955 amounted to $31,444,347.29, and this money is now being distributed to the State Highway Department, the counties, and the cities and incorporated villages of the state.

Net receipts of the motor vehicle highway fund for the second quarter of 1954 were $28,720,727.28, representing an increase of $2,723,620.01 for the second quarter this year, compared to the same period in 1954.

Under the 1951 act, all of the state gasoline and weight taxes, the diesel fuel tax and a small amount of miscellaneous fees are deposited in the state motor vehicle highway fund, which was created by the act.

After deductions for non-highway uses and collections costs, the rest of the money is divided as follows: 44 per cent to the State Highway Department for expenditure on state trunkline highways in both rural and urban areas; 37 per cent to the counties for expenditure on county roads, and 19 per cent to the cities and incorporated villages for expenditure on their roads and streets.

Under the above distribution formula, the State Highway Department will receive $13,835,512.81 as its share of the second quarter of 1955 motor vehicle fund collections; the counties' share is $11,634,408.50 and the cities' and incorporated villages' share is $5,974,425.98.

Lenawee county will get $148,640.52; Tecumseh will get $7,571.24 and Britton will get $848.86.

Louise Duckworth and Robert Younglove Wed

At two-thirty last Saturday afternoon, M. Louise Duckworth of Tecumseh and Pvt. Robert Allen Younglove of Britton were married. The double ring ceremony took place at the Tecumseh Methodist church and was read by the Rev. Horace L. James.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Duckworth was given in marriage by her father. The groom is the son of Mrs. Clarence Arft of Britton.

Appropriate wedding music and the traditional march were played by Miss Peggy Jo Pocklington as the bridal party took their places before the altar decorated by hampers of orchid and white gladioli and ferns.

The bride, who was attended by her sister, Mrs. Donald Smith, wore a street length dress of toast brown brocaded taffeta and net. It was a princess style model with rounded neck line and full skirt and her accessories were white. She carried cream colored fugi chrysanthemums in a setting of transparent foliage.

Mrs. Smith's dress was beige, accented in white. It was also of street length and her fowers were yellow fugi mums with similar foliage.

Donald Smith was Pvt. Younglove's best man.

Mrs. Younglove wore a navy dress wtih navy and white accessories while the mother of the groom wore pink accessories with her navy dress. Both had shoulder corsages of pale pink Carol Amling roses.

A reception for the immediate families followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Younglove graduated from Tecumseh high school in 1954 and is a secretary in the offices of the Tecumseh Products Co. Pvt. Younglove is a graduate of Britton high school and attended Michigan State University. He is now in the service of the U. S. Army and will be joined by Mrs. Younglove later. For the present she is residing with her parents.

This Is a Round-Up of State Fair Exhibits, Events

Here are Bashful and Happy, two of the famous Curtiss ponies who will participate in the Farm Fun Frolics show in the Coliseum Sept. 6, 7 and 8 during the Michigan State Fair. These are the three days and evenings when the entire Coliseum program is agricultural in nature displacing the stage, radio and TV stars for that period. Bashful and Happy will join four other ponies in putting on a fast exhibition of stepping and teamwork. The Farm Fun Frolics shows are free of charge.

Here is a round-up of exhibits, special events and entertainment at the 1955 Michigan State Fair in Detroit, Sept. 2 through 11.

It may assist many Michigan citizens in choosing the day or days they will attend this 106th edition of their State Fair.

Any day is a good day to see the agriculture, livestock and general exhibits. But many other special judging, entertainment and events occur only on designated days.

Grand Opening Day, Friday, Sept. 2, will feature the opening day parade in downtown Detroit at 11 a.m. Admission to the Fairgrounds is free until noon opening day, Donald L. Swanson, general manager, announces.

HONOR TEACHERS

Saturday, Sept. 3, will be Michigan Teachers Day when the State Fair will present 23 teachers with awards for their notable contributions to education and the people of the State. All Michigan teachers will be admitted free.

There will be a repeat of the religious State Fair Sunrise Service on Sunday, Sept. 4, at 8 a.m. The speaker will be the Rev. Dr. Louis H. Evans, preacher at large for the Presbyterian Church U.S.A. who has on a number of occasions been listed among the top ten leading American clergymen. Visitors attending the Service, co-sponsored by the Detroit Council of Churches, will be admitted free to the Fairgrounds until 8 a.m. and may remain for the entire day.

Again the State Fair will score with a tremendous group of entertainers in the Coliseum. There will be three shows daliy; 3 p.m., 6 p.m. and 9 p.m. The first weekend, Sept. 2, 3, 4 and 5 will headline Joni James, the Mills Brothers, Fontane Sisters, Roy Hamilton, Kirby Stone Quartet and the Honey Brothers.

FEATURE TOP FLIGHTERS

Following the livestock judging on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, the Coliseum entertainment for the closing weekend, Sept. 9, 10 and 11, will feature Frankie Laine, Mills Brothers, Fontane Sisters, Ella Fitzgerald, Kirby Stone Quartet, Honey Brothers and Pete Rubino.

There'll be an emcee throughout the Coliseum livestock judging, Sept. 6, 7 and 8, to announce winners and explain points of merit. The champion livestock auction will be held Wednesday Sept. 7, at 1 p.m. The evening Coliseum programs on these days are listed as Farm Fun Frolics.

The Farm Fun Frolics, presented free of charge, begin at 7 p.m. They will include Kiltie Band music, million dollar livestock parade, presentation of awards, the Detroit Mounted Police drill team, Arabian, Morgan, Western and Pleasure class horse demonstrations, hog calling contest, educated retriever dogs, sheep shearing and other similar events. In 1954 approximately 10,000 people attended each of the three night's events.

JUDGING LISTED

Judging dates are: horses, Sept. 6, 7 and 8; beef cattle, Sept. 5 through 8; dairy cattle, Sept. 6, 7 and 8; sheep, Sept. 5 through 8; swine, Sept. 6 and 7.

Poultry, pigeons, rabbits, agriculture, horticulture, vegetables and dairy products will be judged Saturday, Sept. 3.

At the Grandstand there will be a major Border Legion Rodeo for the first nine afternoons and evenings at 2:30 and 8:30 p.m. Star of this program for the first four days, Sept. 2 through 5, will be Duncan Renaldo as Cisco Kid. Star of the next five days, Sept. 6 through 10, will be television's Annie Oakley (Gail Davis). On closing day, Sunday, Sept. 11, the Grandstand feature will be a 250-mile Auto Race at 2 p.m. and the Canadian Daredevils thrill show at 8 p.m.

Meantime, a continuous program of free entertainment will be at the Music Shell and Old Timers' Grove.

BAND WILL PLAY

A major attraction in the Shell from Sept. 2 through 5 will be the world famous United States Air Force Band who will give a two-hour concert both afternoons and evenings. There will be many other band concerts, musical and amateur shows, nationality programs and dances, hobby classes and demonstrations and other features.

The Old Timers Platform will have drum major and majorette contests, square and round dancing, agricultural contests and musical programs.

Among the new free exhibitions at the State Fair this year will be the Kiddies' Barn Yard and Kiddies' Playland where the youngsters can enjoy attractions of the gigantic fair in miniature. A complete small scale farmyard will include farm house, barn, silo with the farm completely fenced in and surrounded by animal stalls. Here will be young animals — lambs, colts, calves, shoats, kids, rabbits and barnyard fowl.

PLAY AND HAVE FUN

The Playland will have miniature carousels, rides, playground equipment, and special circus acts including trained dogs, monkeys, elephants and turtle races.

And running throughout the State Fair will be the Cooking School, Automobile Show and thousands of educational, industrial and agricultural exhibits.

In addition to opening day, Sept. 2, and Michigan Teachers Day, Sept. 3, the other special days are: Sunday, Sept. 4—Young American Day; Monday, Sept. 5—Labor Day; Tuesday, Sept. 6—Children's Day; Wednesday, Sept. 7 — Governor's Day; Thursday, Sept. 8—Farmers' and Old Timers' Day; Friday, Sept. 9—Science and Industry Day; Saturday, Sept. 10 — Veterans' Day; and Sunday, Sept. 11—International Day.

UNWRITTEN LAWS

No. 74 USE WARNING HORN WHEN PASSING

If the driver ahead knows he is about to be passed he is less likely to unintentionally swing to the left while day dreaming—or to speed up because he suddenly realizes it is late and he knows he must hurry up.

Smart drivers tap their horn gently just to let him know they are coming. Don't blast too hard or you may scare some nervous driver right over in front of you — and certainly annoy any motorist.

Sneaking up on an unsuspecting motorist and passing him on the sly is about as foolish as walking quietly up to a strange dog that is asleep. The surprise may be very unpleasant. And remember the slogan, "SLOW DOWN AND LIVE".

Services Held for Jennings Frayer

Funeral services for W. Jennings Frayer of Britton, who died Saturday at Herrick Memorial hospital, were held Tuesday at the Niblack Funeral Home, Britton. The Rev. O. E. Priest officiated and burial was in Ridgeway cemetery with Masonic graveside services.

Mr. Frayer was born in Ridgeway township Nov. 22, 1907, the son of Frank and Charlotte Haviland Frayer, and had spent his entire life in the Britton area, being engaged in farming with his father-in-law D. J. Sturtevant.

He was a member of the Ridgeway Methodist church and had served as Sunday School superintendent for several years. At the time of his death, he was a member of the official board of the church.

Mr. Frayer was active in Democrat politics in the county and was a member of the Farm Bureau and 4-H club, of which he was leader. He was also a member of the Blue Lodge and Royal Arch Masons, a Past Patron of the Eastern Star, member of the Britton I.O.O.F. lodge and of the national and Tecumseh Grange. Mr. Frayer served a three year term as a member of the Britton-Macon Agricultural school board of education.

He is survived by his wife Thelma; two sons, D. J. and Van Lowe and one daughter, Cynthia Charlotte, all at home; two brothers, Clifford of Ann Arbor and Mrs. Lilah Cadmus of Tecumseh and one aunt, Mrs. Fred Cole of Weston.

Officers Named for Ionia Post of State Police

Six officers who will man the new Ionia post of the Michigan State Police, to be opened soon after Sept. 1, have been named by Commissioner Joseph A. Childs.

The post is to be commanded by Sergeant James D. Kiomento, who is promoted from the rank of corporal effective Sept. 4, and will be transferred from the East Lansing post.

Kiomento joined the State Police Dec. 18, 1937, and was assigned to the Bay City post. Thereafter he served at Grand Haven, Iron Mountain and Brighton before being promoted to corporal and assigned to East Lansing Feb. 13, 1949. He holds five meritorious service awards.

The five officers who will be under Kiomento's command and the posts from which they will be transferred are: Trooper Glenn E. Foster, Ypsilanti; Trooper Robert B. Beach, Rockford; Trooper Donald J. Linn, Jackson, and Troopers Anton P. Sobolewski and Marvin L. Teshka, East Lansing.

The Ionia post will be located in the former administration building at the Ionia county airport, which has been leased.

Decision to establish the post was reached because of an increasing traffic problem in the Ionia area and proximity to the Ionia reformatory. It will be the forty-sixth post.

Another new post is to be established this year in Saginaw county.

The new posts are the first expansion since pre-war days.

New X-Ray Bus to Hit Highways Soon

A Christmas Seal sponsored X-ray unit carrying the emblem of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association will soon be making its appearance on Michigan's highways, according to action taken Thursday afternoon Aug. 18 at the quarterly meeting of the MTA board of trustees.

Approved by a unanimous vote, the chest X-ray unit will be used to demonstrate the value of prompt follow-up work following an X-ray or tuberculin testing survey.

Health authorities agree that the value of mass chest X-ray surveys is lost unless prompt, thorough and complete follow-up is undertaken. This includes X-raying all persons with suspicious findings on screening films, all persons who react to the tuberculin skin test and all contacts of persons discovered to have active tuberculosis, among others.

The need for Christmas Seal funds to be used for an X-ray unit has arisen because of the failure of Michigan's legislature to provide sufficient funds for the state health department to conduct an adequate program of TB case-finding, board members brought out.

Other reasons for providing the service are that the mobile units of the state health department take small, screening films, which are not acceptable for diagnosing TB and other chest ailments.

"There are insufficient facilities providing 14x17 chest films in Michigan today," MTA Executive Secretary T. J. Werle told the board. "The Michigan Tuberculosis Association must help meet that need."

Providing a mobile chest X-ray unit taking full-size 14x17 inch films to demonstrate its value to local health departments will be a valuable Christmas Seal service to the people of Michigan, board members emphasized.

Additional plans call for the unit to demonstrate to physicians the benefits of taking chest films of all their patients. The MTA board urged that the unit be put into service as soon as it can be purchased and a technician obtained.

In other actions the MTA board approved budgets for medical education, a series of letters pointing up TB needs to the people of Michigan, specialized health education needs, and a workshop for leading school health educators.

The meeting, held at MTA headquarters in Lansing, marked the first session under the leadership of Theo V. Eddy, St. Clair superintendent of schools. Eddy was elected to the MTA presidency at the group's annual meeting in June.

List Winners at Interlochen

INTERLOCHEN—Eleven Michigan youngsters were among those honored at the final awards assembly of the National Music Camp, Interlochen. Names of scholarship and honor award winners were announced by Dr. Joseph E. Maddy, camp founder and president, at the closing day assembly August 21.

Five of the Michigan students were top winners, six were runners up. Two award winners from Ann Arbor are: John Klein, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Klein, winner of the Phi Mu Gamma medal for achievement in fine arts and citizenship; and Peter Hadcock, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hadcock, winner of the John Tasker Howard composition award for the outstanding high school composition student.

Three students won medals for the greatest contributions to Intermediate Division organizations. The winners and wards are: Anna May Johnson, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Johnson, Intermediate Orchestra Medal; Ruth Ann Seeburger, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Walter Seeburger of Midland, Intermediate Band Medal; and Susan Strauss, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Strauss of Detroit, Intermediate Chorus Medal.

Two of the runners-up received honorable mention for the Sinfonia Medal, awarded to the outstanding hgih school boy musician who also has a good leadership record. They are: James Austin, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Austin of Saline, first honorable mention; and Robert Heiney, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Heiney of Jackson, second honorable mention.

Three were named as alternates to monetary scholarships. If scholarship winners are unable to attend the Camp next year, alternates are eligible to receive the awards. They are: Samuel DeCamp, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald DeCamp of Ann Arbor, fourth alternate to the Foster Foundation Scholarship for an outstanding high school boy musician. Judy Martin, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Martin of Grand Rapids, second alternate to the Delta Omicron scholarship for an outstanding high school girl; and Martha Pabst, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Pabst of Kalamazoo, second alternate to the scholarship for the outstanding dance student.

Named as second alternate for the John Tasker Howard composition award was Phyllis Jean Silverman, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Silverman of Lansing.

Closing day ceremonies marked the end of an eight-weeks-season of arts activities for the 1,250 gifted youngsters who attended the Camp for its 28th season this year.

A cooling and nourishing summer drink can be made by shaking 1/3 cup crushed fresh or thawed raspberries (or substitute 2 T. raspberry jam) with 1 cup milk and 1 drop red food coloring.

hickory AND horsehide

by DIZZY TROUT

WELL-MANNERED, pleasantly dispositioned and well-liked by his teammates, handsome, conservative Raymond Otis Boone is as much the "bread-and-butter" man of the Tigers today as he was right after he was traded to Detroit during those bleak early days of 1953.

Ol' Diz will stick by my statement in an earlier column that no player alone is responsible for lifting the Tigers from our only basement finish in 1952, but more than any other player Ray kept the Tigers going during those dark days.

Sometimes, when he was driving in one winning run after another, it sure seemed like he was doing the job single-handedly.

But of course Harvey Kuenn contributed considerably to the upsurge and so did Steve Gromek and others, and now we have the added punch of fellows like Al Kaline, but 32-year-old Boone keeps on going like Old Man River.

Caught Up With Pack

Despite early season injuries and a hitting slump, Ray has caught up with the pack and is well up there in hitting, runs batted in and other departments. And he is as popular as ever with Tiger fans.

Strangely, none of this was the case at Cleveland, where frequently Ray was roundly booed by patrons of Municipal Stadium and was the target of barbs from the press.

As a consequence, his hitting suffered and he dropped from a high of .301 and 58 runs batted in in 1950 to .241 and 21 RBI's at the time of his trade in 1953.

Showing just how much a change of climate can mean to a player, Boone wound up the 1953 season with a .312 batting average and 93 RBI's with Detroit. Moreover, he belted 22 home runs, 10 more than he ever hit in any season with Cleveland.

"I always figured I was good for at least 20 homers a year," Ray said.

Changed Direction

Last year he hit an even 20 and this season, with 16 as of this writing, he's hoping to repeat again. In addition, his 90 RBI's as I write this tops anything he's ever done in the majors and he stands a good chance of breaking 100.

Boone's explanation for his remarkable increase in batting ability is his change in hitting direction coupled with the friendlier reception of Detroit fans. Where formerly his long ball was to center field for a simple out, the right-handed hitter now pulls the ball into left field for doubles down the foul line and homers into closer-in stands.

Ray considers the trade that brought him to Detroit one of the best breaks of his baseball career. He classifies it in importance with his conversion from a catcher to a shortstop by the Cleveland management because of a shortage of infielders in the Indians' farm system.

Ray had been going nowhere as a catcher, but in his first year as an infielder with Oklahoma City, a Cleveland farm, he batted .355 and was called up by the Indians near the end of the '48 season.

When Ray came to us, Manager Fred Hutchinson moved him to third only because a fellow named Kuenn was doing pretty good with the Hickory and Horsehide at shortstop.

Big Cars Return

The All-American Racing Club big cars, which have staged the two fastest racing programs seen in Toledo this year, return to the half-mile high banks at Raceway Park Saturday night for a 50-lap national championship feature which highlights the three-day holiday weekend card.

The big cars of the AARC will hold a half-dozen other events, in addition to the 50-lap main event Saturday night. On Sunday night, top Sportsman Division drivers will compete in a 50-lap Gold Cup feature program. On Monday night, Labor Day, there'll be a 25-lap main event card with a fireworks displaq. All three weekend programs will be held on Raceway's speedy half-mile track with time trials at 7 p.m., races at 8:30.

The AARC sprint cars, paced by four-time winner of the Little 500, Tom Cherry of Muncie, Ind., have chalked up the fastest times of any type of racing here this year. Pete Allen of Dayton set a half-mile track mark of 21.49 seconds for one lap, a speed of nearly 90 miles an hour around the tricky high banks.

The action-packed big car program here June 25 saw seven spectacular crackups and five AARC drivers sent to the hospital, but there were no major injuries. In addition to Allen and Tom Cherry, the field includes Bob Cleberg of Rio, Wisc., former winner here in his GMC Special; Vic Ellis of Rockford, Ill., also a Raceway victor, plus Glen Rocky, Jim McWithey, All Miller, Johnny Roberts and Leon Clum of Wapakoneta, O.

A starting field of some 40 big cars is slated by the AARC, which sent 43 sprint cars into action in the first big car program at Raceway.

Harvey Wilson, owner and manager of Wilson Motor Sales, treated members of the Wilson Motor Sales softball team to a steak dinner at Don's Grill last week.

The team won the Men's Recreation League softball crown with a 9-2 record.

SPORTS QUIZ

How to score yourself: Mark your choices 1-2-3-4. You get ten points for a correct first pick, five for a second, three for a third and one point for a correct fourth choice. Twenty is average; thirty, good; forty, very good, and fifty is perfect.

Look at your copy of The Baseball Register. It says there in bold print that Phil Rizzuto's full name is Philip Francis Rizzuto—and the information was supplied to The Sporting News by the Yankee shortstop. He'll own up to the nickname of "The Scooter," which he said was given to him when playing amateur ball in the Queens Alliance League. The players in the league said he seemed to "scoot" after a ball.

But there is one thing that "The Scooter" didn't 'fess up to: his correct first name. It took a columnist for The Sporting News to discover that it was Fiero, and not Philip.

And speaking of names — Oscar Ruhl of The Sporting News, who dug up the dope on Rizzuto, points out that Elmer Valo's first name is Imrich. But Ruhl passes credit for this one to Ernie Mehl, The Sporting News' Kansas City correspondent.

We'll get to a famous name in the first question in The Sporting News Sports Quiz.

1. So help us—we've tried to stay away from the Davy Crockett business—but finally gave in. Daniel T. (Davy) Crockett played 28 games at first base for a major league club. Can you name the team?

℞ for community growth . . .

VITAMINS G-A-S

Good gas service and plenty of it — around-the-clock and around-the-year — can be just what the doctor ordered to make your community grow.

It's a prescription your gas company seeks to live up to — for the availability of gas for industrial processing often is important in the location of new industry.

However, additional gas supply and the underground mains and other facilities needed to deliver it to you can't be provided overnight.

That's why your privately-owned, tax-paying gas company must risk investments in new manpower and expanded facilities today for your industrial, business and home needs of tomorrow. These investments make sure you'll always have vitamins G-A-S available for your community's growth.

Rumor or Re-appraisal

Stories making the rounds that the re-appraisal of city real and personal property will raise taxes have no basis in fact.

The re-appraisal might in some cases actually mean the lowering of taxes. And in some cases it might mean the raising of taxes.

But whether individual taxes are raised or lowered as a result of the re-appraisal is not known at this time.

The only thing that is definitely known about the re-appraisal is this: it is scientific and it will mean that no property owner, businessman or industry will be paying more or less than he or it should be paying; the re-appraisal will equalize taxes.

And this to us is the prime reason why the re-appraisal should be made.

Dutch Elm Disease

The board of supervisors apparently is not too concerned over Dutch elm disease in the county, even though the board will view a movie on the control program when it convenes Sept. 14.

Although the disease has been reported in the county, Supervisor Matt Benner of Dover Township thought the movie would be a waste of time. He doesn't think much of elm trees anyway. He told the board the elm of today is devaluating land and it isn't worth much. We don't think he has traveled much in the county.

Supervisor Mills Swick of Macon Township said he thinks a lot of the elm tree as a lumber and building material.

It was a bit strange to notice that not one supervisor mentioned the element of beauty and shade a gracious elm will give to a lawn and house.

The supervisors should talk to officials in Wayne and Oakland counties where the dreaded disease is decimating elm trees. Or they should write the University of Illinois where Dutch elm disease is rapidly killing 1600 elms on the famous arched broadwalk. So far the university has lost 48 of its 117 elms, some of which are 81 years old.

Or better yet they could get some advice from the Michigan Department of Agriculture. The department stresses the value of the elm as a shade tree.

Seventy-eight percent of the shade trees in Michigan are elms.

In order to prevent spread of the Dutch elm disease owners must remove and destroy diseased elms within 10 days of the time they receive a condemnation notice.

This is the advice of Director G. S. McIntyre of the Michigan Department of Agriculture. Refusal of elm owners to remove trees infected with the disease within the 10-day period will result in cases being turned over to prosecuting attorneys in the various counties.

There is no known cure for Dutch elm disease. The disease is first noticed in a wilting of leaves. Within days or weeks all of the tree is dead. The brown European bark beetle spreads the disease from infected elms to healthy ones.

Spray programs which destroy the beetles have prevented spread of Dutch elm disease in municipalities where they have been adopted. Co-operative programs between the Michigan Department of Agriculture and many municipalities in the southern half of the lower peninsula, where Dutch elm disease is prevalent, have been worked out.

So far, according to Ed Nelson, city manager, Tecumseh has had no reports on the dreaded disease. But if it does strike, take the proper precautions and check with the county agent to see that it is not allowed to spread.

August Dietz, Jr., a printer in Richmond, Va., has printed more than 3,000,000 copies of the Declaration of Independence, frequently at a loss to himself, and they have been circulated through our schools by the Sertoma (Service to Mankind) Clubs, the Elks of Boulder, Colo., Boy Scouts, and other groups.

The importance and dignity of the American worker were first recognized officially in our land with the establishment, in 1903, of the U.S. Department of Commerce and Labor. The role of the worker received even greater significance in 1913, when the Secretary of Labor was made an independent office, with Cabinet rank.

Nutritionists say we should eat, for good health and mind, one fourth of the day's total food at breakfast. But a check of 1600 office employees in Minneapolis revealed that 45% of women under 25 habitually eat little or nothing before going to work.

"We've never owned the roof over our heads. We've always rented," a middle-aged lady said. "But we are house hunting in earnest now."

"What prompts your decision?" I asked.

"Well, we like things fixed up just right. So we always wind up improving and fixing up a landlord's property. Naturally, they don't object because we have to foot the bill."

"The other night," she continued, "my husband mentioned some major improvements were needed. The landlord didn't want to pay for them. I told my husband we might as well buy our own home and fix it up to suit ourselves. We'll have it paid for by the time he retires."

The story ends happily because we succeeded in finding them a nice home from our fine selection of Tecumseh's best home values.

Probably you've guessed what we're driving at in citing this incident. Buy a home of your own that you can fix up to your satisfaction. And, most important, buy it through our office!

Gilmore Reunion Held Sunday

Several members of the Gilmore family from this vicinity attended the reunion of the J. F. Gilmore family Sunday. This annual event was held this year at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dowayne Brigham near Polaski, Mich.

Members of the reunion are all descendants of J. F. Gilmore, who settled on the farm in Macon now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gilmore.

There were 60 present and after enjoying a bountiful potluck dinner there were games and pictures of former reunions and a travel picture shown by one of the members.

Those going from this area were Mrs. S. B. Boyce, Clarence Gilmore, the Misses Julia and Lulu Gilmore of Ridgeway, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Boyce and son John, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gilmore of Macon and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Clark of Manchester.

Others attended from Lakewood, Florida, Parma, Mich. and many other points throughout southern Michigan.

A message from Ralph Hodges, 'Your Pharmacist'

THE PRACTICE OF PHARMACY is daily becoming so complex, that the Colleges of Pharmacy have just decided that in the future, a Pharmacist will have to study for five years instead of the usual four.

ANY MEDICINE, whether it be a prescription, or one of the so called "Patent Medicines" can be potentially harmful if not properly taken.

ONLY A PHYSICIAN is learned enough to properly advise you what medicine to take.

ONLY A PHARMACIST is taught the complete knowledge necessary to compound medicines, and how to best preserve and protect medicines so that they are potent when you get them.

ACCORDING TO A MOST PROPER LAW it is not only a moral, but the required legal duty of every pharmacist to make certain that any medicine you get from him is a safe medicine to take.

THAT IS WHY we must have a license to practice Pharmacy, and thoughtful people are always careful to get any medicine from a Pharmacist.

Mary L. Anspach Buried Monday

Mary L. Anspach, widow of the late Hosea Anspach and a resident of Ridgeway, died Friday afternoon at the Parrett Nursing Home where she had been a patient for four and one-half years.

Mrs. Anspach was 85 years of age, having been born Jan. 13, 1870, in Sandusky county, Ohio. She had lived in Ridgeway for 18 years, coming there from Wyandotte, Mich. Mr. Anspach died in Feb. 1934.

She was a member of the Presbyterian church in Wyandotte and was a Past Chief of the Pythian Sisters Lodge.

She is survived by a niece, Mrs. Beulah Todd of Tecumseh and a nephew Ward S. Reed of Wyandotte, both of whom were brought up in her home, and by two other nieces and five nephews.

Funeral services for Mrs. Anspach were held Monday afternoon at the Collins Funeral Home and were conducted by the Rev. George Walworth. Burial was in the West Mound cemetery at Wyandotte.

Bearers were Virgil Tucker, Max Skinner, Robert Todd, Albert Ward Todd, Mandis Dleiler and Wade Reed. Friends and relatives came from Wyandotte, Elkhart, Lansing, Mason and Fort Wayne.

Is That So!

By Clara Waldron

ON LOOKING BOTH WAYS

That Century of Progress week at Michigan State (University is still a bit hard to say) illustrated among other things the power of advertising. For weeks the press and radio had been saying it would be something worth seeing and when the date arrived the public took them at their word and in a big way.

Scores and scores of farm families went because they were sincerely interested in all the new developments of "Farm Mechanization" which was what the affair was all about. Also hordes of just sightseers went because it was a well advertised free show.

And all of them, farmers and sightseers alike tried to get rides on those free transportaton trucks that plyed (but not often enough) down Farm Lane between the widely separated sections of the exposition.

Two ex-coeds who went from Tecumseh did not fall exactly into either category, although Ann Carson, a farmer in her own right, did plan on seeing the demonstration of overhead irrigation. Yours truly just went along for the ride. Incidentally, Ann did not glimpse so much as one sprinkle of that demonstration. But being ex-coeds, didn't the place belong to us? And couldn't we go back if we wanted to? And being there, couldn't we, like all the rest, ride on the trucks?

Both of us could remember the time when that walk down Farm Lane was just a nice Sunday morning stroll. Now, looking at it through the reversed lens of more years than we intend to admit, it looked lke the last mile. Especially as the weatherman, after promising an 85 degree temperature had crossed us up with 96. The trip to the campus in the morning was uncrowded, but it took a sharp technic of elbows and knees to get a ride back to the exhibition area in the afternoon — just one step ahead of a sun-stroke.

So, as far as we were concerned, the farming of the future had to be left to those farm families and to Paul Burns F.H.A. boys, that he was sure were "around here somewhere." To be sure we did spend some fascinated minutes in the mechanical "milking parlor" where we saw four educated Holsteins get washed, masaged and milked through pulsing glass tubes into a refrigerated tank, without anyone having to so much as bend over. Shades of the three-legged milking stool! It was a relief to see the man do a little stripping. We had been worried about the cat.

So, most of our research that day was studying the evolution of such things as washing machines from the scrub board to the automatic washer; ironing equipment from the "Sad iron" (and weren't they!) to the modern mangle and kitchens from 1855 to the "unit" of today.

Under the football stadium were long lines of old farm equipment; obsolete machines like horse drawn plows, hand trip hay rakes, fiddle seeders and McCormick binders.

"What's that thing, daddy?"

"The card says it is a hay-loader."

"Huh, funny ain't it."

Funny indeed! We were just remembering when it was a modern wonder. Somewhere along in the middle of all this we began to have a sneaking suspicion that there was where we belonged—in the middle. That hand trip hay rake and the foot treadle sewing machine were old friends. Those dozens of gleaming, new pastel-tinted kitchen "units" all looked alike to us, but what a lot of good food had come out of that 1905 kitchen!

It was very reprehensible, of course, but we were suddenly glad to be in the middle and, to let the bright young things have all the bright new gadgets. The future was all they had. We had all the mellow past to add to the richness of the present.

Legion Auxiliary Fund Drive Begins

The annual fund raising drive through magazine subscriptions sponsored by the Auxiliary of the American Legion gets under way this week.

Representatives of the Crowell publishing company will call on Tecumseh householders for new subscriptions and renewals with a percentage going to the local organization.

In the past, the money has been used for the purchase of hospital beds which are loaned where needed without charge. Last year a folding wheel chair was bought and some similiar purchase will be made this season.

Solicitors will show credentials from the Auxiliary.

Mackinac Island Says "Goodbye" to Its Flies

Proving the success of a ten year fly control project here, islanders point to their fly barometers—the horses' tails, which once whipped wildly at the swarming pests, but now hang at ease.

Spray operatons and sanitation measures are sponsored by the island Park Commission, town of Mackinac Island, U. S. Public Health Service and state and local health departments.

The island features old-time buggy transportation, but litter from more than 300 horses made breeding grounds for flies. Biting islanders and tourists, the flies also caused horses to bolt and roll on the ground and swarmed over any uncovered food.

CHASED 'EM

According to Les O'Brien, former mayor and now street manager for island carriage tours, before the current fly control started, island residents chased flies with screen traps, tanglefoot and even tried coal and lard on horses' legs.

Another long-time islander, Ozrow I. Smith, chief of police, recalls: "The flies almost ate you up, and you couldn't talk sometimes without getting a mouthful."

The anti-fly drive started in 1945 with DDT spray. Carl Nordberg, superintendent of the Mackinac Island State Park, says that after two years, the flies became resistant to DDT, "so now we hit them with a combination which includes DDT, lindane and malathian."

SPRAYED ALL OVER

A spray truck, one of the island's few mechanized vehicles, is out before six o'clock every morning, and insecticide is sprayed through the business district, along the wooded buggy trails, in the barns and at the dump.

Fly control is cited as one reason for a sanitary landfill refuse dump just developed on the island. Mayor Sam McIntyre points to the landfill, which gets garbage buried promptly, as "a possible knock-out blow" in the battle against bugs.

Nurse Stella King and S. M. Stephenson, sanitarian, both with the local health department covering the island, say that sanitation measures, while aimed chiefly at flies, also help clean up on rats and other rodents which were attracted by island refuse.

But the main result of the ten-year battle is hushing the singsong buzz of flies to an occasional hum. As the islanders point out, it's quite a change from the days of "twitch, dodge and swat."

Living With Peace Of Mind

By KIRBY PAGE

The sense of duty, from whence does it come? Its very silence sometimes thunders as an imperious roar to the human soul. Why? I ought, I must, I will—why? With William C. Gannett, reflect upon the Unseen Presence:

I hear it often in the dark,
I hear it in the light—
Where is the voice that calls to me with such quiet might?
It seems but echo to my thought, and yet beyond the stars;
It seems heartbeat in a hush, and yet the planet jars.
Oh, may it be that far within my inmost soul there lies
A spirit-sky that opens with those voices of surprise?
And can it be, by night and day, that firmament serene
Is just the heaven where God himself, the Father, dwells unseen?

And remember, in the words of Elizabeth Scollard:

The fairest things are those that silent come;
You may not hear the first approach of morning,
And though you listen as the golden sun
Of hours fade into dusk, no sound is born.
When the stars dance on high no bugles blow;
The footsteps of the flowers fall silent,
As softly come the blossoms of the snow;
And clouds float by in pale tranquility.
No voices herald moonlight on a lake;
The silvery dew is still; these gifts are given
As quietly as Christ, who for our sake
Was sent to us, the greatest gift of heaven.
Tenderly now, as in the yesterday,
He leads earth-weary children in His way.

And remember the words of our Lord: Lo, I am with you always.

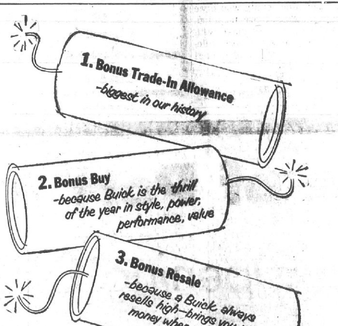
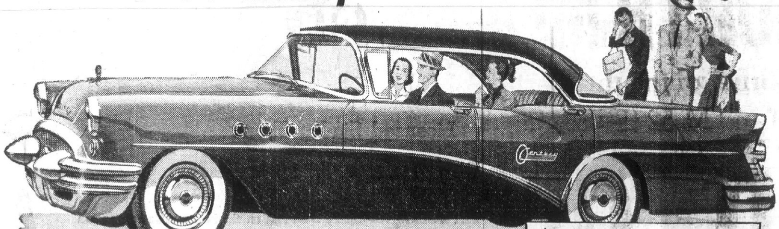
We're shooting the works
-to bring you the biggest bonus-deal in our history



1. Bonus Trade-In Allowance
-biggest in our history
2. Bonus Buy
-because Buick is the thrill of the year in style, power, performance, value
3. Bonus Resale
-because a Buick always resells high—brings you more money when you trade it in



Bonus Beauty in Hardtops-
Even the new hit in hardtops—the 4-Door Riviera—is included in our profit-sharing deals today. Shown here is the 236-hp CENTURY, 6-Passenger, 4-Door Riviera, Model 63. Also available in the low-price SPECIAL Series as Model 43.

YOU'VE never seen anything like it —we've never seen anything like it— nobody's ever seen anything like the way Buick sales are soaring.

Already, they've shot way past every high-water mark in our history. (And we've got the rest of the year to go!)

So we're celebrating. We're shooting the works. And you're the winner.

On top of the whopping trade-in allowances we've been making all year, we're now adding an extra-big bonus allowance that brings you your new Buick at the lowest figure of the year.

And Mister—what a Buick it is!

Big and brawny—with the bold styling that says Buick and nothing but.

Whip-quick and eagerly able—with V8 power that's been stepped up to all-time highs.

A buoyant and level-riding Buick that travels you over any road in confident ease—carries you in the balanced comfort of all-coil springing and torque-tube stability.

And—a Buick blessed by the smooth magic of Variable Pitch Dynaflow*—the only transmission patterned on the switch-pitch principle of the modern plane's propeller to give you electrifying getaway response and better gas mileage to boot.

Well—what do you say? Can you deny yourself all those thrills when they come to you for so thrifty a price and with so terrific a trade-in allowance?

Come in—today if you can—while our deal is on and the lid is off.

Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, optional at modest extra cost on other Series.*

Thrill of the year is Buick—
Biggest-selling Buick in History! (So we're trading high, wide—and then some!)

Michigan Names 3 FFA Chapters as State's Best

Chapters from Cassopolis, Marshall and Caro were named today as Michigan's outstanding farm youth groups in the 12th annual state Future Farmers of America Best Chapter Contest.

The trio were selected to represent Michigan in the national FFA competition at Kansas City in Oct. Cassopolis chapter, rated one of the country's best, has earned Gold Awards for three straight years in the national contest.

A total of 26 chapters, including the first Upper Peninsula Gold Award chapter, were announced as Michigan winners by A & P Food Stores, which sponsors the competition in cooperation with the state FFA. Winners in the year-long test of group and individual performances were selected from Michigan's 223 chapters representing more than 10,000 farm boys.

PRESENTED AT DETROIT

Awards were presented at a luncheon program in a Detroit hotel by State FFA Adviser Harry E. Nesman and Vice President Frank H. Bucher of A&P Food Stores.

In addition to the top three, 13 other chapters received Gold Awards. They were Felch, the first Gold winner from the UP; Williamston, Sandusky, Pinconning, Niles, Ovid, Midland, Olivet, Bellevue, Marlette, Elkton, Ionia and Yale.

Silver Awards were presented to chapters from Cedar Springs, Chesaning, Merrill, Charlotte, Imlay City, Colon, Stockbridge, Saranac, Alma and Mount Pleasant.

Some 90 officers and advisors from the winning chapters started today's activities with a two-hour educational program on, "Food, the Nation's No. 1 Business," Panel speakers, discussing the growth and development of the food business from the viewpoint of farmer, consumer and retailer, included Dr. Robert C. Kramer, Extension Marketing Coordinator, Michigan State University, and Dr. Daniel Sturt of the University's Agriculture Economics Department. Food retailing was discussed by Vice President Bucher, Sales Manager Clyde L. Taylor and Personnel Manager Burl C. Burnham of the company's Detroit Unit.

State FFA Adviser Nesman talked on his recent "Agricultural Mission to Formosa" at the luncheon program in the Sky Room of the Hotel Fort Shelby. The boys later attended the Detroit-New York baseball game at Briggs Stadium.

HAD BIG BUSINESS

The State FFA Contest committee selected Cassopolis as one of the state's outstanding chapters because of its cooperative and individual activities. The chapter sold 144 feet of pigs, fed 49 steers, sows and gilts and operated a 250 acre school farm. Cooperative purchases included 176 tons of feed and fertilizer. Other chapter activities included a group insurance program covering 6,500 livestock, raising money for polio, cancer and heart funds and distributing Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets.

Marshall, a newcomer to the championship list, stressed the establishment of young men in farming and moved 18 members into farming partnerships. The chapter grew 43 acres of corn and wheat and conducted an outstanding series of programs in farm safety.

Caro chapter was tops in soil conservation practices and won the State Conservation Contest. It also promoted well-rounded farming programs for its members.

CAMPBELL RETURNS

Scheduled to return to Norfolk, Va., Sept. 2 from the summer's second Midshipman training cruise aboard the escort vessel USS Howard D. Crow is Owen G. Campbell, radioman third class, USN, son of E. M. Campbell of 216 W. Logan street, Tecumseh.

Fourteen ships of the Atlantic Fleet left Norfolk, Va., July 11 with more than 1,700 Naval ROTC Midshipmen aboard. The ships' crews have supervised the middies' training during the two-month cruise.

The ships visited Edinburgh, Scotland; Copenhagen, Denmark; Oslo and Bergen, Norway; and Stockholm, Sweden.

Gunnery practice at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, will climax the cruise before the midshipmen disembark at Norfolk, Sept. 2.

Christian Science Services Listed

Man's real spiritual status as a son of God, not subject to sin and disease, will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Man."

The account will be read from the King James Version of the Bible of Christ Jesus' healing of the man "which had the withered hand," including the following passage (Luke 6:10): "And looking round about upon them all, he said unto the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he did so: and his hand was restored whole as the other."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following selection will be among those read (317:18-20): "The understanding of his spiritual individuality makes man more real, more formidable in truth, and enables him to conquer sin, disease, and health."

The Golden Text is from Romans (8:14): "As many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God."
